Dustless Bowl
is the object of a reconstruction program being undertaken by the Department of Agriculture. Read Dust Bowl, page 7.

The Washington Post

The Weather
Today—Partly cloudy; possibly local thundershowers.
Sunday—Fair.
Yesterday—High, 90; low, 75.

NO. 22,332 Entered as Second-Class Matter. Postoffice, Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1937 X * Copyright, 1937, By The Washington Post. THREE CENTS

Chinese Hurl Enemy Back On Peiping in Drive North

Japanese Suffer Heavy Losses When Caught in Surprise Attack.

Cities on Yangtse Fear Naval Attack

Mikado's Fleets Prepare for Action on River; Could Split China.

The Far East Crisis.

Chinese fought forward along the Peiping-Hankow railway to within sight of the walls of Peiping while the Japanese navy moved to seize control of the vital Wu-Han area of China's fertile Yangtse River valley.

Secretary Hull threatened to apply provisions of the neutrality law to prevent Americans from joining the Chinese army. Heavy Chinese purchases of war supplies in the United States were revealed.

Bulletin.

Shanghai, Saturday, Aug. 7 (U.P.).—A reliable report here today said the Japanese government had ordered withdrawal of Japanese armed forces from Hankow, the central Chinese city where bluejackets landed yesterday to protect Japanese nationals.

Copyright, 1937, by the United Press.

Shanghai (Saturday), Aug. 7.—Chinese fought forward along the Peiping-Hankow Railway today to within sight of the walls of Peiping while the Japanese navy moved to seize control of the vital Wu-Han area of China's fertile Yangtse River valley.

In a surprise attack launched in a torrential rain storm, Nanking units recaptured the important railway city of Lianghsiang after inflicting heavy casualties on the Japanese, the Chinese Central News agency said.

"Large stores of arms and munitions were captured," the agency quoted military headquarters at Paoting-fu. "Our forces now are advancing on Nantung," between Lianghsiang and Changhsintien, a railway junction just outside Peiping.

Aids Northwest Divisions.

The Chinese attack was believed designed to relieve pressure on Nanking's 89th and 184th Divisions northwest of Peiping upon which the Japanese were reported driving yesterday.

Chinese "plain clothes" soldiers, who had filtered through the advanced Japanese lines near Liuliho disguised as coolies, led the attack on Lianghsiang.

Thus the North China unofficial war entered its second month with both sides active on four widely separated fronts.

The Japanese attack northwest of Peiping, along the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway, apparently was continuing in force and it was believed the Chinese 89th and 184th Divisions would have to abandon their entrenched positions before the strategic Nankou Pass, which leads to the rich northwestern provinces of Chahar and Suiyuan. Both these provinces long have been marked by the Japanese as areas to be brought within the orbit of their "Rising Sun."

Meantime, the high command of the imperial Japanese navy met in

Continued on Page 5, Column 6.

18 Russians Die For Rail Sabotage

Moscow, Aug. 6 (AP).—The execution of 18 Russians after a secret trial on charges of railroad sabotage and espionage was reported today from Ordonikidze, in the Caucasus.

Resolutions of factory workers approving the verdict of the military collegium of the supreme court were published in the Ordonikidze Pravda. These resolutions described the condemned as a band of "Japanese and German Trotskyist spies."

'OVER THE COFFEE'
By
Harlan Miller

It's filled with things general and

Have You Read It?

things unusual about Washington events and people. It's gay, humorous and packed with human interest.

Attractive little cartoons add to its appeal. Snappy short paragraphs make it easy to read. "Over the Coffee" appears daily exclusively in The Post on

Have You Seen It?

Page 1, Section 2.

The Washington Post

D.C. Cigarette Girl Disappears; May Have Drowned in Potomac

DORIS, MAJOR, cigarette girl at the Shoreham Hotel, who has been missing from her apartment in Cathedral Mansions since early Sunday. This recent picture shows her at her favorite sport.

Underwood & Underwood.

Note Indicates Solitary Swim in River; Baffled Police Check Taxi Firms; Possible Amnesia Victim, Friend Believes.

Department of Justice agents last night entered the search for Doris Major, pretty 27-year-old cigarette girl at the Shoreham Hotel.

The agents, The Post learned from a reliable source, made a careful check of the girl's movements immediately preceding her mysterious disappearance Sunday. All telephone calls made from and to her apartment were carefully gone over by the G-men at the direction of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

While officials of the Department of Justice denied they were taking part in the search for the girl, it was learned friends of the girl and her fellow-employes at the Shoreham had been questioned by the Federal investigators.

Known to scores of night club patrons, Miss Major, according to detectives, might have drowned while swimming alone in the Potomac River early Sunday after she is believed to have left her home in Cathedral Mansions.

A note pinned to the outside door of her apartment was found saying "I am going up the river for a swim." The note was date 5 a. m. Sunday.

According to Ida Clarke, who plays the accordion on the hotel terrace, Miss Major "had no reason to leave home." The cigarette girl lived alone and had few intimate friends. Miss Clarke related the girl had been accustomed to swimming alone, but had never divulged the place where she swam.

A possibility Miss Major is the victim of amnesia was raised yesterday when Fonnie Black Ladd an employe of the General Accounting Office, reported to police he had seen Miss Major at 5:15 p. m.

Continued on Page 8, Column 3.

14 D. C. Bills Approved in Senate Rush

Semiannual Inspection of Motor Cars Is Included.

Plan to Raise Girls' Marriage Age to 16 Accepted.

Working at top speed, the Senate yesterday approved 14 District bills and resolutions, including one that will affect every motorist in the city.

This measure, which still must be passed by the House, requires a semiannual inspection of the city's 180,000 automobiles. It is designed to cut down accidents, many of which are attributed to mechanical defects. Three testing stations will be set up for the twice-a-year inspections. To support them, motorists must pay $1 when they get their 1938 tags and thereafter 50 cents for each inspection.

Other important measures passed by the Senate were:

A bill to establish a small-claims and conciliation branch of the Municipal Court. The small-claims court, designed to help needy litigants, would handle all cases involving $50 or less. It would hold daily sessions and one night session a week. The House must yet act on the bill.

Adoption Bill Approved.

A bill to reform the procedure for adopting babies in the District. Both the adoptive parents and the baby would be investigated to determine (1) whether the parents were worthy and of good character, and (2) whether the baby is free of disease or other weaknesses. The adoption would not become final until after a trial period of six months. The House is expected to act on this bill Monday.

A bill to increase the marriage age in Washington. Girls, who now may marry at 14, would have to be 16, and youths, who now may marry at 16, would have to be 18. To guard against hurried "gin marriages," the bill further provides that a marriage license will not be issued until three days after application. The House already has passed this bill, so it now goes to the White House for the President's signature.

The Copeland bill to require coastal and inland vessels to deposit names and addresses of passengers on a safe place ashore. This bill was prompted by the recent City of Baltimore fire, and by the case of Charles F. Keene, who disappeared from a Norfolk and Washington boat. The purser's passenger list in the latter case did not give the addresses of those on the boat, which delayed the police investigation. The bill now goes to the House.

Potato Labels Provided.

A bill, already passed by the House, which requires that potatoes in packages be labeled with the grade of the potatoes. An investigation showed that such potatoes were from 8 to 28 per cent defective.

A House bill to clarify existing law with respect to petit and grand larceny and to refer to Police Court many cases that now go to the grand jury. Petit larceny is now the theft of property valued at $35. This bill would boost it to $75.

A House bill to prohibit the operation of automatic merchandise-vending machines in the District.

A House bill to insure licenses for physicians and surgeons who, because they were out of the city or in foreign lands for five years after passage of a bill in 1928, are denied licenses to practice. A number of physicians and surgeons in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps are affected.

A House bill authorizing the Board of Optometry to grant an examination to Welton B. Hutton, who, with an associate, bought the business of the Roe Fulkerson Optical Co. in 1924. Under a law enacted two months before the purchase, the board cannot grant Hutton an examination.

House bills to provide for the issuance of licenses to Dr. Frederick W. Didier and Dr. William Justin Olds to practice the healings arts.

A Senate bill to provide similar licenses to Dr. M. C. Perry, of Lumberton, N. C., and Dr. N. E. Jackson, of Laurinburg, N. C.

A House bill to provide for the issuance of a license to Dr. Russell V. Pemberton to practice chiropractic.

Former Wife of Sen. Bingham Wed to Washington Musician

Buckingham-Underwood.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY GREGOR.

Marriage to Russo-German Composer, Instructor at National Park Seminary, Startles Capital as Divorced Husband Honeymoons Abroad.

Mrs. Alfreda Mitchell Bingham, divorced wife of the former United States Senator, Hiram Bingham, and Henry Gregor, head of the piano and organ department of National Park Seminary, were married yesterday in the Municipal Chapel in New York City.

The Binghams were divorced in Miami in April after 37 years of married life. They have seven grown sons, two of whom appeared in court to sustain their mother's charges of cruelty and humiliation.

The former Senator was married June 29 to Mrs. Suzanne Carroll Hill, divorced wife of the former Baltimore Representative, John Philip Hill. They are now honeymooning in Europe.

Gregor, who is of Russian and German parentage, came to Washington in 1933 and has been popular in musical circles here. He is a member of the Washington Composers' Club.

He is known primarily as a composer, having published a number of compositions with Chicago and New York houses. Among these are "Two East Indian Impressions," for the organ, and "Two Love Songs from the Orient," as well as a chorus for women's voices and a number of piano compositions. He is rated as a modernist, with a particular leaning toward Orientalism.

Sender and gray-haired, the first Mrs. Bingham is well liked in Washington. She charged in her divorce request she and Bingham had been unhappy together since 1928, when he "assumed an attitude of superiority."

In February of this year she and her sons became the chief beneficiaries under the will of her mother, Mrs. Annie O. Mitchell, of Conn., whose estate was valued at $2,000,000.

Farm Session Call Expected For December

Roosevelt Favors Move, Belief; Action Pledged on Crop Control.

By William V. Nessly.

Presidential summoning of Congress into session early in December to consider general farm legislation may be the solution to the present imbroglio over a special session in October and the demand for Government crop loans.

House leaders strongly intimated yesterday President Roosevelt is considering such a course, while in the Senate an effort by Senator Black (Democrat), of Alabama, to instruct the Agriculture Committee to have a bill ready for a special session October 15 was causing a brief flurry before going over for later consideration.

Earlier, the day had seen House leaders at a caucus of farm area representatives pledging swift action on new crop control legislation at the January session in an effort to induce the President to approve crop loans, especially on cotton.

Loans Delayed.

About the same time President Roosevelt was telling his press conference he had not received sufficient assurance as to enactment of a crop curtailment plan to justify resumption of the loans. On Tuesday, he had told reporters he would not authorize the loans without control of production, as to do so would in time break the Treasury. He insisted on legislation that would reduce the annual carryover.

The President would not comment on the possibility of a special session when he met newspapermen yesterday. He said it was a matter for the Senate to decide.

Meanwhile, clamor for adjournment continued among numerous members of House and Senate. Representative Joseph W. Martin (Re-

Continued on Page 5, Column 8.

House Passes Sugar Bill Over Threat of Veto

Members Refuse to Lift Limit Upon Offshore Producers.

By Sidney Olson.

For the third time this session, the House leadership tasted defeat yesterday, when in the face of a direct warning by President Roosevelt that he will veto the sugar bill in its present form, the House passed the measure without significant amendment by a nonrecord vote of 165-55.

The battle, which has been one of the bitterest behind-the-scenes struggles in Congress in many years, was really over earlier in the afternoon, when 135 members trudged past the tellers counting the "noes" and but 92 members filed through in the "aye" line on the Jones amendment.

This amendment, offered at the Administration's suggestion by Chairman Marvin Jones (Democrat), Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee, would have lifted the present bill's sharp restrictions on imports of refined sugar from the off-shore producers—Hawaii, Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

Members broke party lines and other commitments to vote according to regional feeling on the question. The Administration position throughout has been that limits on these quotas represents unfair discrimination against the voteless but tax-paying American citizens of the Territories.

The Congressional sugar bloc declared that lifted retrictions would make American refinery workers jobless, that the quotas represent the peak limit of off-shore production, anyway, and that the Territories are really "colonies," and only technically under the American flag.

Twice before in this session, after President Roosevelt had vetoed the

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

Senate Rewrites Housing Bill as It Passes, 64-16

Housing Bill Vote

The Senate vote on the Wagner low-cost housing bill follows:

For—64.

Democrats—Adams, Andrews, Ashurst, Barkley, Berry, Bilbo, Black, Bone, Brown of Michigan, Brown of New Hampshire, Bulkley, Bulow, Burke, Chavez, Clark, Dieterich, Ellender, Gillette, Green, Guffey, Harrison, Hatch, Herring, Hitchcock, Holt, Hughes, Johnson of Colorado, Lee, Lewis, Logan, Lonergan, Maloney, McAdoo, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, Minton, Moore, Murray, Neely, O'Mahoney, Overton, Pepper, Pittman, Radcliffe, Reynolds, Schwartz, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah; Truman, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh—55.

Republicans—Borah, Capper, Davis, Frazier, Nye, Vandenberg—6.

Farmer-Laborites — Lundeen, Shipstead—2.

Progressive—LaFollette—1.

Against—16.

Democrats—Bailey, Byrd, Byrnes, Connally, George, Glass, Smith, Tydings—8.

Republicans — Austin, Bridges, Hale, Johnson of California, Lodge, McNary, Steiwer, White—8.

Provides 60-Year Loans, Rental Subsidies for Slums.

Sen. Wagner Shows Little Exultation

Fear Felt Limitations Will 'Kill' Effectiveness of Measure.

By Robert C. Albright.

Almost completely rewritten and drastically modified, the $726,000,000 Wagner housing bill passed the Senate yesterday by a vote of 64 to 16. The bill authorizes 60-year loans and rental subsidies to rehouse slum thousands.

Passage of the bill after five days of debate removed the second of five major Senate hurdles to adjournment—now probably two weeks off. The measure goes to the House, where the Banking Committee is holding hearings.

There was little exultation by Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York, and other sponsors of the bill as it cleared the Senate. For the measure carries last-minute limitations some have forecast will "kill" its effectiveness.

Chief modification is an amendment by Senator Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, to limit the cost of the new slum dwellings. The Senate on Thursday adopted the Byrd limitation, restricting the cost of family dwelling units to $4,000 each, or $1,000 a room.

Administration Loses.

An Administration effort to raise the Byrd limit to $1,400 a room failed yesterday, following strong Senate reaction against lobbying activities for the bill. A motion to reconsider the Byrd amendment was tabled by a 44 to 39 vote of the Senate. Twenty-eight Democrats, 15 Republicans and 1 Farmer-Laborite supported the Virginian to retain his amendment in the bill. Thirty-seven Democrats, one Farmer-Laborite and one Progressive voted "no."

Second to wages and hours legislation on the President's list of "desirables," housing approval followed passage of the wages bill last week. Lower court reform, No. 3, will be called up in the Senate today. Sugar legislation will be messaged over from the House, and tax loophole plugging legislation is still in the hearing stage. Solution of the farm legislation dilemma will round out the session.

Final passage yesterday of the housing bill found only eight Democrats and eight Republicans voting against. Fifty-five Democrats, six Republicans, one Progressive and two Farmer-Laborites voted for it.

Whole Sections Eliminated.

But it was a far cry from the measure Wagner had brought before the Senate on Monday. Whole sections, permitting "demonstration" projects and authorizing loans to limited profit organizations and consumer housing societies, were eliminated. The interest rate on Government loans for housing was increased one-half of 1 per cent above the "going" rate. No one State was permitted to receive more than 20 per cent of all funds. The new housing authority was cut from five to three directors, and made bipartisan in character. The President was required to approve all loans and grants. Destruction of old slum dwellings, along with construction of new ones, was made mandatory.

These modifying changes, in addition to the Byrd $4,000 limitation, were written into the bill before the Senate returned to work yesterday. But the end was not yet, and further limitations were added, up until the hour the bill passed.

No Separate Bureau.

Over Wagner's vehement objections to the new housing administration being made a "mere bureau," the Senate yesterday, by a 40-to-37 vote, placed the proposed agency under the Interior Department. Action came on an amendment by Senator M. M. Logan, of Kentucky, after Secretary of Interior Ickes made his bid for the housing agency before the House Banking Committee. Senators were swayed in their voting by the Administration's reorganization hopes to curtail the number of independent boards.

Before passage the chamber, without a record vote, adopted an amendment by Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, who with Byrd and Senator David I. Walsh,

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

American Dancer Missing in Paris; $500 Demanded

By the United Press.

Paris (Saturday), Aug. 7.—The American embassy and the French police were enlisted today in a search for Miss Jean DeKoven, 22, American dancer, who disappeared two weeks ago.

Le Petit Parisien, discounting a theory she was kidnaped, headlined: "American dancer runs away and tries to extort money from aunt."

The aunt, who reported the girl's disappearance, is Mrs. Ida Sackheim.

Police, pointing to the few kidnapings in French criminal history, refused to become alarmed, although the girl's aunt insisted Miss DeKoven had been kidnaped, and that she had received a note demanding $500 ransom.

She disappeared two weeks ago from the Latin Quarter Hotel where she was staying with her aunt. A few days later the aunt received the ransom demand. A note said the niece would be killed unless the ransom were paid.

Her aunt apparently tried to find her by advertising.

Georgia Legalizes 'Demon Cocktail' Over Dry Protests

Picture—Page 3.

By the Associated Press.

Atlanta, Aug. 6.—A battle over cocktails broke today in Georgia, where prohibition forces for a generation have fought off legalization of whisky.

Revenue Commissioner T. Grady Head touched off the controversy with a ruling that bottled cocktails and highballs of wine base and of less than 22 per cent alcoholic content are taxable under State laws which legalize wines up to this percentage.

Bottled highballs and cocktails were displayed today in windows throughout the State capital, and dealers reported a brisk trade.

"I think the wets have overreached themselves," a W. C. T. U. leader said. "Twenty-one per cent liquor is hard liquor, no matter how it is camouflaged, and we are going to put on the biggest fight of our lives against it. One of these 21 per cent cocktails would make a potential murderer of any man or woman who gets under the wheel of an automobile."

6 Perish as Soviet Plane Burns in Air

Bucharest, Rumania, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Six persons burned to death today when a Moscow-bound Soviet airliner caught fire over Bistritza and crashed.

Contractor Asks Refund of Gift To Democrats

Money Contributed Under 'Veiled Threats,' Letter Tells Vandenberg.

By the Associated Press.

Senator Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, exhibited yesterday a letter from a Pennsylvania contractor who demanded that the Democratic National Committee refund a contribution made "under veiled threats'.'

The contractor, D. S. Warfel, of Lancaster, wrote Oliver A. Quayle, jr., acting treasurer of the committee, that he contributed $250 because "I really feared some reprisals might be made if I did not go along."

Warfel said he was performing some contract work for the Public Works Administration. The contractor said a solicitor told him it would be to his "best interest to go along" because everything he did was reported to "Mr. Farley's office." (James A. Farley is chairman of the national committee.)

Vandenberg made public the letter while Senate investigators heard

Senate Votes 7-Man Study Of Judiciary

Committee to Act With View to Reform at Next Session.

A study of the whole controversial question of Federal judiciary reform by a special seven-man Senate committee, with a view to remedial legislation next year, was authorized yesterday by the Senate.

Without debate, the Senate adopted a resolution sponsored jointly by Senator Edward R. Burke, of Nebraska, a leading court plan opponent, and Senator Carl A. Hatch, of New Mexico, author of the Administration's substitute court plan finally buried by the Senate.

The committee will organize immediately and over the summer recess study all proposed Constitutional amendments affecting the courts, proposals for new Federal judges to expedite action in congested districts, and all features of court reform.

Would Fix Size.

"It is my hope," said Burke last night, "that the committee will recommend a Constitutional amendment definitely fixing the size of the court, so that an attempt to increase it by legislation may never be made again."

Burke said he prefers a permanent nine-judge court, but evidence in support of 10 or 11 judges, on a permanent constitutional basis, will be carefully weighed. He also favors an amendment compelling retirements from the court at 75, and has

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

Starlings Decamp As Haughty Eagle Tours the Capital

Nobody in the old Postoffice Building knew anything about a bald eagle which swept in from the West yesterday scattering pigeons and starlings as it came, and settled in the tower atop the dirty gray structure.

But crowds of workers in nearby offices hung from the windows and stared at the huge bird, alone and aloof above the taxis and tourists. It sat and looked a while. Then with a distainful flap of wing, the King of Birds soared back into the blue.

Farley Is Reported Sought as Head of Pierce-Arrow Firm

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—Unconfirmed reports that Postmaster General Farley had been asked to become executive head of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Corporation were published here today.

Simultaneously, the company announced it would introduce a passenger car in the $700-to-$1,000 price field.

Charley Moy, 'Mayor' of Capital's Chinatown, Dies of Apoplectic Stroke; Thousands Mourn

Seizure Claims Popular Restaurateur and Night Life Figure.

The Good Earth yesterday reclaimed its good son, "Charley" Moy, unofficial mayor of Washington's Chinatown and the friend of thousands who knew him as a restaurateur and friend.

Charley, who was 49 and an imposing Chinese, died suddenly after he was stricken with apoplexy in his cafe, Joy Inn, at 609 H street northwest, yesterday morning.

He had been going about his duties of preparing the menu of Chinese delicacies when suddenly he collapsed. He was taken to Casualty Hospital, where death was a matter of hours.

When word that Charley was ill spread through Chinatown silence extended to dozens of Chinese restaurants, to laundries and to quiet homes where most of the 700 Chinese in the District live.

A tea merchant, who knew Charley well, put aside his packages of exotic leaves and hastened to the hospital. Dozens of others followed. They formed a sorrowful group in the waiting room who's life ebbed from Charley's 6-foot-1-inch frame.

Left to right are Gen. Tsai Ting-kai, the defender of Shanghai; George Wen, Capt. Milton Smith, of the Metropolitan Police, and Charley Moy, who was the general's host on his visit to Washington several years ago.

There were thousands of oth-

Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

Doctors Battle to Save Baby Born Minute After Mother Dies

By the Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—A youthful 28-year-old doctor, two years out of medical school, fought death today in a dramatic attempt to bring through her first day of life a baby girl delivered from the body of her mother one minute after she died.

"If she can live through the day, I should say her chances of surviving are pretty good," said the doctor, Dr. John Corbit, formerly of Reading, Pa., resident obstetrician and assistant chief surgeon at the Philadelphia General Hospital who brought the infant into the world by a Caesarean operation.

"Of course anything can happen in a case like this," he said. "We cannot tell yet whether it has passed the critical stage." He added the baby's temperature had been reduced to 100.4 from 105 at birth.

Doctors had maintained a death watch for hours beside the bed of the mother, Mrs. Mary Boccassini, 27, waiting for her to die of an incurable disease, so that they could deliver the baby.

The end came shortly after 3 a. m. and in exactly one minute the doctors had transferred the child to an incubator and oxygen tent adjoining the bed. A screen was placed between the bed and the incubator and the body of the

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Today's Index

	Pages.
Amusements	12
Army and Navy Orders	18
Bridge	18
Classified Advertisements	18, 19, 20
Comics	21
Death Notices	18
Editorials	6
Food News	10
Financial News	16, 17
Hollywood	12
Pegler	7
Pictures	22
Radio	15
Society	8, 9
Sports News	13, 14, 15
The Post's New Yorker	12

Russia to Buy More U. S. Goods in Return for 'Favored-Nation' Treatment

Soviet Pledges Year's Import Of $40,000,000

To Be Granted All Trade Advantages Given to Other Countries.

Text—Page 7.

Increasing trade between this country and Russia is demonstrated graphically in a new commercial agreement between the two governments proclaimed yesterday by President Roosevelt and approved by the Soviet of People's Commissars of the Soviet Union. It replaces the former agreement which expired on July 12.

Under the new accord, the amount of American goods Russia agrees to buy in a year is increased one-third, from $30,000,000 in the old agreement to $40,000,000 in the new one.

Secretary of State Hull yesterday pointed out that the figure for the coming 12 months is an increase of 233 1-3 per cent over the $12,000,000 annual value of American products exported to the Soviet territory in the three years, 1932-34, preceding the signing of the trade agreement in 1935. While Russia, under the old agreement, agreed to buy only $30,000,000 worth of goods yearly, her imports from America have substantially exceeded that sum, Secretary Hull revealed. In the first year of the understanding the purchases amounted to $37,000,000, while in the first 11 months of the second year they totaled $36,000,000.

"Favored Nation" Treatment.

For its part, the United States undertakes in the new agreement to accord to Russian commerce unconditional most-favored-nation treatment, except for coal, this reservation being due to provisions of the 1932 revenue act for a tax of 10 cents per 100 pounds on coal from countries to which exports of coal from the United States did not exceed, in the previous year, imports of coal from such countries, "unless treaty provisions of the United States otherwise provide." Russia has notified the United States that in the coming year her exports of coal to the United States will be limited to 400,000 tons, slightly less than the quantity imported into this country in the past year.

Under the agreement, the Soviet Union will continue to receive the benefits of concessions granted by the United States in trade agreements entered into under authority of the trade agreements act. Under the United States policy, in its reciprocal trade treaties, tariff concessions granted in agreements are applicable to imports from third countries which do not discriminate against American commerce or otherwise pursue policies or take actions which tend to defeat the purposes of the trade agreements act.

"Harmony" Is Hailed.

"The agreement proclaimed today," the State Department announcement said, "is evidence of the intention of the Soviet government to trade with the United States to continue to pursue policies and take actions in harmony with the purpose of the trade agreements act."

It added:

"The present agreement with the Soviet Union, like the previous agreement . . . does not involve any new concessions with respect to tariff rates and is not a trade agreement of the kind negotiated with 16 other countries under the authority of the trade agreements act."

Machinery Export Gain Seen.

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—The new commercial agreement between the United States and Soviet Russia, by which the latter nation agrees to purchase at least $40,000,000 from this country in the ensuing year, was regarded by trade experts here today as assuring an increase of American industrial exports to Russia.

Although D. A. Rosoff, chairman of the board of directors of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the official Soviet trade organization, would comment only that he "understood the agreement had been signed." From other trade sources it was learned Russia is steadily increasing her consumption of American machinery.

Russia, it was said, is manufacturing automobiles and motor trucks on a constantly increasing scale, using a constantly growing proportion of American highspeed machinery. Since Russia's production of oil is increasing, it was asserted the United States is certain to sell more petroleum drilling and refinery tools and machinery during the next year.

Coal Import Pact Attacked.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP).—Protests over the agreement entered into between America and Soviet Russia were forwarded today to President Roosevelt by the Scranton Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in this region.

The agreement provides for Russia to send coal into the United States tax free. The removal of the tax will be a serious blow to the anthracite industry in Pennsylvania, civic leaders said.

At Wilkes-Barre, T. M. B. Hicks, jr., president of the Citizens' Anthracite Region, sent telegrams to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull urging them to reconsider the anthracite feature of the treaty.

At Hazleton officials of the Anthracite Reciprocal Trade Association attacked the new treaty, asserting 400,000 tons of Russian coal would be admitted to the United States duty free during the remainder of this year.

British Widow Spurns $1,900,000 to Remarry

London, Aug. 6 (AP).—Esther Sebag-Montefiore, a 26-year-old widow, gave up nearly $2,000,000 for love today.

She wed Geoffrey Myddleton, 22, a physiologist, despite a clause in the will of her late husband, Arthur, which left her $1,900,000 on condition she did not remarry. However, she will provided an annuity of $15,000 a year if she did marry again.

Veterans to Meet in Mich.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Disabled Veterans of the World War decided today to hold their 1938 national convention in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Politics and People

Careful Study Proves Value in Elimination of Defects of Wagner Housing Bill.

By Franklyn Waltman

THE value of ample and deliberate debate on major pieces of legislation was well demonstrated by the action on the Wagner housing bill in the Senate this week. Certainly, that measure, as it was approved by the Senate yesterday, is a great improvement over the bill which the Senate Education and Labor Committee reported.

WALTMAN.

But what is of more importance, the members of the Senate have a much better understanding of that piece of legislation than they had before the week began. Many who regarded the bill as a noble experiment, humanitarian in its purpose, now have some misgivings about the way it will work, even in its amended form. If the measure works badly, no Senator now may say he was kept in ignorance after the thorough and effective discussion carried on by Senators David I. Walsh, Millard E. Tydings and Harry F. Byrd during the week.

When the debate on this bill commenced last Monday it is doubtful whether there were even two Senators, as suggested by Senator Byrd, who thoroughly understood its provisions. The record of the debate makes it clear Senator Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the measure, did not have a clear understanding of all of its provisions. The debate must have been an education, albeit a painful one, to him.

Yet despite the widespread ignorance of the specific provisions of this legislation, committing the Federal Government to an expenditure of $1,200,000,000 over a 60-year period, it was announced the bill would be disposed of in a day or two at the most. Indeed, it was planned to railroad the bill through the Senate, just as a similar bill was railroaded through that body a year ago.

But a few Senators undertook to inform themselves, refused to be rushed into hasty action, proceeded to inform their colleagues and the result was elimination or restriction of some of the worst evils of the measure, as viewed by housing experts within the Administration.

* * * *

Although earmarked as a part of the President's program, the Wagner bill was not an Administration measure in the sense that it was drafted by persons in the Executive branch of Government, or even pursuant to their ideas. Nor can it be said truthfully this measure as it came to the Senate last Monday had the approval of the Administration, although its objectives were lauded in that quarter.

President Roosevelt at a press conference in June criticized the provision which permitted committing the Federal Government to pay subsidies for 60 years—and he has not publicly expressed any reversal of that opinion. The Treasury objected to the bill on the same ground. Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes opposed setting up another independent housing agency. Housing experts in other departments privately have raised even more pointed objections to the measure.

The first definite understanding of the provisions of this measure which many of the Government's housing experts had was from the newspapers after it was introduced. They were not consulted about specific provisions, and the ideas which they projected were ruthlessly shunted aside.

* * *

Nor can it be said truthfully Senator Wagner drafted this bill. He did not—and on the floor of the Senate he demonstrated he did not know a great deal about some of its provisions. Thus he took refuge, whenever sharply questioned, in emotional orations about the undisputed social and economic ends to be achieved. Nor was the report on the bill written by Senator Hugo L. Black, chairman of the committee which considered the bill. Nor did it result from the deliberations of the committee.

The bill was drafted by Leon H. Keyserling, a clever young lawyer, graduate of Harvard Law School, clerk to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and secretary to Senator Wagner. Incidentally, it also might be pointed out that whereas in the House this bill is being considered by its banking and currency committee—and properly so, since it is primarily a measure authorizing loans—in the Senate it was considered by the Committee on Education and Labor, even though Senator Wagner is chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee. But the latter group in the Senate is more difficult to push around than the Education and Labor Committee.

* * * *

Not only did Mr. Keyserling draft the bill, but there is good reason for believing he also wrote the committee's report, which ably set forth the need and benefits of a low-cost housing program, but which did not accurately describe the bill accompanying it.

Of course, few Senators draft their own bills. That is a job for a technician. But in this case there is reason to believe Mr. Keyserling was a moving force in formulating the measure. His inspiration was not the Administration's housing experts' and was not, except in a limited way, Senator Wagner.

The inspiration for many of the specific provisions in this bill came, first, from a group of sincere but starry-eyed social workers, who view the problem purely as a social one—as one of taking people out of the squalor of slums and putting them into decent homes. They can see only one leg of the elephant.

Joining hands with this group in supplying the inspiration for the bill was a group of local housing authorities from various cities, many of whom have no money to spend and several of whom are motivated, it is suspected, by the prospect of good jobs.

At all events, the members of this group, led by the socially elite but sometimes fiery Langdon Post, chairman of the New York City Housing Authority, will be on the receiving end of such legislation as is passed. They are primarily interested in getting as much for their localities as possible. They are not concerned about safeguarding the interests of the Federal Government. Their obvious aim has been to get the maximum from the Federal Government with a minimum of responsibilities on their part.

These groups established the American Federation of Housing Authorities, which, despite its awe-inspiring name, is a lobby organization formed to bring pressure on Congress in behalf of the Wagner bill. So audacious have been its activities that it showed old-time lobbyists a new trick when it succeeded in having its propaganda placed on the desk of each Senator during a session of that body. It was this action which Republican Leader McNary characterized as "the boldest attempt to influence legislation I have seen in 20 years in the Senate."

* * *

This lobby operates from a suite in the fashionable Hay-Adams House. Its moving lights, in addition to Mr. Post, are Miles R. Frisbie, executive director of the Schenectady Housing Authority; Ernest Bohn, Cleveland city councilman and director of the National Association of Housing Officials—a Rockefeller-endowed organization supposedly abstaining from political or partisan action; his assistant, Edmund Hoben, and Miss Catherine Bauer, of the American Federation of Labor. Behind the scenes is an official of the discredited housing division of the Resettlement Administration.

Who is financing this lobby is not known. But, as Senator McNary said, its representatives apparently are interested for "purposes of profit," not the least of which is possible jobs in the new housing authority. But the Senate drove a few nails into such ambitions when it voted to place the program under the direction of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. To the lobby group that was the severest blow of all.

Senate Passes Housing Bill by 64-to-16 Vote

Wagner Measure Drastically Modified; Provides 60 Year Loans.

Continued from Page 1.

of Massachusetts, have been chiefly instrumental in revamping the bill. The Tydings change requires communities to put up 5 per cent of construction costs and to contribute 5 per cent of the annual rental subsidy. Tydings sought a 25 per cent contribution, but agreed to the smaller percentage.

Confirmation by the Senate of all Federal housing officials receiving more than $4,000 was approved, on motion of Senator William H. King (Democrat), of Utah.

D. C. Status in Doubt.

As passed by the Senate, the bill still left in doubt the District of Columbia's status under the measure. Although the District is included under the bill's definition of "State," local housing authorities believe the language is inadequate, and a plainly stated provision will be sought in the House.

Motion to reconsider the Byrd ($1,000 a room) amendment was made by Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, who originally supported the Byrd limitation. Byrd swiftly took the floor against the motion and moved to table. The Senate backed him up, and the reconsideration move was defeated.

Opposing the Byrd amendment, Wagner, with some Administration backing, argued $1,000-a-room limitation would bar from participation in the program communities where building costs are higher. Wagner had said the cost is upward to $1,600 a room in New York.

The housing lobby Thursday joined in denouncing the Byrd proposal, and had been reprimanded by Senators when their tracts were distributed by page boys.

Byrd Assails Lobby.

In his Senate speech yesterday Byrd again turned his fire on the lobby. He said they purported to base their figures on Federal Housing Administration data when they argued the room costs should be $1,477.

The Virginian said he checked with the FHA and found that of mortgages insured on 4,977 private homes, the cost was $4,641 a family unit, including land, landscaping and profit. He said this would bring room costs down to $1,282 per unit, with land and incidentals included. Byrd's $1,000-a-room provision is exclusive of land cost. He said his $4,000 slum dwelling limitation would permit a $5,000 house, if $1,000 were paid for the land, and house probably 50 per cent more underprivileged families. He said his amendment may save hundreds of millions over a long period, and assailed costly features of the program.

"This program," said Byrd, "which is intended to take care of only 175,000 families, represents only a small part of the ultimate cost. The mayor of New York (Fiorello LaGuardia) has estimated it would cost $15,000,000,000 to eliminate the slums in New York City alone."

Supporting Byrd, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, said 73 per cent of this country's home owners live in houses which cost less than those proposed in the Wagner bill. He said these same home owners would be taxed to provide money for the slum clearance dwellings, which were more costly.

The program would be financed by $700,000,000 raised by United States Housing authority bonds, sold to the public and guaranteed by the United States.

Local Control Provided.

This would be loaned to local housing authorities who would have charge of construction and administration of the slum projects. Loans would be repayable in full, with interest 1½ per cent in excess of the "going" Treasury rate.

In addition, $26,000,000 is appropriated in the bill for rental "contributions" by the Government over a 3-year period. Theoretically, the Government would supply the difference between the actual rental value of the homes, and what the "lowest" income groups were able to pay.

Local authorities would be required to put up only 5 per cent of construction costs and 5 per cent of the rental subsidies.

An alternative program of slum clearance assistance is provided through proposed capital grants. The grant to any one project would not exceed 25 per cent of the cost, and 15 per cent in payments to labor, or 40 per cent in all.

Pope Training Anti-Red Spies, Paper Charges

Sent From His School to Russia's Borders, Izvestia Asserts.

By the United Press.

Moscow, Aug. 6.—The official government newspaper Izvestia today accused Pope Pius XI of maintaining a college for spies and anti-Soviet propaganda agents.

It revealed that espionage trials of many priests are in progress or impending and intimated that death penalties would follow.

The article, signed by B. Kandidov, asserted that:

"The head of the Roman Catholic Church does not confine himself to anti-Soviet attack. There exists in Rome a special school, 'Russicum,' in which unemployed white guards are trained as spies and anti-Soviet propagandists.

"Supplies" Neighbor Nations.

"This institution supplies agents to the secret services of a number of states bordering our eastern and western frontiers."

The article asserted that "active participation of priests in enlisting terrorists and saboteurs has been revealed by the military collegium of the supreme court in investigating cases of monarchists and terrorists . . .

"Catholic spies are no less active than their orthodox brethren. Trials of the Polish priests Skalski, Sloskan, Sokolovski, Lovrensko and others have shown that the secret service of our western neighboring state had systematically supplied these Catholic priests with instructions."

Recent trial of the Ukrainian Baptist pastors revealed, according to Izvestia, the existence of clerical espionage organizations at Novgorod-Velinski and Sheptovski.

"Exposed and Liquidated."

The special collegium of the Kuibishev regional court, the paper said, had revealed during its trial of members of religious anti-Soviet organizations that similar groups exist in other cities.

"The organizations were exposed and liquidated and their members condemned," the paper said.

Vatican City, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Officials of the Holy See denied emphatically today that the College "Russicum," accused by the Soviet newspaper Izvestia of being a spy school, employed espionage methods, but admitted that "the college is a vital center of anti-bolshevist propaganda."

One of the fondest hopes, they said, was that some day it would be able to "restore Christianity" to Russia.

Senate Votes 7-Man Study Of Judiciary

Committee to Act With View to Reform at Next Session.

Continued from Page 1.

a bill to that effect before the Judiciary Committee.

Action was taken in advance of Senate consideration, probably today, of the lower court reform bill written in the wake of the Administration's court bill capitulation.

Dispute Appears Over.

Little controversy appeared in prospect after Senator Sherman Minton (Democrat), Indiana, gave up his attempt to provide for a two-thirds Supreme Court vote before a Federal law could be invalidated.

Members of the special Senate committee authorized to make the interim reform study will be named by Chairman Henry F. Ashurst, of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Ashurst will serve on the special committee, but Senator Hatch probably will be chairman. It is understood that all but one of the members have been agreed on. They probably will include Hatch, Ashurst, Burke, O'Mahoney (Democrat), Wyoming; Austin (Republican), Vermont, and Steiwer (Republican), Oregon. Whether the seventh member will be a court plan opponent, or a former supporter of the Administration bill, has not been determined.

College Head's Son Appointed Secretary to C. I. O. Chieftain

Student of Labor Joins Expanding Staff of John L. Lewis.

A college president's son, with an extensive labor background, despite his youth, has become secretary to the picturesque head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, John L. Lewis.

Ralph Hetzel, jr., whose father, Ralph Dorn Hetzel, is president of Pennsylvania State College and who is himself a graduate of that institution, has taken his post in the staff rapidly being expanded to handle the multitudinous problems raised by the C. I. O.'s snowball-like growth.

The younger Hetzel's interest in labor crystallized while he was doing research and secretarial work for Gov. Clifford Pinchot in 1933 and 1935. At that time Pennsylvania was experiencing considerable labor trouble in its "captive" coal mines and Hetzel's work brought him into contact with that situation.

Later he worked with Stephen Raushenbush in the Pennsylvania Security League for legislative reforms.

He was graduated from Penn State in 1933. Seeking a doctor's degree he studied at the London School of Economics, concentrating on the British trade union movement, the Labor party, and laws affecting labor in England.

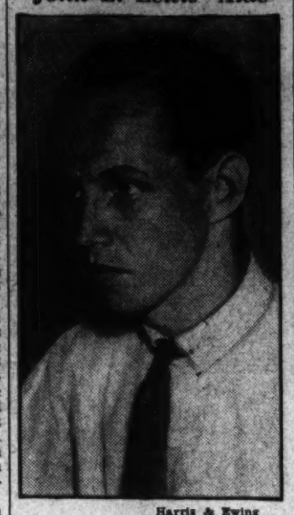
Returning to the United States, he was employed by the Labor Relations Board for a time, then turned to the C. I. O. for further service.

British manufacturers, he said yesterday, are unable to understand the attitude of American industrialists who refuse to deal with unions or seek to prevent employes from joining unions. English employers, he said, convinced the union is the most helpful medium for dealing with the workers, actually encourage unionization.

He said provisions of the British Trades Union act, which establish union responsibility, are "overemphasized" by American manufacturers. The required registration of unions is by no means strict in the information that must be filed, he said, the required reports being "very general" in character. Financial statements are required, but primarily in connection with the unions' beneficiary activities.

Hetzel sees only one possible drawback to his joining the C. I. O. staff. For his doctor's degree at the London School of Economics he has been writing a thesis on the political activities of the American Federation of Labor, from which the C. I. O. leaders have been suspended. Remarking that "certain sources" of research material now are closed to him, he adds that "the best place to learn about the A. F. of L., may, after all, be in the C. I. O."

John L. Lewis' Aide



Harris & Ewing.

RALPH HETZEL, JR.,

On Capitol Hill

Senate Passes Bill Denying U. S. Courts Power Over Taxes Where State Has Remedy.

TWO BILLS EMBODYING important changes in court procedure were adopted by the Senate. The Connally bill provides no Federal court shall have jurisdiction over any suit to enjoin the assessment or payment of State taxes if there is an available remedy in State courts. The other, the Borah bill, would make illegal agreements between lawyers and interested parties on fees in receivership and bankruptcy cases.

Judges would be forbidden to fix fees and to appoint relatives as receivers or attorneys in such cases, and fines of up to $10,000 or imprisonment up to five years, or both, are provided in the Borah bill.

Senator Connally, of Texas, said of his bill that non-resident corporations may sue in Federal court and withhold State taxes pending outcome of the suit, in many instances compelling the States to compromise the litigation.

* * * *

TWO SAFETY-AT-SEA bills won Senate approval. The international convention for promoting safety at sea would be applied to all vessels in one bill, while the other would require ships to deposit ashore lists of passengers when they carry overnight passengers on inland or coastal waters. New construction rules for ships, provided in a third bill, were delayed when the bill went over.

* * * *

THESE WERE A FEW of the 140 bills the Senate passed in addition to the housing bill . . . Others included authorization for the Maritime Commission to lease or operate any property under its control and to use such income . . . Increase from $3 to $4 in pay for Federal jurors . . . Repeal of an authorization for a $23,862,750 payment to the Philippines for increment on the islands' deposits in American banks at the time of the dollar's devaluation . . . Permission for the United States to assume police jurisdiction over the Shenandoah National Park . . . $1,101 reimbursement to civilian employes of the Navy whose personal effects were destroyed in the Norfolk Naval Air Station fire May 15, 1936 . . . Raise in minimum pay of deputy marshals from $1,600 to $2,000 a year.

* * * *

REPRESENTATIVE NORMAN R. HAMILTON, of the Second Virginia District, asked President Roosevelt and naval officials today to maintain an adequate work load at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

Hamilton said the U. S. S. Salinas and the destroyers Manly, Claxton, Hatfield and Kane, originally assigned to the Norfolk yard for repairs, had been transferred to the Charleston (S. C.) yard, because work on the cruiser Omaha was transferred from Charleston to Norfolk.

* * * *

SPEAKER BANKHEAD named today a delegation of five to represent the House at the celebration of the 350th anniversary of the birth of Virginia Dare, August 18, at Roanoke Island, N. C.

Those named were Representatives Warren, of Washington, N. C.; Rayburn, of Texas, the House majority leader; Bland, of Newport News, Va.; Boland, of Scranton, Pa., and Snell, of New York, the House Republican leader.

* * * *

STILL ANOTHER BILL passed by the Senate was one to enable the late James Reuel Smith, of Yonkers, N. Y., to have fulfilled his desire that his estate should assist in reducing the public debt of the United States.

The bill, which now goes to the White House, gives the Treasury permission to accept a bequest from the estate after other bequests are paid.

* * * *

HONEY BECAME a commodity subject to marketing agreements when President Roosevelt signed a bill permitting the Secretary of Agriculture to enter into contracts with beekeepers . . . Vice President Garner should stay on the job when the Senate is in session, Senator King, of Utah, smilingly observed in protesting a ruling which took him off the floor during the housing debate . . . The House Ways and Means Committee approved refund of $30,000,000 of unemployment compensation tax collections to States which failed to pass approved compensation laws before the December 31, 1936, deadline.

* * * *

THE NORTH CAROLINA Congressional delegation threw its support behind Chief Justice W. P. Stacy of the North Carolina Supreme Court, for appointment to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Representative Doughton, delegation chairman, said all members had signed a petition urging President Roosevelt to name Judge Stacy to succeed Justice Willis Van Devanter, who recently retired from the Nation's highest bench.

Stacy has been chief justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court since 1925. He was mentioned as a possible appointee to the United States high court when Federal Circuit Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, was named by former President Hoover. Parker was not confirmed by the Senate. The North Carolina jurist served as President Roosevelt's chairman of the National Steel and Textile Labor Relations Board in 1934.

New Deal Split May Spell End For Tammany

Walker Heads Factions Opposing Sullivan's Mayoral Choice.

By the Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 6.—An edict to "clean house" in Tammany, issued by Chieftain Christopher Sullivan in a move to purge the hall of rebellious elements, stood out today in the wigwam's bitter internal feud over the New Deal.

Behind that struggle, political observers saw a fight to the finish between two Tammany titans—James J. Walker, and former Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Ostensibly in political eclipse, the two men were viewed as behind-the-scene powers aligned against each other in the fight over whether Tammany Hall will enter the New Deal fold.

The fight was brought to a head by Sullivan's attempt to bring to heel insubordinate Tammany chieftains opposed to supporting United States Senator Copeland in the primary mayoralty campaign.

"They're either behind Copeland or they're out," was Sullivan's succinct ultimatum last night.

Walker Heads Minority.

Senator Copeland, a critic of the Roosevelt Administration, has been indorsed by a Tammny majority. A powerful minority faction, however, in which Walker's ame daily looms more prominently, openly said it would support the New Deal candidate, former Judge Jeremiah Titus Mahoney.

Walker originally urged Mahoney as a compromise candidate, but when Copeland, on advice from Smith, refused to withdraw, Grover A. Whalen withdrew two days ago in favor of Mahoney, a man he said was "better equipped" for the task of bucking Tammany.

Sullivan's ultimatum created virtual civil war in Gotham's democracy.

The future of the historic wigwam as New York City's dominant Democratic organization appeared at stake.

Has Lost Strength.

Population shifts in recent years have reduced the importance of the Borough of Manhattan, seat of Tammany power, and leaders of Democratic organizations in the other boroughs, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond and the Bronx, have gained steadily in prestige. All four are backing the Walker faction in supporting Mahoney.

A Mahoney victory in the primary September 16 probably would spell the end of the 161-year-old Hall's long reign as the dictator of Democratic politics here.

Walker, emerging from the political obscurity in which he has dwelt since 1932, when he resigned as mayor during an investigation of his administration, was said by his friends to be considering taking the stump for Mahoney.

Tammany broke out the first banner today as Senator Copeland arrived from Washington to plan his primary drive. The sign appeared in front of the Wigwam shortly after the Senator emerged from a conference with Sullivan.

200 Koreans Drowned In Torrential Rains

Tokyo, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—More than 200 Koreans were reported today to have been drowned in torrential rains in Korea and Manchuria. South Manchurian Railway trains were delayed for hours by flooded tracks. The rains ceased this afternoon.

SPECIAL NOTICES

PEACHES ARE RIPE AT QUAINT ACRES.
Silver Spring, Colesville pike, Route 29, only 5 miles from the District. Open daily till 8 p.m.

SUCCESS COMES MUCH EASIER
When you are BOYD Trained. Beginners' and Review Courses in Stenography, Bookkeeping, Calculating Machines. New Classes NOW Forming. Start NOW. BOYD SCHOOL (Est. 20 Yrs.). 1333 F St. NAt. 2338.

WATCHES
Nationally Known Makes for Everyone
As Low As 50% A Week
708 7th St. N.W.
CHAS. SCHWARTZ & SON.

In Congress

YESTERDAY.

Senate.

Met at 11 a. m. and recessed at 5:57 p. m. until 11 a. m. today.

Passed the Wagner housing act.

Considered numerous minor bills on the calendar.

Joint Committee continued Government reorganization study.

Interstate Commerce sub-committee resumed railroad finance investigation.

House.

Met at noon and adjourned at 5:10 until noon Monday.

Passed the sugar quota bill.

Agriculture Committee considered crop insurance bill.

Postoffice Committee considered extension of 2-cent postal rate.

Banking and Currency Committee considered housing bill.

TODAY.

Senate.

Meets at 11 a. m.

Resumes consideration of bills on the calendar.

Begins debate on revised judiciary reform bill.

House.

Not in session.

Collegiate Drinking.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—New York young people "drink very little," but 87 per cent of college youth drinks occasionally, according to a survey report by Mrs. John S. Sheppard, New York City, member of the New York State Liquor Authority.

Chaplain Conducts Services for Dead At Air-Crash Scene

Cristobal, Canal Zone, Aug. 6 (AP).—From a plane circling low over the sea where a Pan-American-Grace airliner crashed with 14 persons aboard, Chaplain L. P. Johnson, of the United States Navy, today read services for the victims.

The tribute from the air was rendered at sea 20 miles west of Cristobal, eight miles off the Coast of Panama, where the big amphibian plunged into the water Monday. Wreaths were dropped.

None of the bodies had been recovered, but fragments of wreckage, recovered by naval vessels, localized the area in which they went down.

With the chaplain during the services were the widows of Pilot Stephen Dunn and Co-Pilot Lawrence Arnold Bickford, other relatives and Pan-American-Grace officials.

Fear for Jobs Termed U. S. Happiness Hurdle

Athens, Ohio, Aug. 6 (AP).—Fear of unemployment has displaced disease as the chief menace to national happiness, Secretary of Labor Perkins asserted today at Ohio University's summer commencement. She urged graduates to "join in efforts to push forward the social frontiers" and declared:

"Prosperity can come only when wages are increased to permit workers to purchase the products of industry and thereby create new markets."

Capt. Furlong Is Nominated For Ordnance Bureau Chief

To Be Made Rear Admiral; Operations Officer Last Post.

Capt. William R. Furlong was nominated by President Roosevelt to be chief of the Bureau of Ordnance of the Navy with the rank of rear admiral.

Since June 24, Capt. Furlong has been serving as operations officer on the staff of the commander in chief of the fleet. He assumed that duty after having served for over a year as commanding officer of the U. S. S. West Virginia, flagship of battleships, battle force.

From 1928 until 1931 he was on duty here in the Office of Naval Operations, and then was placed in command of the light cruiser Marblehead. Capt. Furlong had served a previous tour of duty at the Navy Department during the early part of the World War, when he was on duty in the fire control section of the Bureau of Ordnance. At the end of the war he was stationed in St. Nazaire, France.

Born in Allenport, Pa., in 1881, Capt Furlong was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1901. He completed the senior course at the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., in 1934, and then was appointed inspector of ordnance in charge of the Naval Proving Grounds, Dahlgren, Va.

CAPT. WILLIAM R. FURLONG.

For his services in the Bureau of Ordnance during the World War, he was awarded a special letter of commendation by the Secretary of the Navy.

EYES EXAMINED
GLASSES FITTED
ON CONVENIENT MONTHLY OR WEEKLY TERMS
KINSMAN OPTICAL CO.
1320 F ST. N.W.

The Air Cooled "Modern" Mode
Special For One Week Only.
TRADE Mansco MARK Sports Wear
Made by Manhattan Shirt Company
Sport Shirts — Sold up to $3.50 ..... 77c
Bathing Trunks — $2.50 & $3.50 Grades $1.65
Store Open Today Until 3 P. M.
The Mode
F at Eleventh

Jobless Youth Shoots Mother and Two Sisters to Death, Then Ends His Life

Note Reveals His Fears of Losing Sight

Brother Finds Bodies as He Returns Home From Work.

By the United Press.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6.—Terrified by the threat of blindness, Bernard Gregor, 20-year-old unemployed auditor, shot and killed his widowed mother, his two sisters and himself today.

A note found in the Gregor home in suburban Crafton apparently explained the tragedy, according to police. Written by young Gregor two days ago, it read:

"At one time or other, I've heard all them say something like they wished they were dead. So maybe I am really right. Oh, if there was some other way than this out of our misery. But I can't see it. There is absolutely nothing ahead."

Bernard was to have had his eyes tested by an optometrist today. Police said he feared the result of the examination so much that he killed Mrs. Anna Gregor, 47; Betty, 25; Mary Ann, 15, and then turned the gun on himself.

The bodies were discovered by Frank Gregor, a brother of Bernard, when he returned home from work. His mother's body was propped against a wall in her bedroom and the sisters' bodies were on the bed they shared. Bernard's body was found on the floor of the sisters' room. A .22-caliber rifle was beside his body.

Another sister, Alice, 17, escaped because she was visiting friends. Alice said of her dead brother:

"He was very ambitious. He had lots of plans. He wanted to be a big business man some day and he studied all the time."

Bernard had worked recently as an auditor in a Pittsburgh department store but had lost his job when his eyes failed.

Bernard's father died last year.

Frank Gregor, a millworker, was placed under technical arrest pending investigation. He described finding the bodies. He returned home from work and prepared his own breakfast, he said, and then went upstairs. Through the open door of his sisters' bedroom he saw Bernard on the floor.

"Get up," he said. "You're not fooling anybody."

Then he saw the rifle and found the other bodies.

Search of Grave For Will Asked in Fight for Fortune

Philadelphia, Aug. 6 (AP).—A claimant to the $20,000,000 estate of the late Henriette E. Garrett today asked the Orphans Court to have her casket searched to see whether a will was hidden therein when she was buried nearly seven years ago.

The claimant is Mrs. Henrietta Garrett Ferguson, of Haverford, Pa. In her petition she intimated that Mrs. Garrett's personal maid, now dead, may have hidden a supposed will in the casket because the last known will of Mrs. Garrett was not pleasing to the maid. Mrs. Ferguson received $10,000 in the known will and the maid $8,000.

"The remains of Mrs. Garrett lay in a casket in a darkened room for four days after her death, the open casket offering a convenient receptacle in which to hide her will," the petition said.

Falsifying Charge Sought for Doctor In Custody Fight

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP).—Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes sought to obtain a warrant today charging Dr. John A. Rose with falsifying the birth certificate of Donald Horst, central figure in a custody fight between his real and foster mothers.

But Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal Court refused, ruling information presented insufficient.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst claim the 31-months-old youngster because they reared him since birth, and John Regan and Lydia Nelson contend they should have him because they are his natural parents.

Hodes said the board of health notified him Dr. Rose had filed a birth certificate stating the child was born to Mrs. Horst, although he was actually borne by Miss Nelson.

Light May Be Key To Cancer Cures

Cleveland, Aug. 6 (AP).—Light rays given off by human blood may lead scientists to the detection of early stages of cancer, Dr. Hans Barth, University of Munich physicist, said today in an interview.

Discussing use of a delicate instrument for measuring the rays, he said Russian scientists recently demonstrated that blood of a healthy person, if he is not fatigued, gives off radiations.

"The radiation stops when the person becomes fatigued or when a cancerous growth has started somewhere in his body," Dr. Barth said. Since cancer is regarded as curable if detected in its early stages, Dr. Barth believes the rays may be important.

Miss Pifer, Relatives Depart for Strasburg

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 6 (AP).—Accompanied by her twin sister and a brother, Miss Martha Pifer, Government sanatorium nurse, who was found here July 26 following her disappearance at Albuquerque, N. Mex., May 14, left here today for her home in Strasburg, Va.

Stutterers Studied.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 6 (AP).—Robert Millsen, head of the Indiana University speech clinic, said today Southerners do not stutter as much as persons from other sections. "Usually they talk too slowly and are too tired to stutter," he said.

Two Babies Thrive After Post-Mortem Birth

Associated Press WIREPHOTOS.

In the heated oxygen tent at the top lies a baby delivered by Philadelphia surgeons a minute after its mother, Mrs. Mary Boccassini, died. Below is thriving Antoinette Sorde, born similarly at Niagara Falls, Ontario, May 17. She is held by a sister.

Surgeons Save Baby Girl After Mother's Death

Child Delivered in One Minute in Dramatic Operation.

Continued from Page 1.

mother not removed for several hours.

"She gave several gasps at birth," Dr. Corbit said. "I was amazed."

Throughout the day, the doctor, aided by nurses who constantly came in and out of the room, watched the progress of the new life he had brought into the world.

Gradually he reduced the temperature by removing blankets from inside the incubator and shutting one by one electric lights underneath.

Shortly before noon he removed the oxygen tent, but restored it within a few minutes when the infant started to breathe irregularly and change color.

"I was very much disappointed the baby was not able to remain out from under the tent," he said.

She was fed one gram of sugar and water with an eye dropper every two hours until late in the day when nourishment from a mother of twins, one of whom had died, was administered. The mother's milk will be given in eight centimeter quantities every two hours. An injection of salt solution also was given to the child.

Dominick Boccasini, who was not present at his child's birth, today tiptoed into the room and peered intently into the incubator at the tiny face topped with a fringe of light brown hair.

"How much does she weigh?" he asked the nurse. Then he left to complete funeral arrangements for his wife.

Asked if the baby had been named, he motioned to the birth certificate, on which Fanny had been written.

Forestry Service Transfer Fought

By the Associated Press.

Representatives of forestry organizations urged the Senate Reorganization Committee yesterday to prevent removal of the Forest Service from the Department of Agriculture.

They asked the committee to write into the Robinson Government reorganization bill a provision preventing transfer of the service, possibly to the Interior Department, which under the bill would become the Department of Conservation.

James G. K. McClure, of Asheville, N. C., president of the American Forestry Association, said, "to take the conservation of trees out of the Department of Agriculture would be like taking a piston out of an automobile."

Mrs. Marshall Field's Millions Left to Sen. Beveridge's Widow

An estate of approximately $5,000,000 was left by the late Mrs. Delia S. Field, widow of Marshall Field, Chicago merchant prince, who died at her summer home, Pride's Crossing, Mass., July 23, it was shown in District Court yesterday when a petition for the probate of her will was filed.

Anxious to avoid any contests over the provisions of the will, Mrs. Field expressly stated that any bequest granted would be revoked should a contest be launched. She suggested the person whose gift was thus imperiled also should have the bequest to the one who originated the attack.

Mrs. Catherine S. Beveridge, a niece, of Indianapolis, Ind., widow of the late United States Senator Beveridge, and Spencer Eddy, one of Mrs. Field's nephews, were named as the principal beneficiaries. The estate is made up of real estate worth $109,540 and personal property, consisting of cash, stocks, bonds, and other securities worth $4,500,000.

Mrs. Field's Sixteenth street home, at Sixteenth and Euclid, is to go to Mrs. Beveridge. Also one-half of the income from the estate is to go to her for Eddy's life, after which the principal is to go to her or to persons she selects. If Mrs. Beveridge should predecease Eddy and leave no will, the estate is to go to her two children or their descendants.

If there are no descendants the principal is to go to the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago for a children's building. Mrs. Beveridge and the National Savings & Trust Co. were named executors. They were represented by Attorney Bruce Baird.

From the income of the estate the executors were directed to pay Alexander MacGregor, a butler, now dead, $12,000; Margaret Curran, a maid, $2,000; Maria Preli, a maid, $6,000 and $75 a month; Ivan Antinoff, an employe, $2,000 and $40 a month; Denis Gallagher, a chauffeur, $1,000; Peter Beatty, a godson, $5,000; Abby and Rachel Howland, $300 a year each, and Ella R. Chambers, now dead, $2,000.

Beatty is the son of the late Earl David Beatty, admiral of the British Grand Fleet from 1916 to the end of the war, and later first lord of the admiralty, who died last year.

Battle of Cocktails Rages in "Dry" Georgia

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

The girls at the left sip Georgia's newly-legalized cocktails—not more than 21 per cent alcohol and a wine base only—while at the right Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, State president of the W. C. T. U., conducts a crusade against the drink in the "dry" State.

Capitol Police Seize Lawyer Aiding Woman

Holzworth Charged With 'Displaying Propaganda;' Mentioned Russia.

John Michael Holzworth, big-game hunter and lawyer, who recently helped save a District prisoner from the electric chair, was arrested on the steps of the Capitol yesterday on charge of "displaying propaganda" and disorderly conduct.

The disordrerly charge grew out of a controversy that started when Holzworth asked, "What is this, Russia?"

Four Capitol policemen leaped on Holzworth, dragged him to a guard room and then called a patrol wagon, which took him to the First Precinct Station. Holzworth was still in a cell last night, waiting for friends to post $50 collateral.

Holzworth appeared on the steps outside the Senate chamber with a frail 47-year-old woman, Miss Ethelyn Chrane, and a placard which read:

"Uncle Sam used me as a guinea pig—then cast me aside to die."

Miss Crane says that while she was a stenographer for the Public Health Service in New York, a Government physician, experimenting on her, applied a skin-test patch to her arm. As a result, she says, she suffered an infection that broke her health and almost caused her death. She is seeking Federal relief and 40 Senators and Representatives have signed a petition to hlep her.

Miss Chrane was holding the placard and Holzworth was talking to two reporters when a sergeant of the Capitol police approached. He told Holzworth that it was against regulations to display placards without a permit and ordered him to wrap it up.

Holzworth wrapped it up and was preparing to go into the Capitol and talk to the chief of the force when another sergeant came up.

"You wrap that up and take it away," he ordered.

Threatened by Police.

"Now don't get rough," said Holzworth. "Has this turned out to be Russia?"

"Yeah," somebody yelled.

By this time there were four policemen on the steps, one of whom—a tall angular fellow—obviously thought Holzworth was too fresh.

"Go on and peddle your potatoes," Holzworth told him.

"I'll take you off your foundations," said the tall policeman and he lunged at Holzworth.

The other three each grabbed for Holzworth and hustled him inside the Capitol. One of the officers was seen to caress his gun holster.

"What are the charges against me," Holzworth demanded, and when nobody would tell him, he added:

"If you don't know you can't hold a man without charges, you must be ignorant."

"Don't you call us ignorant," barked the aforementioned tall policeman and he pinned Holzworth's arms to his side and backed him toward the wall.

The patrol wagon arrived shortly thereafter.

Holzworth was in the limelight several weeks ago when he uncovered evidence that led President Roosevelt to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence of Thomas Jordan, convicted killer in the Garden T-Shoppe holdup.

Navy Gets 2 Islets After Long Fight

San Francisco, Aug. 6 (AP).—After 30 years' litigation and seven years' delay the Navy took possession today of Mission Rocks, two tiny islands in San Francisco Bay with a surface area of only 3.20 acres.

But Lieut. Harry Bolles, who ran up the flag, said he didn't know the purpose of the acquisition.

In early days the rocks were used as a grain shipping terminal, operated by a private concern which resisted a Presidential order in 1899 transferring ownership to the Government.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1903 the company should retain title to the submerged portion of the rocks, but the Navy should have possession of their surface. In 1930 the Federal courts issued a decree of dispossession, ending litigation.

Mass. School Starts; Winter to Be Vacation

Peru, Mass., Aug. 6 (AP).—While school children in most parts of the United States are on their summer vacations, the youngsters of this little town, high in the Bershire Hills, are learning their three R's in the one-room village schoolhouse. The year's term started this week.

Old Man Winter is responsible for the unusual schedule, the "summer vacation" for this school is from Christmas until March 1, when deep snowdrifts frequently isolate the farmhouses and make it impossible for the children to reach school with any regularity.

Body of D. C. Resident Found in Kingman Lake

The body of William O'Bryant, colored, 20, of Mount Olivet street northwest, was recovered from Kingman Lake yesterday. It was discovered floating in the lake by Joseph W. Thompson, of 28 Benning road northeast, who notified police.

O'Bryant is believed to have drowned Thursday evening when he dove from the boat from which he had been fishing with two friends. The body was identified by a sister, Mrs. Lillian Prince, of 1818 Corcoran street northeast.

20,000 Kept Workless By Chrysler Dispute

Detroit, Aug. 6 (AP).—Dispute between the United Automobile Workers and the Chrysler Corporation tonight blocked prospects of early reopening of the big Plymouth plant, on whose operations more than 20,000 workers are dependent for employment.

Negotiations toward settlement will be resumed tomorrow. The usual week-end holidays, however, will extend the plant shutdown into next week.

Wirephoto: A Tragic Home-Coming

Copyright by the Associated Press.

Alice Gregor, 16, returned to her home at Pittsburgh to find her mother, two sisters and brother dead, the result of a triple murder and suicide. A neighbor is shown comforting her.

Jury Convicts Md. Doctor for Attack on Girl

Dr. Greenhut Calm, May Seek New Trial; Mercy Asked in Verdict.

By the Associated Press.

Bel Air, Md., Aug. 6.—Dr. Armen Greenhut, 39-year-old physician, calmly listened to a Harford County Circuit Court jury read a verdict today convicting him of a capital offense for an alleged attack on a 13-year-old schoolgirl patient.

The jury's verdict carried a recommendation of mercy. He was convicted on one count, that of statutory rape, but the sentence is at the discretion of the court. The maximum penalty is hanging.

Attorneys announced they will seek a new trial.

The courtroom, partly filled with women, was quiet as the jury's decision was read. Judge John A. Robinson had warned the sheriff would arrest anyone causing a disturbance.

The jury retired at 3:40 p. m. and returned with its verdict at 5:08 p. m. It acquitted the defendant on a second count of assault with intent to commit statutory rape. Sentencing will be deferred until the court has ruled on the motion for a new trial.

Dr. Greenhut, who was accused of criminally attacking the girl, Ruth McGowan, in his office at Dundalk, Baltimore County, in May, remained calm as the jury deliberated his fate. He stayed in the courtroom, reading newspapers and chatting with court officials, attorneys, and reporters.

He said he was born in 1898 near Vienna, Austria. He told of his record in the World War, joining the army of his native land in January, 1916, when he was 18, and serving to November, 1918. He was a captain at the end of the war. He was wounded once.

NLRB to Hear Hopewell Complaint on Aug. 26

By the Associated Press.

The National Labor Relations Board announced yesterday a hearing had been called in Hopewell, Va., August 26 to hear complaints against the Solvay Processing Company there.

The board said the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians filed the complaint against the company charging it sponsored, dominated and interfered with formation of the company's employes labor organization known as the Solvay Workers Council.

The hearing will be held in the circuit court room in Hopewell.

Coughlin Scores C. I. O. As Anti-Christian Body

Chicago, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, today denounced the Committee for Industrial Organization and said, "by the salient fact that it stands for class ascendancy, the C. I. O. runs counter to Christian teaching."

C. I. O. National Strike In Silk Mills Hurried

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 6 (AP).—Delay of manufacturers in signing an agreement today prompted silk workers affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization to push plans tonight for their threatened strike Monday—a strike they said would be Nation-wide.

NAME YOUR BRAND, WE HAVE IT
A. M. & C.—90 PROOF
PRIVATE STOCK
2 YEARS OLD
"An Aristocrat Among the Blends"
This fine blend of straight whiskies carries A. M. & C.'s stamp of approval.
Full Quart $2.35
$1.10 Pint
Acker, Merrall & Condit Co.
15th & G N.W.
Opp. Treas. Bldg.
DELIVERY SERVICE MET. 1171

Children Given 5 More Weeks At Health Camp

Anonymous $200 Completes Fund for Tuberculosis Fight.

Funds to keep 125 children at this Bald Eagle Hill camp of the District of Columbia Tuberculosis Association the remaining five weeks of the season were completed yesterday by an anonymous donor.

Gambling on the generosity of Washington, Mrs. Ernest R. Grant, managing director, took the last four children to camp Thursday. Almost $200 was needed to pay for their encampment of five weeks. In the morning's mail the needed donation arrived.

When the camp opened in July, the association had money enough to send only 60 children. Check by check—$100 a day—funds came in until $4,654.08 was donated. There was no concentrated drive.

Dr. J. G. Townsend, president of the association, and Mrs. Grant, yesterday issued a statement of appreciation of the generous response of the public and the fine cooperation of the press.

"The individual investment you have made, no matter how small," they said, "will be amply repaid in the dividends of knowledge that you have helped a child along the pathway of health and extended a helping hand to those who were unable to help themselves."

Resistance to tuberculosis is built up in the children at the camp, all of whom have early stages of the disease.

100 U. S. Women Help Budapest Peace Move

Budapest, Aug. 6 (AP).—Women from many nations, including over 100 from the United States, joined a campaign today for "peace, emancipatin and freedom" in Budapest's second international Women's Week.

The American delegation was led by Inex Bandholtz, widow of the American Brig. Gen. Harry Hill Bandholtz, who is a hero to Hungarians because of his service here after the World War.

Siren Silenced By Accident on Ship in Bay Fire

Bartender Says He Tripped and Broke Cord on City of Baltimore.

By the Associated Press.

Baltimore, Aug. 6.—The mystery of why the whistle on the burning steamer City of Baltimore would not blow was solved today by a bartender, Macon Williams, who testified before the Federal board of inquiry that he tripped over the whistle cord and broke it as he left the blazing vessel.

Previously, Capt. Charles O. Brooks had testified that the whistle failed to sound when he tried to give the fire signal on it. The cord ran from the pilot house across the boat deck to the whistle on the ship's stack.

Williams said after the alarm was given he unhooked a hose line and saw water coming from it. Previously, some witnesses said no water had come from the hose lines, while others said it had. Williams said Capt. Brooks ordered him into a life boat and he broke the whistle cord while rushing toward the boat.

To Inspect Hull Again.

The Federal board plans to make another inspection of the beached hull to determine the condition of the fire pump, whether the throttle on the main engine is closed. They also want to learn whether the cork insulation around the ship's ice box is burned and whether the fire mains were broken at any point. Comdr. H. N. Perhan, a member of the board, said that cork insulation had been known to take fire spontaneously.

Another witness, a veteran Chesapeake Bay pilot, lauded the discipline and order aboard the ship. He was Capt. Richard Wysong, who was in command of the pilot boat William D. Sanner. Most of the 89 persons rescued from the boat were put aboard the Sanner.

Captain Wysong said he put the pilot boat within 50 yards of the burning ship and put both the Sanner's lifeboats overboard.

Waited Calmly In Bow.

He said he took command of one of the boats, which picked up seven persons. There was a moderate sea running. Capt. Wysong said about ten persons, including Capt. Charles O. Brooks, master of the City of Baltimore, were standing in the bow of the burning ship, but they were not excited.

He said the City of Baltimore's own boats put 54 rescued persons aboard his craft, and that the discipline of passengers and crew of the City of Baltimore was excellent.

Charles Winstead, colored chef, said he helped to untangle some hose after the fire alarm was given aboard the City of Baltimore. Then, he said, he got into the last boat to leave the ship, but gave his place to the steward. Winstead said he had given his own life preserver to a girl and had thrown her overboard. Winstead said that after he left the lifeboat he was picked up by a boat from the Sanner in about ten minutes.

1,143,049 Enter U. S. Via New York in Year

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—New York Harbor retained its position as the United States premier port of entry during the fiscal year which ended July 1, last.

Immigration officers boarded 4,518 vessels during the 12-month period and inspected 1,143,049 passengers, seamen and stowaways, an increase of 146,000 persons over the previous year.

Harry French to Hang For 'Newspaper' Killing

Alturas, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP).—Harry French was sentenced today to be hanged at San Quentin Prison for the "newspaper feud" murder of Claude I. McCracken March 25. McCracken, editor of a stenciled newspaper, was shot to death while entertaining two young women at dinner.

CLOSED
ALL DAY
TODAY
And Every Saturday During August
YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNT IS CORDIALLY INVITED
RALEIGH HABERDASHER
Washington's Finest Men's Wear Store 1310 F STREET

At vacation time more than any other headaches, fatigue and nervousness are discomforting and irritating. Don't allow those things to spoil your vacation. Have your eyes examined today by our Registered Optometrist.
JEWELERS—OPTICIANS
The ROSS Co.
1331 F STREET N.W.
Latest Scientific Equipment
Convenient Weekly Terms

House Passes Sugar Bill Over Threat of Veto

Members Refuse to Lift Limit Upon Offshore Producers.

Continued from Page 1.

war-risk insurance and low-rate farm loans acts, the House stampeded from its leaders to override the White House.

Congressional sugar bloc leaders still professed optimism last night in the Senate and then re-pass the measure over the President's veto that they could hold the bill intact in both houses. Administration leaders were skeptical, on the basis of today's vote.

Talk was widely heard that a compromise will be worked out in the Senate bill to justify hope of the President's signature, as the House strategy would then be to recede on its bill somewhat in conference.

Rayburn Seeks Amendment.

Floor Leader Sam Rayburn, of Texas, took the floor yesterday to tell members to accept the Administration-Jones amendment if they wanted sugar legislation at this session.

His plea failed, as did Jones' plea to the House to "be wise" and accept the amendment. He pointed out the proposed legislation would be in effect only until 1941, and that the amount of refined sugar imported from Hawaii and Puerto Rico would be little different whether the restriction was left in the bill or stricken.

The two-day debate saw all but committee amendments go down to defeat before the sugar bloc, composed of Western and Midwestern members from the beet-sugar-producing States and of Eastern members from the seacoast refinery States.

Florida Fight in Vain.

Florida members, chiefly Representatives J. Hardin Peterson, J. Mark Wilcox and Robert A. Green, fought in vain for amendments raising Florida's sugar quota from 70,000 tons to at least 100,000 tons annually. Louisiana delegates headed by Representative Robert L. Mouton, Democrat, called the present bill a "compromise," slashed at the Louisiana-Florida quota of 420,000 tons as "inadequate," and said that the measure was necessary to protect Louisiana sugar from offshore competition of "peon wages."

The bill passed by the House yesterday included one significant committee amendment, subjecting imported blackstrap molasses, used in this country as a base for distilled alcohol, to the excise tax.

Quotas Are Listed.

The basic raw sugar quotas carried in the measure include: domestic beet, 1,550,000 short tons; domestic cane (Florida and Louisiana), 420,000; Hawaii, 938,000; Puerto Rico, 798,000; Virgin Islands, 9,000; Philippines, 1,029,781; Cuba, 1,911,476, and other foreign countries, 26,412.

Refined imports are limited thus: Hawaii, 29,616 short tons; Puerto Rico, 126,033; Virgin Islands, none; Philippines, 80,214; and Cuba, 375,000.

An excise tax of half a cent a pound on refined sugar, to finance benefit payments to growers complying with production control, child labor and wage-hour regulations of the Agriculture Department, is in the bill.

Benefit payments are set at 60 cents a hundred pounds of sugar for small growers. Larger producers get less in degree.

The Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings this morning on the sugar bill.

Contractor Asks Refund of Gift To Democrats

Money Contributed Under 'Veiled Threats,' Letter Tells Vandenberg.

Continued from Page 1.

contribution had gone to the solicitors as commission.

Young's indignation was expressed after Senator Truman (Democrat), Missouri, asked him if he "assumed" the contribution would have "any effect on this committee." Chairman Wheeler (Democrat), Montana, observed that "it seems to me the only legitimate inference you could get was that this committee might be for sale."

To Sell Advertising Space.

The committee chairman put into the record the letter of a New York attorney, Watson Washburn, who said he had heard one of the solicitors who called on Young was identified as N. M. Lichtblau. The attorney said that on behalf of an "aged and indigent client, Mrs. Eva J. Hurt," he was searching for one Nat Lichtblau, "who it appears was one of a gang of high-pressure salesmen who secured by misrepresentation our client's last $12,000 worth of securities."

Meanwhile, the executive secretary of the Democratic National Congressional Committee, Charles S. Hayden, told reporters that organization planned to publish a "Democratic Register." A prospectus offers advertising in the register at $700 a page. Hayden said that no profits are expected from sale of the register which is intended as a Congressional yearbook.

Army Recognizes 2 Guard Generals

Federal recognition has been extended Maj. Gen. Walter Peery Story and Brig. Gen. Harcourt Hervey, of the National Guard of California, the War Department announced yesterday.

Gen. Story is a graduate of Eastman College, New York, and took the G-2 course at the Army War Cllege here in 1932.

Gen. Hervey is a graduate of the University of California. In the World War he served as a lieutenant colonel of Field Artillery with the First Division, A. E. F.

He has been awarded the Purple Heart, the Silver Star and the French Croix de Guerre.

Grin and Bear It — By Lichty

"She's an awful gossip—always repeating everything I tell her."

Do American voters want Congress to adjourn? The American Institute of Public Opinion gives their answer Sunday in The Post.

The Federal Diary

REG. U. S. PATENT OFFICE

By Scott Hart

Reward.

It was the services of Benjamin F. Bomar as headwaiter in the House restaurant that first brought him to attention of the Congressmen, and they have rewarded him for what they regarded as his faithful work . . . His reward is the position of attache to the Ways and Means Committee . . . He succeeds Harry Parker, who was there 63 years, and whose departure was marked by ceremony and the fat assurance that he would receive full pay so long as he lived . . . Bomar is a mannerly young man and a hard worker for the United Government Employes, Inc. . . . Edgar G. Brown, U. G. E. president, said yesterday: "Colored people throughout the Nation highly commend Chairman Robert L. Doughton (Democrat), of North Carolina, for this recognition of their race.

BOMAR.

Visitor.

Lawrence W. Cramer, young, active, personable and Governor of the Virgin Islands, is visiting here, with Mrs. Cramer . . . He is talking with other officials of Interior about routine matters, which doubtless include the important topic of rum . . . He is said to be especially interested in a dry dock project for the island.

Determination.

Mrs. Anna M. Casey, oldest employe in the National Guard Bureau, leaves the service Tuesday with a fine example of determination in her wake. Seventy years of age—and magnificently disdainful of it—she doesn't elect to sit in a rocking chair and expand on her reminiscences. She is going into business for herself; will try her hand at art, deserted by her some 45 years ago. They gave her a nice birthday and retirement party, with Gen. Albert H. Blanding and Chief Clerk Herbert C. Davis officiating.

A. F. G. E. Notes.

William Green emerges as one of the head-line speakers for the Philadelphia Convention . . . George P. Huber, treasurer, Public Roads Lodge, No. 344, has been ill at his residence in Colonial Village . . . President M. G. Lloyd, of Bureau of Standards Lodge No. 5, has been elected a delegate to the National Convention; Disbursing Office Lodge, No. 362, has elected Mrs. Mary M. Becker as a delegate . . . In its "Gains Made This Year," the A. F. G. E. accounts the saving of jobs for 1,800 in the Naval Aircraft Factory, Philadelphia . . . Federal Trade Commission Lodge, No. 365, now has 56 members; this is a gain of 13 since June 1 . . . The program of the A. F. G. E. was discussed by C. H. Whitsey, District organizer, at the last meeting of Interior Lodge, No. 35; he shared the program with John C. Page, of the Reclamation Service, who talked on Boulder Dam.

Leaves Service.

George Gardner, who was chief of the editorial section, Bureau of Air Commerce, has left the service to become assistant to the director of Public Relations, Pan-American Airways . . . Gardner came here from the New York Herald-Tribune in 1930 . . . On the paper he was assistant aviation editor . . . He has not been replaced in Air Commerce, as yet.

Enter Service.

Theodore M. Fisher, of Philadelphia, Kenneth L. Wimer, of Roseburg, Oreg., Henry M. Margolin, of Brooklyn, and Peter Egan, of St. Paul Minn., have been appointed in the credit union section, F. C. A . . . Charles A. Gallagher, of Newton, Mass., comes to the administrative division, personal section . . . The appointment of I. Emerick Peterson, personnel officer of the F. C. A. at Wichita, to the position of assistant chief of training and research in the personnel section here, is announced . . . He was at Wichita for three years and is a graduate in personnel from the University of Minnesota . . . He has served several concerns as a personnel officer.

School.

The 1937-1938 school year of the graduate school, Department of Agriculture, will open the week beginning September 20. Quick registration is asked. No one will be admitted to class without a registration card.

Names.

Plans for the Interior Department Recreation Association's coming-out party the night of August 11, are zooming . . . "Stiff shirts are not barred, but stuffed-shirts will be!" reads an announcement, which goes on to list the contact members of the social committee for information regarding the entertainment features. The members: L. E. Geyer, E. E. Gatzin, Marguerite Hays, Eleanor Mills, Marion C. Sedberry, Henry Prager, Mrs. Bernice Norris, Eva Atwood, Milton Tinsley, Ken Bailey, Oneda Lutes, Jack Hennessey, C. R. Graham, Myrle Patschuke, Mrs. B. Stack, Edward Stiles, Elizabeth Oswald, Edith Noyes, John Lang, Mrs. Beulah Searles, Thomas Hampton, A. H. Reising, H. M. Edelstein, H. R. Stinson, Mrs. Leone Graham, J. L. Acuff, Evelyn Adams and Ian Forbes.

Slash in Gas Rates Expected After Hearing

Reductions in gas rates are expected to follow a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission which was announced yesterday for Monday, August 30.

New rates will go into effect September 1, according to James L. Martine, executive secretary of the commission, as provided by the sliding scale arrangement.

'Dignity of the Church' Topic Of Dr. Harvey Smith Tomorrow

Guest Pastor Will Serve National City Christian Church Through August in the Absence of Dr. Raphael Miller.

Dr. Harvey Baker Smith, guest minister of the National City Christian Church, will speak on "The Dignity of the Church" at the morning service tomorrow. Dr. Smith, formerly a minister at the Columbia Heights Church, will serve the pastorate at the National City Christian Church during August while Dr. Raphael H. Miller is on vacation.

Mrs. Cecile Littlefield, of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Washington, will be the guest soloist at the morning service. Mrs. J. Horace Smithey will be at the great organ.

Miss Lela Carson assumed her new duties as secretary to the minister of the National City Christian Church this week. Miss Carson for many years has been secretary at the University Place Church, Des Moines, Iowa, and comes to Washington well qualified to take up the work here. She is a graduate of Drake University of Des Moines.

The Business Women's Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Social Hall, Monday evening at 5:30. Dinner reservations may be made through Mrs. Mary Orpen, Columbia 9758-W.

Columbia Heights. Rev. Arthur P. Wilson will continue his series of summer sermons on "Jesus the Teller of Stories" with "Parables of the Kingdom."

Special music will be rendered by Ethel Whitlow, who will sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Takoma Park. "What Is His Name?" will be the topic of the pastor, D. C. Gordon, on Sunday morning. Young people will meet Tuesday evening.

Third. C. N. Williams, minister, will preach at 11 a. m. on "What Shall be First?" Ordinance of baptism at close of service.

Takoma Park Community Church. The Rev. Tillman Ross Braddy, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. on "The Modern Good Samaritan" and at 8 p. m. on "What Makes a Bible Christian?"

Guest Preacher Will Address D. C. Lutherans

Dr. Weidley, of Baltimore, to Be at Church of Reformation.

Dr. Paul A. Weidley, of Baltimore, will be the guest speaker at the Lutheran Church of the Reformation tomorrow morning. His subject will be "Is this Not the Carpenter's Son?" Dr. Weidley is the pastor of Grace Church in Baltimore and is the nephew of Dr. John Weidley, pastor emeritus of the Church of the Reformation.

Dr. Blackwelder is speaking tomorrrow to the Lutheran Summer Assembly at Massanetta Springs, Va., but will return to Washington and preach on Sunday, August 15.

The visiting ministers for the remainder of the summer are announced as follows: August 22, Dr. James Oosterling, Baltimore; August 29, Dr. Jesse M. Bader, executive director of the National Preaching Mission, New York City; September 5, Dr. Gould Wickey, of the Church Board of Education, Washington.

St. Paul's. In the absence of the pastor, Dr. Henry W. Snyder, the pulpit will be occupied tomorrow morning by Dr. B. F. Bieber, of Washington, who will preach on "I vote for Life."

At 8 p. m. the Luther League will participate in a community young people's service at the Chevy Chase Baptist Church, Western and Belt avenues.

Grace. In the absence of the pastor, Dr. Charles E. Lenski, services at Grace Lutheran Church will be conducted tomorrow morning by the Rev. Adrian Pfeiffer, pastor of the Takoma Park Lutheran Church. The subject of his sermon will be: "Some Tremendous Trifles."

The special soloist will be Mrs. Carl Bastjen. Next Sunday's sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Theodore Fricke, the newly elected pastor of St. Mathew's Lutheran Church. Other visiting pastors will be heard during the summer season.

St. Mark's. "A Noble Resolve" will be the theme of the sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. Luther Frantz, at the 11 a. m. service. Solo by Mr. Carl Weitzell

St. Stephen's. At the 8:30 a. m. service the Rev. Sam H. Kornmann will speak on "David's Purchase Price of Peace." The sermon subject of the 11 a. m. service will be "The Spirit of Christ."

Luther Place Memorial. The Rev. Edgar D. Ziegler, assistant pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning on "Christ Made the Difference." Charles Whitten will sing "The Publican," by Vande Water.

Miss Frances Schwollman will present "Auto-Riders," the topic for consideration by the Intermediate Luther League at the 6 o'clock meeting in Rock Creek Park, Sixteenth street reservoir section.

Georgetown. "The Mercy Seat" will be the subject Sunday, 11 a. m., of the Rev. Harold E. Beatty, pastor.

The Bible study at 9:30 a. m. will be under the direction of Joseph C. Wimmer. The Men's Bible Class, taught by J. Frank Butts, and the Ladies' Class, taught by Mrs. H. E. Beatty, will discuss "God Feeds a People."

Christ. The sermon in the matin service tomorrow morning will be preached by the Rev. E. Stegen, of Bloomington, Ind.

Guest to Preach At Zion Church

The Rev. S. A. Laurie Norville, a graduate of Howard and Columbia universities, will be preacher tomorrow at John Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church.

Music will be furnished by the summer choir, under direction of Miss Lucille Mills.

Lincoln Congregational — Guest speaker will be Dr. Hampton T. Medford, executive secretary of missions, A. M. E. Zion Church. He is occupying the pulpit in the absence of Dr. R. W. Brooks, who is on vacation.

Second Baptist—Dr. J. L. S. Holloman, pastor, will preach in the morning on "The Higher Education of Moses." Communion service will be at 4 p. m.

Salvation Army Services Listed

Salvation Army services will be conducted in Washington tomorrow, according to this schedule:

Washington No. 1 Corps, 606 E street northwest; Maj. W. E. Graham, officer in charge; 7 a. m. 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Washington No. 2 Corps, 1501 Seventh street northwest; Maj. James Roberts, officer in charge; 11 a. m., 8 p. m. Washington No. 3 Corps, 733 Eighth street southeast; Capt. C. William Jaynes, officer in charge; 11 a. m., 7:45 p. m. Washington No. 4 Corps, 1075 Jefferson street northwest; Capt. Jackson Martin, officer in charge; 11 a. m., 7:45 p. m. Washington No. 5 Corps, 715 I street northeast; Adjt. Charles Tritton, officer in charge; 11 a. m., 8 p. m. Men's Social Service Department, 528 First street northwest; Adjt. Albert E. Baldwin, officer in charge; 11 a. m., Adjt. Albert E. Baldwin.

Rev. W. G. Borchers, Jr., To Be Guest Preacher

The Rev. Walter G. Borchers, jr., of Emory University, Ga., will preach from the pulpit of the First Congregational Church at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Mr. Borchers, a graduate of the Asbury Theological Seminary, Witmore, Ky., has chosen for his subject "In Quest of Christ."

Mr. Borchers has also consented to lead the midweek prayer meeting, which will be held Thursday at 8 in the east parlor.

Mrs. E. K. Roosevelt 76.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—A beach picnic, of the kind the late Prseident Theodore Roosevelt used to enjoy, marked the seventy-sixth birthday today of his widow, Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt. The day found her in good health, active and happy among her friends.

Former Pastor To Fill Pulpit At First Baptist

Dr. Weaver to Discuss the Meaning of the Lord's Supper.

Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, former pastor of the church and now executive secretary of the District of Columbia Baptist Convention, will speak at the First Baptist Church tomorrow morning on "The Meaning of the Lord's Supper."

In the evening, the pulpit will be occupied by Dr. W. O. Carver, professor of missions at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

"Gambling, a Racket," will be the theme discussed at the B. Y. P. U. meeting tomorrow evening, with the stewardship commission in charge. The regular quarterly business meeting of the church will be held Thursday evening.

Fifth. This is Dr. John E. Briggs' last Sunday before sailing for London where he will preach at Spurgeon's Church. He will teach the Berea Bible Class and preach at 11 a. m. on "Stilled and Quieted," and at 7:45 p. m., on "Why We Should Attend Church."

Dr. Briggs will give reasons for going to church as given by Theodore Roosevelt and other great men.

Metropolitan. In the absence of the pastor, Dr. John Compton Ball, the pulpit will be occupied at both services by Dr. George Dewey Stevens, pastor of the Melrose Baptist Church, Roanoke, Va. The morning sermon theme will be "The Key to the Kingdom." At the evening hour he will speak on "The Crystal Christ."

Chevy Chase Baptist. Dr. Cranston Earl Goddard, minister of the College Avenue Presbyterian Church of Alton, Ill., will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning, in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Edward O. Clark.

Dr. Goddard was graduated from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, with a Ph. D. degree, and has preached in all the historic pulpits of that land, and has traveled extensively throughout the East and is one of the leaders in his denomination.

The union meeting of the Young Peoples Societies of the Chevy Chase Churches will be held in this church, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

West Washington Baptist. Vacation preachers are as follows tomorrow: The Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt, Washington, D. C.; August 15, the Rev. Paul B. Watlington, Hagerstown, Md.; August 22, the Rev. Vivian Broderick, Boston, Mass.; August 29, the Rev. C. V. Van Der Linden, Boyce, Va.

The pastor and Mrs. Austin are spending part of their vacation at East Northfield, Mass.

Bethesda. Maurice L. V. Bates, supply pastor, will begin a series of special services on "World Movements in the Light of Spiritual Interpretation" at 3 p. m. His first theme will be "The Rise of Dictators."

At 11 a. m. Mr. Bates will give a sermon on "Can We Know That We are Saved?"

Hyattsville. The Rev. B. P. Robertson, pastor, will preach a sermon tomorrow morning on "The Profitableness of Godliness." In the evening he will speak on "Christian Baptism."

'Spirit' Is Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

"Spirit" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow. The golden text is from I John 4:12, 13: "No man hath seen God at any time . . . Hereby know we that we dwell in Him, and He in us, because He hath given us of His Spirit."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Teach me to do Thy will; for Thou art my God: Thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." (Psalms 143:10).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is reached only through the understanding and demonstration of eternal Life and Truth and Love."

Sermon Topic Chosen.

Dr. S. B. Daugherty, pastor, will preach a sermon in Memorial United Brethren Church tomorrow morning on "The Primary of the Fundamental." Horatio Rench will have charge of special music at both services.

Rev. J. H. Blakemore, Jr., Talks At Service in Park Tomorrow

William R. Schmucker Will Preside and Lead the Singing; Speakers for Balance of the Season Are Announced.

The Rev. John H. Blakemore, jr., assistant pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church South, will deliver the address at the open-air service in Lincoln Park at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon. William R. Schmucker will preside and lead the singing.

Page McK. Etchison, religious work director, announces the following speakers for the balance of the season for these open-air meetings: Edward H. DeGroot, jr., president, Central Union Mission, August 15; Phi Gamma Kappa Class of Metropolitan Baptist Church, August 22; the Rev. Edward Gabler, rector, Christ Episcopal Church, August 29; the Rev. George H. Bennett, pastor, Wilson Memorial Methodist Church, September 5, and the Organized Bible Class Association will have charge of the closing service on September 12.

The guest preacher at the Northminster Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, will be Robert Caffey former member of the local Y. M. C. A. staff.

Page McK. Etchison, will speak Sunday afternoon at Camp Letts at the 3:30 o'clock vesper service. Mr. Etchison will also speak at 11 a. m. at the Falls Church Presbyterian Church.

Canon Stokes to Give Sermon At D. C. Cathedral Tomorrow

Expected to Discuss Oxford Conference at Communion Service; To Be in Charge Until Dr. Powell Returns From Vacation.

The Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, D. D., LL.D., canon residentiary of Washington Cathedral, who arrives home today from Oxford, where he attended the World Conference on Church, Community and State, will deliver the sermon at the celebration of Holy Communion in the great choir tomorrow at 11 a. m.

It is expected he will deal with the importance of this gathering, which was presided over by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

He will be in charge of the Cathedral from now until Labor Day, during the absence of the Very Rev. Noble C. Powell, D. D., dean of Washington, who is vacationing at his camp in the Virginia Mountains.

The preacher at the people's evensong service at 4 o'clock tomorrow will be the Rev. Edward Slater Dunlap. Music for both of these services will be furnished by a unit of the Cathedral Choir of men and boys.

Holy Communion will be celebrated in St. Mary's Chapel at 7:30 a. m.

The special committee appointed to arrange for a celebration of the fourteenth anniversary of the consecration of the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, D. D., LL.D., as Bishop of Washington, met during the week at Epiphany Parish Hall, under the chairmanship of Dr. Powell. Among those present were the Rev. F. Bland Tucker, rector of St. John's Church, Georgetown; the Rev. A. L. Wills, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Brookland; the Rev. C. G. Marmion, assistant at St. Alban's Parish; Eugene E. Thompson, Dr. W. Sinclair Bowen, Thomas E. Robertson, Busey H. Howard, H. T. Amiss and E. N. Lewis.

Dr. H. Burgan Will Start New Sermon Series

Hamline M. E. Pastor to Preach at Tomorrow Morning's Service.

Dr. H. W. Burgan, of Hamline M. E. Church, has returned from his vacation and will preach at morning services there tomorrow. He will begin a series of sermons on "Mid-summer Messages from Mid-winter Bible Snows." His topic tomorrow will be "Slaying a Lion on a Snowy Day."

Miss Ethel Stickles will be soloist, and J. Russell McKeever will be guest organist.

The adult department of the church school has appointed a committee to promote the Adult Bible Class Conference which will be at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., next month. The committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Harry James, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Schmucker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Grace Meyer, Miss Mary Wolford, and Dr. and Mrs. Burgan.

Metropolitan Memorial. The Rev. E. Lester Stanton, minister at the Lena, Ill., M. E. Church, will be guest preacher tomorrow as the Rev. William Andrew Keese, pastor, continues his vacation. Guest soloist will be Mrs. Stanton.

Trinity. Herbert H. McMurray will preach tomorrow morning. There will be no evening service.

McKendree. The Rev. Archie W. Davis will occupy the pulpit as guest preacher tomorrow morning. Young people of McKendree and Langdon churches will meet for joint services at Bunker Hill, N. E. at 7 p. m.

Lincoln Road. Dr. F. I. Mumford, of Garrett Park M. E. Church, Baltimore, will be guest speaker at 11 a. m. services. His topic will be "The Christian Conflict." "Livingstone's Trail in Africa" is the title of a motion picture to be shown at the 8 p. m. meeting.

Norfolk Pastor To Preach Here

Dr. Walter C. Gum, of Norfolk, Va., will be guest preacher tomorrow morning at Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Pugh Men's Bible Class has arranged a special program for the prayer meeting service next Thursday night. The young people's and senior departments will hold evening services at 7 p. m.

Francis Asbury, South. At 11 a. m. services the Rev. Albert P. Shirkey, pastor, will preach on "What We Believe About the Holy Catholic Church." This continues a series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed."

Calvary, South. The Rev. W. D. Keene, pastor, will preach at 11 a. m. services on "When Did Jesus Denounce men?" At 7:30 p. m. the pastor and the young people will conduct a joint service. Mr. Keene will talk on "The Warfare of Life." At midweek services Thursday night the pastor will talk on "Christian Steadfastness."

Rev. Brown to Be At St. Stephen's

The Rev. Clyde Brown, diocesan missioner, will be in charge of the parish of St. Stephen and the Incarnation, Monroe street near Sixteenth, during the absence on vacation of the rector, the Rev. Paul D. Wilbur.

Mr. Brown is chairman of the department of publicity, editor of the Washington Diocese Magazine, and deputy to the general convention to be held in Cincinnati on October 6, 1937.

He will conduct the services from Sunday, August 8, until Sunday, September 5. He was formerly assistant rector at St. Stephen's.

The Sunday morning services, which begin at 11 o'clock throughout the winter, have been changed to 10 o'clock during the summer months. The vested choir takes part in the service.

All Saints. The rector, the Rev. Henry Teller Cocke, will have "Purity" as the subject of his sermon at the 11 o'clock service on Sunday morning. There will be Holy Communion at the early service at 7:30.

Dr. Etz to Preach For Universalists

Dr. Roger F. Etz, who is the preacher tomorrow at the Universalist National Memorial Church, is the general superintendent of the Universalist General Convention, having headquarters at Boston.

The service, which is at 11 o'clock, is the third of the union services with All Souls' Church (Unitarian), and Mount Pleasant Congregational Church held at this church. The following Sunday, August 15, the union services will be transferred to All Souls' Church to continue through September 5.

Scotch Visitor Preaches Twice Here Sunday

Rev. Donald Budge to Be Heard at Church of the Pilgrims.

The Rev. Donald Budge, Presbyterian minister of Scotland, who visits the United States for two months each year, will deliver the 11 a. m. and the 8 p. m. sermons tomorrow at the Church of the Pilgrim.

Mr. Budge arrived yesterday and will make his headquarters in Alexandria, Va.

Bible school for all members of the family will be at 9:45 a. m. The Young People's Society will have its regular vesper meeting and light supper at 6 p. m. All young people are invited to attend.

The subject of the 8 p. m. Thursday prayer service will be "Prayers in the Old Testament." This is the fifth prayer sermon in a series of eight of which the general theme is prayer.

New York Avenue Church. Dr. Lewis Weber Gishler, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Gallipolis, Ohio, will be the guest speaker Sunday. He will speak at the morning worship at 11 o'clock and at the evening vesper hour at 8 o'clock.

The young people of the Christian Endeavor Society will meet on Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the lecture room of the church.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the midweek prayer service will be observed. The Rev. George H. Cook will be the speaker.

Westminster. The pastor, Rev. Harry V. Porter, will preach at the morning worship service at 11 o'clock on "Listening to the Call of Christ."

Gunton Temple Memorial. Dr. Bernard Braskamp, the minister, will preach at 11 a. m. on "Limiting the Limitless."

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

MOUNT VERNON PLACE
SOUTHERN METHODISM'S REPRESENTATIVE CHURCH
Massachusetts Ave. at Ninth St. N.W.
DR. JOHN W. RUSTIN, Minister
11 A. M. and 8 P. M.—Dr. Walter C. Gum, of Norfolk, Virginia.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS
16th St. at Columbia Road
Air-Conditioned Chapel
10 A.M.—Sunday School for all ages.
7 P.M.—Worship Service.
ALEXANDER SCHREINER
Organist from Salt Lake City Tabernacle. In special recitals on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8 P. M.
Public Is Cordially Invited
(No Collections)

CHRISTIAN.

THE NATIONAL CITY
THOMAS CIRCLE
Dr. RAPHAEL H. MILLER.
Rev. IVAN DUGAN, Ministers
9:45 a. m.—Bible School.
10:50 a. m.—Dr. Harvey Baker Smith.
6:30 p. m.—Christian Endeavor, Social Hall.

LUTHERAN

Church of the Reformation
Opposite Folger Shakespeare Library
212 East Capitol Street
Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, Pastor
Dr. John Weidley, Pastor Emeritus
9:30 A. M.—Sunday School.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship—Sermon, "Is This Not the Carpenter's Son?"
Dr. Paul A. Weidley, of Baltimore, Md., will preach.
The public is cordially invited

CONGREGATIONAL.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL
10th & G Sts. N.W.
Howard Stone Anderson, Minister
11 a. m.—Sermon by the REV. WALTER G. BORCHERS, Jr., Emory University, Georgia
"IN QUEST OF CHRIST"

BAPTIST.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
16th and G Sts. N.W.
Rev. Edward Hughes Pruden, D. D., Pastor
11 A. M.—"The Meaning of the Lord's Supper"—Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, (Communion Service)
8 P. M.—Rev. Dr. W. O. Carver, of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will speak.
Come to Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.; B. Y. P. U., 7:15 p. m.

UNION SERVICE
AT THE UNIVERSALIST NATIONAL MEMORIAL CHURCH
Cor. 16th and S Streets N.W.
11 o'Clock
REV. ROGER F. ETZ, D. D.
Boston, Mass.
In Co-operation with
ALL SOULS CHURCH
(Unitarian)
MOUNT PLEASANT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

• Christian Science •
Churches of Christ, Scientist, Branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
First Church of Christ, Scientist, Columbia rd. and Euclid st.
Second Church of Christ, Scientist, 111 O st. nw.
Third Church of Christ, Scientist, 13th and L sts. nw.
Fourth Church of Christ, Scientist, 16th and Meridian sts. nw.
SUBJECT:
"SPIRIT"
SERVICES:
SUNDAY, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
SUNDAY SCHOOL, 11 a. m.
WEDNESDAY EVENING MEETINGS, 8 o'clock.
Radio Program Sunday, 10:15 a. m., WJSV.
READING ROOMS:
FIRST CHURCH, 730 17th st. nw.—Hours, 9 to 9 (except Wednesdays, 9 to 7, and Sundays and holidays, 2:30 to 5:30).
SECOND CHURCH, 111 O st. n.w.—Hours, 12 to 5:30 week days; 2:30 to 5:30 Sundays and holidays.
THIRD CHURCH, Colorado Building, 14th and G sts. Hours, 9 to 9 (except Wednesdays, 9 to 7:30; Sundays and holidays, 2 to 6).
FOURTH CHURCH, Tivoli Bldg., 3313 14th st. Hours, 9 to 9 week days; Wednesdays, 9:30 to 7. Sundays, 2:30 to 5:30; holidays, 2:30 to 5:30.
All are welcome to attend our church services and use our reading rooms.

Episcopal
Rock Creek Church
Founded A. D. 1719
Rock Creek Church Rd. and Webster St.
Rev. F. J. Bohanan, D. D., Rector
Services 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m.

Washington Cathedral
Wisconsin and Massachusetts Avenues and Woodley Road
Holy Communion.....7:30 a. m.
Holy Communion and Sermon..11 a. m.
Preacher, Canon Stokes
People's Evensong and Sermon, 4 p. m.
Preacher, the Rev. E. S. Dunlap

St. John's Church
16th and H Streets
8:00 A. M.—Holy Communion.
SECOND SERVICE, 10:00 A. M.
Morning Prayer. The Rev. William Curtis White preaches: "Jael and Sisera."

Presbyterian
Church of the Pilgrims
On the Parkway at 22d and P Sts. N.W.
Gift of the Presbyterians of the South to the Nation's Capital.
Rev. A. E. Bird, D. D., Minister
Divine Worship, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
A Cordial Welcome to All

COVENANT-FIRST
Conn. Ave. at 18th and N Sts. N.W.
Morning Worship, 11 A. M.
"LOOKING FORWARD"
Rev. Allison Preaching.
Sunday School for All Grades 10 A. M.
Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney
Rev. Samuel R. Allison
Ministers

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN
Southern General Assembly
16th and Irving Sts. N.W.
Rev. James H. Taylor, Pastor.
William F. Mansell, Assistant.
9:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—Sermon by Mr. Mansell.
8:00 p. m.—Sermon by Mr. Mansell.

NEW YORK AVENUE CHURCH
13th & H & N. Y. Ave.
Minister in Charge
Dr. Albert Evans
9:30 a. m.—Church Bible School.
11:00 a. m.—Dr. Lewis Weber Gishler.
6:45 p. m.—Christian Endeavor Society.
8:00 p. m.—Evening Vesper Hour, Dr. Lewis Weber Gishler.

Mystery Bombing Planes Attack British and Italian Ships Off Algeria

Machine Guns Turned on Men Trying to Flee

Both Craft Attacked at Almost Exact Time in Same Spot.

By the Associated Press.

London, Aug. 6.—The Italian steamer Mongioia was missing tonight hours after she and the British tanker British Corporal were mysteriously attacked by unidentified bombing planes in the western Mediterranean.

The Mongioia flashed a brief S. O. S. saying she had been attacked. There were no further reports.

The British Corporal, after sending an S. O. S. and then retracting it, reached the port of Algiers under her own power and apparently not seriously damaged. None of her crew of 43 was injured.

Both ships were attacked almost at the same time and in the same spot off the coast of Algeria. Both Spanish government and insurgent planes are based within striking distance.

Neither ship was engaged in Spanish trade. The Mongioia was en route from Genoa to New Orleans, the British Corporal from the Persian Gulf port of Abbadan to England with a cargo of gasoline. Both were miles off the coast.

While many merchant ships have been under fire from war vessels in Spanish waters and others, supposedly carrying contraband, have been captured at sea, instances of aerial attacks in the Spanish war have been few.

Officers of the British Corporal said three monoplanes dropped bombs around their ship for about an hour. The only damage, they said, was from the concussion of the explosions, which shook the vessel and put the wireless temporarily out of commission.

Dispatches to Lloyds indicated that the 6,113-ton Italian steamer was bombarded from the air at the about the same time. An unconfirmed Algiers report said the Mongioia was trying to aid the British ship and that her captain was critically wounded.

When the crew of the British Corporal tried to take to the lifeboats, members said, the planes swooped low and sprayed the decks with machine gun fire, forcing them to seek shelter.

Toledo Revolt Reported.

Valencia, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—The loyalist government tonight said serious trouble has broken out in Toledo, rebel-held city south of Madrid. Heavy fighting is going on among the insurgents, an official statement said.

Nationalists Advance.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish frontier, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Nationalist troops penetrated the Province of Cuenca southeast of Madrid today, insurgent officers reported, and at the same time gained possession of the entire valley of the Guadalaviar River, where government resistance in the Teruel sector is weakest.

Rebel planes bombed the City of Cuenca, killing 12 persons. It was the first air attack on Cuenca. Five large bombers flew over the city, dropping about 30 bombs, most of which fell on the outskirts.

Throughout the day, nationalists reported, they carried out mopping up operations in the Universal Mountains, where several hundred loyalist soldiers are trapped.

Rebel Advance Halted.

Madrid, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The insurgents' Teruel drive in northeastern Spain has been stopped, government commanders declared tonight, and the initiafive has passed to the government in that battle area.

The Teruel battlefield begins roughly 100 miles east of Madrid, and insurgent drives there have aimed at separating Madrid from Valencia and both from Barcelona, capital of allied but autonomous Catalonia.

The forces of Catalonia, long inactive, have entered the campaign as effective allies. In the north, near the base of the Teruel salient, strong forces of Catalan militiamen, supported by shock troops from Valencia, closed a siege line around three sides of insurgent-held Huesca.

Neutral Group Adjourns.

London, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The 27 nations nonintervention committee adjourned today amid tea and pleasantries for several weeks of vacation, apparently suspending efforts to isolate the Spanish civil war.

New Envoy Sees Hitler.

Berchtesgaden, Germany, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Insurgent Spain's new ambassador to Germany, Rear Admiral the Marquis Antonio de Magaz, expressed his leader's "immense gratitude" to Adolf Hitler today. He presented his credentials at Der Fuehrer's mountain home.

Georgia May Ask U.S. Aid to Regain Escaped Convicts

Atlanta, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Gov. E. D. Rivers moved today to invoke a Federal statute to compel other States to return escaped prisoners to Georgia, including James Cunningham from Massachusetts and Robert Elliott Burns from New Jersey.

Rivers said State legal authorities were studying the possibility of extradition aid from the "full faith and credit" clause of the United States statutes.

Cunningham, colored convict who escaped from a chain gang in 1924 after serving three months of a 9-to-20-year sentence for robbery, was arrested in Massachusetts recently, but Gov. C. F. Hurley said a "sense of humanity" forbade granting an extradition request. Hurley criticized Georgia's penal system.

Burns attracted Nation-wide attention with his book, "I'm a Fugitive from a Georgia Chain Gang." Efforts to extradite him from New Jersey several years ago were blocked by A. Harry Moore, then Governor.

Rivers attributed a score of recent escapes in Georgia to Hurley's action in the Cunningham case, saying the convicts apparently were attempting to reach Massachusetts.

D. C. Woman Has Complete Farm on 450 Square-Foot Yard; Built Up Soil Over Brick Paving by Four Years of Work

Every Cornstalk Has Own History; Seed Gathered on Travels.

Four hundred and fifty square feet of earth may be just a mere ninety-seventh of an acre to some Washingtonians, but to Miss Catherine Bealor, 619 New Jersey avenue northeast, they are both farm and garden.

They yield her lettuce, onions, roasting ears, mint for iced tea, dahlias, tuberoses, marigolds, zinnias, princess feathers, snow on the mountain, spider plants and bachelor buttons.

Miss Bealor doubts that anybody else in the District (or many folks out in Iowa) grow taller corn than is in her pocket-handkerchief garden this August.

She points out to them the stalk that came from a seed brought down from Pennsylvania, her former home. For Miss Bealor is a bit sentimental about her cornstalks and collected her seed grain in places where she has visited.

One thing this farming on a pin point has taught Miss Bealor. She now hoots at the idea that one has to own a horse to be a good gardener. Imagine a horse on 450 square feet!

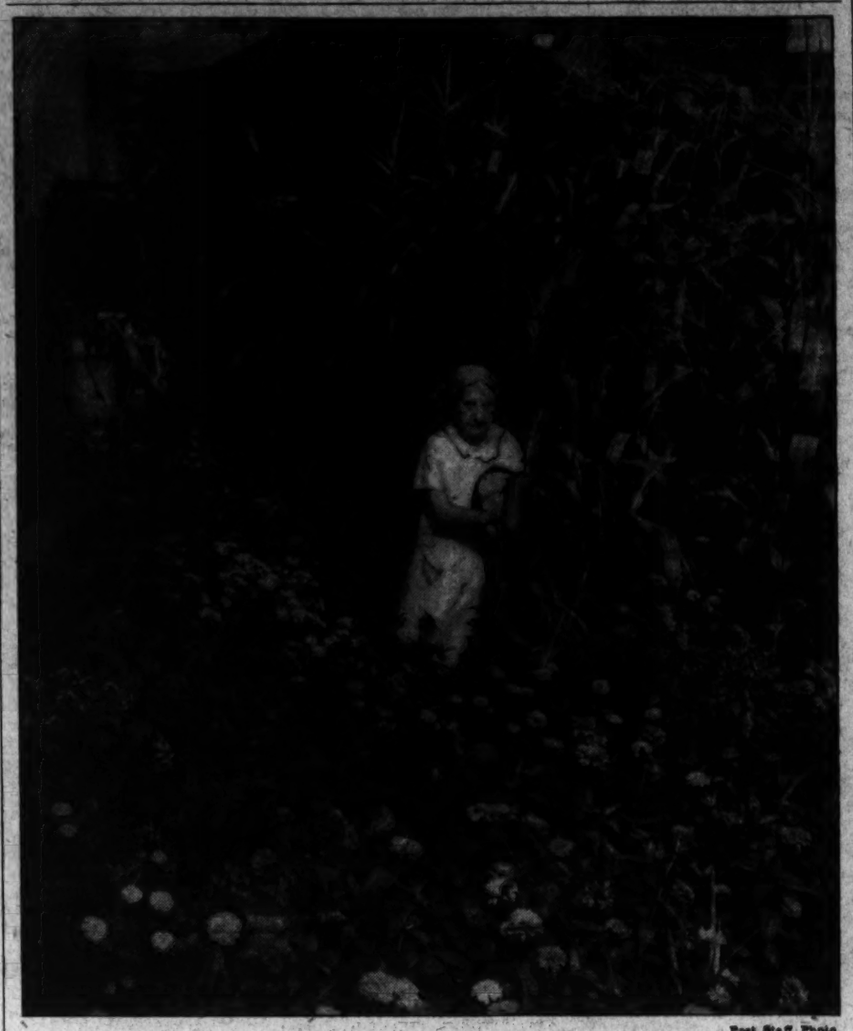
Even if there were room for him, Miss Bealor would not want him; for he would be too heavy on her garden's foundation. The foundation is made of bricks

To be more specific, the farm—all 15 by 30 feet of it— is built up on top of a small bricked courtyard. Its soil is approximately 1 foot deep and it took more than four years to accumulate it to this depth.

"Just sweepings, most of it," Miss Bealor declares.

Her neighbors look forward to the extension of her garden boundaries. They point to the numerous flower pots filled with old-fashioned moss roses and to the big tubs that contain rubber plants.

"That's enough dirt for another corn row or two right there," they say.



Post Staff Photo.

Miss Catherine Bealor and her 450-square-foot "farm."

Church Leader Is Acquitted of Insult to Kerrl

Proof of Slander Lacking, Nazi Court Rules for Rev. Dibelius.

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—The Rev. Otto Dibelius, a leader in the Protestant Church fight against Nazi interference, was acquitted today by a special three-judge court on charges resulting from his open criticism of Nazi doctrine.

The state prosecutor had demanded the Rev. Mr. Dibelius, a member of the Fundamentalist Confessional Synod, be sentenced to six months imprisonment.

Dr. Dibelius was arrested August 2 for disputing, in an open letter to Hans Kerrl, minister for church affairs, the Nazi doctrine of non-Jewish origin of Jesus. The prosecutor asked confiscation of the letter and said it necessitated "severe punishment" as it was distributed outside as well as inside Germany and "Kerrl had received a great number of insulting letters from abroad."

"Wherever news of the letter went, news of the punishment must go," the prosecutor asserted.

The court held it was not proved the Rev. Mr. Dibelius intentionally slandered Kerrl "within the meaning of the law for protection of party and state." It also said necessary evidence of malice was missing.

The Rev. Martin Niemoeller, Protestant leader arrested on charges of inciting to disobedience, is to go to trial next Tuesday.

Jamboree Scout Dies of Infection In Hospital Here

The gay adventure Joseph T. Buckroyd, 16-year-old Fort Dodge, Ia., Boy Scout, embarked on when he came to Washington for the Jamboree, ended in death yesterday.

Buckroyd, a scout with many merit badges and an enthusiasm for the out-of-doors and the lore of nature, died at Naval Hospital of an infection of the blood stream. He was the only scout of the 25,000 attending the Jamboree to die here.

He arrived in Washington with 36 members of his troop, and was stricken on July 12. Physicians realized death was imminent, and summoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville R. Buckroyd, from Iowa.

The body will be at Chambers' undertaking establishment until 10 o'clock today, when Joseph will be taken to Fort Dodge for funeral services and burial.

Picnic Meetings Planned by AAA

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced yesterday 16 farmer picnic meetings in eight corn-belt States, August 11 to 20.

Officials said the gatherings were planned for "closer acquaintance between farmers, including farmer (AAA) committeemen, and a better understanding of AAA programs."

Speakers included Secretary Wallace and H. R. Tolley, AAA administrator.

Britons Shed Coats in Heat.

London, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Englishmen took off their coats today. The thermometer reached 87 degrees, the highest since four years ago today when the maximum was 89. England's drought was prolonged to 13 days, but the weather man said there was a possibility of thunderstorms.

Charley Moy Dies of Apoplexy; 'Mayor' of Capital's Chinatown

Popular Restaurateur Gathered to His Ancestors After Sudden Seizure; Thousands Mourn Night Life Figure; Funeral Set for Monday.

Continued from Page 1.

ers—men and women from the stage and the newspaper world and the gayer spots of the city—who mourned Charley. They had gone to his Joy Inn in the small hours, sipped tea from little cups atop his marble tables and admired the dragons that leered from the walls.

"Come back, come back, my friends," Charley always said when he liked patrons.

One flight of stairs led up to a special room Charley had prepared in Joy Inn for newspapermen, who were his "pals."

"My very, very good friends," would cry the big man who had come to the United States as a penniless boy from Chinese rice fields.

He talked to them not of the price of tea, or the bills they owed, or the police, with whom he was always on good terms, but of the affairs of the world.

The Orient met the Occident in his shop.

Although he learned to speak English better than some schoolteachers and legislators, Charley never forgot the land of his birth.

He was an ardent Nationalist.

When the guns of Japanese imperialism thundered at the gates of Shanghai and sent their shells screaming over the International City in 1932, Charley Moy forgot he was an American, save in the fact that he loved democracy. He subscribed heavily to funds to equip the Chinese Nationalist army.

More than one plane that flew above the Japanese army at Chapei was partially equipped with funds Charley had sent.

Friend of Chinese General.

Long after the first Japanese war had ended he sat in his shop. When he thought of bleeding China, his brows knitted and his big first crashed on the stone-topped table more than once.

"We will win," he would say. "China will be free. It is like America, a republic. We are too big a people to be conquered."

Charley Moy was a close friend of Gen. Tsai Ting-kai, called the Defender of Shanghai in the bloody warfare of 1932.

When the marshal visited Washington, Charley was his host in 1935. Together they dreamed of a new China and sipped Ung-Pei, Chinese cognac.

Charley was noted for his charities. He was generous among his own people who were unfortunate and had come upon evil days.

Always, in the small hours of the dawn, when his patrons were making merry, he was a host. Not only were his special dishes—bird's nest soup and oysters in honey—relished, but they were cheap.

"Pay Me Tomorrow."

"Pay me tomorrow," he told his friends, when they were out of funds, "pay me tomorrow, when the sun comes up again."

Charley came here from Canton a penniless youth in 1908.

He became an active member of the On Leong Merchants Association.

Surviving are his wife and three chidren, George, Virginia and Charley, jr.

While Charley loved his native land, he adopted the religion of the West. He was an active member of the Chinese Christian community.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Then the body of Charley Moy will sink into the Good Earth, which gave him life and nurtured him.

Hay Fever Halted In 90% of Cases By New Treatment

Chicago, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Modern science is providing hay fever victims this season with an efficacious method of diagnosis and treatment, a specialist here said today.

Pollen tests for trees, grasses and weeds, and tests for allergic disturbances provide the background for the treatments which consist of injections of solutions made from substances which react in the form of hives on the skin, he said. Relief is obtained in about 90 per cent of the cases.

The treatment consists of building up immunization gradually. Permanent relief, the physician pointed out, can be obtained in 40 to 50 per cent of the cases after five to eight years of such treatment.

Ruby Zioncheck Shoots At 'Prowler' in Yard

Hollywood, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Ruby E. Zioncheck, widow of the late Congressman from Washington, got her gun and took the situation into her own hands today after police sought in vain for a prowler she reported.

Two hours later the police station received a call that there had been a shooting at the home. The officers rushed back. Gun in hand, Mrs. Zioncheck stood looking at a neat hole she made in a window blind when she shot at what she said was the prowler.

'Rocket' Headline Serves as First News Paragraph

Alamosa, Colo., Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Alamosa newspaper readers were given the news in "rocket" style today.

The Courier, a daily newspaper, wrote every story with the headline serving as the first part of the opening paragraph, like this: (The first three lines are the head, the next two the first paragraph of the body type):

"Explosives are banned
From Alamosa limits
In unanimous decision

Of the city council in final approval of the antifireworks ordinance last night."

In a front-page editorial, the paper claimed credit for originating the "rocket" style, which "may outmode mere streamlining."

France Plans Ban On Heavy Imports

Paris, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The government announced today it was about to issue a series of decrees to curb heavy imports, which were said to be setting up "ruinous competition" to certain French industries.

The statement gave no specific instances concerning American imports. It said all trade agreements would be respected.

Zionist Head Offers Palestine Partition Plan

Would Consider Britain's Proposal If Assured Sovereign State.

By the United Press.

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 6.—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, today offered to a secret session of the Twentieth Zionist Congress a three-point plan for establishment of a sovereign Jewish state in Palestine.

The congress has met to consider the British royal commission proposal for partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arabic states separated by a British corridor which would include the holy cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

Dr. Weizmann's plan, it was learned reliably, provided that the congress empower its executive council to negotiate a partition on condition:

1. That the Jews receive the new section of Jerusalem;
2. That absolute independence of the Jewish state be guaranteed;
3. That areas for Jewish colonization be provided in the mandated area south of the British corridor.

Weizmann added the belief that the mandate which the British propose to maintain over some cities, such as Haifa, would be only temporary and predicted that the plan would provide the possibility of Jews and Arabs arriving at a peaceful settlement.

He pointed out that in recent negotiations the Jews had asked for about 250,000 acres of land for colonization and the partition plan offers a considerably larger area.

A committee headed by Rabbi Solomon Goldman, of Chicago, today visited Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York, member of the world Zionist organization executive committee, to urge his support of creating a special commission for negotiations with the Zionist executives. The commission would serve as a check on the executive, it was explained, and give expression to a strong minority of the congress which opposes partition.

Rabbi Wise was non-committal.

Soviet Ships Hurry Off When Nazi Subs Appear

Helsingfors, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—It was a case of "two is company but three is a crowd" today when the Finnish naval maneuvers began off Helsingfors.

A Soviet naval squadron appeared close behind the Finnish warships while the latter were parading outside their territorial waters. Just then 11 German submarines came up for an official visit to Finland. The Soviet squadron immediately turned about and steamed off.

Boston Clinic Honored.

Boston, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The American Unitarian Association announced tonight it had received word from Oxford, England, of the election of the Rev. Dr. Louis C. Cornish, of Boston, president of the association for ten years, as president of the International Association for Liberal Christianity and Religious Freedom.

Tom Mooney Recovering.

San Rafael, Calif., Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Dr. Leo L. Stanley, San Quentin Prison physician, reported today Tom Mooney, convicted 1916 Preparedness Day parade bomber, is "a great deal better" and is in no immediate need of an operation for a gall bladder infection.

Chinese Drive Within Sight of Peiping's Walls

Japanese Suffer Heavily as Sudden Attack Takes Lianghsiang.

Continued from Page 1.

Tokyo with Admiral Prince Hiroyasu Fushimi presiding and reportedly discussed the Hankow situation where more than 1,000 Japanese civilians were menaced by hostile Chinese.

Additional bluejackets were landed, and barricades around the Japanese area of the city strengthened.

Prince Fushimi reported to Emperor Hirohito after the naval conferees had concluded their session.

Chinese expected that the number of Japanese warships in the Yangtse would be increased. The navy traditionally is extremely jealous of the army and was feared to be preparing demonstrations in central and south China to maintain its prestige.

Control of the Wu-han cities—Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang—is the traditional step in general wars in China toward gaining control of the entire country.

A Vital Rail Head.

Hankow is the terminus of the Peiping-Hankow Railway along which the Central Chinese government has been sending the bulk of its forces to the northern front. Japanese today estimated that more than 300,000 Chinese troops are along this railway, north of the Yellow River, within immediate striking distance of Peiping.

On the fourth front, along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, which leads through Shantung Province to the northern front, the situation was quiet. Japanese air bombings of the Chinese advanced lines at Machang, south of Tientsin, had stopped, presumably because of withdrawal of the big, three-engined Japanese planes to participate in the offensive along the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway.

Chinese continued to believe that the Japanese army will concentrate its principal efforts along the Peiping-Suiyan Railway until the northwestern front is cleared of Chinese troops.

The Japanese had tightened their censorship in the Peiping-Tientsin area and little news was coming from outside the foreign-controlled sections of the city.

Formation by the Japanese of an emergency government for the conquered areas of North China appeared to have been blocked by the refusal of Chinese to co-operate.

China Still Seeks Peace.

Nanking (Saturday), Aug. 7 (U.P.).—China's "supreme war council" was reported today to have decided unexpectedly to continue an eleventh hour effort to find a peaceful solution of the north China conflict with Japan.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his close associates reportedly had convinced the rabidly anti-Japanese provincial leaders, including Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, of Kwangsi Province, that hopes for peace should not be abandoned "unless the Japanese attack again in north China or elswhere."

The council's sudden decision was said to have been hastened by the Japanese naval demonstration at Hankow, where armed Japanese forces were put ashore, which brought home forcibly to the Nanking conferences the vulnerability of the Yangtse Valley and the national capital itself.

China has virtually no navy and it was admitted that Japanese warships could occupy the entire valley within a few hours and cut the country in twain.

Foreign diplomats believed the situation soon might resolve itself into protracted diplomatic negotiations in which each nation would seek to obtain a maximum of concessions without an actual major war.

Foreigners To Be Moved.

Nanking, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The fear and fever of war spread today to central China.

Over wide areas, hundreds of miles from actual hostilities in the north, Japanese, Chinese and American officials acted to move their nationals from regions which may be inolved in the spreading conflict.

Hankow, the great trade center of the middle Yangtze, was the scene of feverish Japanese civilian evacuation and preparation for serious trouble.

The Japanese naval commander there declared a state of emergency existed because of the concentrations around Hankow of some 30,000 Chinese troops, supposedly on their way to the northern war front.

Marines were landed from Japanese gunboats, sandbag barricades were thrown up around the concession, and all Japanese civilians except 100 ex-service men ordered aboard river vessels or concentrated at the waterfront for early withdrawal to Shanghai.

The United States consul-general at Hankow, according to Nanking reports, advised all Americans in that district to withdraw southward.

Reassurances on U. S.

Tokyo, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Japanese officials endeavored tonight to allay fear that situations might arise in the north China conflict in which the United States could be involved.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota told Parliament that the United States was "carefully guarding" against reported attempts by Chinese officers to enlist American aviators.

Reports here from Los Angeles had quoted Russell L. Hearn as saying 182 American pilots were prepared to serve in the Chinese air corps.

Enoichi Murao, general secretary of the Tokyo Young Men's Christian Association, declared fears of American missionaries that their work and institutions would be suppressed were groundless.

One Killed, 9 Injured As Circus Acrobat Falls

Copenhagen, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Ten persons were injured here tonight, one fatally, when a 90-foot mast snapped during a performance of equilibrists at a circus. A performer was hurled among spectators.

FUNNY SIGNS by RAY BARNES

Watch out for funny signs, send them to Ray Barnes, in care of this newspaper, and share your laughs.

Hull Threatens To Stop Fliers Bound to China

Will Invoke Law, He Says; Nanking War Purchases Lead Here in July.

As State Department figures yesterday revealed that China was the largest purchaser of American war materials, chiefly fighting planes, in July, Secretary Hull uttered an implied warning to Americans who may be planning to enlist for service in the Chinese-Japanese hostilities in North China.

Reports that many aviators were being recruited for service with the Chinese forces, brought from Secretary Hull the statement that this Government will apply consistently the law which forbids enlistment of persons residing in America for military service abroad in a war against a power with which the United States is at peace.

The warning came as Foreign Minister Koki Hirota of Japan, was telling the Japanese Parliament that the United States is guarding against efforts at such enlistments. It was said, however, that Japan has not communicated with the United States in regard to the enlistments.

The July report on exports of arms, ammunition and implements of war showed that China had bought $293,226.15 worth of war planes, $6,500 worth of machine guns and rifles, $8,298 in automatic pistols and revolvers, $226.70 worth of ammunition for the the latter weapons, and $1,620 worth of airplane parts, a total of $309,870.85.

Mexico ranked second in purchases, with a total of $205,835.69, chiefly aircraft.

Japan, in third place, spent a total of $203,578.88, including $525 for machine guns and $461.85 for ammunition, $92,340 for fighting planes, $12,791.92 for plane parts and $97,415.40 for airplane engines, along with $44.71 for high explosives.

Italy and Britain Plan Rome Talks

Rome, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—The Italian and British governments moved a step nearer friendly relations today when it was announced diplomats of the two nations would meet in Rome to settle differences.

Count Dino Grandi, Italian Ambassador to London, proposed the conversations to British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who recently exchanged amicable letters with Premier Mussolini. Another friendly gesture was made by the Italian government in lifting its three-month-old ban on British newspapers.

Nazis Assail U. S. Clerics For Snap Judgments

Edinburgh, Scotland, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—German delegates to the World Conference on Faith and Order challenged Uunited States pastors tonight regarding conditions in Germany.

They said "grave injury might be inflicted to the cause of church unity by judging complicated situations too quickly or one-sidedly."

Flag-Maker Wed.

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 6 (A.P.).—Mrs. Emily Craig, "Betsy Ross of Alaska" was married yesterday to Dr. J. H. Romig, mayor of Anchorage. Mrs. Romig made the first American flag in Alaska in 1897.

WASHABLE WALL PAPER 98c
100 Beautiful Patterns. Enough for Room 10'x12'
MORGAN'S
Paints and Hardware
421 10th St. N.W. NA. 7288

NORGE
REFRIGERATORS
AS LOW AS 15c A DAY $115.50
F.S. HARRIS CO.
2900 14th St. N.W. COL. 0100
OPEN NITES

DRAFTING MATERIALS
MUTH 710 13 T.H. N.W.

Farm Session Call Expected For December

Roosevelt Favors Move, Belief; Action Pledged on Crop Control.

Continued from Page 1.

publican), Massachusetts, was greeted with cheers and some catcalls when he proposed the members quit work tonight and go home.

Representative Boland, of Pennsylvania, Democratic whip of the House, said later the third deficiency bill, the "adjournment measure," would reach the floor of the House under present plans by August 17, and would be passed on the following day, making adjournment possible about August 20 or 21.

Session Likely, Boland Says.

Boland said he thinks it likely the President will call the legislators here in December. The proposal appeared to have several points to recommend it, in the light of different angles to the present problem.

It doubtless would assure the President there would be early action on farm legislation when the Congress gathers, as that would be designated as the subject to be tackled in his call for the session. He then could feel justified in authorizing the crop loans, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, for which the cotton States especially are clamoring.

It probably would be acceptable to those who insist that if legislation is put off until after the regular January session begins it would be too late to apply to much of next year's crop, inasmuch as many farmers prepare their soil and plant their crops in the winter months. It could be expected to be practically as effective in limiting next year's crops as would legislation worked out at a special session opening October 15 or November 1.

Leaders Oppose Session.

While Senator Black yesterday was moving to have the Senate instruct the Agriculture Committee to report in October, the special session suggestion was being opposed by House leaders. Speaker Bankhead, Alabama; Majority Rayburn, Texas, and Chairman Jones, Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee, told the caucus of about 60 farm district Congressmen it was unnecessary.

Senator Black has a resolution pending, pledging both Houses to make farm legislation the first order of business in January. The House leaders told the caucus they would give such a pledge to the President. Black also has sponsored a petition for a special session in October. On Thursday it was revealed 40 Senators had signed it, though two later said they would remove their names.

Senator Smith, who heatedly protested circulation of the petition, declared yesterday:

"No bill will be reported out until January. Let that be understood once and for all. I know what is behind all this commotion for a special session and I wonder just how long the American people are going to stand for it."

On the floor he said:

"This is nothing more nor less than an attempt by those who have passed legislation that has tied the South, to bring here an impossible proposal and rush it through."

Oklahomans Ask Bill.

Some observers took his remarks to refer to the wages and hours bill, which had been opposed by the South.

Speaker Bankhead urged the House caucus not to press for immediate action on crop control, joining in Senator Smith's view—"We don't want any more patchwork legislation," but the Oklahoma House members, nine in number, issued a statement calling for a farm bill before adjournment and adding that "we further agree to oppose adjournment until farm legislation effecting stabilized prices is passed."

CHICAGO MILWAUKEE ST PAUL AND PACIFIC
It costs no more
TO VISIT
YELLOW STONE
VIA
Gallatin Gateway

Yellowstone Round Trip from Chicago $46.95
3½ day Park tour only $41.50 including transportation in the Park, meals and lodging at Old Faithful Inn and Canyon Hotel. Escorted all-expense Yellowstone tours at low cost. Correspondingly low fares from other cities.

85 extra miles of scenic mountain motoring. The famous air cooled OLYMPIAN through the monoliths of Montana Canyon.
Only The Milwaukee Road offers this combination.
Ask your local agent for free illustrated Yellowstone booklet and information about escorted all-expense tours or write
Philadelphia Office
1434-8 Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Bldg.
Phone Pennypacker 0497-8
E. E. Garrison, General Agent
Be sure your ticket reads via
The MILWAUKEE ROAD
ROUTE OF THE AIR COOLED OLYMPIAN

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

An Independent Newspaper.
(Published every day in the year.)

Eugene Meyer, Publisher.
Floyd R. Harrison, Comptroller.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

OFFICES OF THE WASHINGTON POST
New York, N. Y. ..... 270 Madison Avenue
Chicago, Ill. ..... 360 North Michigan Avenue
Detroit, Mich. ..... 8-241 General Motors Building
St. Louis, Mo. ..... 205 Globe-Democrat Building
San Francisco, Calif. ..... 746 Rues Building
Los Angeles, Calif. ..... 1151 South Broadway
Portland, Oreg. ..... Public Service Building
Seattle, Wash. ..... 1006 Second Avenue

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON

Daily, Sunday, 1 yr.	$7.80	Daily, Sunday, 1 week	15c
Daily only, 1 yr.	4.20	Daily only, 1 week	10c
Sunday only, 1 yr.	2.60	Sunday only, per copy	5c

BY MAIL—MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, WEST VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$9.00	One year	$4.00	One year	$6.00
Six months	4.80	Six months	2.00	Six months	3.50
One month	.85	One month	.40	One month	.60

OTHER STATES, MEXICO AND CANADA.

Daily and Sunday		Sunday Only		Daily Only
One year	$11.00	One year	$4.50	One year	$7.50
Six months	6.00	Six months	2.50	Six months	4.00
One month	1.00	One month	.45	One month	.70

All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4200.

Saturday, August 7, 1937.

The School Budget.

First of the local government divisions, the Board of Education has filed its budget application for the fiscal year 1938-39. It proposes a 50 per cent increase over the current school appropriation. This, in the face of Washington's present financial difficulties, seems completely inadmissible. The District auditor, in fact, has not hesitated to say as much.

Inadmissible as the increased application may seem, however, it must be sympathetically and intelligently considered if the level of public education in the Capital is not to deteriorate sharply. For the physical equipment of Washington's school system is both run down and inadequate. Staggered hours are the result, to say nothing of badly congested classrooms. This is not the fault of the Board of Education. Since 1924 it has regularly drawn up long-range building programs, only to have them frustrated by the refusal of Congress to appropriate necessary funds.

The most recent example was seen last year when the board requested $4,024,000 to begin a belated building program. Congress allowed only $1,540,000 for new schools. The result is that this year school authorities are forced to apply not only for the second year's share in the five-year financial plan, but also for approximately two and a half millions missed last year.

Nor, if granted, would this be the end of the Board of Education's need for funds. If the 18 new schools contemplated in the program are built, they will necessarily require money for maintenance and salaries for additional teachers. The 1938-39 application makes allowance for an addition of 241 teachers to the school pay roll. That these are needed, even regardless of new schools, is indicated by the fact that last year's request for money to employ 233 new teachers was reduced to allow only 54. The considered opinion of the superintendent of schools is that "at no time in the last quarter of a century have the needs of the school system been greater."

Washington is not alone in having neglected its school needs. New York's current school budget estimate shows an increase of $15,000,000. Here is another example of the chickens of economy coming home to roost. During the depression New York made its most slashing economy cuts—because they were easiest—in its education department. And now, as in Washington, its school system is showing the effects of this starvation diet.

Continuation of ruthless economy in education would be poor business for Washington, New York or any other American city. For the success of democracy is predicated on the assumption that the education of its citizens is a necessity and not a luxury.

Excluding The ADA.

When Senator Walsh set out to convince the Senate that all Federal housing subsidies should be tied up with slum clearance he used the local Alley Dwelling Authority as the best example of what may be accomplished in this field. Pictures showing the transformation of Washington's squalid alleys were hung in the Senate chamber. With the aid of these the Senator briefly described the story of the ADA and its progress toward mopping up the Capital City's slums.

Without attempting anything spectacular, the ADA has been working quietly and persistently toward the complete elimination of the District's inhabited alleys. Two genuine low-cost housing projects have been completed, and two more are under construction. A considerable number of alley shacks have given way to parking lots, garages and various other commercial enterprises. There seems to be no question whatever that the Authority is doing an admirable job in a completely satisfactory manner.

Perhaps the most notable aspect of this achievement is the strict economy which has been practiced. Deteriorated areas have been bought in with the greatest care. Homes have been constructed at the lowest costs practicable without using cheap materials. As a result, the ADA could liquidate its holdings without any loss to the Government. From that viewpoint alone its activities deserve the most hearty encouragement.

Reports that the ADA may be excluded from benefits under the Wagner housing bill, therefore, are cause for real concern. This is precisely the sort of endeavor which the Wagner bill should stimulate. Moreover, the ADA is now handicapped by inadequate funds to finance all the reclamation which Congress has directed it to undertake. Any housing bill which might prevent the local enterprise from sharing Federal loans and grants along with State and municipal agencies would be a farce indeed.

There seems to be no real opposition to extending the terms of the bill to the ADA. Senator Wagner insists that it is already covered by the definitions in that measure as it was passed by the Senate. However, the bill refers merely to housing agencies of "the District of Columbia" along with the States and Territories. Technically speaking, the ADA is not a part of the District Government. It was set up by Congress independent of any local authority. That fact might preclude any assistance to what is perhaps the country's most promising slum reclamation agency.

Such an outcome would be intolerable. To remove all possibility of discrimination against the ADA it should be specifically included in the bill by name.

The Sugar Control Bill.

The sugar control bill which undertakes to perpetuate the principles embodied in the Jones-Costigan act of 1934 is apparently acceptable in most respects to the various groups concerned. Our insular possessions have no complaint to make about their raw sugar quotas. The domestic sugar cane and beet sugar producers seem content with their respective allotments—at any rate they are not fighting one another as in the past. Indeed, the support accorded the program in principle and detail shows widespread satisfaction with the results of past control and desire to perpetuate the system.

Only one feature of the bill passed by the House yesterday has given rise to violent controversy. That is the proposed quota limitations placed upon shipments of refined sugar from Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Unless the Senate eliminates these restrictions, a Presidential veto is threatened, which would result in scrapping the entire program, barring passage of the bill over the veto.

The contested sections of the bill are part of a general plan to cut down imports of refined sugar from areas outside the continental United States, including Cuba and the Philippine Islands. But the attempt, so far as Hawaii and Puerto Rico are concerned, has encountered determined opposition from the Administration. Quotas on refined sugar coming from the islands were imposed under the Jones-Costigan act, but were regarded as emergency legislation. Now that a permanent control law is being considered, strong objections are raised to a continuation of this limitation on the ground that it discriminates against American citizens.

If, as contended, the bill attempts to apply a "double standard" of citizenship to continental Americans and to residents of the island territories it should be rejected decisively. The United States is not a colonial power with insular possessions to be exploited or kept in economic subjection for the benefit of the "homeland." It would be a gross violation of the letter as well as the spirit of the Constitution to pass legislation deliberately designed to retard industrial development in the islands or to erect barriers to free intercourse with the mainland. It is an open question, however, whether the sugar bill is indefensibly discriminatory or whether there are special circumstances which may justify restrictions upon imports of refined sugar from the islands.

Some of the advocates of restriction have been very indiscreet pleaders, and they are largely to blame for the strong opposition aroused to any plan for limiting shipments of refined sugar from the islands to the mainland. Several Congressmen, for instance, referred in the course of the House debate to "these islands" as if they were alien territory, against whose products American labor had to be protected. They had to be reminded that Hawaiians and Puerto Ricans are American citizens, with as much right to manufacture and ship goods to the mainland as South Carolina has to ship cotton cloth into New England.

The United States Cane Sugar Refiners Association also committed serious errors of strategy in presenting its case for restriction. In one of its statements Hawaii and Puerto Rico are referred to as "colonies" which "traditionally" produce raw sugar only. "They" (Hawaii and Puerto Rico), it was said, "have sold this raw sugar in the American market without any payment of duty and received the same price as that received by home sugar producers in the mainland. The United States has adopted, therefore, a policy of colonial equality rather than colonial preference with regard to tariff rates."

Naturally such an attitude strengthens the opposition of those who see in the sugar bill an insidious device for erecting trade barriers between the continental and the insular areas of the United States.

There is, however, another side to the question which was brought out by some advocates of the restriction. They point out that the entire sugar industry has been and will be subjected to control of some sort. The restrictions upon production applicable to beet-sugar growers imply restrictions upon domestic output of beet sugar. The cane-sugar refiners are limited in output by quotas upon raw sugars. The islands, like the rest of the United States, are interested in stabilizing the industry and have already benefited greatly from control methods.

If, as a result of cheaper and improved refining processes, these territories should suddenly expand the output of refined sugar, the result might be serious from the viewpoint of the domestic refining industry and not altogether beneficial to the cane growers of the islands.

Obviously the islands object to having their refined quotas frozen at low levels, and they may rightly demand a gradual increase in shipments of refined sugar under a general control plan. If the refining industry of the mainland cannot stand under regulated competition of this sort, it certainly cannot expect to be maintained at the expense of the islands. There seems, however, to be room for a compromise that would remove suspicion of discrimination.

If it had not been for the imperialistic tone of some of the arguments advanced by the refiners, there might already be a basis for agreement that would assist stabilization of the industry without creating a political issue.

Work For A Special Session.

The sudden demand for a special session of Congress next October to pass a new farm bill may be deceiving. What the Congressmen behind this move actually want is a new crop-loan program to stem falling cotton prices. Since the President insists that price-pegging loans must be accompanied by crop control, farm belt representatives seem willing to make promises. But few are eager to face the farm problem next fall.

In many respects a special session would seem to be fully justified. Obviously no comprehensive farm legislation can be passed within the short time that Congress expects to remain in session. Representatives of farm States rightly fear that legislation could not be enacted at the regular session beginning next January in time to affect 1938 crops. But a more potent argument is the desirability of devoting a special legislative period to this complicated issue.

Apparently the President aims to restore crop regulation by the Federal Government. In his press conference last Tuesday his intention of reviving the invalidated AAA was clearly evident. Crop control is inevitable, he insisted, to prevent the agricultural economy of the country from being wrecked. Members of Congress are likewise talking of the new measures to extend Federal control over farm output as if the Supreme Court had never decided that regulation of agricultural production is beyond the powers of the Federal Government.

There is every indication, therefore, that the new farm bill will raise a major constitutional issue as well as numerous economic problems. "We don't want any more patchwork farm legislation," says Speaker Bankhead. If that view is realistically applied, he will probably find it necessary to discuss a constitutional amendment before another era of regimentation for agriculture is approved. Since the Supreme Court invalidated the AAA on the ground that Congress has no authority to control farm production, a decent respect for democratic procedure calls for an appeal to the people before the same experiment is tried once more.

Considering the magnitude of the question thus raised, a special session might be the most appropriate way of dealing with it. Regardless of when Congress decides to grapple with the issue, however, legislators certainly ought not to commit themselves to a vague policy of almost certain unconstitutionality for the sake of obtaining temporary crop loans for their constituents.

Sop To Sopwith.

Wodehouse ought to have invented l'affaire Hinchingbrooke, just as it actually took place at the famous Royal Yacht Club of Cowes. Right down to the name of the leading lady it was up his alley.

Perhaps it was to divert the thoughts of yachting Britishers from the troubles of Mr. Sopwith that the Lady Hinchingbrooke wore blue linen pants for tea on the clubhouse lawn. And perhaps if Endeavour II had done better the lady's two endeavors—one for each leg—might have been more happily received. But the Princess Beatrice was present and, like Queen Victoria before her, was not amused. So, if la Hinchingbrooke wears pants on the lawn at Cowes again, they must be under rather than of linen.

The seriousness of the situation is emphasized by the circumstance, now a matter of record, that while royalty looked on with disapproval the lady calmly drank her tea. But, dash it all, even so old a British monarch as Canute knew that you can't stop the march of events nor effectually interfere with the trend of the tide. Ibsen observed that "a man should never put on his best trousers to fight for freedom." But he never indicated that trousers of blue linen would prove a definite setback to feminine emancipation.

The press tells of a man who can turn his head completely around. It seems that the law of the adaptation of the species to cope with changing conditions has finally got around to doing something for the hapless pedestrian.

A leading Republican says the New Deal is buying the taxpayer's support with his own money. He's mistaken about that. The taxpayer's support is now being bought with his grandson's money.

The farmer never catches up on worrying. Crops generally are very good this season, but the infestation by grasshoppers and visiting city relatives is unusually heavy.

"A Colorado man who had been missing for 35 days has been located in Hollywood, his mind a blank."—Press dispatch. What picture was he playing in?

Another reason so many pay no attention to Opportunity knocking is because they know he is always accompanied by that hard-boiled partner of his, Work.

Will Honorable China Kindly Co-operate?

Letters to the Editor

All communications must carry the writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the Editor's discretion. In fairness to other correspondents, brevity is requested. Letters are subject to condensation.

The Traffic Campaign.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Another of those traffic "safety" campaigns is on, with crack-down threats for the reckless or impossible driver. While it may seem heresy to ridicule such campaigns, the question rises: What good will it do? The hands of police are tied; avoidance of penalty is too easy; laws are too loose.

The worst angle is, slaughter figures don't begin to do the situation justice. For example I was riding in an open car with my employer, a mining engineer, his wife and chauffeur. The "chief" liked speed. The car salesman had boastfully promised him plenty in the product he sold. In a swerve to avoid collision all were thrown out but the chauffeur. He, after six months' suffering engendered by the accident, shot himself. My employer died a year later after a series of relapses. Neither of these were treated as motor slaughters—but were nothing else. His wife is in an asylum. In a car of the inclosed rat-trap design called streamlined, I'd have got mine.

It's all because the producers stress speed while virtually denying this, thus playing into the hands of the speed maniacs and criminally reckless. Everyone has seen this ad: A motor cop gazing at a cloud of dust. "No use chasin' that bird—he's drivin' a Gofast Eight." E. G. B.

Washington, Aug. 5.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In connection with our perennial traffic campaign to save lives, why not give some thought to one of the greatest difficulties to city drivers, particularly night drivers—obscure street signs. How can any driver watch the road and at the same time twist his neck like a giraffe to read a street sign that is unreadable?

A good use for some WPA money would seem to be the remaking or replacing of street signs in Washington. Let Washington "show them how to do it!"

CLARA LOUISE JOHN.

Washington, Aug. 5.

Politicians' Tears.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Viewing gyrations upon the labor and political fronts in recent days, one is moved to an inescapable conclusion, as old as the world itself: "The more tears politicians shed over the sad lot of the common or underprivileged man, the sadder this bozo's lot will be Ditto the world." HANK BREEN.

Washington, Aug. 2.

ADA's Objective.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In The Post of August 3 was published a letter signed by Samuel S. Otis, which quotes from a recent article in The Post dealing with low rents charged by the Alley Dwelling Authority, the statement, "This does not represent a subsidy of any kind." To this statement Mr. Otis takes exception, saying that, "a study of the facts involved reveals certain qualifying conditions. The chief of these," he says (it is the only one he mentions), "is that the land cost as here involved is paid for out of funds appropriated by the Congress and this cost is retained on the books as such. As a result it follows that amortization of this capital cost does not enter into the rent prices charged. In other words and in a sense the land is free."

Mr. Otis recognizes that rents charged do cover interest on the cost of the land. His point is that rents should in addition amortize the land so that at the end of a specified period the purchase price of the land would have been repaid by the tenants. At that time the Government would still own the land but would have been reimbursed for its cost by the tenants who occupied it. The value of this land would be all "velvet" for the Government which would own a valuable possession that cost it nothing. To use Mr. Otis' phrase, "in a sense" this land would be free land, but the sense is the exact opposite of what Mr. Otis had in mind. The Government would be making a profit, which is the contrary of paying a subsidy.

The Authority's financial objective is to end its work without profit and without subsidy, to break even. It hopes that when its task is completed it may have cash and assets that balance all funds appropriated to it. Among its assets will be such parcels of land as it has not then sold. Those it has sold will be represented by cash.

In closing, may I express appreciation of Mr. Otis' commendation of the work of the Alley Dwelling Authority. JOHN IHLDER.

Executive Officer, the Alley Dwelling Authority.

Washington, Aug. 4.

Man's Mortality.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Mary Cunningham misinformed an old man seeking spiritual advice when she said the body was only the house in which the man lived. The first lie the devil told, he said to Eve, "Thou shalt not surely die." God had told them if they disobeyed His law, they would surely die. Religionists are still telling the people there is no death, placing themselves squarely on the side of Satan. God said He made man in His image, but it did not mean that man is made like God, because God is Spirit, and man is of the earth.

Two thousand years after David had died the Apostle Peter stood up and said, "David is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us to this day. The Patriarch David has not ascended into the heavens." God said David was a man after His own heart, and if David did not have a soul to float to heaven, no man ever will have a soul. The Bible says man is a mortal soul or creature. E. M. STEPHENS.

Washington, Aug. 1.

Work Of Congress.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: What percentage of the American people are ignorant of the disgraceful inefficiency of the present bunch on Capitol Hill? What have they done in seven long months that is of any benefit to the average citizen? They are either unconcerned as to the general well-being of the masses or intoxicated with a life of ease and plenty.

I suggest they be put on a salary of $16 per two weeks, and when they drag to and from work on an empty stomach and have their children look up to them and cry for food, they may then awaken and do some constructive work for the good of the masses.

F. ELLETT.

Washington, Aug. 1.

Borah On Van Devanter's Retirement.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The constitutional question raised by Senator Borah in challenging the right of the President to appoint a new Supreme Court justice at this time is of the highest order of importance. Nothing would seem to be clearer than the fact that Justice Van Devanter is still a justice of the Supreme Court. That being the case, there is no present vacancy on the bench to be filled. In the circumstances, any new appointment to the bench would not be an appointment to fill a vacancy, since no vacancy exists. It would be the appointment of an additional justice, enlarging the court to ten. That would seem to be authorized indirectly, by implication, under the terms of the recently enacted retirement act.

In a letter which I addressed on March 24 last, to former Supreme Court Justice John Hessin Clarke, and which was extensively quoted in the press, I stressed this point. The eminent jurist, in a nationally broadcast radio address, undertook to defend the President's court plan. He correctly stated the constitutional question involved to be whether a "conditional increase" of the number of judges of the Supreme Court would be constitutional or not. But not by so much as a single sentence did the learned jurist touch upon the all-important question he had formulated.

I pointed out to Judge Clarke that any justice retiring upon pension under the President's plan would still be a member of the Supreme Court bench. The distinction drawn between "retirement" and "resignation" in the President's plan, and in the act of Congress under the provisions of which Justice Van Devanter retired, could have no meaning otherwise. It was the very essence of the President's plan, as it is of the hastily enacted law embodying that feature of the plan, that retirement does not involve resignation and relinquishment of membership in the court. Should Justice Van Devanter decide that a case pending before the court involved such grave issues as to warrant his emerging from the restricted sphere of his "retirement," and to take his place upon the bench of the Supreme Court in order to participate in the determination of the issue, he could not be prevented from so doing by any lawful method.

Chairman Ashurst, with much less wisdom than he commonly manifests, attempts to destroy the force of Senator Borah's invincible argument by the old and time-worn device of extending a logical principle to absurdity. The gentleman from Arizona wants to know whether in the event that all nine justices should become insane, the country would be without a Supreme Court. Obviously, the Senate should adjourn when the mind of such a vigorous Senator as Senator Ashurst is so affected.

Taking this fantastic hypothetical question exactly as formulated by its author, it is surely not difficult to discover the answer in constitutional law. If Congress were in session at the time of the occurrence of such a calamity, it would be the clear duty of the President to advise the Congress, and to call for appropriate legislation, with or without impeachment and removal of the afflicted and disabled justices. Nine new justices could be appointed, and their appointment ratified.

Should the President fail to do his duty by bringing the emergency to the attention of the Congress, it would be the right of any member of the Congress to do so, and the manifest duty of responsible statesmen.

Should such an emergency arise when Congress was not in session, surely the duty of the President would be to call Congress in special session for the purpose of preserving our constitutional system. The theory implicit in Senator Ashurst's question is that the President should proceed to fill all the places of the afflicted justices. Incidentally, he would leave it to the President to decide that the justices had suddenly become insane. It apparently did not occur to the usually acute Senator from Arizona that it might be the President who had gone insane, the special characteristic of his affliction being a belief in his own infallibility and an obession that those who opposed him must be insane.

Like all statesmen who attempt to circumvent constitutional limitations by trickery and sharp practices, the President has created a muddle. One justice has retired from certain activities, upon a pension. He remains, however, a member of the Supreme Court under our constitutional provisions. So long as he lives, he cannot be replaced unless he resigns or is impeached. Mr. Roosevelt can appoint a new justice to the Supreme Court, subject to confirmation, but only as an addition to the present nine members, not in place of one of them.

What Senator Borah is defending is not a mere technicality of trifling significance, but a matter of vital importance involving the integrity of our constitutional system.

JOHN SPARGO.

Old Bennington, Vt. Aug. 4.

The Post Impressionist

Quaker Wedding.

AFTER the hullabaloo of the political Romeo-and-Juliet and kingdom-renouncing Wally-Eddie weddings had begun to die out of the newspapers, I found myself a spectator at a wedding in a small, whitewashed meeting house of the Quakers at North Dartmouth, Mass. There I learned that the culmination of a romance can still be a simple, impressive thing, rather than an act in the glare of photographers' flashlights.

It was a hot day, seeming to mock the two wood-burning stoves standing humbly in the meeting house. At the highway, two motorcycle policemen directing traffic lent an air of formality, which was belied by the quiet aspect of arriving wedding guests, who, after chatting a few minutes with the bride's aunts, were shown their seats by white-suited ushers.

The meeting house was undecorated—just a plain room lined with natural-finish wooden pews — but through the open windows came the smell of new-mown New England grasses, distinct despite exhaust fumes from the highway.

By 3 o'clock, palmleaf fans were waving all over the room. The ushers were still immaculate, but they interrupted their duties continually to wipe their beading faces. The bride, her three bridesmaids and the groom arrived. When the bride's mother was seated among the members of the family in the three tiers of raised pews at the end of the room, the bridal procession formed.

* * *

No music played. The fans were stilled. A few heads turned as the bridal party walked slowly down the aisle. Reaching the raised row below that occupied by the immediate members of the bride's and groom's families, the ushers and bridesmaids parted, walked to their places at either side of the aisle and faced the gathering. The bride and groom, side by side, advanced to the top row and also faced the front. Then, as at a signal, the bridal party sat down.

During the next ten minutes, the fans started their waving again. No one spoke. Finally, when the bride and groom stood up, the bride's college friends leaned forward with a slight rustle of flowered frocks and nodding of wide-brimmed hats. The bride and groom clasped hands. With only his shaking back portraying emotion, the groom said:

"Friends and people, I desire you to take notice that in the presence of the Lord and before you in this assembly, I take this my dear friend, Anne Gidley Carter, to be my wife, solemnly promising through Divine Assistance to be unto her a faithful and loving husband, so long as we both shall live."

A breeze from the Atlantic Ocean lifted a tendril of the bride's brown hair as she repeated the pledge:

"Friends and people, I desire you to take notice that in the presence of the Lord and before you in this assembly, I take this my dear friend, Dayton Wood Hull, to be my husband, solemnly promising through Divine Assistance to be unto him a faithful and loving wife, so long as we both shall live."

* * *

While the pair sat down, the groom slipped the wedding ring on the bride's finger. The best man and the maid of honor arose, and stepped down to a small table beside one of the stoves that now were the only cool things in the perspiring assembly. The best man carried the table, with a large wedding contract spread out on it, up the stairs while the maid of honor followed with pen and ink. The groom took the pen in a trembling hand and signed his name. The bride signed hers below, and the table, pen and ink were returned to their places.

Removing weights from the parchment wedding contract, the best man picked it up, walked across the room, and presented it to the bride's uncle, who read the document—one of the valued possessions of a Quaker couple, later to be signed by each of the guests—and handed it back to the best man.

There was another period of silence, lasting approximately 45 minutes. One man—"when the spirit moved him"—stood up and talked calmly for a few minutes of the childhood days of Anne and Dayton, their growth, and now this, their marriage. He wasn't sentimental, didn't try to pull any of the orator's or minister's tear-jerking stops. And yet his talk wasn't matter of fact as the mumbling of a justice of the peace routed out of bed for a gin marriage. It was a quiet piece that fitted into the simplicity of the honest ceremony joining two young persons on the ground their ancestors had cleared two centuries before. It all fitted with the New England faces to form a picture rooted in the past, but no less aware of the present and the future because of the heritage of that past.

* * *

The controlled emotional mood of the ceremony struck me then, despite a vagrant desire for air-conditioning, as a most convincing example of sincere belief creating its own aura. Unaided by fanfare, vaulting arches or the presence of actors detracting attention from the principals, two people had married in the presence of their friends and their God. With a lack of sham, the ceremony possessed the simple exalting power of a great picture.

The bride's uncle said:

"The bride and groom will now withdraw. You will all kindly remain seated until the bridal party has passed out."

Several hours later I realized the titter that might have caused elsewhere, under other conditions.

JACK Y. QUAYLE, Jr.

Fair Enough

By

Westbrook Pegler

George Spelvin Thinks.

DRIVING TO the office this morning, George Spelvin, American, thought as follows:

I guess that'll hold her for awhile. Any time she wants to move out, the door's always there. Or I can move to some quiet little hotel and be perfectly happy, and don't let anyone forget it. Come home when I want, order what I want for dinner and no waiter is going to tell me I got to eat vegetables. I'm the guy that's bringing in the dough every week, and don't you forget it, madam. I got some rights around here, too, and any time you don't like it, madam, nobody's going to detain you, I'm sure.

Get back in line, louse. Oh, to be a cop when some bum like that cuts out of line!

And another thing, madam. If it comes to drinking, that bum brother of yours does a fair job of drinking and I notice I always show up at the office on time, anyway, and, drinking or no drinking, who is the one who brings in the dough around here? Me, madam, your husband.

• • • •

NO, KID; I'm off the stuff for life. No sense to it. A man's an awful fool punishing himself this way—for what? For a few hours' foolishness. Where are those friends going to be when I'm down and out and dying from liver trouble or something, all to be a good-time Charlie with a lot of drop-ins?

She's right, in a way, I got to admit. Must have made an awful clown of myself, and I shouldn't have told that one about the hill-billy and his maw. I suppose, in her way, she means well, but never me to take that kind of bawling out. Man's got to be a man in his own house. They get to think you can't get along without them and you have to slap them down.

Don't understand this wages and hours thing. New England manufacturers favor bill to raise workmen's wages in the South. When did those pirates get so big-hearted about any workmen, South, North or wherever? Rotten, leaky slums all through New England and manufacturers' kids going to luxury schools, paying enough tuition to support two families so some snooty little brat can learn to ape the English. Better get big-hearted about some New England workmen first before taking in more territory.

• • • •

STILL AND ALL, I don't know. If a man can't earn sixteen bucks a week to support a family down South or wherever, he might just as well go out and get it with a gun or give himself back to the Indians. Somebody's got to protect a man from a lot of sweat-shop pirates, and I'm for that whether it's the Government does it or union, or whatever.

Trouble with unions—they either rob him or they jerk him out on strike because a lot of grease-ball Communists want to start a riot. Government seems better; only I, don't know. If I had a factory I wouldn't want any bum politician from the Government coming around telling me what I got to pay. Some bum politician who never did a lick in his life nosing into my affairs. But sixteen bucks a week——.

Madam, how would you like to be married to sixteen bucks a week? Drinking or no drinking, you don't know how well you are off, my friend. You're no Myrna Loy, you know. Maybe you think you are, but I could tell you something if I wasn't too considerate of your feelings, although you aren't so considerate of mine.

Moses! Three minutes to the office and red lights all over the place. Well, I'm stopped and I'm not over the white line, so don't look at me that way, cop. After all, you are a cop, you know, and I'm paying your salary to do your stuff not to be glaring at law-abiding citizens who pay your salary.

• • • •

AND SUPPOSE that we have this sixteen-bucks-a-week law and it does keep cheap labor out of expensive labor States? What of it if it does? We got tariffs between States, anyway. One State charges fifty cents a quart for liquor; another charges a dollar. So you can bring it in from the fifty-cent State to the dollar State. Same about cigarettes and gasoline, and it can be the same about hundreds of things. So why all the commotion about tariff? You got me, brother.

One minute to the office, and do I feel awful? Ask me—do I feel ousy-lay? I guess she is right, at that, although she could be more pleasant about it when a man feels this way. A man knows without being told. It isn't the principle; it's the way she goes about it. But she's a pretty good old girl. I guess I'll call her up after a while.

Ah, just in time!

Morning, Mr. Dokes.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

"Papa Botte"

By William Lyon Phelps

The Grass Plover.

I hope that enough of my readers are interested in birds to enjoy the poetry and prose of this article. And I wish also that those who still see specimens of this graceful bird and hear his incomparable music will write me, because there are many who believe he is as extinct as the Great Auk. I heard and saw four or five of them on the golf links yesterday afternoon. In my boyhood they were abundant in Connecticut, and ten years ago I saw many in South Dakota.

This bird is popularly called the Upland Plover, and sometimes the Grass Plover. In reality he is not a plover at all but a sand-piper, the difference between a plover and a sand-piper being that the plover has no heel. The precise name of this bird is Bartramian Sand-Piper.

• • • •

Not even a woodcock is better to eat; this bird has a delicious flavor. Thirty years ago I used to shoot many of them; they were abundant; and I am told that in Texas and other Southern States they were shot by thousands. They come north in the early spring, leave toward the end of July, and after staying awhile in our Southern States, they go to South America. Well, every July in Michigan, where I live, I see them and listen to their astonishing musical liquid trill. Of course I have not shot one for years.

My friend, Dr. Eugene Edmund Murphey, of Augusta, Ga., one of the finest and most scholarly ornithologists in America, tells me they are called Papa-botte by the Cajuns of Louisiana; and he and I hope everyone will try to prevent their slaughter. Dr. Murphey was kind enough to write this poem for me, here for the first time printed:

• • • •

I

The hunters say the Papa-botte is growing very rare.
He no longer swings in thousands through September's balmy air,
And if you walk the meadows in the cool and rain-washed dawn,
And view the fields he used to dot—the Papa-botte is gone.
Or at eve, or in the starlit fragrant nights of early fall
You may listen, listen vainly for his softly fluted call,
For the tireless market-hunter and the avid sportsmen sent
His legions to that limbo where the migrant pigeons went.

II

There is left a scattered remnant; we must save them if we can;
Put some barrier between them and the ruthless greed of man.
So the Audubon Society, the Nation and the State
Have thrown their aegis round them—but I fear it is too late.
We grieve when beauty passes, for it will not come again,
But I shall miss especially, and miss with bitter pain,
The Papa-bottes I used to eat, washed down with Clos-Vougeot,
At Antoine's—in New Orleans—so many years ago.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

War Nobody Can Win

Bloodshed Predicted, But Truce Will Be Final Upshot.

By Frank H. Hedges,

Special Correspondence of The Post.

Part II.

Tokyo.

IN THE War That Nobody Wants—and an endeavor was made in yesterday's article to present this fact—it is quite evident that, should it now come, Nobody Can Win.

In Japan's previous armed conflicts with China, whether the prize were an empire like that of Manchukuo, or merely the securing of an apology and the payment of a humiliating indemnity, the Chinese have failed to put up a respectable resistance with the sole exception of the Nineteenth Route Army at Shanghai in 1932. That heroic defense was an epic milestone in the birth of Modern China, for it heartened and encouraged the Chinese people as has no other event of this century.

They saw that they could fight, and fight well, if but willing to make the necessary sacrifice to do so, and the China that Japan will meet on the field of battle today, if that field be taken, will be a vastly different China from that of the past. This the Tokyo government and war office fully realize, and is but one more cause contributing to their reluctance to force the issue into open warfare at this time.

China's Strategy Seen In Chiang's Deploying.

CHINESE STRATEGY is made clear by the disposal of his troops by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The south bank of the Yellow River, along which runs the strategically important Lunghai railway, is to be made the basic line of defense. The spearhead for an offensive, or against which the Japanese will have to throw themselves, rests just outside the walls of Peiping, and the shaft of this spear runs southward along the Peiping-Hankow railway to its base on the south bank of the Yellow River.

Defeated in the north, as they may well be, the Chinese armies will retreat more or less slowly along this armed railway until the main baseline is reached, where it will be most difficult for the Japanese to dislodge them. The capital will probably be moved to the interior city of Loyang, and if necessary the capital will be moved further into the interior again and again, the Chinese armies executing a strategic retreat with it.

By thus prolonging the struggle and drawing the Japanese forces continually farther from their own base of supplies, China gains the advantage even while retreating. The cost of waging such a war, of maintaining such a long line of communications, would utterly exhaust the economic resources of the Japanese empire, and if a technical victory were finally won by Tokyo, the nation would find itself set back a generation or more because of this economic exhaustion. That is why, no matter how a treaty of peace might read, Japan Cannot Win the War.

Nor Can China Win War Today Impending.

NOR CAN CHINA. It is assumed by all military experts that, despite the great progress and improvement made by the Chinese armies and air service, Nanking cannot hope to count upon a decisive victory on the field of battle. All that it can expect is an indirect victory through the exhaustion of its enemy, such as that just outlined. But the economic cost to China would also be tremendous, and, more important, the constructive strides forward toward genuine nationhood that China has been making during these few years past would be halted and even pushed backward.

China would emerge from the war in a pitiful state, indeed, and this the Nanking government knows, whether the Chinese people realize it or not. China Cannot Win the War, and so China does not want war at this juncture.

The strategy and potential developments outlined are based, of course, on the assumption that unofficial but major warfare between Japan and China has now become inevitable. This is a false assumption, however. All available indications, save the lack of desire for conflict in Tokyo and Nanking, point to such an inevitability, but it may well be that this anxiety to avoid such conflict will actually succeed in preventing it.

Forces have been set in motion in both Japan and China which it would seem nothing can arrest until blood, and much blood, has been shed. Once this has been done, however, it is probable that both sides will become more reasonable, more tractable, more willing to make mutual concessions and sacrifices to avoid a long drawn-out conflict which neither side could effectively win and which would accomplish nothing to the advantage of either Tokyo or Nanking. It is even possible, of course, that such conciliation may take place without major fighting, but the present outlook is not encouraging to such a development.

Truce Expected Giving Advantages to Both Sides.

THERE IS more apt to be quite severe fighting for some months to come, following which a truce will be signed not unlike the Shanghai Truce in principle, although varying greatly in detail. In addition to the truce, there will probably be concluded a secret understanding or agreement, the terms of which will not be made public until some time later when the bitterness has died down.

It is possible that this secret agreement will be mutually advantageous. If this is to take place, the most probable arrangement would be one whereby Japan will greatly relax its military and political grip on North China, allowing Hopei and Chahar to pass once more under the control of the Nanking regime. The quid pro quo for Japan's doing this would be extensive economic concessions, not only in North China but elsewhere in the republic as well.

Such an outcome would be the happiest possible, given present conditions and the extent to which they have already gone in the direction of genuine, if unacknowledged, warfare. Prediction is not being made here that this is the way in which the events of the near future will move, but it is being presented as the most likely solution and the most feasible method of stopping this War That Nobody Wants, this War That Nobody Can Win.

Republican Women to Hire Director

Republican National Committeewomen, meeting here next Wednesday, will discuss employment of a paid director to rebuild the women's division of the party.

Leaders said they want to make the division an active factor in the 1938 Congressional campaigns.

It has been inactive since Mrs. Wilma D. Hoyal resigned as director last fall in order to resume her jewelry business in Douglas, Ariz.

John D. Hamilton, national Republican chairman, expressed hope that the meeting "will be the start of a rebuilding of our women's organization throughout the country."

REA to Finance Md. Power Plant

Baltimore, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Rural Electrification Administration will finance the building of an electricity generating plant on the Potomac River for the Southern Maryland Tri-County Cooperative Association.

Arthur E. Hungerford, State director of the National Emergency Council, announced today the REA has made an allotment of approximately $50,000 for constructing the plant. He had not been informed where the plant will be located.

31 Md. Bureaus Now Protest Move

Annapolis, Md., Aug 6 (AP).—Thirty-one State departments, commissions and agencies were lined up today in opposition to moving from Baltimore into the proposed State office buildings here, while 12 were recorded as noncommittal with the Board of Public Works.

The Maryland Library Advisory Commission joined the opposition today. It pays $1,000 rent annually, including light to the Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore, and has four employes.

Off the Record

By Ed Reed

"May I stop walking the baby now, dear? It's time for me to get up."

Have you read Harlan Miller's new column, "Over the Coffee?" If not, there's a treat for you today on page one, section two.

Dust Bowl

By

Bryant Putney

The Problem Of Reconstruction.

A LONG-RANGE PROGRAM of reconstruction, designed to check the spread of dust storms and to mitigate the effects of future droughts, is now being undertaken in the "Dust Bowl" of the Southwest by the Department of Agriculture. Separate activities of four different agencies in the department—the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the Extension Service and the Resettlement Administration—are being co-ordinated in order to make possible a concerted attack on the problems of the region.

Regional headquarters have been set up at Amarillo, Tex., and Roy I. Kimmel, who had been in charge of the Resettlement Administration's program in the Southwest, was named by Secretary Wallace, early in June, as field co-ordinator of the program.

Creation of such a regional agency was advocated by the Great Plains committee in a report made public last December. The committee—composed of eight Federal officials, with Morris L. Cooke as chairman—had been appointed by President Roosevelt in September, 1936, to study the problems of the region and draft a comprehensive program for reconstruction.

• • • •

THE REGION included in the new program consists of about 105 counties in Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas, with a total area of 140,000 square miles, or more than three times the size of New York State. Since 1930, dust storms which have accompanied the severe droughts in this region have caused great human suffering, done incalculable damage to the soil, and ruined crops, buildings and farm machinery. Their farms having been literally blown away, many thousands of families have left the Dust Bowl in search of less hazardous living conditions.

In spite of the disastrous drought of 1936, the area seeded to wheat in some sections of the Dust Bowl this year is reported to be the largest on record. Meanwhile, the "blow area" is rapidly increasing in size, several serious dust storms last spring having taken a heavy toll. Although crop conditions were materially improved by moderately heavy rains in late May and early June, soil conservation experts insist that immediate governmental action is necessary to prevent the further spread of wind erosion. Writing last January, Arthur H. Joel, of the Soil Conservation Service, declared that:

During periods when plentiful moisture supplies temporarily check the scourges of drought and wind erosion, many farmers seem to forget past disasters quickly and revert to systems of farming poorly adapted to wind-erosion control. As a result, when the adverse conditions again return, wind-erosion damage is usually more intense than ever before. This is but one of the many reasons why a broad, well-balanced program . . . is essential to prevent wind erosion from becoming master of a large area of semi-arid United States.

Surveying erosion damage in 25 counties in the heart of the Dust Bowl, Joel found that 43 per cent of the total area had been affected by serious wind erosion and most of the remainder by moderate erosion. The most severe damage was found in Morton County, Kans., where 78.4 per cent of the land area was seriously eroded. Joel expressed the belief that 4,160,000 acres of crop land—52 per cent of the total amount of cultivated and idle land in the area he studied—should be returned to a permanent cover of vegetation. "Far too few people realize the present gravity of the situation," Joel said, "and probably no one appreciates the full significance of the threat to future generations."

• • • •

PRESENT DIFFICULTIES in the Dust Bowl are the result of human modification of natural conditions. Settlers generally have failed to adjust their agricultural practices to the hazardous climatic conditions. Pointing out that "nature has established a balance in the region," the Great Plains committee asserted that "The white man has disturbed this balance; he must restore it or devise a new one of his own."

Settlement of the Dust Bowl began after the Civil War. Prior to that time, buffalo had migrated freely throughout the region in search of better pasture, thus insuring the maintenance of the short grass which covered the range and anchored the soil. The first settlers were ranchers who brought in great herds of cattle to take the place of the disappearing buffalo. About 1880, a boom developed in the cattle industry, and by 1890 the range was fully stocked. The number of range cattle continued to increase, however, until 1920. As a result, the range was rapidly depleted, and overgrazing became a serious problem. The U. S. Forest Service estimated last year that the Western range was almost 100 per cent overstocked.

Farm development of the Dust Bowl region took place after 1900. Attracted by the free land offered by the Federal Government, large numbers of farmers took up homesteads and began working the soil. These early attempts at crop production were frequently unsuccessful, and many settlers abandoned their farms, leaving them to be taken up again by later arrivals. The World War wheat boom resulted in an enormous expansion of the acreage planted to this crop in the Dust Bowl. When prices later collapsed, farmers continued to plant large wheat acreages in an attempt to obtain cash with which to pay taxes and debt charges incurred in buying additional land and farm machinery.

The physical characteristics of the Dust Bowl, together with conditions under which it was settled, have produced certain tendencies in land use and land tenure which authorities believe to be largely responsible for dust storms, soil wastage, and resultant economic distress. Inappropriate uses of land include: (1)) overstocking of the range; (2) expansion of farming into unsuitable areas; (3) overexpansion of wheat production; and (4) improper adjustment of land use to water resources. Undesirable tendencies in land tenure include: (1) a high proportion of absentee ownership; (2) a high proportion of tenancy; and (3) the development of land in uneconomic units.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Yachting Season Lexicon.

Fo'castle—Something like a belaying pin, only softer.

Capstan—A ship's officer.

Dinghy—A measure used for liquor; hence, "I'll have a dinghy of rye."

Hull—All; entire; in one complete lot; hence, "He owns the hull boat himself and has no partners."

Keel—A small flag.

Duffle Bag—A stout sailor.

Halyards—You cut them in 4-inch sections and give them to sailors as Havana cigars.

Starboard—The side of the ship with the green light. (Except January 3, March 15 and August 4. Does not carry baggage.)

Port—The opposite or darker side, unless you prefer a lighter port. (Sundays only. Has buffet and diner.)

Spar—This has something to do with Saratoga and must have got in this yachting column by mistake, although you can witness some amazing boat races at that New York track, too.

• • • •

Spreader—Evidently the boys find time for a little fishing.

Shrouds—They're similar to shrimps, only not as pink. Many yachtsmen prefer mussels.

Cleek—This has been replaced largely by the cluck, but is still found on yachts using the wooden shaft.

• • • •

Reef—A sail which has taken a cut for the good of the organization.

Boom—The load of lumber which is attached to the lower edge of the sail and prevents it from looking like so much laundry in a blizzard.

Beam—The end of the boat from which you fish. (Carries no baggage.)

Bow—The other end. (Change at Bridgeport for Willimantic.)

Genoa Jib—Similar to a Milan quadrilateral, which is closely related to the Venetian blind or Neapolitan sea-going whiffletree.

• • • •

There's an okapi at the New York Zoo. Okay, okapi.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Tom McCarthy

The Postilion

Over the Continental Divide.

DENVER, COL., Aug. 4.—Two sleek and skittish young horses galloped from behind the railroad station, paused at the main street, and turned back uncertainly. A moment later, a dozen horses thundered by at nearly full gallop, turned to the right and raced down the hill, away from town. Close on their heels came a young cowboy complete in wide sombrero, leather chaps and spurred boots. With a "Ho, there!" he turned his horse as sharply as a polo player and drove the truants back toward the fast disappearing main herd.

TOM McCARTHY.

"You've got quite a bit of the old West here," I remarked to the middle-aged station agent who stood at the front of the building.

"There's a little left," he said, "there's a little left, but its fast disappearing. Of course, principally, we're a mining town."

His name was Coughlin. "No relation to the redoubtable Father," he informed me. He'd lived there all his life, and he had a great deal of respect for his town of Idaho Springs.

"It's the old West, you're talking about," he said, "and I'm saying it's fast going. There's only a trace of it left. Take the jack-dog, for example."

"What in heaven's name is a jack-dog?" I asked.

"I wrote a tribute to them once," he said. "I never get paid for what I write, but very often I am printed. I write just for the fun of it," he added.

I assured him that I could understand that, since I'd done the same thing for a long time . . . and that some of my friends couldn't understand why I should be paid for what I wrote, anyhow.

• • • •

"THE JACK-DOG," he said, "is gone." He said it carefully, with a good deal of finality and a hint of wistfulness. "Its worth was never sung, its qualities were never hymned."

He spoke almost metrically.

"The jack-dog," he said, "was a vivid, dramatic example of man's most faithful friend, at his cleverest."

"Well sir," I said, "just what was a jack-dog? A cross between a jack rabbit and a dog?"

He ignored my attempt at humor and I continued.

"I've seen them many times and they were dogs at their very best. They were the dogs that drove the burros. That's why they called them jack-dogs!

"Up above this town, they had mines which could be reached only by burros. Over winding narrow ledges, the long eared "jacks" carried in supplies and carried out the gold. That's where the jack-dog came in. He drove the burros. He kept them in line. A combined example of dog intelligence and dog quickness, he would drive the burros on the right trail by nipping at their legs.

"Quick as a striking snake, the dog would sink his teeth in the burro's leg and, as the death-loaded feet shot backwards, he would duck. I may say that it was 'Nip and duck, nip and duck!"

• • • •

"THAT'S JUST ONE of the things which we used to have in these hills, that I miss. It was a sight never to be forgotten to see the jack-dog matching a fearless quickness against the speed of a burro's hoof. There's a lot of the old days that are dead. Some of the things which are gone a lot of people wouldn't connect with the old West. To me, they are the best sort of it." He was all seriousness now, and the grin, which had accompanied his story of the jack-dog, was replaced by a look of wistful remembering.

"There was one story in these hills that was never written. To a lot of people it wouldn't seem important. To me it represents something pretty big. Maybe, I'm just sick for the old days, but I look back on one little incident almost reverently.

"My father was an Irishman. Like many of the Irish in these hills, he came over from the old country one step ahead of the boot of oppression, and already scarred by the hunger and poverty which laid waste the green island.

"He and his kinfolk, and his friends, were ignorant men, as to schooling. They were common laborers. Every Sunday, they used to go to the cabin of John Whalen in Silver Plume. They went, not to meet, not to play, but to speak Gaelic. There was Jim Dawson, Jim McGinnis, Pat Philbin and the others, and those ignorant miners used to gather just to talk the language of their youth.

"They had carried small memories of joy from the land of their fathers It had shown them only the heel of oppression and the meager plate of poverty and, yet, as though performing a sacred duty, they gathered once a week, that they might not forget the language they had been born to.

"Often times," he said, "I think of those old miners, gathered together to freshen their halting language. I think of them, saying little of the country which had given them only tears, but preserving for their children the music which their fathers had trapped in a beautiful tongue."

I was glad that Mr. Coughlin had remembered all that.

• • • •

I RODE OUT of Idaho Springs with a rancher who was transporting two horses in the back of his truck. As we rode along the winding canyon road, the horses' hooves struck heavily and loudly against the flooring of the truck, as they moved nervously or struggled to keep their balance.

As we mounted ever higher into the Rockies the horses became quieter.

"These horses are from the comparative lowland, outside of Denver," the rancher said. "This altitude will affect them so that they can't be worked for a couple of days. We will be more than 12,000 feet above sea level when we go over the Continental Divide at Berthoud Pass. Take a wild horse up that high, and then return him quickly to a lower altitude, and I'll bet you can ride him, even though you're not an expert. It takes it out of them."

The horses were very still as we mounted toward the divide.

It was a thing to remember, that ride up toward the Pass. Ahead of us, the mountain rose 12,000 feet in the air, flanked on all sides by others, pine covered and streaked with the ghostly gray of dead trees.

In twenty-one miles, the road had risen more than 4,000 feet and, as we twisted up the mountain, it fell below us in winding terraces, stretching out into the valley, in a slender serpentine line Small streams, fed by springs or melting snow, raced down through the aisles of pine and spruce and, as we rose toward the summit, it became so cold that we had to shut the windows of the truck.

Clouds gathered at the peak and it began to rain. The sun flashed through, in eerie streaks of light, giving a spectral tinge to the light green carpet above the timberline.

As we rode down the western slope of the divide, it remained cold and the driver told me that the height of the mountains, at this point, often accounted for radically differing climatic conditions on either side.

I do not know whether or not that was true, but I do know that even after we had left the slope of the mountain and driven onto the level floor of the valley below the temperature was at least 15 degrees colder than it had been on the eastern side of the divide.

TOMORROW: McCarthy meets "Vic" Tyzak, Forest Ranger, and hears the story of how "Vic" and four companions were snowbound, for EIGHT months, 13,000 feet above sea level.

Soviet Agreement Text

President Roosevelt's proclamation of a new trade agreement with Russia follows:

Whereas, by my authority, the Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics exchanged at Moscow on August 4, 1937, with the authorized representative of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics identic notes, constituting an agreement in regard to commerce between the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the continuance of favorable commercial relations between the two governments, the texts of which notes are, word for word, as follows:

"With reference to recent conversations which have taken place in regard to commerce between the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States of America, I have the honor to confirm and to make of record by this note the following agreement which has been reached between the governments of our respective countries:

"One. The United States of America will grant to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics unconditional and unrestricted most-favored-nation treatment in all matters concerning customs duties and charges of every kind and in the method of levying duties and, further, in all matters concerning the rules, formalities, charges imposed in connection with the clearing of goods through the customs, and with respect to all laws or regulations affecting the sale or use of imported goods within the country.

Reciprocal Angle.

"Accordingly, natural or manufactured products having their origin in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics shall in no case be subject, in regard to the matters referred to above, to any duties, taxes or charges other or higher, or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome, than those to which the like products having their origin in any third country are or may hereafter be subject.

"Similarly, natural or manufactured products exported from the territory of the United States of America and consigned to the territory of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics shall in no case be subject, with respect to exportation and in regard to the above-mentioned matters, to any duties, taxes or charges other or higher, or to any rules or formalities other or more burdensome, than those to which the like products when consigned to the territory of any third country are or may hereafter be subject.

"Any advantage, favor, privilege or immunity which has been or may hereafter be granted by the United States of America in regard to the above-mentioned matters, to a natural or manufactured product originating in any third country or consigned to the territory of any third country shall be accorded immediately and without compensation to the like product originating in or consigned to the territory of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

"It is understood that so long as and in so far as existing law of the United States of America may otherwise require, the foregoing provisions, in so far as they would otherwise relate to duties, taxes or charges on coal, coke manufactured therefrom, or coal or coke briquettes, shall not apply to such products imported into the United States of America. If the law of the United States of America shall not permit the complete operation of the foregoing provisions with respect to the above-mentioned products, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics reserves the right within 15 days after January 1, 1938, to terminate this agreement in its entirety on 30 days' written notice.

"It is understood, furthermore, that the advantages now accorded or which may hereafter be accorded by the United States of America, its territories or possessions, the Philippine Islands, or the Panama Canal Zone to one another or to the Republic of Cuba shall be excepted from the operation of this agreement.

"Nothing in this agreement shall be construed to prevent the adoption of measures prohibiting or restricting the exportation or importation of gold or silver, or to prevent the adoption of such measures as the Government of the United States of America may see fit with respect to the control of the export or sale for export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war, and, in exceptional cases, all other military supplies. It is understood that any action which may be taken by the President of the United States of America under the authority of Section 2(b) of the Neutrality Act of 1937 in regard to the passage of title to goods shall not be considered as contravening any of the provisions of this agreement relating to the exportation of natural or manufactured products from the territory of the United States of America.

No Arbitrary Discrimination.

"Subject to the requirement that no arbitrary discrimination shall be effected by the United States of America against importations from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and in favor of those from any third country, the foregoing provisions shall not extend to prohibitions or restrictions (1) imposed on moral or humanitarian grounds, (2) designed to protect human, animal, or plant life, (3) relating to prison-made goods, or (4) relating to the enforcement of police or revenue laws.

"Two. On its part the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics will take steps to increase substantially the amount of purchases in the United States of America for export to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States of America.

"Three. This agreement shall come into force on the day of proclamation thereof by the President of the United States of America and of approval thereof by the Soviet of People's Commissars of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, which proclamation and approval shall take on place the same day. It shall continue in effect for 12 months. Both parties agree that not less than 30 days prior to the expiration of the aforesaid period of 12 months they shall start negotiations regarding the extension of the period during which the present agreement shall continue in force.

"Accept, (etc.) . . ."

Agreement Proclaimed.

And whereas, it is provided in the said agreement that the agreement shall come into force on the day of proclamation thereof by the President of the United States of America and of approval thereof by the Soviet of People's Commissars of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and that such proclamation and approval shall take place on the same day:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby make known and proclaim the said agreement and, having been notified that the same has been approved on this day by the Soviet of People's Commissars of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, direct that it be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America on and from the date of this my proclamation.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this sixth day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-second.

Labor Trouble Cost Set at $500,000

By the Associated Press.

The Remington Rand Co. said yesterday in an amended prospectus filed with the Securities Commission that labor difficulties in the last year cost the company more than $500,000.

The prospectus estimated the direct cost of strikes and proceedings before the National Labor Relations Board at $500,000 and said labor troubles also were responsible for part of the approximately $800,000 cost of moving plants.

Abandonment of some plants for the purpose of centralizing activities had been contemplated previously but was hastened by labor difficulties, the prospectus said.

Suspicions of Stock Voiced by Attorney

By the Associated Press.

James F. Collins, New York attorney, told the Securities Commission yesterday he believed the underwriting arrangements for an issue of 273,000 shares of stock of the Trenton Valley Distillers Corporation of Detroit in January, 1936, were "honestly conceived but something went wrong later."

Collins, who prepared the securities registration statement which the commission is considering suspending, said he did not become suspicious until the stock reached a market value of $4 a share a few days after its supposed offer to the public at a fixed maximum price of $1.25 per share.

READ ALL THE NEW FICTION 3¢ daily
Brentano's Circulating Libraries
1322 F ST. 3107 14TH ST.
3428 CONN. AVE.

Potomac River Reservoir Plan Is Disapproved

Engineer Finds Damage by Floods Does Not Warrant Expense.

Improvement of the Potomac River by construction of a series of reservoirs for flood control was disapproved yesterday by Col. Earl I. Brown, engineer for the South Atlantic Division.

In his statement yesterday Col. Brown said the improvements would not be undertaken because preliminary surveys disclosed that "flood damages are not of sufficient magnitude nor widely enough distributed in the basin to justify any large, comprehensive reservoir control system." Needed protection, he declared, can be obtained more economically by local works, such as levees and possibly by a few reservoirs.

Officials in the office of Maj. W. D. Luplow, U. S. Engineer for the District, said yesterday the preliminary report on the proposed flood control project had been submitted to Col. Brown on June 29. They indicated that funds for rivers and harbor improvement had been made available, but that none had yet been alloted to work on the Potomac. The floods of the last two years, they said, had considerably changed conditions and forced a reconsideration of construction plans.

E. A. Schmitt, senior engineer for the Washington engineer district, stated that the report would now be reviewed by the board of Army engineers for rivers and harbors, before being submitted to Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham, chief of Army engineers, who will transmit it to Congress.

Sligo Citizens Vote to Resist Zoning in Court

Residents' Meeting Opposed to Commercial Use of Avenue.

Legal action to enjoin commercial rezoning of lots on Sligo avenue at the entrance to Sligo Park Hill was voted at a special meeting of the Sligo Park Hill Citizens' Association last night in Jesup Blair Community House.

More than $100 toward the legal costs was subscribed by those present. The association also voted to ask moral and financial support from other civic groups.

Speakers derided a letter concerning the rezoning written to Tallman W. Peel, president of the association, by County Commissioner Paul M. Coughlan.

The speakers contended that two-thirds of the property owners who signed the petition favoring the rezoning were real estate men.

R. J. Scofield, chairman of a special committee, reported that a contract had been arranged with the law firm of Peter and Simpson through which the firm will represent the association in an effort to recover 50 per cent of front-foot benefit street assessments on the ground that it is against the law of Maryland to assess abutting property owners more than 50 per cent.

Saul Annulment Lawyers Granted A Fee of $10,000

One of the largest fees ever awarded here in domestic litigation was granted Attorneys Alvin L. Newmyer and David G. Bress in District Court yesterday when Justice Oscar R. Luhring, after praising their services in an annulment suit, granted them a fee of $10,000.

The two represented Mrs. Mary Harding Saul, wife of Bernard F. Saul, jr., son of the late B. F. Saul, prominent real estate operator and mortgage broker, who was fighting an effort by her husband to have their marriage annulled.

They won their case, and obtained for Mrs. Saul monthly payments of $275 and custody of a 6-year-old adopted son. In all other respects save the lawyers' fee, both sides were able to agree and when the impasse was reached Justice Luhring, who heard the case, decided the attorneys had amply earned the $10,000 fee they sought. The husband will have to pay the fee within 30 days.

W. R. Wood Report Upheld Third Time

William R. Wood, superintendent of garbage collectors, received his third stamp of approval on whether he had mistreated his subordinates yesterday when the District Commissioners upheld a report from a trial board. A review board had previously upheld the trial board also.

Wood was cleared after an inquiry lasting weeks, during which 15 charges were aired. James Kimbro, business agent of the garbage collectors' union at that time threatened to call a strike if Wood was exonerated.

3 Germans Barred By British as Spies

London (Saturday), Aug. 7 (U.P.).—The News Chronicle said today two correspondents of the German newspaper, Lokalanzeiger, and a correspondent of the news agency, Grafreichschach, were refused renewal of their British residence permits because of alleged espionage.

The journalists were recalled by the German government, the newspaper said, after Britain reportedly protested against their "improper activities."

Anne Shirley to Wed.

Hollywood, Aug. 6 (AP).—Anne Shirley, film actress, and John Howard Payne, screen juvenile, filed notice of intention to wed today. She gave her age as 18. Payne said he is 23. Payne, a grandson of the author of "Home, Sweet Home," is from Roanoke, Va.

Mother Dies in Auto Crash

Mrs. Levie Roberson (second from right), fatally injured in an automobile collision yesterday near Charlotte, N. C. She is pictured here with her husband, M. C. Roberson, who was seriously injured, and her daughters, Mabel (right) and Letha.

District Woman Killed, 6 Hurt In N. C. Crash

One Injured Near Death, Another in Critical Condition.

A Washington woman was killed and six others, including her husband, her sister, and her husband's brother, were injured seriously yesterday in an automobile accident near Charlotte, N. C., according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The woman, Mrs. Levie Roberson, of 1212 Fifth street northeast, had left Washington last month for a vacation at her parents' home in Concord, N. C., according to Mrs. Lloyd Loveridge, owner of the Fifth street home.

Marshall C. Roberson, the husband, and his brother, Runice Roberson, Washington taxicab drivers, joined Mrs. Roberson in North Carolina early this month, Mrs. Loveridge stated.

Runice, who is reported to have suffered a broken back and severe head injuries, is near death. Miss Stella Lowder, of Concord, N. C., the sister, was reported in a critical condition with a broken back and severe internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Douglas and Mrs. R. E. Campbell, all of Charlotte, also were injured seriously in the two-automobile crash.

According to Mrs. Loveridge, the family, which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Roberson and two children, Mabel, 18, and Letha, 14, had been living at her home about one year.

Adventists to Have Meeting Aug. 17-26

More than 600 persons will join in an educational conference sponsored by the Seventh Day Adventists August 17 to 26 at Blue Ridge, Black Mountain, N. C., it was announced yesterday.

Many heads of colleges and other educational institutions operated by the denomination are expected to take part in a program directed by Prof. H. W. Morrison, of Takoma Park, chairman of the convention and head of the denomination's educational system.

Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, president of Washington Missionary College at Takoma Park, is expected to head a delegation including most of the faculty members of his institution.

Friend of Woman Slain; Spouse Held

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Fred Mansfield, 43, was shot and killed and his companion, Mrs. Alice M. Sanchez, 32, was wounded critically tonight when her husband trailed them from Katonah, N. Y., to the home of friends here and allegedly opened fire.

Police held Eustace Sanchez, the woman's Filipino husband, on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Sanchez separated from her husband six weeks ago.

Cigarette Girl's Disappearance Baffles Police

May Have Drowned, Note Indicates; D. C. Taxi Firms Checked.

Continued from Page 1.

Wednesday in front of the Kennedy-Warren Apartments.

On some occasions she drove to the river in her own automobile; other times she used a taxicab. Detectives were checking cab companies for possible clews.

Recently Miss Major attracted considerable attention here driving about the city in her tiny automobile, usually accompanied by her Great Dane.

When she failed to report for work Monday night her friends at the hotel began an investigation. Her disappearance was reported Thursday to the police and Capt. Ira Keck was placed in charge of the investigation.

Yesterday Keck and his aides searched Miss Major's apartment in an attempt to learn how she was dressed and whether she had taken a bathing suit with her at the time of her disappearance.

She had not taken a traveling bag or any luggage, the search indicated, and, according to police, she had very little money with her.

Miss Major, who divorced her husband several years ago and has since retained her maiden name, is the mother of two children. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has blond hair and blue eyes.

At the time of her disappearance, Miss Major was using a rented car, her own having been damaged last week in an accident. The rented car was found Monday morning in front of her apartment house with an overtime parking ticket.

Father an Artist.

Her father, Malcolm Major, is a resident of Clarendon, Va., and is employed in Washington as an artist.

It was learned from a friend close to the missing girl late last night Miss Major had left a note addressed to Mary V. Shimer, daughter of James Shimer, drummer in the orchestra at the Shoreham Hotel, prior to her disappearance.

Miss Shimer state she had turned the note over to detective headquarters, where its contents were not released.

Mrs. Florence C. Verdi, 901 Butternut street northwest, aunt of the missing girl, who has been taking care of her younger child, Helen Virginia, said last night she could not understand the disappearance.

"She was too stable a girl to go away without letting us know," Mrs. Verdi said.

Mrs. Verdi said she and other members of the family feared she had either drowned while swimming or had met with foul play.

Miss Major was an expert swimmer, Mrs. Verdi said, having won several medals from the Red Cross and the Girl Scouts while attending school here and at a girls' school at Orange, Va., with her sister, Mrs. Norris Friel, of Seat Pleasant, Md.

Miss Major frequently complained the irregularity of her working hours often made it difficult for her to sleep and that sometimes she was unable to get any rest before 5 or 6 a. m.

Contract Bridge

By Mrs. Ely Culbertson.

The Hold-Up in Trump Suit.

The hold-up play was defined earlier in the week. It was stated that the purpose was generally to sever the line of communication between the opponents. The word "generally" was inserted in order not to exclude hold-ups in the trump suit. Here, the defender holds up a winning trump until dummy's trumps are exhausted. However, the purpose is not to sever the line of communication, but to prevent the dummy from trumping another suit. Once again I present a hand from the World Bridge Olympic contest to illustrate the theory. The hand below was No. 7 in the 1935 Olympic.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♠	2 ♡	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	4 ♣
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

East's free raise to two spades is the best bid available to him. It does not express his distribution but it is the best method of showing his fairly strong hand. His subsequenut raise of the clubs is dictated by a desire to get to game and indicates that he may not be completely satisfied with spades as the trump suit. Since West has a strong five-card suit, he is willing to play for game in spades, even if East has only three trumps.

North opens the King of hearts and continues with the queen and ace. West trumps the third round, and proceeds to draw trumps. North must not take the first or second spade trick! If he does, a heart continuation will permit dummy to trump. Declarer can then regain the lead and draw North's last trump, after which the diamonds and clubs will yield declarer ten tricks. By refusing to win the first or second spade, however, North's position becomes impregnable.

If West continues with a third round of trumps, North can win and lead a fourth heart. This will force out declarer's last trump, and North's measley five of spades becomes established for the setting trick. If West abandons the trump suit after two rounds, North will make his five of spades by ruffing a third round of clubs or diamonds.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

Roosevelts in Venice.

Venice, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Traveling under the name of Kants, Franklin Roosevelt, jr., and his bride, the former Ethel duPont, arrived tonight from Belaggio on their honeymoon.

County Wins Right to Build Power Plant

Duke Firm Loses Fight to Halt Use of WPA Project.

By the Associated Press.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 6.—The fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the right of Greenwood County, S. C., to build a $2,852,000 hydroelectric plant at Buzzard Roost with Public Works Administration funds and denied the Duke Power Co. an injunction to halt the development.

Judge John J. Parker, of Charlotte, wrote the majority opinion, sustaining the ruling of District Judge J. Lyles Glenn, of South Carolina. Judge Elliott Northcott, of Huntington, W. Va., concurred, while Judge Morris A. Soper, of Baltimore, dissented.

The case was argued before the court Tuesday. Attorneys for both sides indicated then that, regardless of the outcome, it would be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

Once before the Duke power interests carried the case to the highest tribunal, after the Fourth Circuit Court had approved, and it was remanded for correction of errors in procedure.

The protracted legal fight over the use of Federal funds to finance the publicly owned project started in 1934.

The court ruled today that Title 2 of the national industrial recovery act, under which the project was authorized, was valid and constitutional. Duke attorneys had challenged its constitutionality.

The court also reversed the lower courts and denied the West Virginia Power Co. an injunction to block a governmental power project on New River near Hinton, W. Va.

The lower court had upheld the power company, and the Government appealed. The case was argued in the Circuit Court here last June. The court's decision was unanimous.

Col. Baltzell, 62, Dies; Served on Staff in France

Veteran Officer Lately Was Commander of 22d Infantry.

Col. George F. Baltzell, 62, U. S. A., died yesterday at his home in Marianna, Fla.

In the World War Col. Baltzell first served with the Forty-second Division, District of Columbia National Guard, and then with the training section, General Staff, General Headquarters. After a short tour of duty as chief of operations section, General Staff, Sixth Army Corps, in 1918, he was again assigned to the training section, and served with it until he returned to the United States in 1919.

Col. Baltzell was assigned to duty here with the training and instruction branch, war plans division, on February 24, 1919, and in September of that year was appointed executive officer, Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

He returned to Washington in July, 1920, for duty in the office of the chief of Infantry. Col. Baltzell attended the Army War College from September, 1921, until June 30, 1922, and then served in the office of the chief of the Militia Bureau until 1935.

After attending a short course at the Infantry School, Col. Baltzell assumed command of the Twenty-second Infantry, and later served as director of the Infantry Board. At the time of his death he was again in command of the Twenty-second Infantry, with station at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Col. Baltzell was born in Marianna, Fla., June 13, 1875, and was graduated from West Point in 1897. For his World War services he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucyle A. Baltzell, of Marianna, Fla.

A. N. Conner, 73, D. C. Resident 60 Years, Dies

Albert Norman Conner, 73, resident of Washington for the last 60 years and long prominent in the pharmacy business here, died yesterday at his home, 1124 Tenth street northwest.

For many years Conner owned and operated drug stores in several sections of the city, and at one time controlled the largest pharmacy in Washington, at the corner of Connecticut avenue and M street.

A native of Prince William County, Va., he came to Washington as a boy, and later graduated from George Washington University school of pharmacy, in the class of 1893. His late wife was Mary Francis Conner, daughter of Capt. Franklin Williams, who served with Col. John S. Mosbey's raiders during the Civil War.

Surviving are a daughter, Lucille E. Conner; a son, Norman H. Conner, employee of the General Accounting Office; three sisters, Mrs. Esther Fowler, Mrs. Edith Reynolds and Mrs. Gertrude Glick, all residents of Washington, and a brother, George Swan, of New York.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 in Lee's funeral home, Fourth street and Massachusetts avenue northeast. Burial is to be in Fairfax Courthouse Cemetery.

Mrs. James P. Tarvin, Widow of Jurist, Dies

Mrs. James Pryor Tarvin, 77, of 1954 Columbia road northwest, former vice president of the Daughters of the Confederacy of Kentucky, died at her home Thursday night.

She was the wife of the late Judge Tarvis, celebrated liberal. Recently she had completed a history of the Pryor, Belt and Young families of Kentucky. Mrs. Tarvin is survived by a son, John, who is employed by the Department of Justice. Burial will take place in Covington.

Delta Unit Established By Sorority

Kappa Gamma Installs Chapter at Headquarters Here.

Dr. Sprowls Is Guest at Banquet Following Ceremonies.

By Jessie Ash Arndt,
The Post Club Editor.

Delta Chapter, the fourth established in Washington by Kappa Gamma, nonacademic sorority, was installed last night with impressive ceremonies in the ballroom of the Raleigh Hotel. Mrs. Helen McChesney, national director of the sorority, which has its headquarters in the Raleigh, presided at the installation and the banquet which followed.

Guests of honor at the banquet included Dr. Jesse Sprowls, of the University of Maryland, who conducts the organization's study courses in the winter, both here and in Baltimore; Miss Magdalene Conlon, vice president of Alpha Chapter; Miss Ida Sisson, treasurer of Beta Chapter; Mrs. Lila Cramer, president of Gamma Chapter, and Mrs. Lucille Hemingway, president of Sigma Phi Chapter, of Pensacola, Fla.

Also at the head table were Miss Mercedes Galbraith, secretary of the national organization and officers of the newly installed chapter. Miss Lorna Dodge is president; Miss Anne Sherbert, first vice president; Miss Bessie S. Lash, second vice president; Miss Winola Kay, secretary; Miss Pauline Finn, assistant secretary; Miss Helen Ward, treasurer, and Miss Mabel Hebert, editor of the chapter bulletin.

Sorority Colors Used in Decoration

The sorority colors, red and gold, were carried out with candles in those colors, a center bouquet of red roses and other bouquets of summer garden flowers in shades of yellow.

Mrs. McChesney welcomed the new members who were received with Delta Chapter and also those who were initiated last night as members of Gamma Chapter. She outlined the purposes of the sorority to promote friendship among its members and provide cultural opportunities through its study courses during the winter season. Dr. Sprowls also spoke briefly and there was a program of music during the ceremonies and the dinner hour by Jack Campbell, pianist.

Several officers of other chapters were present to act as hostesses to the new members and the four field secretaries also assisted. The latter included Miss Florence Mermes, Miss Betty Scott, Mrs. Joseph Davis, Mrs. Rosamund Gaydash and Mrs. Marie Bentley. Those from other chapters were Miss Helen Hoffman, of Beta; Miss Stella Bryant, Miss Kate Hulsey, Mrs. Mary Malone Moore, Miss Pauline Harrell and Miss Gertrude Kelly, of Gamma Chapter.

Those initiated into Gamma Chapter included Miss Evelyn Ziegler, Miss Allie Ruby Church, Miss Hazel Alice Pierce, Miss Violet May James, Miss Dorothy Kay Wrenn, Mrs. Margaret N. Wilson, Miss Dorothy Townsend, Miss Mildred Streeter, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Miss Estelle Manning, Miss Bernadette Ryan, Miss Edith Rupard, Miss Lucille Rosedale, Mrs. Olive Risdon, Mrs. Mary Trammell Nordan, Miss Shirley Newman, Miss Lillian Negele, Miss Mary Morton, Miss Dorothy Morris, Miss Mary Maxwell, Miss Marie Lucas, Miss May Louthan, Miss Helen Lehti, Miss Lilly King, Miss Elsie Kamenz, Miss Margaret Jordan, Miss Elizabeth Hoke, Miss Mary Hohman, Miss Frances Hodges, the Misses Eleanor and Edna Hill, Miss Katherine Heyser, Miss Helen Hanes, Miss Elsie Green, Miss Florence Ehrhardt, Miss Alice Dodson, Miss Bertyce Brooks, Miss Ann Breck, Miss Ruth Berman and Miss Gladys Bell.

Delta Chapter Members Listed

Those installed as charter members of Delta Chapter were:

Miss Marjorie Bishoff, Miss Anne Sherbert, Mis Winola Kay, Miss Mabel Hiatt, Miss Helen Ward, Miss Bessie Lash, Miss Pauline Finn, Miss Lorna Dodge, Miss Marjorie T. Jones, Miss Gertrude Schilling, Miss Jewel Lovelace, Mrs. Gertrude Russell, Miss Nina Burns, Mrs. Ruth Jones.

Also Miss Grace Greenfield, Miss Dorothy Riley, Miss Florence Greenfield, Miss Lenne Easter, Miss Grace E. Barnett, Mrs. Frances Lucille Greenlee, Miss Edna L. Collins, Miss Margaret Crowell, Miss Mabel Hebert, Miss May Ingling, Miss Christine W. Johnson, Miss Dorothy M. Johnson, Miss Barbara Joseph, Miss Marjorie G. Jones, Miss Katherine A. Jordan, Miss Gladys Little, Miss Christine O. Putnam, Miss Minerva W. Robinson, Mrs. Lillian H. Russell.

Also Miss Winifred S. Salisbury, Miss Anne Schneider, Miss Blanche E. Sinclair, Miss Mary Splawn, Miss Mabel F. Staub, Miss Ethel V. Walker, Miss Frances Ward, Miss Louise Ingler, Miss Harriet K. Bury, Miss Emma Lewis, Miss Effie Lee Moore.

Also Miss Edith Anderson, Miss Norene Lawrence, Miss Gertdude M. Sauner, Miss Vida Hurst, Miss Mabel M. Nash, Miss Lillian M. Nalley, Miss Lillian Hendrix, Miss Margaret A. Harrison, Miss Mary Louise Roberts, Mrs. Macklin Catlett, Miss Elinor M. Brooker, Mrs. Amy Brohaugh, Miss Helen Gregory, Mrs. Evelyn F. Sparks.

Also Miss Felice Loyd, Miss Dorothy Atkinson, Miss Mildred E. Beckett, Miss Katherine E. Broderick, Miss Helen Marie Brockman, Miss Dorothy V. Brooks, Miss Mildred Brooke, Miss Kathryn Carbine and Miss Elizabeth Roberts.

Postal Bill Passed.

A bill extending the 40-hour week for postal employes to laborers, watchmen, and messengers in the postal service passed the Senate and went to the White House yesterday.

New Chapter Instituted by Kappa Gamma

Post Staff Photo.

Delta Chapter of Kappa Gamma Sorority was instituted last night at an installation ceremony conducted in the ballroom of the Raleigh Hotel. In the picture, left to right are Miss Anne Sherbert, vice president of the chapter, with Mrs. Helen McChesney, national director, who conducted the installation; Miss Mercedes Galbraith, national secretary, and Miss Lorna Dodge, president of Delta Chapter.

"Madame Chairman" . . .

By Suzanne.

HERE IS a little historical note about a prominent Washington clubwoman which I never would have known had not a friend been kind enough to tell me—and it's most unusual. It is the fact that Alice Hutchins Drake, by her interest in club work, is carrying on a family tradition established in Boston in the early 1600s.

Through her grandfather, the late Judge Frank E. Hutchins, Miss Drake is descended from Anne Hutchinson, called "the first clubwoman of America." The first club meetings were held in Anne's own home in Boston, where women were in the early days of the colony excluded from certain sessions of the church. The thousands of women's clubs now organized in this country are said to have "stemmed" from these long-ago gatherings, which were actually meetings of protest.

For her independent thought and action, Anne Hutchinson was expelled from Boston. Indians killed her and most of her children. One, a son living in London, escaped the tomahawk and later established a line which leads directly to "Alice Hutchins," as her friends call her.

Miss Drake is a member of Columbian Women of George Washington University; Political Study Club, Radio Chairman of the D. C. Branch of the League of American Pen Women, honorary associate of the Girls Friendly Society, the Newspaper Women's Club of Washington, poetry committee of the Fine Arts Department of the D. C. Federation of Women's Clubs. The 1936 and 1937 issues of American Women contain interesting biographical sketches of her. Miss Drake was born in Chicago, is an Ohioan by descent and a Washingtonian by virtue of having lived here since childhood.

* * * *

AND NOW some current notes on vacationing members of the League of American Pen Women and the Professional Writers Club:

Claudia Rice Scott, with her husband, William W. Scott, is at Berkley Springs, W. Va., where George Washington found peace and quiet at the foot of Warm Springs Mountain nearly 200 years ago.

Leah Stock Helmick, both a Pen Woman and member of the Professional Writers Club, with her husband, Col. Charles G. Helmick, is visiting her mother, in Hillside, Mich. Helen Orr Watson, registrar of the D. C. L. A. P. W. and wife of Maj. James T. Watson, jr., is also in the North, visiting her mother and other relatives in Minnesota. Nellie Walker Irish has just returned from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

From Miami, Fla., come greetings to the Pen Women poets from John Lee Higgins, well-known writer of verse, who was a guest at their last meeting.

Minnie L. Briggs, one of our few women etchers, and organizer and vice president of the Society of Washington Etchers, member of the Water Color Club and of the Painters, Sculptors and Gravers Society, is motoring to Boston with her sister, Mrs. Daniel G. Rice, and the latter's son, to spend two weeks. They will take a boat to Gloucester and Provincetown, where she will do some sketching.

* * * *

And—as to the Professional Writers Club, Mrs. Ruby G. Crottinger is visiting in Pennsylvania; C. Virginia Diedel, parliamentarian, is visiting in New York; Rae Robins, too, is in New York, visiting her mother; Maude Hutcheson, who takes care of the publicity during the winter months, is studying at Columbia summer school; Florence A. Dieterich, first vice president, is spending her vacation in West Virginia; Katherine Heinold, the treasurer, is on a tour of the West and Louise H. Kline, historian, who has just bought a sailboat, the Osprey II, can be found out sailing every week-end. Nell V. Smith, recording secretary, is sailing further—and not in her own boat—on a Mediterranean cruise. Oh, yes, and just for variety, Bernard Kohn is on a watermelon boat down on the Chesapeake Bay, gathering material for an article.

D. A. R. Officers Hold Informal Basket Picnic

Outing Is Given in Rock Creek Park; Haigs Plan Auto Trip.

STATE OFFICERS of the Daughters of the American Revolution last evening had a picnic in Rock Creek Park. It was the first such outing the State regent and her board have ever planned and was a successful party.

The regent, Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig, with Mr. Haig and other officers and their families, gathered at Grove 18 with their picnic baskets, and the supper was spread at a long table. There was some discussion of D. A. R. matters but the meeting was informal and pleasure took precedence over business.

Among those present were Miss Lillian Chenoweth, State vice regent, and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Chenoweth; Mrs. T. Temple Hill, chaplain; Mr. Hill, Mrs. Catherine Strong, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl B. Fuller, corresponding secretary; Mr. Fuller, their son, Edward, who is home from V. P. I. for vacation, and Mrs. Fuller's mother, Mrs. Sarah Harmon; Mrs. Elmer Curry, registrar; Mr. Curry, Mrs. Samuel B. Woodbridge, librarian; Mr. Woodbridge, Mrs. Lee R. Pennington, jr., historian; Mr. Pennington and their son, William, and Miss Linda V. Nance, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Haig are leaving tomorrow for a motor trip which will take them to Gettysburg, Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands, Montreal, Quebec, the White Mountains and to Tamarack Inn, in Keene Valley, N. Y., where they will spend a week before stopping in New York City on their return to the Capital.

There will be an executive meeting of the District D. A. R. at the Chamber of Commerce, October 4 and a regents' round table preceding it the last week in September.

3 Plays Billed In New Theater For Y. W. Camp

Kamp Kahlert Completes Project, Plans Dedication Today.

AT LAST a dream is realized at Kamp Kahlert in the completion of the Barn Theater. A major part of the clearing of wood around the theater was handled by the two camp craft groups.

The dedication exercises will be held this afternoon for the campers only. Practically every camper has had a chance to display his interest and talents through this project. Mary Alice Glass and Emily Cowart will lead the dancing group which includes Marie Snell, Frances Hayden, Bobsie Osthoff, Louise Wiegand, Helen Smith, Jean Murphy, and Desiree McRae. Mary Sartwell, Mary Anne Frazier, Henrietta Howard, and Noradean Hamilton also have part in the dedication program, which marks the completion of a project for which the campers and the Kamp Kouncil have long been working. With the erection of the theater, Kahlert will be able to present plays with full equipment.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the parents of all the campers have been invited to attend the first presentation of a series of three plays which will be produced in the theater under the dramatic director, Miss Amy Veerhoff.

The design group under the supervision of Judy Greenwood is busy with new ideas for attractive costumes. Paralee Ritter, as costume mistress, has charge of making them. Fairlee Lemly, Eleanor Clark, Ruth Robbins, Margaret Kuntz, Marilyn Blanken, Mary Martha Finn and Helen Handleman are her assistants.

The members of the cast for the first play are Jensine Johannasen, Becky Young, Dorothy Anne Ellis, Evelyn Weber, Evelyn Sisk, Eleanor Hanson. In the second will be Adele Stern, June Hastings, Paralee Ritter, Dorothy Stackhouse, Sherry Terrell, Kitty Coe and Peggy Grisham.

The third play is an original one written by the campers with the assistance of Helen Miller, camp bugler.

These Special Features In The Sunday Post

These informative and timely articles augment the host of outstanding regular features for all the family tomorrow in The Sunday Post:

CANCER INSTITUTE.

Efforts of the Federal Government to fight cancer and the establishment of a cancer institute in Bethesda will be described in a special article tomorrow in section three of The Sunday Post.

WAGES AND HOUR BILL.

Sidney Olson, Post staff writer, analyzes the bill as it passed the Senate and is now in the House. This special article explains the bill and the difference of opinion in the North and South in regard to its value . . Section three.

HISTORIC PROGRAMS.

During remainder of the summer a number of historic celebrations will be held in Maryland. The Sunday Post will tell about them in a special article, complete with illustrations, in section six.

SHORT-SHORT STORY.

Raoul Whitfield brings Post readers another of his mystery classics in The Sunday Post. The story tomorrow is "The Magician Murder." The story is complete in one issue.

CONGRESS ADJOURNMENT.

The American Institute of Public Opinion reports American sentiment on the question of whether Congress should adjourn immediately or extend the present session until all bills and other work are disposed of . . . Section three.

The Washington Post

For Convenient Home Delivery—Call NAtional 4200.

Anis Azer Transferred From Egyptian Legation

Charge d'Affaires Gives Dinner for His Successor, Waguih Tostom, Who Will Take Over on August 14.

Anis Azer, Charge d'Affaires and First Secretary of the Egyptian Legation, is going-going-gone away. At least he will be on August 14.

His new post will be in Berlin. He came to Washington only about a year and a half ago from the Egyptian Consulate in New York; and instead of having become Charge d'Affaires ad interim, he should have been named Charge d'Affaires ad infinitum by a unanimous vote and another special session of Congress, according to his Washington friends.

Last night he gave an informal dinner for ten guests in honor of Waguih Tostom, who succeeds him. And, no doubt, at that informal dinner the buffet staggered under a slight snack of roast pheasant, hams, turkey and one long dream of Egyptian delicacies . . . for such is Anis Azer's way. Mr. Tostom is staying at the Shoreham. He was previously first secretary of the legation in Vienna.

Hostesses Are Losing A Dashing Bachelor.

So, plate-glass windows on Connecticut avenue next winter will no longer mirror back a dapper figure in a tweed overcoat, swinging along Washington's Fifty-seventh street, with an impeccable flower in a just-so buttonhole.

Hostesses stalking on a man-hunt for dashing bachelors with which to decorate their parties may take notice now and prepare to find a substitute.

And where four are gathered together for the ancient and honorable game of bridge, lamentations will mount to the ceiling for the loss of one of the most talented performers in this neck of the civilized world.

Every inch a diplomat, he was not only an authority on international intricacies, but, as an arbiter of feminine fashions, his word was weighty.

Anis Azer expects to spend two weeks' vacation in "the land of the free and the home of the brave" (and now bereft), before sailing for Germany. Where the vacation will take place, he has not as yet decided.

Successor Served Here from 1930 to 1932.

Mr. Tostom, his successor, is an old friend to many Washingtonians, for he served at the Egyptian Legation as Second Secretary from 1930 to 1932.

Mr. Azer is the third bachelor diplomat to receive his marching orders in the last month. Philip Broad, of the British Embassy, was ordered to Teheran for duty, and Ibrahim Seyfullah, of the Turkish Embassy, will soon be en route for home and his new post at the Foreign Office.

• • • •

Mrs. Mary Waite Davidson, of the Colonial Village Apartments, announces the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy Steele, to Milton Albert Smith, so of Capt. Milton D. Smith.

The wedding will take place on August 28.

Miss Davidson attended Central High School and also studied at George Washington University. Mr. Smith is at present studying law at the Washington School of Law.

Virginia Beach Sport and Social Activity at Peak

The high tempo of midseason marks the social and sports calendar at the Cavalier Hotel and Beach Club in Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Bates Warren, Washington, is passing some time at the Cavalier, where it is expected that Mr. Warren will join her at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, who have been sojourning at this hotel, recently returned to their home in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Shipway and their daughter, Miss Anne Shipway, Washington, have been guests for several days at the Cavalier. Later they plan to go to their country home in Noroton, Conn.

Other recent arrivals from Washington at Virginia Beach include Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Poole, Mrs. H. D. Lee, Mrs. F. A. Donnelley, Miss Frances Edmonston, Miss Sally Marbury, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Claxton, Dr. and Mrs. H. Norman, Miss Edith Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Maschauer, Miss Katherine Hall, Miss Helen Shelby, Mr. Robert L. Campbell, Mr. Norman B. Frost, Mr. John J. McInery and Mr. Edward C. Ernst.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Easby-Smith, Washington, who have been passing some time at the Cavalier, have departed.

Holland—O'Conor Wedding Sept. 11

September 11 has been chosen as her wedding date by Miss Robin Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George West Holland. She will be married to John O'Conor, of San Francisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Conor, of Pasadena, Calif.

The ceremony, to be followed by a reception, will take place in the Bethlehem Chapel of the National Cathedral.

Miss Holland will have Miss Carol O'Conor as her maid of honor and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Sidney Mullikin and Miss Marianne Hilgard. Mrs. Mullikin is a recent bride and was formerly Miss Louise Wilson.

Mr. O'Conor and his bride will leave for San Francisco immediately after the ceremony where they expect to make their home.

Mrs. Norman Fischer is at Big Island, Va., visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Marcuse at their summer home, Rosecliff.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Haas have motored to Maine for two weeks.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Ferguson of Shenandoah, Pa., are at the Carlton Hotel for several days. With them is their son, Jack Ferguson, who will enter Georgetown University this fall.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Thiemann, of Louisville, Ky., are here for a week's visit, and are at the Shoreham.

Tennis Players Supper Guests Of Mrs. Woodin

Washington Society Finds Play in Summer Resort Activities.

MEMBERS of Washington society spending the summer in cooler places continue to do their part in entertaining and being entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard F. West, jr., have arrived in Southampton, Long Island, to visit Mr. and Mrs. George R. Kent at Wayside. Mr. and Mrs. Kent will entertain at a large dinner this evening at the tennis ball in the Meadow Club to celebrate the first anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. William H. Woodin, widow of the former Secretary of the Treasury, entertained at a buffet supper for 50 guests at her home on the dunes in East Hampton, Long Island, in honor of the visiting tennis players taking part in the annual women's invitation tournament at the Maidstone Club there.

Among guests on the Viva II, yacht of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sigrist, when it followed the last race at Newport, were Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Pope, who spent last winter in Washington, and their daughter, Miss Jane Pope. Mr. Pope is the well-known architect.

Mrs. Thomas Bell Sweeney, of Washington, assisted in serving tea at the annual fashion show held at Bar Harbor for the benefit of the Mount Desert Island Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marburg entertained at a luncheon earlier in the week in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd, of Boston.

• • • •

Mrs. John A. Norris, of Temple, Tex., has joined her husband in his suite at the Carlton Hotel, where they will be during their stay in Washington until the latter part of next week.

Mr. Norris is in Washington to discuss plans for the Brazos River propect in Texas. He is chief engineer and general manager of the project.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Harding entertained at dinner at the Shoreham Terrace last evening in honor of Mrs. Harding's relatives from Texas, including Mr. and Mrs. Clay J. Berry, of Fort Worth, her brother and sister-in-law, and her two sisters, Miss Huberta Berry, of Houston, and Miss Janie Berry, of Mexia.

Others present included Representative and Mrs. Luther A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacKenzie, Mr. Harry McDonald and Mr. Brad Ross.

Society Aids Play At Sylvan Theater

'Midsummer Night's Dream' to Be Given on Tuesday.

Of interest to Washington Society will be the performance on Tuesday evening at the Sylvan Theater of "A Midsummer's Night's Dream," which will be presented by the Washington Players.

This season, they will be assisted by The Friday-Nighters, a group of young people who will appear as ladies in waiting to Hippolyta and as guards to Duke Theseus. Miss Patricia Flynn, Miss June Kennedy, Miss Helen Means and Miss Lois Means, Mr. Stuart Magee, Mr. Robert Bollan, Mr. Walter Nicholas and Mr. Robert Burtt will be seen in these roles.

The Players Club of Washington will act as ushers, and the fairy dances will be by the Alice Louise Hunter group.

The play is being produced by Miss Bess Schreiner, and Arthur Rhodes has directed it this season, as guest director from the East Washington Troupers who will be present in compliment to Mr. Rhodes, as will many members of the Shakespeare Society.

Northern Visit Planned By William Marriotts

Mr. and Mrs. William Marriott plan to leave Washington shortly on a vacation in Nova Scotia. Mr. Marriott's brother, Woodson, Marriott, who is visiting him now will return to his home in Ogden, Utah.

Woodson Marriott, who spent two years in England, was one of the young Americans who traveled to that country to organize England's first baseball teams.

Elbricks Visiting Here.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Alfred Johnson have been joined at their home at 2137 R street by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Burke Elbrick. Mr. Elbrick is a member of the staff of the United States Legation at Port-au-Prince, Haiti, and with Mrs. Elbrick will remain for a visit with her parents.

Security Storage
A SAFE DEPOSITORY FOR OVER 47 YEARS
1140 FIFTEENTH ST.

After Wedding Ceremony in St. Stephen's

Hessler Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hazen Bell were married Thursday in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and are now on their wedding trip. They are shown here at the reception held shortly after the ceremony. Mr. Bell is the nephew of District Commissioner Hazen.

More Diplomats Go on Vacation

Brazilian Secretary and Wife to Leave for Motor Tour to Coast.

THE EXODUS of vacationing diplomats from Washington continues, with several more either en route to their own countries or about to leave to see more of this one.

J. E. de Sousa Freitas, second secretary of the Brazilian Embassy, and Mme. de Sousa Freitas, will leave August 15 for a motor trip to the West Coast. They will be gone about a month. Another second secretary, Decio de Moura, will return next week from a vacation in the mountains of New York State.

Mme. Boncesco, wife of the financial counselor of the Rumanian Legation, sailed Thursday for a vacation in her homeland. Mr. Bonesco will return to Washington from New York, where he went to see her off.

The Rumanian Minister, Charles Davila, who has been summering at Newport, is expected to return to Rumania on Tuesday for his annual vacation. The Brazilian Ambassador, Oswaldo Aranha, is spending the week-end with his family at Ophir Hall, their country place near Leesburg.

Alabama Marriage Of Interest Here

Miss Eloise Hyatt Wed to Fredericksburger.

Of interest to Washingtonians is the announcement of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter H. Simpson which took place July 14 in Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Simpson, before her marriage, was Miss Eloise Hyatt, a graduate of the University of Alabama.

Mr. Simpson, a student at the University of Alabama, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson, of Fredericksburg, Va. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

The young couple will make their home in Fredericksburg.

Sylvia McGrath, Stanley R. Polly To Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. McGrath announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Vannah, to Stanley Robert Polly, son of Mrs. Warren Polly and the late Mr. Warrey Polly, of Bismarck, N. Dak.

Miss McGrath will have one attendant, Miss Grace Kendrick, and Frederick Parker will be best man.

The wedding will take place in the early fall.

Miss McGrath is a graduate of Central High School, and Mr. Polly is studying at George Washington University.

RIZIK BROTHERS
GOWNS
1213 F Street
1108 Conn. Ave.

AMPICO SYMPHONIQUE
TRADE MARK
REGISTERED
BABY GRAND
At Public Auction
At SLOAN'S
715 13th St. N.W.
SATURDAY AT 12 M.

NOTES OF SOCIETY

Official and Residential

The First Secretary of the Argentine Embassy, Senor Don Hector Leguizamon, will return next week from a two weeks motor trip through New Hampshire, New York and New Jersey. He took part in several polo matches during his trip.

• • • •

The Commercial Counselor of the Netherlands Legation and Mme. Molekamp, who have been vacationing at Narragansett, R. I., are now at the Commodore Hotel in New York en route to Washton.

• • • •

Theodore Noyes is spending the rest of the summer at the Hotel Claridge in Atlantic City.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Hudson have arrived in New York and are staying for a few days at the Hotel Biltmore.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chatfield and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Maxon of Chicago are now at the Martinique.

• • • •

Mrs. Neitah King entertained informally at the Shoreham Terrace last evening. A group of debutantes and sub-debutantes attended in honor of Miss Sally McCandlish, of Baltimore, the house guest of Miss Randolph Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Richardson, of Fairfax, Va. There were 20 in the company.

• • • •

Spending some time at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall at Atlantic City are Miss Florence C. Kenealy, Mrs. A. A. Bechler, Mrs. N. L. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blake, Mrs. D. Hugh Matthews, Mrs. Frank G. Stewart, Miss Annie Sweet, Mrs. George O. Vass and the Misses Eleanor B. Barton, Mary Ellen Barton and Martha Barton.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Morgan are at the Hotel Bossert, on Brooklyn Heights, while they are in New York.

• • • •

Dr. Emmett H. Markwood will return Monday on the Europa from a vacation in Europe.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. S. Eugene Godden, of Chevy Chase, are at the Forest Inn, at Eagles Mere, Pa., where they will be joined by their daughters and sons-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert B. Rude and Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lange, of Long Beach, Calif, are at the Martinique.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Bringley are staying at the Hotel Traymore in Atlantic City.

• • • •

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Doty are at the Claridge in Atlantic City.

• • • •

Mrs. Mary Mahoney and the Misses Geraldine and Helen Mahoney are at the Martinque for a brief stay.

• • • •

At the Seaside Hotel at Atlantic City are Mrs. W. C. Mack and the Misses Louise and Marilyn Mack, Miss Alma B. Goodfman, Mrs. Mabel Albertson and Miss Alma Albertson.

• • • •

A. de Lima Campos is now at the Beverly in New ork.

• • • •

Mrs. I. Goldheim and her daughter, Miss Ethel Goldheim, are at Mingo Springs, Me., for two weeks with Mrs. Louis Simon and Miss Rosa May Fischer.

DELIGHTFULLY
COOL
. . . COCKTAILS
WITH DANCING AFTERNOON AND EVENING
MAYFLOWER LOUNGE
HOTEL MAYFLOWER

8 oz. Mabro Pure Mayonnaise, 2 for 29c
16 oz. Mabro Pure Mayonnaise, 24c
8 oz. Mabro Pure Salad Dressing, 9c
Sold with money-back guarantee by all good food stores.
MAZO BROS., Wholesale Distributors
NAtional 0088-87

MAY'S CLEANERS
2220-2628 14TH ST.
WE NEVER GLOSS
8 HOUR SERVICE
NORTH 60??

1300 G DROOP'S 1300 G
STEINWAY AND OTHER LEADING PIANOS
Hammond Electric Organs
Everything in Music

HOLMES TO HOMES
FRESH PIES CAKES & BREAD
NATIONAL 4537
HOLMES Modern Bakery

LUCKY-13
TELEPHONE DI. 1300
FOR FLOWERS by Blackistone
1407 H St. N.W. INC.

HOSIERY REPAIRS
Highest Quality—Lowest Prices
One-Thread Run—15c
Pulled Threads—10c inch
While-You-Wait Service
SOUTHERN STELOS CO.
613 12th St. N.W. NAtl. 8442

Fresh Nuts Daily
National Peanut Corporation
705 15th St. N.W.
Between Postal and Peoples Drug. Only Washington Store.
Open Every Evening and Sunday

GUDE'S FLOWERS PROVIDE HAPPINESS DURING CONVALESCENCE
GUDE BROS. CO.

Clara May Downey's
OLNEY INN
OLNEY, MD.
20 miles North of the White House, on Georgia Avenue, extended
FOR RESTFUL ENJOYMENT OF GOOD FOOD and DRINK

William Hazen Bell and Bride Honeymoon at Atlantic City

Katherine M. Mason Married at St. Stephen's Church to Nephew of District Commissioner; Couple to Live Here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hazen Bell, who were married on Thursday evening, are honeymooning at Atlantic City before returning to Washington, where they will reside at 700 Quincy street.

The bride is the former Miss Katherine M. Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mason of this city. Mr. Bell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Washington and a nephew of Commissioner Melvin Hazen. No formal announcement of their engagement was made.

The ceremony took place at St. Stephen's Church of the Incarnation, the Rev. Clyde Brown officiating.

The bride wore a lace gown over white satin, with a long train and a tulle veil fastened to a cap of seed pearls. She carried white roses and lilies.

Miss Virgie Huber served as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Mary McQuary, Jean DePue, Mary Lou Grady and Frances Miller. They wore frocks in pastel shades of peach, aquar, powder blue and yellow, with halo hats of the same material, and carried roses. Joan Humphries was the flower girl, wearing a frock of blue net and carrying summer flowers.

Thomas Reeves acted as best man, and the ushers were Vincent Farmer, Edward White, Norman Miller, Richard Bell, brother of the bridegroom, and Jesse Black.

A reception at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Katherine M. Mason, followed the ceremony.

• • • •

The Ambassador of Germany, Herr Hans Dieckhoff, will spend the week-end in Buffalo, N. Y., and from there will go to New York City for a stay. Shortly afterward he will sail for his home in Germany and will rejoin Frau Dieckhoff, who will return with him in the fall. The Ambassador has been occupying Viewtree, the Warrenton estate of Oscar T. Crosby, who with his daughters, Mrs. Crosby Miller and Mrs. Crosby Hornblow, is expected to return in October from a vacation in Europe.

Herbert Blankenhorn, of the embassy staff, has sailed on the Hansa for a month's vacation in Germany.

Mrs. Leigh Kenyon Hostess to Capital Delta Zeta Alumnae

Mrs. Leigh C. Kenyon was hostess to a group of Washington Delta Zeta alumnae last evening at her home on Twentieth street. This is the third of the summer entertainments the sorority is having this season.

The guests were Mrs. M. L. Parler, president of the Washington alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta; Miss Myra Hall, Mrs. G. Leland White, Mrs. Paul Lehman, Miss Marjorie Neuman, Mrs. J. P. Edgerton, Miss Mary Curran, Misses Peggy and Ann Monroe, Mrs. Theodore C. Osterhaus, Mrs. L. S. Jones, Miss Loretta Cunningham, Miss Helen Martell and Miss Eunice Woodward. Miss Martell is the new president of the City Panhellenic Congress.

Barkley Dinner Set for Tuesday

President May Drop In on Tribute Party for New Senate Leader.

Plans are proceeding for the dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Senator Alben W. Barkley, newly elected majority leader of the Senate. Col. Edwin A. Halsey, Secretary of the Senate, is among those active in making arrangements for the affair, which will be held at the Raleigh.

President Roosevelt is expected to drop in on the dinner at which Vice President Garner will preside. Others at the speakers' table will be Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia; Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina; Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana; Senator Joseph F. Guffey, of Pennsylvania; Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois; Senator Kenneth McKellar, of Tennessee, and Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas.

Senator McKellar is chairman of the committee on arrangements for the dinner, with Senator Josh Lee acting as Secretary and Senators A. Harry Moore, Harry S. Truman and Edward R. Burke serving on the committee.

Returns to Hot Springs.

Miss Ellen Bates has returned to the Patch, Hot Springs, Va., after a brief visit at the Shoreham. She came to Washington with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wade T. Childress, who have gone on to New York.

Bastedos Leave.

Capt. and Mrs. Paul H. Bastedo left Washington yesterday morning for the Poconos in Pennsylvania where they will visit. Mrs. Bastedo's son, Mr. Richard B. Griffin has remained in their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Musical Instruments 83B
HAMMOND Electric Organ. Cash. Call DE. 4612 mornings.

Miscellaneous Wanted 84
ANTIQUE... dental gold; special... Bald. Schiller...

FRANKLIN MANOR BEACH.
"27 Miles From Washington."
On the Chesapeake, where it is 14 ... me mile of safe, shelving bea... front. ¾-mile on Franklin ... 30 acres. Lots with 50 ft. f... 100. Protected shorefro... electricity; good roads. ... financed.
Each: Out Pa. ave. to... Marlboro. Turn right at W... Continue to Drury. Turn ... thern Maryland blvd. to Bristol... Bears Corner. Right to ... through Deale to Church... Manor Beach. Sea ... property or ... MANOR BEACH CO., ... N.W. NAtl. 1828.
... Prince ... County, Md. ... 1 mile from ...

FOR—'36 ... dedanette, brk., good tires; first-class me... tion. $349. Starrett C... 30 M st. ne. MEt. 05...

FORD—1936 Tudor Sedan. Can be bought with $25 down and ... which includes fire, theft, and ... insurance costs; $449. Handley ... 3730 Georgia ave. AD. 6062.

FORD ... Coupe De Luxe. ... Mechanically ... condition. This car is ... as you have a demonstr... ... with us that ... ... for the ... ... investigate our ... special trade-in allowa...
SMOOT MOTO... ...lyn. ... 1732

We Want to Rent a
TALLYHO
It can be an antique or a new one—just so we can use it for the gilded age—Premiere Opening of "The Toast of New York" which will be held at the RKO-Keith's Theater Wednesday, August 4, at 9 p. m. If you have a Tallyho—or know of some one who has one—let us know. Call Hardie Meakin, RKO-Keith's Theater, National 5162.

SPOT CASH PAID IMMEDIATELY
OLD GOLD AND SI...
SELINGER'S, 818 F ...

TALLYHOES WENT "OUT" 60 YEARS AGO—

Keith's Needed one --KEITH'S GOT ONE

through a POST WANT AD

What could be more ideal than a Tallyho to promote a moving picture such as the "Toast of New York," now current at RKO-Keith's Theater? But where to get one? Sixty years ago, in the heyday of Jim Fisk, Tallyhoes were as common as automobiles are today—but that was 50 years ago. Yet a Post Want Ad did the trick. Advertised under Miscellaneous Wanted for 3 days, the result was what you see in the picture above: a clever piece of promotion, featuring a group of Washington debutanes, and made possible because a Post Want Ad brought swift and sure results.

Do you want to sell a car—rent a home—do you want to find a job—a lost article—do you need a Tallyho? Use a Post Want Ad. They're inexpensive and result bringing. A trained ad taker is at your service.

FOR SUNDAY'S PAPER

CALL NATIONAL 4200

THE TOAST OF NEW YORK
Starring
Cary Grant ★ Frances Farmer
Jack Oakie and Edward Arnold
Depicting a hearty era in American History, the Toast of New York is one of the outstanding films of the year. The story, built around the career of Jim Fisk (portrayed by Edward Arnold), gives an accurate picture of a brilliant decade.

The Washington Post

Appetizers Supply Zest For Summer

New Recipes Add Snap; Salads Should Have Tart Flavor.

Fruit Cups, Cocktails of Seafood and Hot Soup Recommended.

By Rebekah Blake.

THE APPETIZER is the most important part of the summer meal. At a time when appetites have to be tempted, it is especially necessary to have a good "come-on" in order that guests may enjoy the more substantial dishes.

Helen Robertson, in her recently published "Merry Mixer Cook Book," says: "Appetizers—the first course of the meal—are the prelude to the symphony of dishes that are to follow."

If you have been using the same old appetizers, change them. Try something new. Surprise your family with a change from the accustomed tomato juice or fruit cup.

In general, there are four kinds of appetizers, hors' d'oeuvres, canapes, cocktails of fruit, vegetables or fish and soups cream or clear. For something different, however, consider the possibilities of a tart salad.

Vinegar Aids Tartness.

As an appetizer, salads should have snap in flavor and be colorfully arranged and carefully chosen in texture to be most appropriate. To tease the appetite, tartness is important and this can be obtained by the skillful use of pure cider vinegar. The tart salad bowl can be made as varied as you like, for there are many fresh vegetables on the market now to choose from and substitutions can be made as often as you like.

The vegetable salad is highly nutritive as well as pleasing to the appetite and when served in this manner may take the place of a salad served with the main meal.

Vegetable juices served either hot or cold are becoming increasingly popular as appetizers. They contain many health-building vitamins.

Seasonal Fruits Used.

Seasonal fruits, either fresh or canned, can be made tempting appetizers by using a little originality and ingenuity. Use a combination of fruits that give a contrast of flavor and color-all fresh fruit or some fresh fresh and some canned; all canned fruits are apt to give too sweet an appetizer. Never chop fruit too finely for a fruit cup; cut it into sizable pieces so the fruits will keep their identity. The fruits may be chilled together in a large bowl, then arranged in sherbert glasses or they may be arranged and then chilled. Substitutions may be made in fruits and flavors to suit individual taste.

Fish cocktails have an individuality all their own. While to some extent, fish cocktails are all similar—shrimp, crab meat, lobsters or oysters, they can be made singular by the different sauces. Don't forget that the sauce plays an important role in any of the fish cocktails.

Hot soups maye soothe the jagged nerves and increase the appetite even on hot days. Clear soups must be well seasoned and served piping hot to be at their best. They contain little food value but are stimulating for the main course. Cream soups tempt the appetite and also offer nutriment. Hence they are better adapted to the light luncheon or supper plates.

Canapes Varied.

Hors d'oeuvres are savory tidbits of this and that, served hot or cold, on handsomely arranged platters, to accompany fruit or vegetable juices. The number of canapes and hors d'oeuvres that will be served depends upon the hostess. You can either specialize in one or two flavors or have a large variety. It is best, however, to avoid the repetition of flavors. Among the hors d'oeuvres family may be found a variety for the housewife or hostess to choose from. Some of them are: "Toothpick appetizers," orange, fresh pineapple, apple; "fruit tidbits," "cheese balls" and "croquette mixtures."

Here are some recipes for summer appetizers:

Tart Salad Bowl.

2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup shredded raw carrot
½ cup shredded pineapple (drained).
¼ cup of vinegar
½ cup of cottage cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup sweet pickles, cut fine
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients and toss lightly with a fork until well mixed. The amount of mayonnaise will vary according to the amount of moisture present in the other ingredients.

Jellied Tomato Consomme.

1 quart can tomatoes
½ onion, sliced (may be omitted)
1 cup water
2 cloves
2 stalks celery
2 to 4 pepper corns
1 small carrot
Small blade mace
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients in a saucepan. Heat to simmering point and simmer 15 minutes. Strain, season to taste. Let this cool, then add two tablespoons gelatin which has been soaked 5 minutes in one-fourth cup cold water to the tomato after straining. Heat again, dissolve gelatin, remove from heat, season well and chill. When serving, cut in cubes and pile in soup cus. Garnish with a thin slice of lemon, sprinkled lightly with finely chopped parsley.

Corsages Can Correct Defects in Appearance

The way a woman wears corsage or costume flowers may affect her apparent height and weight to a considerable degree.

If you are on the plump side, you will be glad to know that your apparent height may be increased with a peaked bandeau of flowers worn high on the head for formal affairs.

Roses, gardenias, lilies of the valley and other choice flowers are much used for such wears because of their great range of lovely colors and because they keep fresh for such a long time even on a warm summer evening.

Tempting Summer Appetizers—Tart Salad, Cold Consomme

Something different in summer appetizers is the tart salad illustrated below. It consists of cabbage, carrots, pineapple, cottage cheese and sweet pickles, is flavored with vinegar and has mayonnaise dressing. The tomato jellied consomme at right is topped with herbs for flavor and decoration. A bright summer flower may be substituted for the herbs and thus add to the table color scheme. Cooked vegetables may be used for the tart salad, but they should be thoroughly chilled.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Father Is Drunkard; Mother Lacks Will Power; How To Improve Home Life, Is Girl's Question.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a problem I hope you will be able to help me solve. It's about my father and mother. Mother is very irritating at times. I am one of 14 children (five are married) and my father drinks all his money away and spends it on other men and women who take him for a fool. Mother tries to give us all she can, but her trouble is that she hasn't enough will power . . .

* * * *

The point is this: I can't understand why, when my father comes staggering in late, mother will most always fix him something to eat and next morning act as if nothing had happened. She gives him as much attention as a king. He's always wanting attention; can't do a thing for himself; really plain lazy. If he doesn't have a clean shirt, mother will search through big brother's drawer and find him one, just the color he wants, etc.

* * * *

We got rid of him once but he came back (probably with a sob story to mother) and he's been with us ever since and probably will be until he dies. This is a terrible thing to say, but he's no good on this earth. He's always promising never to drink again; but he's been promising ever since I can remember and I'm 18 now.

* * * *

I have friends, of course, but when they bring me home I'm ashamed to bring them inside, lest father be sitting in the front room asleep or something. It's very discouraging. We live in a respectable street in the northwest section and have nice neighbors. Could you give me any advice as to how to bring our home life under better control? Appreciatively. G. W.

What to Believe.

DEAR G. W.: For some reason or other, I don't feel in the least like condemning your mother. To me, there is something wistfully gallant, lovable and appealing about the picture you paint of her. Perhaps she decided long years ago, in wisdom born of love and experience, that where your father is concerned, what cannot be cured must be endured. Since he is an inveterate, unregenerate alcoholic and she, apparently, a member of that vanishing race of old-fashioned women who took the "for better, for worse, until death do us part" portion of their marriage vows seriously and literally, I think it probable she has done the very best she knew how to do, or could have done, in treating your father "like a king" despite his painful shortcomings.

* * * *

If she treated him other than kindly when he staggered home of nights, if she sulked and stormed on mornings after, very likely your home life would be a thousand times more wretched than it is today. Better a peaceable, worthless lazy bones around the house than a viciously antagonistic, threatening, brutal husband and father. Maybe your mother loves your father, in spite of all. The love of a wife for her husband is something which outsiders—even children of the union—had best leave unchallenged. Or maybe she was so helplessly burdened with children by the time she realized your father's total worthlessness that she felt powerless to do anything but carry on until Providence should see fit to solve her problem somehow. Many an old-fashioned wife and mother lived by such a theory—or philosophy or creed; call it what you will—and managed not only to wrest some happiness from life but to rear large families of children who eventually made decent citizens.

* * * *

Let it be said for your mother, at least, that she is not a whiner; that she has borne her burden with a face so cheerful, a spirit so meek, a hand so eager to do the pacifying thing, that her very children are impatient with her. How do you know what dreams and hopes lie buried in her heart? You say she has given her children "all she can." Is she to be blamed for doing the same for your father? I couldn't be sure about such things, of course, but if there are martyr's crowns waiting in heaven to be allocated to deserving brows, it seems likely to me that one is waiting for your mother and other women who have toiled a similar uphill, uncomplaining path through life.

* * * *

I sympathize fully with your shamed embarrassment at having no place in which to entertain your friends. But so far as I can see, there is nothing you can do to improve the situation at home. The only hope of bettering your situation is to become self-supporting as quickly as possibly and establish yourself in a place of your own. Perhaps you could go to live with a married sister or brother when you are in a position to pay for room and board.

Miss Haworth will be glad to help you in solving your problems. Write her in care of The Post Woman's Page.

Today's HEALTH TALK

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

Cause of Hay Fever.

It took the combined labor of half a dozen men to unravel the mystery of hay fever. All of them had hay fever themselves. Everybody who tried his hand at finding the cause made a silly mistake unless he had the affliction personally.

One of the most indefatigable workers was Charles Harrison Blackley, of Manchester, England. He made the first experiments in counting the number of pollen grains in the air all through the season. He tried a number of complicated working devices, but finally found that the simplest method was best—a glass slide with a little glycerin on it exposed to the air; the pollen grains fell on it by gravity. Then he counted the number of pollen grains in one cubic centimeter. He placed the slides on poles just the same height above the ground as his nose.

With painstaking care and interest he compared his symptoms to the density of the pollen fall every day throughout the season. He even thought he should stand near the slide he was going to count in order to make the observations accurate. He found that he experienced no discomfort whatever for two or three days after the first pollen grains appeared, showing that he could stand a small amount of pollen without having hay fever. He learned that there were extreme variations in the amount of pollen from day to day, and that these variations corresponded exactly with his symptoms. This impressed him very much because before making this observation he had attributed his good days to whatever remedy he had been taking. He continued his experiments for 15 years.

The first successful attempt to prevent hay fever by pollen vaccines was made by Dr. R. C. Lowdermilk, of Galena, Kans.

A WOMAN'S NEW YORK

By Alice Hughes

New York, Aug. 6.

EVERY national mania creates new jobs and chances for the girls who are alert enough to board the bandwagon before it starts, and the current craze for puzzle-solving is anything but an exception. Take Miss Helen King, now functioning ousily as one of the country's leading guess-what consultants, and doing very nobby, thanks.

ALICE HUGHES.

Many big firms have Helen run their guessing games with big prizes, and thousands of puzzlers seek her advice on tricks of the new trade, which really began to boom in the depression years. Remember? She figures there are now about 81,000,000 people in the republic who spend their spare time guessing. Some do it for fun, says the expert, more in the hope of winning chunks of money.

Helen has two cardinal rules for puzzle-addicts 1. Follow the rules zealously. She says 50 per cent don't.. 2. Be original, as 25 per cent of most puzzlers duplicate popular ideas in book or song titles. These are rapidly heaved out the window by judges.

She also says that crafty contestants don't doll up their entries in a fancy way to impress the jurists. Professional contest-furists consider such didoes an obvious attempt to impress them with cuteness rather than sheer merit. Our sex, she finds, prefers letter writing affairs, while the males specialize in slogans and picture puzzles.

All in all, now that puzzles are a plague, a pastime and a money-making possibility, some $27,000,000 are offered to contestants every year. The temptation is strong to go in for this sort of thing—or have you already?

* * * *

GIRL ABOUT TOWN—If you should get aboard the liner Europa, bound abroad, and want some nice quiet company, ask the chief steward for Susie. This minx is a beautiful, and naked, Cora Scovil window mannequin who was put in a man's cabin the afternoon of his sailing—as a droll wheeze. He got his shock and we got our giggles, but in mid-ocean he wearied of poor dumb Susie and turned her over to the steward, who threw her into a closet. And there Susie remains to this day, sailing back and forth across the Atlantic, a dummy without a country. Look the poor wretch up.

* * * *

I suppose you know that the fashions which run across the country like a prairie fire are called "Fords" in the trade, and no disrespect to Henry or Edsel. The "Eugenie Hat" was a perfect example. The Ford of 1937 is the "corselet dress," with its hug-me-tight over the diaphragm, its blousey top, fitted line and slightly flared skirt. It's a compliment to a style to be Fordized, and it also fills every highway and byway with it! . . .

* * * *

The real swells have been very slow in turning up at the Saratoga race meet this year, but they're dribbling in, oh so elegnt and sportin'! One local pundit says the three best-dressed women at the Spa are Mrs. Peter Widener, Mrs. Stephen "Laddy" Sanford (once Mary Duncan of stage and screen) and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin. I wouldn't know, having been kept from the deah old clubhouse by prior engagements with my portable typewriter. But this is a nifty trio, as I know by past performances.

This column appears Sunday and daily.

Copyright, 1937, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Cooking Hints

To make sure jelly will be clear never squeeze the pulp in the jelly bag. Let the juices drip and strain through a heavy cheese cloth. The pulp may be made into butter or jam—so there is no waste. About one cup of juice is needed for each four cups of pulp, however.

Strawberry jams and jellies should be stored in a dark, cool place to preserve color and texture.

Pie meringues become flat when too much sugar is used in them, they are baked in too hot an oven or they are not baked enough. A fourth of a teaspoon of cream of tartar mixed with each two egg whites helps to keep the meringue firm.

Roll out pastry at least one inch larger than the pan in which it is to be baked. That allows for shrinking.

Carefully follow instructions for making pickles. Tough, shriveled pickles are caused by too much salt, too much vinegar or the use of old cucumbers. Soft pickles are usually due to the use of vinegar that is too strong.

Paraffin used for sealing jellies should be 'smoking' hot, since it sterilizes as well as seals. Tilt the glass in order that the melted paraffin may form a seal around the side of the glass as well as a covering for the top.

Corn Recipes May Win Cash In Post Contest

SWEET CORN and green field corn are coming into the local market in abundant quantities and should be used while the season lasts.

If you have an interesting or unusual recipe using corn, enter it in The Post recipe contest for this week. You may know some special way of using corn in succotash, pancakes, fritters, pudding, salad or soup. You may have a new way to serve corn on the cob or to cook it as a vegetable. If so, let others have the benefit of your experience.

A cash award of $3 will be given for the best recipe, one of $2 for the second best, and $1 each for the next three of special merit. Send your recipe to Rebekah Blake, The Post Food Editor so she will receive it not later than noon Saturday.

Copy the recipe neatly and be sure to print your name and address plainly at the bottom of the page. Only one recipe will be accepted from each contestant.

Storage Space Hint.

When storage space in a small house is valuable a stout sack of ticking or khaki cloth fastened to the back of the largest closet door will be very useful. Card tables and other large items may be stored there.

Beach Costumes Combine 3 Colors

Creased Trousers and Short Jacket Popular.

Paris (U.P.).—Schisparelli is combining two or three bright colors effectively in her new beach costumes. One in Shantung has a wrap-around skirt printed in bands with the black silhouettes of tiny peasant women carrying baskets on their heads. This is worn with a brief short-sleeved jacket.

Another amusing beach costume is made with trousers which come to mid-calf length. They are pressed into a crease like a man's trousers and are worn with a short beach jacket.

Beach pants of black cloth printed in a wiggly white design are made with an overall-like top that is sleeveless and backless. It is worn with a jacket of white waffle design pique that has short sleeves, and there is a huge white straw hat with a floppy brim that is worn on the back of the head.

Franklin Cane Sugars
Refined in U.S.A.
Quick icings and fillings — Confectioners XXXX
Fruits cereals iced drinks — Superfine Powdered

Do as your neighbors do
SHOP AT A&P AND SAVE
A&P ESTABLISHED 1859 FOOD STORES

CIGARETTES
Luckies, Camels, Chesterfields, Raleighs, Old Golds, Piedmonts and Sweet Caporals
pkg. 12c carton $1.18

PEAS Standard Pack No. 2 Can 7c
CHEESE Creamy Longhorn lb. 21c — Aged Daisy lb. 23c
TOMATOES or STRINGLESS BEANS 4 No. 2 Cans 25c Standard Pack
Specially Priced! World's Most Popular COFFEES Mild and Mellow EIGHT O'CLOCK lb. pkg. 18c — Rich and Full-Bodied RED CIRCLE lb. pkg. 20c — Vigorous and Winey BOKAR lb. can 23c
CAMAY SOAP cake 5c Slightly Higher in Md.

Campbell's TOMATO Soup..... 3 cans 20c
Granulated Sugar in cloth bags ..10 lbs. 49c
Crisco SHORTENING ..... lb. can 22c 3 lb. can 58c
WILDMERE EGGS Selected and Guaranteed doz. 30c
Apple Sauce White House ..... 2 No. 2 cans 15c
Fresh Tub Butter..... lb. 36c
Heinz HOME STYLE Soups Except 4 Varieties ..2 cans 25c
Pure Lard..... lb. 15c
Red Cross PAPER Towels....3 rolls 25c
Kellogg's Corn Flakes or POST TOASTIES pkg 6c
Evap. Milk White House .....3 tall cans 19c
Ivory Soap....3 med. cakes 19c 2 lge. cakes 19c
P&G White Naptha Soap.....4 cakes 15c
Lava Soap .....2 cakes 13c
Prices Effective Until Closing Today

Meats You'll be Proud To Serve
FINE QUALITY SKINLESS OR REGULAR Smoked HAMS whole or half lb. 29c
MEATY, FLAVORSOME LEG O'LAMB . . . . lb. 31c
FRESH STEWING CHICKENS up to 4 lbs. each lb. 27c
FRESHLY KILLED FRYERS Leghorns lb. 31c Barred Rocks lb. 37c
QUALITY BEEF CHUCK BEEF . . . lb. 27c
SUNNYFIELD SLICED BACON ½ lb. pkg. 20c

ELBERTA YELLOW FREESTONE PEACHES
4 lbs. 19c — ORIGINAL BUSHEL BASKET $2.35
Fresh CORN, 4 ears 10c
Crisp Celery.....2 bchs. 15c — Meaty Tomatoes ..... lb. 5c
Fancy Bananas..... lb. 5c — Juicy Lemons.. doz. 29c & 39c
WIN $1,000 — NAME THE NEW A & P MAGAZINE — ASK FOR DETAILS
A&P FOOD STORES

You Can Be Sure of Successful Baking Results if You Will Use
Washington FLOUR
the flour that is especially adapted to kitchen facilities and that is sold with the positive guarantee that every sack will give better satisfaction than any other flour you have ever used or the purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.
Plain Washington Flour and Self-Rising Washington Flour are for sale by ALL grocers, delicatessens, markets, chain stores, etc. When buying don't just ask for flour, ask for Washington Flour.
Wilkins-Rogers Milling Co.
Washington, D. C.

★NO SHELF AGE
The Big thing about
MESCO COFFEE
ITS NATURALLY FRESH
M. E. SWING 1013 E ST. N.W. NATIONAL 7601 33c lb.

LIGHT yet NOURISHING

ONE OF 30 PRODUCTS
Cod and potato, cleverly blended, ready to shape and fry. Summer's easy cooking—yet nourishing meal.
FREE! Recipe booklet, "Delicious Fish Dishes." Write, Gorton-Pew Fisheries, Gloucester, Mass.
Made from Famous GORTON'S CODFISH

Over the Coffee

By Harlan Miller

My scouts hint that a glimpse of Senator Connally dancing the rhumba with a plump matron is the best show in town, or at least worth taxi fare . . . Justice McReynolds, no hermit himself, makes his secretaries agree not to smoke, drink, go to parties or fraternize with girls.

* * * *

A brief eulogy of Herbert Hoover drew seven handclaps in the House the other day . . . Maybe Henry Wallace's experts could grow grass in the bare spots beneath the White House trees . . . You can arrive an hour late at a New York party, but in Washington you must be on time.

* * * *

A cloakroom connoisseur of music suggests "The Merry-go-round Broke Down" as a White House substitute for "Happy Days Are Here Again" . . . Maybe the lawmakers would work less self-consciously if there were no wives in the galleries.

* * * *

"—disheveled statesmen: corcoranned"

If you see a statesman on the Hill slightly disheveled, it may be that he has just been corcoranned . . . Some Washingtonians would like to see the low rent experiment perfected first in Washington . . . A friend's colored maid pays $47.50 a month for three small rooms.

* * * *

Scandal on the Potomac: Girls smoke in the Methodist restaurant . . . But spies report the eggplant fritters are noteworthy and the hostess highly decorative . . . Some of our best minds will continue to distrust Russia until that country becomes quaint again.

* * * *

Another version of the great Presidential hunger at the duPont wedding goes this way:

At a late hour Mrs. duPont discovered Mr. Roosevelt hadn't been fed, and dispatched a trusted friend to the kitchen to negotiate with the servants.

"The President hasn't had anything to eat!" said the friend, edging cautiously into the butler's pantry.

"Is that so?" replied the servant, with a wink. "Isn't that TOO bad!"

* * * *

In his home district a representative's face becomes a sort of ikon, a holy symbol of courage and godliness; but a brief inspection of the House reassures me that personal beauty is not vital to a political career . . . Four best figures in the Senate Tydings, Lodge, McAdoo and McNary.

* * * *

A lawmaker might live comfortably on $12,000 a year if visiting constituents weren't so thirsty and hungry . . . It isn't the President's program that annoys his partisans so much as it is his taste for inviting the La Follettes and Gov. Murphy of Michigan on critical week-end cruises.

* * * *

"—statue faces the wrong way"

Some of the Western Congressmen think the statue atop the Capitol faces the wrong way; they'd like to sneak up some dark night and turn it around to face West . . . Senator Hiram Johnson has discovered the secret of keeping his hair; he ought to tell some of his colleagues.

* * * *

We'd feel safer if the wilder drivers in the District wore red headlights on their cars . . . Mr. Garner phoned a Senator's secretary the other day: "This is the vee pee. Can the boss go to the ball game?"

* * * *

A fanfare for Representative Ham Fish (who seems to reiterate "I AM a Liberal") because when his ten minutes on the floor are up he stops instantly, with a smile . . . Soundest position of the session—taken by Senator Davis, of Pennsylvania—"If it's a bad bill I'm against it!"

* * * *

A tourist from Indiana woke up with a start in the Senate gallery during a repetitious speech the other day.

"Let's go!" he exclaimed. "This is where we came in."

U. S. Urged to Give Aides Special Care

Pointing to the Federal employes as persons with peculiar responsibilities, Jacob Baker, president of United Federal Workers of America, in a radio address last night called on the Government to "assume a special care as an employer."

It is the purpose of the U. F. W. A. "to help Federal employes to implement the efficiency of the Federal Government, and at the same time, to secure for Federal employes a recognition from their Government of the responsibilities it bears toward them," he said.

Singling out livable salaries, favorable working conditions and the hopes of promotion as the goals of Federal workers, Baker said that "these are simple objectives, human objectives." The Government, he said, seeks to obtain them for all persons in America, but "unfortunately while the campaign to secure these objectives is pushed by the National Government for all Americans, there are other Americans, in the very household of the National Government who have none of these simple assurances."

D. C. Deaths From Disease Drop in 1937

Diphtheria Rate Is Cut in Half; Tuberculosis Declines 10%.

Pneumonia Also Falls; Mortality Remains Above Nation's.

A noticeable decline in deaths from disease was charted here during the first six months of 1937. Diphtheria led the way with a 50 per cent decline.

While tuberculosis dropped off more than 10 per cent and pneumonia decreased at the same rate, Dr. D. L. Seckinger, assistant health officer, pointed out that Washington's rate is still much higher than the national average for these two diseases, and also for diphtheria.

A tremendous increase in Wassermann tests for syphilis was recorded following the general publicity campaign sponsored by Surgeon General Parran last winter. The first six months of 1937 showed 16,872 taking the test against 11,658 for the same period last year.

Averages Compared.

A comparison table for the first six months of 1936 and 1937 with the national averages of deaths per 100,000 population follows:

	1936	1937	Natl.
Tuberculosis	115.0	102.7	56.0
Pneumonia	177.1	167.0	79.4
Diphtheria	6.5	3.2	3.3

Deaths from all causes remained close to average, with 4,852 for the first half of 1936 compared to 4,713 so far this year. Infant mortality dropped off from 408 to 386.

Diphtheria Near Norm.

Twenty persons died from diphtheria in 1936 and 10 in 1937. Despite the fact the rate is now near the national norm, it is nevertheless higher than in many cities, Dr. Seckinger said. In some places it has been cut below 1 death per 100,000.

Most promising trend in the whole chart, the doctor said, was the increased registration for venereal disease treatment. Attendances at local hygiene clinics leaped from 76,592 for the first half of last year to 90,506 for the same period this year.

Dog Gets Star Role in Festival Play

When the Washington Players present their festival version of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" Tuesday evening at the National Sylvan Theater, one of the members of the cast will be a small Irish terrier, whose tag line is Ugly.

Ugly, who was chosen as the winner in the 1934 "dog" audition for the role in the Pyramus and Thisbe interlude in the fairy fantasy, has held the same place in the cast in every performance given by the Washington Players. The "human" players in the cast are J. Edmond Veitch, J. Edgar Kloten, Kent Dyer, Paul Murphy, Harry Crow and Joseph Custer.

The play, produced annually for the summer festival season by Bess Davis Schreiner, has been directed this year by Arthur Rhodes. Costumes are by Louise Wynne, of the Community Center Department; and lighting by Harold Snyder, also of the Community Center. Tickets are available at the Willard Hotel, Washington Hotel, A. A. A. ticket bureau and the Community Center Department.

McGowan Is Given Medal by Veterans

E. E. McGowan, past commander of Washington Post, No. 29, of the Twenty-ninth Division Association, last night was presented a medal in recognition for services.

The presentation was made at a meeting of the association at the Willard Hotel. The medal was presented by J. Fred Chase, another past commander.

Principal subject for discussion at the meeting was the convention to be held in Washington for three days beginning August 20. More than 1,000 former Twenty-ninth Division men are expected to attend.

Cleaners' Union Wins Agreement

The Laundry Workers, Cleaners and Dyers Union Local and Samuel Grozbean, president of the Globe Cleaners & Dyers, Inc., yesterday signed an agreement, according to Calvin Cousens, union chairman.

The agreement, Cousens said, specifies all future employes will be hired through the union, reduces working hours and grants some pay increases. Working hours for men were reduced from 54 to 48 and for women from 48 to 44. The minimum wage was placed at $16.50 and time and a half for overtime was included.

Senate D. C. Committee To Weigh Bills Tuesday

Chairman King of the Senate District Committee yesterday called a meeting for 2:30 p. m. Tuesday to consider local bills that may still have a chance of passage before adjournment.

It is expected by that time a sub-committee which has held hearings on a bill to regulate the real estate business here may have made its report. Another sub-committee is holding a hearing Monday on a bill to limit the number of taxicabs here and another to require liability insurance. That sub-committee may report before the meeting of the full committee.

Braille Radio Logs, Music, Playing Cards Planned by Washington's Red Cross Chapter

Post Staff Photos.

Life for the sightless isn't quite as lonely and black as it once was, thanks to science and organizations for the blind. Braille cards bring a bridge game to Florence Sipe, Emily L. Beck and Irene Burch (left to right in the upper photo) and the world's literature to Mary Lix (lower photo).

Capital Unit Plans Wide Extension of Work for Blind.

Radio logs in Braille—listing the major stations, their periods of broadcasting and their frequencies—are included in plans of the District of Columbia Chapter of the American Red Cross for extension of its work for the blind during the coming season.

Transcription of music, the marking of playing cards with Braille characters and the preparation of reading matter will be continued by the chapter.

Seventy-six volunteers gave 4,273 hours of their time to Braille work last year. They transcribed and duplicated 33,035 pages and distributed Braille copies of "The Blue Danube" and numerous decks of Braille-marked cards.

The cards and music have been extremely popular and many blind bridge players have become experts, Red Cross officials said yesterday when announcing an extension of the work. The Braille marks are placed on ordinary cards, thus permitting the blind to play with other members of their family and friends.

Knitting instructions also may be included in the work of the Braille committee, of which Mrs. Lee S. Wolfe is chairman. The District committee also will make a special effort to get several stories for children transcribed into Braille during the winter.

Christmas cards, Valentines and cookbooks are representative of the Braille needs of which the general public usually knows little. The Red Cross last year was queried by 229 women who wished Braille cookbooks. All orders were filled.

The comfort and entertainment the Red Cross would like to bring to all the blind is typified in the work now being done at the Henry and Annie Hurt Home for the Blind at 3050 R street northwest.

His home is more than 30 years old, accommodating approximately 35 blind persons whose ages range from 30 to more than 90. It is the project of the Aid Association for the Blind of the District of Columbia, of which Henriette Metzrott is now president. The association at one time conducted annual drives for its funds, but Mrs. Hurt left an endowment which today makes that unnecessary.

D. C. Tax Bill Risks Veto Due To Price Rider

Roosevelt Opposed to Tydings Provision, Fears Higher Costs.

President Roosevelt boarded a train for Hyde Park last night, leaving behind an unsigned $9,000,000 District tax bill and a lot of speculation as to what he finally will do with it.

At the White House, it was explained that the tax bill was going the rounds of the Budget Bureau, the Attorney General's office and the District Building. This is usually done before the President signs or declines to sign an important local measure.

Were the bill limited to local tax items there would be no question of President Roosevelt signing, but it bears a controversial appendix—the Miller-Tydings "price maintenance" rider.

Celler Urges Veto.

Representative Emmanuel Celler (Democrat), of New York, sent the President a telegram yesterday urging him to veto the bill because of the rider. Under this rider, he said, millions of Americans will have to pay highly increased prices for clothing and food.

President Roosevelt, early in the session, urged defeat of the legislation, saying it would increase the cost of living. Since then it has been amended, but apparently not to the extent the President would desire.

The Tydings rider would affect 42 States, but not the District of Columbia. These 42 States have laws aimed at the practice whereby chain stores and other establishments sell an article below cost to attract customers. The States permit a manufacturer to enter into an agreement with a retailer not to sell an article below cost. The Tydings rider would permit such agreements on an interstate basis.

Kennedy Confident.

Yesterday Representative Dirksen (Republican), of Illinois, introduced a bill which would give the District of Columbia a "price maintenance" law such as those in the 42 States.

Representative Ambrose Kennedy (Democrat), of Maryland, who headed the District sub-committee which drafted the local tax bill, talked to President Roosevelt yesterday and asked to be consulted if the bill is to be vetoed because of anything in it aside from the Tydings rider.

Kennedy said he was confident that the President would sign the bill despite the rider.

If he does veto it, Kennedy said, the bill would be introduced again minus the rider, and an attempt made to rush it through both House and Senate.

Robbers' Toll in D. C. Shows Decline to $872

Robberies totaling only $872, considerably less than previous daily totals, were reported to the police yesterday. The cases were minor housebreakings and robberies.

The most valuable loot was taken from a car parked in front of 2150 Florida avenue northwest, where thieves stole $175 worth of instruments belonging to the Potomac Electric Power Co. The car was owned by Richard M. Green, of the Florida avenue address. Copper tubing, valued at $144, was taken from the American Radiator Co. store at Fourth atnd Channing streets northeast. The rear window was broken, William F. Gifford, manager, said.

Thimble Shoal Dredging Will Start Next Spring

Dredging of Thimble Shoal Channel, in Chesapeake Bay, for which $100,000 was alloted last week, will begin in the spring of 1938, the War Department announced yesterday.

Dredging work, the department explained, is carried on as needed, and will not be required at Thimble Shoal Channel before next year.

TROUSERS
TO MATCH YOUR ODD COATS
EISEMAN'S, 7TH & F

Tugboat Asked to 'Tip Hat' To Prevent Opening Bridge

Hinged Smokestack Would Eliminate Delay at Memorial but It Wouldn't Go Under Highway Span Even Then.

The seagoing tugboat Albemarle, out of Norfolk, which has been causing 3,500 motorists daily to halt on the Memorial and Highway bridges as she passed beneath the draws of the spans on her 18 trips up and down the river, may formally "tip her hat" to the bridges now.

The District Engineer Office yesterday announced that the Bishop Dredging Co., which operates the ship, had been asked to have her extra-tall mast hinged, so that the opening of the draw on Memorial Bridge no longer will be necessary.

Highway Bridge and the railroad span will continue to open 18 times a day to permit passage of the ship—for even with her hinged mast, the Albemarle cannot pass under these two bridges.

Yesterday's action was merely a suggestion to the Bishop Co., for it cannot force a transient vessel to comply with smokestack regulations.

William G. Hurdle Sought, His Baby Critically Ill Here

The cries of 10-month-old James Hurdle, critically ill in Gallinger Hospital, last night sent police searching for the child's father, William Gordon Hurdle, 30, who disappeared Tuesday from his home, 3723 M street northwest.

While the baby's mother, Mrs. Nellie Hurdle, kept watch at the hospital, police checked the possibility that Hurdle had gone on a fishing trip near Hagerstown, Md.

Report of his disappearance came from Hurdle's mother, Mrs. Lula Neidfeldt, 3606 O street northwest.

Hurdle left home before the child was taken to the hospital with tonsilitis.

President Visits Hyde Park Home

President Roosevelt left the Capital last night on a special train at 11:01 p. m. (Eastern standard time), for Hyde Park, N. Y., for a brief rest over the week-end.

He probably will return to Washington Monday morning.

Although he is expected to put in most of his time at Hyde Park inspecting his own forestry project, he arranged to have a secretary and two stenographers accompany him.

The Chief Executive saw only a few callers, but set aside two hours yesterday afternoon for a Cabinet meeting.

SEA FOOD
ALWAYS FRESH—NEVER FROZEN
Olmsted Grill
1336 G St. N.W.

D. C. Photographer Missing in Mexico; Foul Play Feared

Mexico City, Aug. 6 (AP).—Mexico City police telegraphed authorities of Puebla and Veracruz state towns today in quest of news of Louis Marden, Washington (D. C.) photographer.

The family of Samuel Revilla, a Mexican, who accompanied Marden as a guide, said they had received no word since the two left Perote, in Veracruz, two weeks ago.

Marden was reported to have come to Mexico three months ago to take photographs for the National Geographic Magazine.

Revilla's family expressed fears the American might have been waylaid by bandits.

Woman Reports $460 Snatched by Motorist

Marie Tucker, of 1901 Wyoming avenue northwest, reported to police last night that a pocketbook containing $400 in bills and $60 in travelers' checks was snatched from her hands as she was walking in the 2300 block of Twentieth street northwest. She said that the thief escaped in a large sedan.

LUMBER
For Any Repair Job
We will cut and rip your lumber to your wanted sizes at no extra cost. Get our prices on lumber in any size order. Promptly delivered at no extra cost. Complete stock of Paints, Hardware, Sand, Gravel, Cement, etc.
Phone or come in
J. FRANK KELLY INC.
Lumber and Millwork
2121 Georgia Ave.
North 1341

Motorists Warned Of Tire Salesmen

District motorists were warned by the American Automobile Association yesterday against tire salesmen who are "attempting to high-pressure their sales" by falsely claiming to represent the A. A. A. and office of Director of Traffic.

These salesmen, it was reported, are visiting Washington motorists and offering purported official notification that the prospect's tires are dangerously worn and should be replaced. "These salesmen," said the A. A. A., "have absolutely no connection with this organization nor the District government and their statements have no official backing."

The Department of Vehicles and Traffic supported the warning.

WANTED
YOUR OLD AUTO RADIO TO TRADE IN ON A NEW 1937 MOTOROLA AUTO RADIO
We'll pay you the maximum price for your auto radio, no matter what condition it is in, when you buy a new 1937 MOTOROLA AUTO RADIO. We have a great demand for used models—that's why we offer such great trade-in allowances. ACT NOW and save!
MANHATTAN AUTO RADIO CO.
1706 7th St. N.W.

D. C. Heads Blamed For Traffic Death

Vanished Hero Dog Found, Sent Home

Laddie, hero dog who disappeared last Wednesday after he slipped from the running board of the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duchaine is back home again.

Last night he happily consumed a quart of milk and a pound of raw liver, then wagged his tail and nuzzled up to the two Duchaine children, to whom he had been a constant protector.

A kindly motorist found Laddie near Fort Lincoln Cemetery yesterday. Evidently the 10-year-old police dog was on his way home.

When fire broke out in the Duchaine home at 1249 Ecarts street northeast, in 1931, Laddie awakened the family, who fled to safety.

Neighbors of Levy Boy May Seek Indictment of Officials.

Refusal to Institute the Parking Ban Caused Tragedy, Claim.

By Howard F. Wentworth.

Residents in the 2900 block Twenty-eighth street northwest threatened last night to seek indictment of the District Commissioners and Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer for the death of 4-year-old Richard Levy, killed Tuesday when struck by an auto in front of his home.

More than a year ago the community petitioned Van Duzer for removal of parking along the narrow, congested thoroughfare. He refused the request on grounds of "public convenience," contending parking spaces in the neighborhood "were at a premium."

Yesterday, aroused by the Levy tragedy, citizens of the block threatened to circulate a new petition through the neighborhood calling for grand jury action against city officials who overruled the parking ban. The Levy child was killed when he ran into the street from between two parked cars. Had the streets been free of parking, residents feel, the accident would not have occurred.

Warns Traffic Official.

An unidentified member of the community visited the Department of Vehicles and Traffic yesterday to warn Acting Traffic Director M. O. Eldridge of the impending action. And again traffic officials were asked to eliminate Twenty-eighth street parking from Cathedral avenue to Cortland place.

Frank Levy, father of the dead boy—one of twin brother and sister—promised his fight to safeguard the street was not over. Nearly 20 children—all under 10—live in the block, he said.

Although he was not aware of threats to seek indictment of the Commissioners and Van Duzer, Levy agreed "someone was at fault."

Robert J. Saunders, 28, of Broad Branch and Grant roads northwest, driver of the car which struck the Levy boy, was exonerated by a coroner's jury. It was pointed out, however, that he could probably have avoided the accident had not his vision been obscured by parked automobiles.

Old Rulings to Stand.

Levy said he realized the dangers of permitting youngsters to play along a traffic-snarled street and repeatedly had warned Richard of the hazards. His four children, Levy added, attended a day-school camp from early morning until late evening. Richard was killed after returning home from the camp. The Levys live at 2929 Twenty-eighth street.

Acting Traffic Director Eldridge indicated yesterday previous rulings on the requested parking prohibition would stand.

Meanwhile, Inspector L. I. H. Edwards, acting superintendent of police, yesterday issued an appeal for "wholehearted public support" of current efforts to stem the rising accident toll.

Capt. Milton D. Smith, commander of the police traffic division, ordered his men to give special attention to careless pedestrians.

Plan Reported To Reorganize Fidelity Bank

First Federal May Revive Closed Loan Institution, Conferees Hint.

Either the First Federal Savings & Loan Association or a similar organization will attempt to reorganize the closed Fidelity Building & Loan Association, it was reliably reported yesterday.

The step was taken following a meeting between shareholders of the institution and officials of the Treasury and of the Federal Home Loan Board.

Although all persons attending the meeting agreed that no details of the conference would be divulged, the impression was conveyed by one who attended that "definite reorganization steps" would be taken early next week.

The conference, held in the office of the Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, Gibbs Lyons, lasted an hour.

The comptroller was represented by Lyons, G. B. Barse, L. A. Kelly, counsel; James H. Nolan, receiver of Fidelity, and John C. Mackall, his attorney; the Federal Home Loan Bank was represented by Horace Russell, general counsel, and Arthur J. Younger, chief of the savings and loan division; the First Federal was represented by its president, Harry P. Somerville, manager of the Willard Hotel, and Walter M. Bastian, counsel. Representing the depositors were Mrs. Marc C. Bullis, chairman of her committee, and Desire A. Irr.

One other important shareholders' committee, headed by George A. Sullivan, contractor, was not represented. Sullivan, whose group of five was appointed at a meeting of shareholders last Monday, has been at the forefront in attempts to reorganize the Fidelity and prevent liquidation.

Rites to Be Held Today For Mrs. Annie S. Price

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie S. Price, mother of J. L. Price, real estate dealer in Arlington County, Va., will be held this afternoon at 3 p. m. at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Alexandria. Burial will be in the Ivy Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Price, who had been ill for several months, died Tuesday in the Jackson Memorial Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla. She is survived by her son, J. L. Price, and two daughters, Mrs. Olive L. Hartman and Mrs. Lutie Zverina.

Gas Workers to Meet.

Members of the Washington Gas and By-product Workers' Union will meet at the Y. M. C. A., 1816 Twelfth street northwest, at 8 p. m. Monday to hear George B. Murphy, editor of the Afro-American, Howard Woodson, labor leader, and Dr. Kelly Miller, dean emeritus of Howard University.

21 Street Cars Are Sold for Junk

Twenty-one street cars yesterday were sold for junk by the Capital Transit Co., according to word received at the Public Utilities Commission. The cars originally cost $104,000. They sold for $3,300.

The company still has 31 street cars of similar age, bought between 1907 and 1909, which it intends to sell for scrap this fall. When its new fleet of 45 streamlined cars goes into service. The company has also retired and sold for scrapping 22 of the old-type open cars.

Md. Hold-Up Nets $600.

Baltimore, Aug. 6 (AP).—A single hold-up man robbed Norman Goldstein of a $600 payroll for the workers of a poster printing company today. The man stopped him in the lobby of the office and took the money from Goldstein, president of the company.

EMBASSY DAIRY
Embassy MILK
THERE is no finer drinking milk—no better food for growing child or adult than our noticeably richer "GOLDEN JERSEY" Milk of superb flavor and nutriment. Perfectly pasteurized and hood-sealed. Contains over 5% butter-fat. TRY it for one week and we'll wager you will never change to any other kind. Ask the Embassy routeman, write us, or
Phone ATlantic 0070
Full line of other fine dairy products delivered to city and suburban homes.
EMBASSY DAIRY
A UNION DAIRY
100% INDEPENDENT

Balanced Bill Engages Crowd At the Earle

Well-Cast Picture Shares Honors With an Ace Stage Show.

"SAN QUENTIN." Warner Brothers picturization of a story by Robert Tasker and John Bright, adapted to the screen by Peter Milne and Humphrey Cobb, featuring Pat O'Brien, Humphrey Bogart and Ann Sheridan, with Barton MacLane, Joseph Sawyer, Veda Ann Borg, Joseph King, William Pawley, James Robbins and Gordon Oliver. Directed by Lloyd Bacon. Reviewed Friday afternoon by Maris Harris at the Earle.

That imaginative term, "balanced entertainment," currently enters the field of reality at the Earle Theater. "San Quentin," on the screen, and a brightly varied stage show tie for honors, though they are refreshingly contrasted in spirit.

In "San Quentin" you have crime drama, hot, heavy and startling. Letting down the tensity comes a stage show, sparkling and swing-y, with Mal Hallett and his orchestra plus entertainers providing most of the carbonation.

Chief assets of "San Quentin" are Humphrey Bogart and Pat O'Brien, with Bogart providing one of his typically astute characterizations, done with such perfect skill that it hardly seems acting. Equally skillful in a different metier is the O'Brien interpretation. The difference in the work of these star actors, equally featured, is that Bogart leaves you with the feeling of having seen a human being, real as one of the boys that stand on the corner, while O'Brien impresses as a handsome actor with an excellent delivery. It is the difference between integral acting that springs from a deep understanding of character and acting based on a thorough technique of showmanship.

Direction Is Expert.

Lloyd Bacon's direction gives significance to a conventional story. Essentially "San Quentin" merely concerns a bad boy (Bogart) who has graduated from reform school and a post-graduate jail term to a stretch in the pen. He has a sister who sings in a night club and who attracts the idealistic San Quentin captain (O'Brien) who tries to help the boy, only to be confronted with human ingratitude in the form of a jail break.

On this tenuous thread Director Bacon has strung a series of "fat" dramatic incidents and realistic character studies. The prologue states that no penitentiary or actual convict has been photographed, thus adding to Director Bacon's credit for assembling quantities of such tough-looking citizens. Another masterpiece of direction is the jail delivery and chase—brutal, thrilling and terse.

Jumping to a different angle, Director Bacon deserves a sapphire-studded star for honesty and realism in departing from Hollywoodism in interior decoration. "San Quentin" is an expensive picture, so there was no question of money, but Mr. Bacon resisted the temptation to make his night club a composite of the "Ziegfeld Follies" and the Chicago Exposition. It's just a little old night club like 99 per cent of the actual ones. Nor did he put his night club singer in a pent house or a duplex.

Ann Is Pleasing.

Ann Sheridan is pleasing and attractive, but hardly important, as the night-club singer, sister of the convict and sweetheart of the penitentiary executive. Barton MacLane appears well in an unpleasant role.

But next in importance to Bogart and O'Brien is Joseph Sawyer, the hatchet-faced young gentleman who plys "Sailor" Meyer, the regular in-and-outer at the pen. He is a good bad actor and a tough spalpeen and we should see more of him.

Mal Hallett, despite his polished personality, is a real professor of swing, and swing swung up with humor. Each of his numbers adds playfulness to burning rhythm, with "Hula-Doo" standing as the prime example of the Hallett manner.

A flock of swell specialty performers contribute to the Hallett sparkle. Jerry Perkin, in spite of his name, is a glamorous lad and couldn't sing enough encores. Easily next comes Joe Cabanaro, who weighs 300 pounds avoirdupois and a long ton in amusement value. Teddy Grace, who resembles Helen Hayes, sings charmingly. Frances and Carroll present an amazing dance novelty.

Don Cummings, comical, long-legged and Irish, is equally adept in rope spinning and dialogue. The Titan Trio, scantily clad but too handsome, evoked continuous bursts of applause by athletic feats both original and practically impossible.

Edgar Kennedy in "Tramp Trouble" and a sharp newsreel complete a show that is triple-proof.

Columbia

"Easy Living," that ebullient comedy of a multi-millionaire and an office girl, who liked $58,000 sable coats—mirabile dictu!—yesterday moved its riotous action and explosive fun onto the screen of Loew's Columbia Theater to perpetuate the contagious humor it first intrdouced to downtown Washington at the Palace.

This is pure farce, played at a tempestuous tempo and involving a group of more than ordinarily interesting and amusing people—the two already mentioned, the millionaire's son, J. B. Bull, jr., Mrs. Bull, Louis, the hysterical hotel proprietor; a newspaper columnist, two shaggy sheep dogs and a host of lesser participants in events that are as breezy as they are unbelievable.

Never letting down from the high velocity of its opening scenes, "Easy Living" rather, progresses to the tune of constantly mounting hilarity. It is produced with an opulence that provides an appropriate background for the very rich and the very poor, with whom it specifically deals.

Edward Arnold—impersonating a character not in the least like his role in "The Toast of New York"—and Jean Arthur are the central pivots in this whirlwind of ridiculous events, supported by Ray Milland, who here does probably his best work for the cameras; Mary Nash, as Mrs. Bull; Luis Alberni, William Demarest and a long list of others whose talents are nicely galted to this cyclonic sort of thing.

One surmises that owing to the simultaneous engagement of Jean Harlow and Clark Gable in "Saratoga"—Miss Harlow's last picture—at the Capitol, "Easy Living" was a little slighted during its Palace week. Judicious show-shoppers now should hasten to the Columbia to enjoy one of the sprightliest comedies of this or any other season.

Nelson B. Bell About The Show Shops

'Topper', on Capitol Screen, Stresses Need of Cultivating One's Ectoplasm

Novel Comedy Utilizes Odd Theme in Pyramiding Hysterical Laughs.

"TOPPER." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of a story by Thorne Smith, adapted to the screen by Jack Jevne, Eric Hatch and Eddie Moran, featuring Roland Young, Cary Grant and Constance Bennett, with Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Eugene Pallette, Arthur Lake, Hedda Hopper, Virginia Sale, Theodore von Eltz, J. Farrell MacDonald and Elaine Shepherd. Directed by Norman Z. McLeod. Previewed at trade showing. At Loew's Capitol Theater.

If one ever felt the need of "getting out of himself," this unique comedy could be confidently relied upon to provide a perfect pattern of how to go about it.

BELL.

It seems that all that is necessary is to crash a large and high-powered motor car into a Long Island tree of long standing. This ordinarily results fatally. Such is the case in the present instance, as a matter of fact, but at this particular spot on Long Island the ectoplasms of deceased playboys and their equally gay young wives have a way of detaching themselves—as all good ectoplasms do—from the mortal remains of those in whose souls they have lurked and assuming all of the attributes of living humans, plus the ability to disappear, or materialize themselves, at will. For those with guilty consciences this is a very pious idea, indeed.

And George Kerby and his wife, Marion, were burdened with consciences that were acutely aware of never having done a good deed in all their life-long days. It was to remedy this slight deficiency, and thus earn an increased chance of favor at the pearly gates, that George and Marion determined upon the complete reformation of the henpecked and quaint little Cosmo Topper, eminent banker, by inducting him into the crimson pleasures of the gayest of night life and an emancipation from his Victorian wife's stringent inhibitions.

The Living Dead.

If it is possible to imagine the eerie situations that may be evolved from the ministrations of two perfectly audible and totally invisible free spirits, roaming through the smart haunts of the very much alive, some notion of the fantastic and highly hilarious episodes revealed in "Topper" will have been apprehended.

The action of the farce does not hurl itself at once into the occult sphere of the quick and the dead, but is initiated by some of the prankish adventures of Mr. and Mrs. Kerby in their defiance of all the conventions and most of society's effective legal statutes. George makes a joke of Topper's directors' meeting, where financial reports run into the dizzying figures of the billions, while Marion sleeps comfortably in the swanky roadster parked in front of the bank next to a fire plug. And that's the way it goes, up to the time of the pseudo-fatal crash. After that it gets much crazier.

This infinite capacity of the Kerbys for disappearing at the wrong times involves poor little Topper in a police court scandal—which incidentally boosts his wife's stock immeasurably among the rich wastrels who never would give her a tumble until it came out that her husband was "regular"—brings consternation and havoc to a swagger hotel, baffles a house detective and the entire city police force and otherwise pretty thoroughly disrupts the normal processes of rational living.

The idea of disembodied spirits rambling through the world is a comparatively new and novel one for feature comedies on the screen. It is prolific in unexpected situations and startling climaxes and an altogether refreshing relief from the stereotyped formula of polite, drawing-room farce.

Cast Meets Heavy Demand.

Considering the unusual demands laid upon its principals, "Topper" is especially well played by a group of artists who understand the necessity of taking seriously incidents in the story at which the audience howls. Rowland Young is perfectly cast in the Caspar Milquetoast title role and Cary Grant and Constance Bennett are no less effective as the roaming ectoplasms who revolutionize the Topper home life. Miss Bennett, particularly, enters wholly into the spirit of the ghostly charade and turns in one of her most impertinent performances.

In lesser roles, Billie Burke, as the exacting wife, and Alan Mowbray, as the Topper butler, are unusually well found. In still lesser roles, Eugene Pallette, the house detective; Arthur Lake, a nonplussed and thoroughly scared bellhop and elevator boy, and Theodore von Eltz, the holtel manager, contribute nobly to the insanity of the grotesque goings-on.

"Topper" has been staged, photographed and directed, under the productional eye of Hal Roach, with all the painstaking care and artistic finesses of a bona fide Grade A picture. The photographic trickery is tremendously provocative in its utilization of the same sort of deception as characterized "The Invisible Man," in its manipulation of inanimate objects that bounce all over the place seemingly without human propulsion. How they do it is something else again.

Stage Bill Is Brief.

The stage bill at the Capitol headlines Gus Arnheim and his orchestra in a variegated program that introduces Ray Foster and June Robbins as vocalists and an instrumental quartet of bass viol, orchestra bells, clarinet and guitar as a potent "swing" combination. The act scored decisively yesterday afternoon, although it seemed to these eyes and ears to be "just another band."

Don Francisco, on the slack wire, and Charles (Slim) Timblin, with his familiar colored preacher bit—always sure-fire — complete the vaudeville program.

The Fox Movietone News and Phil Lampkin's orchestral interludes further agument a feature that opens the way to escape from a number of things.

Is Victorian Wife in Gay Farce

That charmingly ingenuous actress, Billie Burke, whose service in the theater has been long and distinguished, provides most of the motivation for the bizarre developments unfolded on the screen at Loew's Capitol Theater this week in "Topper." She is cast as the "old school" wife of the rich, but meek, little banker, whose career is taken in hand by the ectoplasms of a deceased gay young dog and his equally unconventional wife. These roles are played, respectively, by Roland Young, Cary Grant and Constance Bennett.

In Hollywood

With JIMMY FIDLER

Hollywood, Aug. 6.

Making the rounds of the studios today, I visited three sets, talked with three high-salaried stars, and heard each one beef about some "terrible hardship" imposed by his or her career. One moaned because he has to go on a summer location trip to the desert; another groaned because he had been ordered to put in an appearance at a studio party; the third wailed to high heaven because she had had to work all morning in a rain scene and got sopping wet. And the more I reflected upon their complaints, the more disgusted I became.

WALLACE BERRY

Their salaries, at a rough guess, average not less than $2,500 a week. They work perhaps 30 weeks out of the year and spend the other 22 on their pet pleasures, traveling wherever their fancies dictate and doing whatever they want to do. They live in palatial homes, wear the best of clothes and eat the finest foods. And to earn all that, they fill jobs that most people would consider play. I wonder what the miner who grubs in the desert heat all summer for $4 a day thinks about a man who wails at the prospect of a week in an air-cooled desert hotel at 100 times his salary.

There must be something in the air of Hollywood that drives people insane. Most of our Great Ones came here as poor as Job's turkey, and yet, in too many instances, a year of success is enough to turn a sane individual into a pampered idiot. If any star finds it impossible to remember how hard most people have to grub for the bare necessities of life, he ought to hire a professional reminder to keep him from displaying his forgetfulness.

This morning at RKO, I overheard a production crew busily putting Katharine Hepburn on the pan. One man after another told anecdotes about her "unfriendly" attitude, and only the property man came rather dubiously to her defense. His story, I think, reveals the human side of a much discussed woman, so I am passing it on to you. One day last spring, when it was pouring rain, this chap walked across the lot when Katty's pet spaniel dashed out of her dressing room. The man stopped for a moment's romp and was surprised by the Hepburn, who barged out into the rain to find her pooch lying on his back in a puddle, waving his feet in the air in ecstatic appreciation of a stomach-tickling. "I thought sure she'd bawl me out right," said the property man. "Instead, she smiled, and said I must be a dog's idea of an interesting person and stood there bare-headed in the rain, talking, for a full 15 minutes."

The other day I was set-visiting with Joan Crawford when she suddenly spied a rubber band on the floor of her dressing room, picked it up and carefully put it away in her make-up case. And with that as a starter I have been checking up on the odd "economies" of other celebrities. Wally Beery confesses that he has every razor blade he ever used; Patsy Kelly is a string-saver; Nelson Eddy has enough half-inch pencil stubs to equip an army; Jeanette MacDonald can't pass up a loose paper clip; Bill Powell always preserves the tin foil from his cigarettes. Just what do you save?

RKO has under contract a youngster named Gordon James, who has been working in a succession of "B" pictures. I cannot vouch for his acting ability, but I'm willing to gamble on his common sense. At lunch today, I heard one of those "reds" who infest every studio telling James he ought to stage a rebellion against being shunted off into cheap pictures. "Put up a fight—show 'em you can't be kicked around!" he argued. "Listen," the James boy retorted. "Do you know what most of the fellows who graduated from college with me a year ago are doing? And which do you think I'd rather do—squirt gasoline for $30 a week or make "B" pictures for $250 every Wednesday?"

Metropolitan

While the title, "Ever Since Eve," might be used to describe the vintage of the plot, this new Marion Davies vehicle does not creak overly much. Which is due for the most part to the activities of reliable comedians Fazenda, Jenkins, Kelly, et al.

Having to do with the job-seeking, job-holding, ups and downs of a too beautiful young stenographer, the tale pursues the career of the cocktail-imbibing author, for whom she eventually works a comparatively long time. She accomplishes this feat of longevity on the job by covering her glorious blond curls with an unbecoming wig, dimming the luster of her cornflower blue eyes with hideous glasses.

Robert Montgomery seems surprised to find himself the hero of the piece. He has little to do that he has not often done before. "Night Must Fall" though—in "Ever Since Eve" it has. Maybe he will get another break anon.

Miss Davies' moues and mannerisms are probably familiar to you but perhaps the comfortably homely face of Patsy Kelly will see you through. Allegedly a comedy, "Ever Since Eve" often attains a semi-hilarious point. Innocuous, light, it is what is usually called "ideal hot weather entertainment."

Deserving of hosannahs is the Merrie Melody, "Sweet Sioux," which purports to show the origin of the Last of the Mohicians legend. Thoroughly insane, this sprightly colored cartoon contains a wild assortment of noble braves who stage a raid on a covered wagon with all the coherence of the Marxes and Ritzes in a spelling bee.

Sybil Jason receives excellent color photography in a short called "Little Pioneer," which is something about the English in South Africa. A handsome young man bursts out singing occasionally.

The newsreel contains Henry Ford celebrating his seventy-fourth birthday, a lion on an aquaplane, society at Newport and striking truck drivers.

Film Table

RKO-Keith's—"Toast of New York," at 11:25 a. m., 1:25, 3:25, 5:25, 7:25 and 9:25 p. m.

Earle—"San Quentin," at 11 a. m., 1:35,, 4:25, 7:15 and 10:05 p. m. Stage shows at 12:40, 3:30, 6:20 and 9:10 p. m.

Loew's Capitol—"Topper," at 11 a. m., 1:40, 4:25, 7:05 and 9:45 p. m. Stage shows at 12:45, 3:30, 6:10 and 8:55 p. m.

Palace—"The Good Earth," at 11 a. m., 1:35, 4:10, 6:45 and 9:30 p. m.

Trans-Lux—Newsreel and Shorts, at 10 and 11:15 a. m., 12:30, 1:45, 3, 4:15, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15 and 10:45 p. m.

Columbia—"Easy Living," at 11:45 a. m., 1:45, 3:45, 5:45, 7:45 and 9:45 p. m.

Rialto—"Dreaming Lips," at 12 noon, 1:55, 3:50, 5:53, 7:53 and 9:53 p. m.

Metropolitan—"Ever Since Eve," at 11:20 a. m., 1:20, 3:25, 5:30, 7:35 and 9:40 p. m.

Little Theater—"Maedchen in Uniform," at 11:17 a. m., 1:02, 2:47, 4:33, 6:19, 8:04 and 9:50 p. m.

Tivoli—"Super Sleuth," at 1:55, 4, 6:05; 7:55 and 9:45 p. m.

Ambassador—"Between Two Women," at 1, 3:20, 5:35, 7:35 and 9:35 p. m.

Uptown—"Way Out West," at 2:05, 4:15, 6:15, 8:05 and 9:50 p. m.

'Good Earth' Again Reveals Power of Epic

Screen Version of Novel Offered at Palace at Popular Prices.

"THE GOOD EARTH." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of the novel by Pearl S. Buck, adapted to the screen by Talbot Jennings, Tess Slesinger and Claudine West, starring Paul Muni and Luise Rainer, supported by Walter Connolly, Charles Grapewin, Tilly Losch and Jessie Ralph. Directed by Sidney Franklin. Reviewed Friday evening by Dorothea Lewis.

This is one of the few epic pictures which really epics and it is also warm and living because it tells the story of two people as well as the story of all the people of China.

It is a picture to make you respect and admire the motion-picture industry because it is so obviously something fine and something which only the motion picture could do as it should be done.

The stage tried it but was licked before it started. Its business is the business of suggestion and condensation and it could not get the sweep and pulse of Mrs. Buck's great book within its three walls for all the artistry of Nazimova and Claude Rains, who essayed the leading roles. You can't put China into the National Theater, but Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has put it on the screens of every motion-picture house of every little and big town in the country. It is an achievement to be proud of and a particularly fitting tribute to the late Irving Thalberg, to whose memory it is dedicated.

Tells Double Story.

The story is a double one—first the story of China, the vast country which does not have room for its teeming thousands, and second the personal story of the farmer Wang and O-Lan, his wife, very little people, who try desperately to hold on to their bare corner of the land. Both stories are brilliantly told.

The personal story is beautifully played by Paul Muni and Luise Rainer. Miss Rainer has never done, and may never do, a better piece of work. With very few lines to speak, she succeeds in speaking with her eyes, her body, and her silence until every thought of O-Lan's is revealed.

Paul Muni's performance has been criticized for being too expressive, too Occidental for an Oriental character, but we don't agree. The great merit of Mrs. Buck's book was that she brought China into kinship with our understanding—stripping away the usual masklike, nonexpressive formula universally applied to the Chinese—and showed us Wang, as alive, as eager as any of us. Certainly Muni is no more Western than the Wang of the book. We think his is a fine performance.

The supporting cast is uniformly excellent, though we couldn't quite lose sight of either Charles Grapewin or Walter Connolly in their roles.

Photography Is Superb.

The larger story of China with its revolts, plagues, and famines is told in unusually fine and effective photography. Scene after scene has the texture and clarity of a painting and yet this quality does not slow up the picture or make it seem static and episodic. The plague of locusts is, of course, amazing and tremendously exciting, and the robbing and looting mobs are stirring, but the individual scenes of the leading characters have also been treated with this very fine and living photography.

Subsidiaries, including a hilarious Mickey Mouse cartoon, "Moose Hunters," and a short newsreel, are shown with the tremendously moving feature. You owe it to yourself and to the cinema to see it.

Trans-Lux

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Henry Ford, Joe DiMaggio, the new king of swat; Lou Gehrig, and the intensified invasion of China by the Japanese vie for position on the new Trans-Lux program. And from all available opinion the concensus favors the wife of China's military dictator, who appears to be doing wonders for the women of that war-torn land.

The news cameras certainly manage to flag the world's activities with "shots" that entice the eye, even to Stalin kissing the Russian polar fliers as they land back in Moscow, and Borglum, the sculptor, blasting out another ton of rock to complete his "mountain of faces."

For the sportsmen, the Trans-Lux warm weather part of the film menu is loaded with action and variety: The America Cup races, the Coast Guard races at Atlantic City, "Riding the Waves," a short subject covering everything from women canoeists to queen of the scull; feminine target experts, aquaplaning off Catalina Island.

To offset all this gaiety and diversion is a Pathe close-up of the "City of Baltimore" after the recent disaster that barely missed being a great tragedy and the strike situation in Philadelphia threatening to put the city on half rations.

Mickey Mouse doing a magic act is almost matched by some of the novelties in the news.

Of local interest, the Elks' outing for the District of Columbia orphans presents a Glen Echo holiday that even grown-ups would enjoy.

The travel subject, "Hindu Holiday," is enough to start the traveling notion stirring.

The Post's New Yorker

By LEONARD LYONS

New York, Aug. 6.

ROBERT IRWIN—On the day that you were brought back to New York and confessed to the Gedeon murders, the newspaper headlined the fact that Dr. Frederick Wertham, the psychiatrist who had been treating you, declared that you were legally sane. Dr. Wertham is denying that story now and will testify in your behalf!

• • • •

NANCY CARROLL—Your former husband, Jack Kirkland, who was given a sailing-away party when he took the ferry to Hoboken last week-end, is returning by ferry this week after completing the adaptation of John Steinbeck's "Tortilla Flats." He'll be met down the bay by a fleet of speedboats to welcome him home to Manhattan!

• • • •

LITERARY GUILD—Konrad Bercovici, now in Hollywood, is ailing seriously. The doctors are worried . . . George S. Kaufman—"Of Thee I Sing" will be presented at Jones Beach Stadium next week. The publicity releases describe that show as "the George Gershwin musical awarded the Pulitzer Prize the season of 1931-1932." As a matter of fact, the award committee cited everybody—except Gershwin . . . Ann Harding—your former husband, Producer Harry Bannister, lunched with Publicist Dave Green on Sixth avenue. In a playful mood they both applied for jobs at a Sixth avenue employment agency. The best they were offered were $40-a-month jobs—as dishwashers!

• • • •

GEN. FRANCO—A young American went to Spain recently to broadcast the fighting for Stations EAQL, EAK and PSOE there . . . He took uncensored movies of the havoc wrought by your men and then tried to smuggle those pictures into America. The trunk containing those unexpurgated movies is still at the Customs House. He received a letter from the officials there notifying him that he had violated the law by failing to declare one of the contents of that trunk—a jacket he had purchased in France!

• • • •

NEWSPAPER GUILD—A famous reporter covering the America's Cup races at Newport has been drunk for one week. He staggered into the Western Union offices there and shouted: "If you can't do better than the stuff under my by-line, I'll file through Postal!" . . . Frontier Films—Leo T. Horowitz, who will film your production of George Sklar's script, was an assistant cameraman in the production of "The Plow That Broke the Plains." That picture was copyrighted in the joint names of Pare Lorentz and the Resettlement Administration.

• • • •

POLICE COMMISSIONER VALENTINE—Members of the Vice Squad who raided the city's fancy bordellos always were surprised to find copies of the New York Times in those apartments. They never knew why. It's because that paper includes a listing of police transfers, an item of professional interest to the worried ladies . . . Advertising Club—A British advertising agency, Montague-Franks, is canvassing the American agencies to use testimonials from their clients for commercial products. A testimonal from a famous Britain costs $25-$50, authors $100, the nobility and debutants $100.

• • • •

WALTER O'KEEFE—Regarding that suit against you for $50,000—for using the title "The Rolling Stone" in the new Broderick-Moore picture you sold to R.K.O for $5,000—the records show that such a title has been used in 18 plays produced on Broadway, has been registered for 27 other plays and was the title of 77 books . . . H. B. Swope—Cross & Dunn open at Reilly's in Saratoga Monday.

• • • •

HOTELMEN'S ASSOCIATION—Max Kramer, owner of the Hotel Edison, gave his grandson a job this week—to lock out nonpaying guests. The first one he locked out was Max Kramer!

• • • •

DISTRICT ATTORNEY DODGE—You announced that you would prosecute the Irwin case yourself. But now that Tammany failed to name you for renomination, and the publicity won't help you, the report is that one of your aides will try that case . . . Stork Club, Chicago—Sherman Billingsley, owner of the Stork Club here, is bringing suit against you for using that name . . . Marc Connelly—You'd be amazed at the excellent job Sidney Fox is doing in your production of Arthur Kober's "Having Wonderful Time" . . . Ben Bernie—You felt complimented at being invited to act as toastmaster at the Turf-Writers Dinner in Saratoga. Did you know that acceptance means you'll have to buy ten tickets—at $10 each?

Mary Astor Experiences New Type of Torture for Her Art

Water Tanks, Wind Machines and a Tree Form Basis of Realistic Depiction of What One Suffers in a Violent Tropical Hurricane.

Mary Astor had just been spread-eagled, lashed to a tree as neatly and effectively as any mutinous sailor ever was bound to a mast.

Held helpless by the thongs, scarcely able to writhe, she was given an artistic beating. No cat-o'-nine-tails, wielded by burly boatswain, inflicted the punishment. Instead, two 12-cylinder wind machines swept blinding showers of stinging water directly into her face. The water was released in torrents from chute-like tanks not 20 feet from the tree to which she was lashed.

Freed at last from the thongs, she half fell out of the tree, was caught and set down on a floor ankle deep in muddy water. For a moment she was unable to stand alone, had to cling with one hand to a brawny prop man's arm, while with the other she fished cotton pads out of her ears.

"The old inquisitors passed up a good bet if they missed this form of torture," she gasped. "The way I feel now, I'd take burning at the stake."

All For Art.

It was, she was reminded, all for art. The punishment she had taken would provide millions of persons vicarious chills and thrills when they viewed the storm scenes of "The Hurricane."

"I could spare a few chills right now," Miss Astor chattered. "They forgot to heat that water. I must speak to the engineer."

She tottered to a chair, wrapped a woolen blanket about her, drenched gown and all.

"Haven't time for a change and a rub-down," she explained. "I've got to get up there again, Dorothy Lamour will be with me this time. And little Kuulei De Clercq. Game youngster, that Kuulei. She's only eight years old and she takes this like a veteran.

"About suffering for art," the actress continued, "that's bunk. We do it for the old weekly pay check. And I expect when people see these scenes on the screen they'll say: 'That isn't Dorothy Lamour and Mary Astor up there, they're doubles.'"

She shrugged and a trickle of water streamed from her tousled hair.

Acting Is Soft Job.

"I wouldn't blame them. I couldn't recognize myself if I looked in a mirror right now.

"To tell you the truth," she added, "it isn't as bad as it looks. And there is this about it. One doesn't mind so much taking a beating if it means something. A big picture and a strong role make up for a lot of punishment. If this were an 18-day quickie you couldn't haul me to that tree with a ship's cable. As it is, I'm more or less a willing lamb led to the slaughter. If there's enough of me left to make a target for the wind machines I'll be doing this sort of thing for another two weeks."

And some people still believe that acting in the movies is a soft job.

Film Pact.

Ernest Dryden, one of Hollywood's foremost fashion designers, has become affiliated with Major Pictures. Addition to Dryden to the Major wardrobe department gives the Paramount studio an exceptional array of stylists. Basia Bassett, the well-known stylist, will continue as head of the department.

'Ebb Tide.'

The second unit of Paramount's 'Ebb Tide" company has returned to Hollywood from Catalina island after cleaning up mob scenes and long shots under the direction of Assistant Director Hal Walker. Director James Hogan had brought his main unit back to the studio previously, after two weeks of location work in Catalina waters.

AMUSEMENTS

Loew's CAPITOL
Now . . . Get gay with . . . Constance BENNETT, Cary GRANT in "TOPPER" with ROLAND YOUNG, BILLIE BURKE
GUS ARNHEIM ORCHESTRA
ON THE STAGE TIMBLIN

Loew's PALACE
NOW The GOOD EARTH
PAUL MUNI LUISE RAINER
NOW AT POPULAR PRICES

Loew's COLUMBIA
NOW Jean ARTHUR Edw. ARNOLD-Ray MILLAND in "Easy Living"

Warner Bros. NOW EARLE
Pat O'BRIEN ☆ Humphrey BOGART in Warner Bros. Sensational "SAN QUENTIN" on the stage MAL HALLETT & ORCH.
Come Early 25c to 1:00n
Coming Friday - "MR. DODD TAKES THE AIR"

Warner Bros. METROPOLITAN
NOW MARION DAVIES • ROBERT MONTGOMERY
In Comedy Hit—Warner Bros. "EVER SINCE EVE"
MAT. 25c EVE. 35c & 40c

RKO KEITH'S
NOW "The TOAST of NEW YORK" STARRING CARY GRANT • FRANCES FARMER JACK OAKIE and EDWARD ARNOLD
Coming . . . BOBBY BREEN in "MAKE A WISH"

GLEN ECHO
9:30 A.M. TO 11:30 P.M.
FUN SWIMS DANCES RIDES
CABIN JOHN OR GLEN ECHO STREET CARS 40 MINUTES — OR MOTOR MASS. AVE. OR CONDUIT ROAD IN 20 MINUTES.

TODAY'S Neighborhood MOVIES
ARLINGTON, VA.
WILSON 1720 Wilson Blvd. Opp. Colonial Village. Bob Burns in "MOUNTAIN MUSIC."
ASHTON Clarendon, Va. Victor Moore in "MEET THE MISSUS."
CIRCLE Home of "Mirrophonic Sound" Penna. Ave. at 21st St. N.W. Laurel and Hardy "WAY OUT WEST." Gang Comedy.
DUMBARTON 1348 Wisconsin Ave. Bob Allen, Elaine Shepherd "LAW OF THE RANGER." Chapt. 3 "Vigilantes Are Coming." Also Comedy. CARRIER AIR-CONDITIONED
FAIRLAWN ANACOSTIA, D. C. Wendie Barrie and Ray Milland "WINGS OVER HONOLULU." Our Gang Comedy. Also "A Day With The Dionne Quintuplets." Mat. Only—Chapt. 4 "Secret Agent X-9."
SECO 8244 Ga. Ave., Silver Spring, Md. "OUTCASTS OF POKER FLATS." Preston Foster, Jean Muir. Also "FAIR WARNING." All-Star Cast. Final Chapter "Ace Drummond."
STATE-BETHESDA 6970 Wisc. Ave., Bethesda, Md. James Ellison "23½ HOURS LEAVE." Wm. Boyd "NORTH RIO GRANDE."
FALLS CHURCH, VA.
STATE NO PARKING WORRIES LEE Lew Ayers in "Last Train from Madrid." George O'Brien in "Hollywood Cowboy."
TAKOMA 4th and Butternut Sts. No Parking Troubles. Continuous from 1 P. M. Edw. G. Robinson "THUNDER IN THE CITY." Ray Milland. "WINGS OVER HONOLULU."
HIPPODROME N. Near 9th st. Today, Tomorrow. Spencer Tracy. "They Gave Him A Gun" Matinee—1 P. M.—Cont. to 11 P. M.
CAMEO MT. RAINIER, MD. Double Feature. Wm. Boyd in "Hills of Old Wyoming." Eric Linden in "Girl Loves Boy." Matinee—1 P. M.—Cont. to 11 P. M.
ARCADE HYATTSVILLE, MD. Double Feature. Fred Scott in "Melody of Plains." Arthur Treacher, "Step Lively Jeeves." Matinee—1 P. M.—Cont. to 11 P. M.
RICHMOND ALEXANDRIA, VA. Today. Richard Dix. "The Devil Is Driving."
REED ALEXANDRIA, VA. Alex. 3445 Today. Robert Montgomery, Marion Davies "EVER SINCE EVE." Free Parking Space—800 Cars. Air-Conditioned
MILO ROCKVILLE, MD. Double Feature. Brian Donlevy in "Midnight Taxi." Chas. Starrett in "Dodge City Trail." Matinee—1 P. M.—Cont. to 11 P. M. Air-Conditioned—Free Parking
JESSE THEATER 18th & Irving Sts. N.E. Double Feature. "THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR." Madge Evans, Henry Daniell. "BIG BUSINESS." Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane. Matinee at 1 P. M. Carrier Air-Conditioned
SYLVAN 1st and R. Ave N.W. Double Feature. "The Great Hospital Mystery." Sally Blane, Thomas Beck; "PARK AVENUE LOGGER." George O'Brien. Matinee at 1 P. M. Carrier Air-Conditioned
PALM THEATER DEL RAY, VA. Double Feature. "WINGS OVER HONOLULU." Ray Milland, Wendie Barrie. "HILLS OF OLD WYOMING." William Boyd. Matinee at 1 P. M.
NEWTON 12th and Newton Sts. N.E. "MARRIED BEFORE BREAKFAST." Robt. Young, Florence Rice. Special Added Attractions. Matinee at 1 P. M. Air-Conditioned
BERKEMEIER'S Direction Sidney Lust

AMUSEMENTS
A RIALTO AIR CONDITIONED
LAST DAY
Elisabeth BERGNER in "DREAMING LIPS" also FISH FROM HELL 30 MINUTES of THRILLS and ACTION
LITTLE Colesville
ENGLISH VERSION OF THE ORIGINAL "MAEDCHEN in UNIFORM"

AMUSEMENTS
A RIALTO AIR CONDITIONED
Starts Sunday
ANNABELLA and CONRAD VEIDT in "Under the Red Robe"
also 30 MINUTES of BEAUTY in COLOR
LEGONG Virgin Dance Of Bali
TRANS-LUX THEATRE 14th St. N.W.
NEWS, INDIA, SPORT MICKEY MOUSE
SPECIALLY SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS

AMUSEMENTS
SEASIDE
Chesapeake Beach • North Beach
by BUS $1 Round Trip
Return Same Day
Buses Leave 403 11th St. N.W. Every Day
On the Bay—One Hour Drive via Marlboro
PICNIC
At the SEASHORE
Mile Boardwalk and Pier
Fishing—Crabbing—Amusements
For Information, Call NAtional 0213
FREE PARKING
Salt Water POOL and BAY
Adults 40c
Children 15c
W. M. & A. MOTOR LINES, Inc.
PASSENGER AND FREIGHT SERVICE

Yankees Hit Feller, Who Fans 12, to Beat Tribe in Tenth, 7 to 6

TIGERS BELT 3 HURLERS, SWAMP NATIONALS, 10 TO 3

Sports | The Washington Post | Sports

* X WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1937 13

This Morning

Rudy York Finds Niche in Detroit Lineup.

By Shirley Povich.

Two-hundred-pound Rudy York, who has been tossed around by the Tigers like an old ball in infield practice, apparently has found his niche in the Detroit lineup, but he isn't sure.

Out there at Griffith Stadium yesterday, big Preston Rudolph York, who reported to the Tigers two years ago as an outfielder and was used at first base before they switched him to third, was equipped with mask and chest protector and doing a pretty good job of catching.

POVICH.

It was the third straight afternoon that he had been behind the bat for the Tigers and Manager Mickey Cochrane, who used to catch himself, was saying yesterday that he thought he had something in Catcher Preston Rudoph York, the biggest man who has been behind the bat in the American League in recent years.

• • • •

This catching business came as a great surprise to York, it seems. Down at the Tigers' farm in Beaumont, he had been the most valuable first baseman in the Texas League for two years handrunning and when the Tigers began to covet his hitting power Cochrane visioned an outfield berth for York.

• • • •

Certainly he couldn't play York at first base on account Hank Greenberg was doing a very good job there, so it was as an outfielder that York came into the American League. But he was no natural outfielder and Cochrane began to have an idea that he would go well at third base.

All York had to do to win a regular third basing job with the Tigers was to oust Marvin Owen, the best fielding third baseman in the league and he did not prove quite up to that and Mickey benched him.

• • • •

He used to pitch, though, he told Cochrane and some day when the Tigers needed a pitcher real bad he'd like to go in there and try his hand, he said.

• • • •

And so last week at Boston when his pitching staff folded sadly, Cochrane remembered about York. "Better start warming up, I may have to put you in there to pitch tomrrow," the Tigers' manager warned him. It was okay with Rudy and he slept that night in great anticipation of his new job.

• • • •

Cochrane used him that next afternoon. York was the Tigers' catcher—catching a big league game for the first time in his life.

Cochrane, who ought to know a catcher when he sees one, was effervescent in his praise of big York yesterday. He was using York despite the presence of three other catchers—the veterans Ray Hayworth and Cliff Bolton and the more or less sensational rookie, George Tebbetts.

• • • •

"That York will do, I think," Mickey was saying. "He has everything a catcher needs, he hasn't made a bad play yet and he can hit (Mickey was talking about those 15 home runs York had made this season in only 49 games with the club.)

• • • •

And how did York like the idea of catching, Mickey?

"Well, that's the rub," and Mickey smiled. "He doesn't like it. But he'll learn to like it, just like I did."

Don't tell me you never liked to catch, Mickey.

• • • •

"I hated it. There were a lot of other things I thought I could do better than catch. I thought I was a whale of a third baseman, in fact. But a lot of managers I had didn't think so. They said I could catch or else. Anyway, it was a meal ticket and a pretty good one. And that's what York will realize as soon as he settles down to catching. He'll learn to like it."

• • • •

Willynilly, York is now a catcher it seems and that recalls the entirely accidental debut of Moe Berg into the catching business, a job that he was won over to from the first day he donned the mask and protector.

Berg was a shortstop with the White Sox back in the late twenties and Manager Ray Schalk was doing most of the club's catching. But one day in Yankee Stadium, Schalk was hurt by a foul tip in the first inning. Two innings later, Harry McCurdy, the second-string catcher, was hurt, and the only remaining catcher on the team was sent into the lineup.

"We'll be in a heluva way if anything happens to him," moaned Schalk.

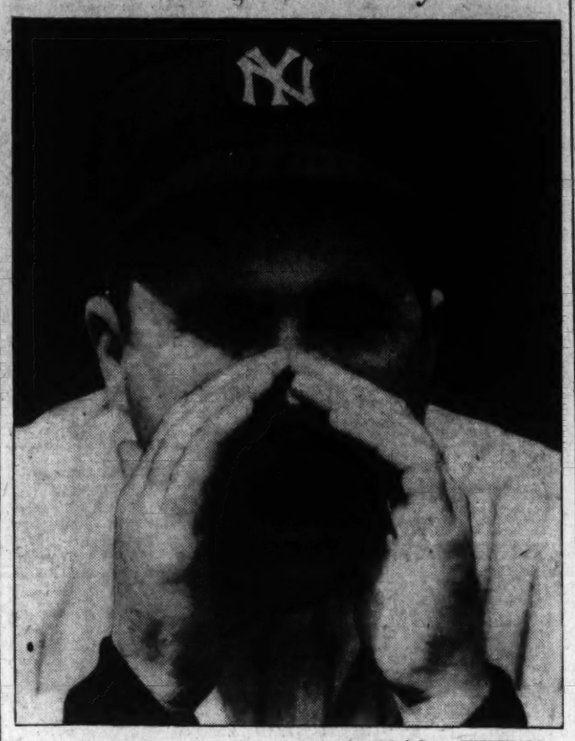
"What are you worrying about?" cracked Moe. "You've go' a great catcher sitting here on the bench."

Schalk apparently paid little attention to that, but the next inning, sure enough, his third catcher was hurt. "All right, Berg, go in there and catch. You asked for it."

• • • •

So Berg went behind the bat that day and has been a catcher ever since, but he didn't have the job in mind when he told Schalk the Sox had a great catcher on the bench. He wasn't talking about himself, but about First Baseman Earl Sheely, who had been a regular catcher in the Coast League.

Homers Make Joe McCarthy Hoarse



Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Home runs by his Yankees bring shouts from Manager Joe McCarthy and the frequency with which his lads are blasting them should make Joe plenty hoarse. The camera caught McCarthy in a shouting mood during yesterday's game when the Yankees again whipped the Cleveland Indians, 7-6, in ten innings.

Yanks Score Two in 10th To Win, 7-6

DiMaggio's Double Tops Cleveland; Feller Is Bombarded.

By the Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 6.—Joe DiMaggio's double with two out in the tenth inning drove in the tying and winning runs today to give the Yankees a 7-to-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians after Hal Trosky's second homer of the game in the first half of the tenth had put the the tribe and pitcher Bob Feller ahead. Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-sixth homer in the ninth to tie the score.

Feller, although he was not charged with the defeat, permitted the Yanks to come from behind a 5-2 count in the ninth to tie the score, when Don Hefner pinch-singled, Red Rolfe tripled and Gehrig belted his homer.

The victory maintained the Yankees nine-game lead on the American League pack.

The losing pitcher was young Johnny Heving, who was tagged for singles by Meril Hoag and Jack Saltzgaver in the tenth, before DiMaggio drove out his winning hit.

Feller allowed nine hits in the nine innings he worked, fanned 12 batters and walked ten others.

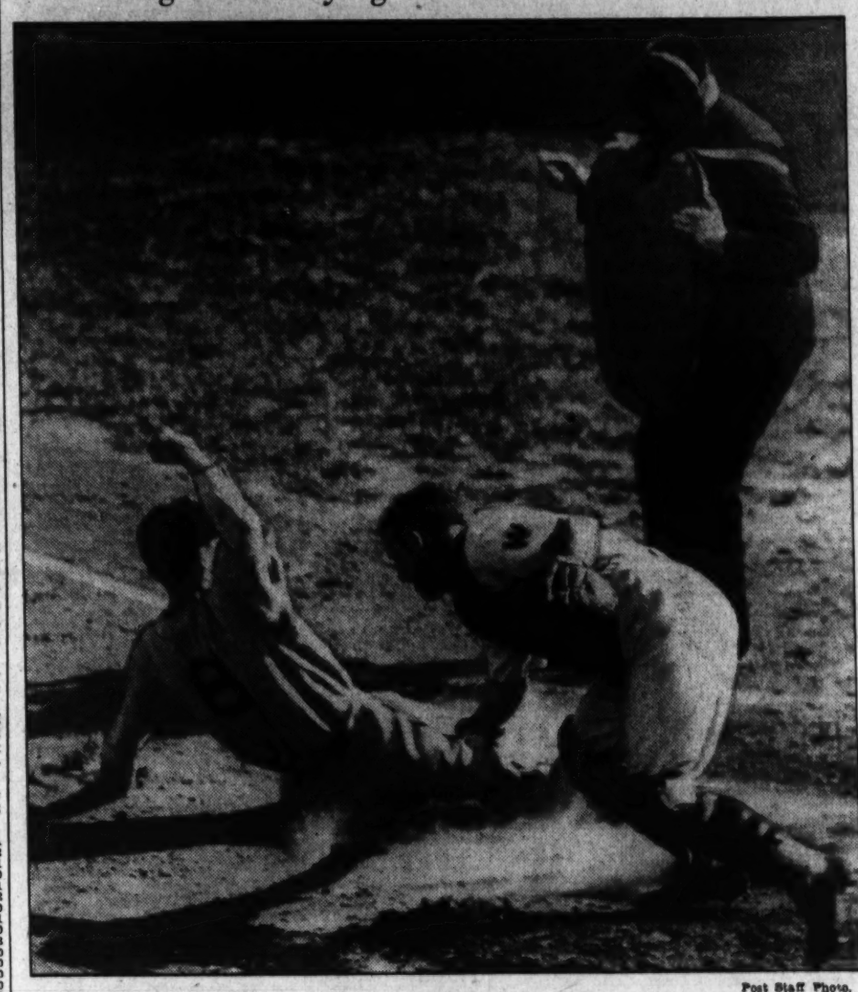
Cleveland	AB	H	O	A	New York.	AB	H	O	A
Lary,ss...	4	1	2	3	Crosetti,ss.	4	1	2	2
Kroner,2b.	5	0	6	2	Rolfe,3b...	6	1	1	1
Averill,cf.	5	2	0	1	DiM'gio,cf.	3	1	2	0
Trosky,1b	5	3	3	0	Gehrig,1b..	4	1	5	1
Solters,lf..	5	3	0	0	Dickey,c...	3	0	10	2
C'pbell,rf.	2	0	0	0	Henrich,rf.	2	0	2	0
W'herly,rf	1	0	0	0	Lazzeri,2b.	4	1	4	1
Hale,3b...	4	1	3	6	Hoag,lf...	5	3	3	0
Pytlak,c...	3	2	15	1	Hadley,p...	2	1	1	3
Feller,p...	4	0	0	1	†Ruffing..	1	0	0	0
Heving,p..	0	0	0	0	Malone,p..	0	0	0	0
					‡Heffner..	1	1	0	0
Totals..	38	12*	29	14	Murphy,p..	0	0	0	0
					§Jorgens..	0	0	0	0
					¶Ssaver.	1	1	0	0
					Totals..	36	11	30	10

*Two out when winning run scored.
†Batted for Hadley in sixth.
‡Batted for Malone in ninth.
§Batted for Murphy in tenth.
¶Batted for Jorgens in tenth.

Cleveland	0	0	0	1	0	3	0	1	0	1—6
New York	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	3	2	—7

Runs—Lary (2), Averill (2), Trosky (2), Crosetti, Rolfe, Gehrig, Dickey, Lazzeri, Hoag, Saltzgaver. Runs batted in—Crosetti, Lazzeri, Kroner, Trosky (4), Solters, Rolfe, Gehrig (2), DiMaggio (2). Two-base hits—Lazzeri, DiMaggio. Three-base hits—Lary, Rolfe. Home runs—Trosky (2), Gehrig. Stolen bases—DiMaggio, Solters, Pytlak. Sacrifice—Crosetti. Double plays—Hadley to Crosetti to Gehrig, Averill to Lary to Hale, Pytlak to Lary, Crosetti to Lazzeri to Gehrig. Left on bases—New York, 12; Cleveland, 6. First base on balls—Off Feller, 10; off Hadley, 4. Struck out—By Feller, 12; by Hadley, 4; by Malone, 5; by Murphy, 1; by Heving, 1. Hits—Off Hadley, 5 in 6 innings; off Malone, 5 in 3 innings; off Murhy, 2 in 1 inning; off Feller, 9 in 9 innings (none out in tenth); off Heving, 2 in 2-3 inning. Hit by pitched ball—By Feller (Dickey). Winning pitcher—Murphy. Losing pitcher—Heving. Umpires—Johnston, Owens and Moriarty.

Tiger Star Trying to Make One End Meet



Post Staff Photo.

Marvin Owen, Tiger third baseman, makes a futile effort to reach home on Gerald Walker's fly in the second inning of yesterday's game, but Walter Millies was there with the ball. Detroit didn't need the run anyway, as the game went, however, eventually winning by a score of 10 to 3.

Errors Help Giants Beat Bucs, 6 to 3

Hubbell Goes Route to Wins His 15th Game; Allows 9 Hits.

By the Associated Press.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6.—The New York Giants' favorite "stooges," the Pirates, furnished little trouble for Carl Hubbell today and the great screwballer breezed through to 6-to-3 victory, ending his two-game losing streak.

Two Pittsburgh errors in the Giants' game—clinching a four-run rally in the eighth were major factors in the New Yorkers' third straight victory, as Hubbell won his first game since July 18 and became the first pitcher in the major leagues to win 15 games this season.

Red Lucas, who went the route for the Bucs, was tagged for 13 hits, 4 of them in the eighth when the Giants put the game on ice.

New York	AB	H	O	A	Pitts'gh.	AB	H	O	A
W'head,2b	5	3	2	4	L.Waner,cf	5	0	3	0
Moore,rf..	4	1	3	0	Jensen,lf..	4	1	2	0
Ott,3b....	4	2	1	3	P.Waner,rf	4	2	3	0
Berger,cf..	4	1	4	0	Suhr,1b...	4	2	9	2
Chiozza,cf	0	0	2	0	Todd,c....	4	2	0	0
Ripple,rf..	5	1	0	0	Br'aker,3b.	4	1	1	7
Leslie,1b..	3	2	5	0	Young,ss...	4	1	2	7
Danning,c	5	0	5	0	Handley,2b	3	0	5	5
Ryan,ss...	4	0	4	1	Lucas,p...	3	0	2	1
Hubbell,p.	4	1	0	0	Dickshot..	1	0	0	0
Totals..	38	13	27	8	Totals..	36	9	27	16

*Dickshot batted for Lucas in ninth.

New York	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	4	0	—6
Pittsburgh	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	—3

Runs—Whitehead, Chiozza, Ripple (3), Leslie, Danning, Jensen, Todd, Brubaker. Errors—Leslie, Young (2). Runs batted in—Danning (2), Brubaker, Young, Ott, Ryan, Hubbell, Suhr. Two-base hits—Ripple (2), Jensen. Three-base hits—Todd, Brubaker. Stolen base—Whitehead. Sacrifice—Chiozza. Double plays—Handley to Young to Suhr (2), Whitehead, Ryan, and Leslie. Left on bases—New York, 10; Pittsburgh, 7. First base on balls—Off Lucas, 4; off Hubbell, 1. Struck out—By Hubbell, 4. Umpires—Stewart, Barr, and Stark. Time of game—2:12. Attendance—6,444.

Jake Powell Is Ready To Play Ball, He Says

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Outfielder Alvin (Jake) Powell sported a badly damaged left ear today, but said he was ready to get back into the New York Yankee line-up at once. Chances are he will be out a few days, however.

A wild pitch delivered by Monte Stratton, of the Chicago White Sox, "beaned" Powell flush on the ear yesterday. He had his wounds dressed in a hospital but returned to see the finish of the game. Last night he attended a fight.

Bosox Trim Chisox, 7-3, For 10th Win

Red Hot Bostons Drive Out 14 Blows; Wilson Chalks Up 12th.

By the Associated Press.

Boston, Aug. 6.—With Mike Higgins contributing two homers and driving in four runs, the red-hot Red Sox continued their batting spree today by walloping the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3, in the series opener for their tenth straight victory, not including one tie game.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the Chicagoans and enabled the Red Sox to tighten their hold on second place, nine full games back of the league-leading Yankees, who beat Cleveland.

A ladies day crowd of 20,000, of which 6,000 was paid, saw Boston pole out 14 safeties behind Jack Wilson's 11-hit pitching, to give that hurler his twelfth victory against nine defeats.

Higgins sent the Red Sox off to a 3-to-0 lead by hitting the first of his homers with two on in the first. He made his other as lead-off man in the sixth.

The game also saw Zeke Bonura, the White Sox slugging first baseman, ejected for the first time in his major league career. Umpire Red Ormsby banished him in the sixth when Bonura, called out at second trying to stretch a long single off the left center wall, objected vociferously.

Chicago.	AB	H	O	A	Boston.	AB	H	O	A
Hayes,2b.	4	1	0	4	2 Mills,lf....	4	2	2	0
Kr'vich,cf	5	2	1	0	Cramer,cf.	5	2	4	1
Walker,rf.	5	2	1	0	Cronin,ss..	4	3	1	1
Radcliff,lf	5	3	1	0	Foxx,1b....	3	1	6	1
Appling,ss	4	0	0	8	Higgins,3b.	4	3	3	0
Bonura,1b	2	2	10	0	McNair,2b.	4	3	2	4
Haas,1b...	1	0	4	0	Ch'pman,rf	4	0	1	0
Piet,3b...	4	1	0	4	Berg,c....	4	1	6	1
Shea,c....	3	0	3	1	Wilson,p..	4	0	1	0
Dietrich,p	2	1	0	0
Rigney,p..	1	0	0	1
Totals..	37	11	24	16	Totals..	36	14	27	8

Chicago	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	—3
Boston	3	0	0	0	0	1	3	0	—7

Runs—Kreevich, Walker, Radcliff, Mills, Cramer (2), Cronin, Foxx, Higgins (2). Errors—Cronin, Wilson. Runs batted in—Radcliff (2), Bonura, Higgins (4), Cronin, Foxx, McNair. Two-base hits—Walker, Radcliff, Bonura, Cronin (2). Three-base hits—Radcliff, Mills. Home runs—Higgins (2). Double plays—Piet to Hayes to Bonura, Cronin to McNair to Foxx. Left on bases—Chicago, 10; Boston, 7. First base on balls—Off Dietrich, 2 off Wilson, 3. Struck out—By Dietrich, 2; by Rigney, 1; by Wilson, 5. Hits—Off Dietrich, 11 in 6 1-3 innings; off Rigney, 3 in 1 2-3 innings. Losing pitcher—Dietrich. Umpires—McGowan, Ormsby and Guinn. Time of game—Two hours 17 minutes.

Odds to Favor Seabiscuit in $50,000 Stake

Top Choice Despite 130-Pound Impost; 14 to Face Barrier.

By the Associated Press.

Boston, Aug. 6.—Seabiscuit, 4-year-old son of Hard Tack-Swing On, from the stable of Mrs. C. S. Howard, despite a burden of 130 pounds, tonight appeared the favorite among 14 entries in the rich $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap tomorrow at Suffolk Downs.

Facing the greatest array of thoroughbreds now in training in the United States, Seabiscuit, winner of six straight races since he dropped a nose decision to Rosemont in last winter's $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap, probably will be an even-money or odds-on favorite when the field reaches the starting gate.

With his accustomed jockey, Johnny "Red" Pollard, in the irons, the Hard Tack colt, which has the early foot to go out with the pace and the stamina to stay there, seems likely to be battling it out all the way over the mile and one-eighth route.

Rich international flavor is given to the field in the entries of Hirsch Jacob's Caballero II and Clarence Shockley's Sahri II, two Chileanbred invaders, which have done everything asked of them since arriving in the United States, and Raoul Walsh's French-born Grand Manitou, which seems to be just coming up to his race.

Other starters and their riders include: J. A. Manfuso's Aneroid, 128; Charley Rosengarten up; E. K. Bryson's Calumet Dick, 116, Joe Wagner in the saddle; William Ziegler's hard-hitting filly Esposa, 113, with the dangerous Nick Wall aboard; Townsend Martin's unpredictable White Cockade, 110, Jackie Westrope in the irons; the Araho Stable's entry of New Deal, 107, and Mucho Gusto, 108, with contract jockey Eddie Smith getting one of the mounts; H. C. McGehee's Fair Knightess, 108, "Red" Howell up; Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's War Glory, 108, ridden by the contract jockey, F. Balducci; Mrs. A. R. Smith's Speedy Trouper, 100, with the lightweight Charley Hanauer aboard, and Leon Carter's Black Gift, 100, with Willie Duffy getting the riding assignment.

Value to the winner of the Nation's richest summer stake will be approximately $37,700. Second place money will amount to about $10,000; third place, $5,000; fourth place, $2,500, and fifth money $1,250.

The Box Score

DETROIT.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Walker, lf	5	2	3	5	0	0
Fox, rf	5	2	2	0	0	0
Gehringer, 2b	4	1	3	2	3	0
Greenberg, 1b	5	0	1	7	0	0
Laabs, cf	5	2	2	4	0	0
Owen, 3b	5	0	1	2	0	0
York, c	4	1	1	4	0	0
Rogell, ss	5	1	2	3	3	0
Wade, p	4	1	1	0	1	0
Totals	42	10	16	27	7	0

WASHINGTON.	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Almada, cf (.277)	5	0	1	2	0	0
Lewis, 3b (.309)	4	1	2	0	3	0
Travis, ss (.388)	5	0	2	2	2	1
Simmons, lf (.273)	5	1	1	3	1	0
Stone, rf (.331)	3	0	1	3	1	0
Kuhel, 1b (.300)	4	0	0	10	0	1
Myer, 2b (.279)	2	1	1	1	2	0
Millies, c (.282)	4	0	1	6	1	0
Weaver, p (.127)	2	0	0	0	2	1
*W. Ferrell (.234)	1	0	0	0	0	0
Cohen, p (.143)	0	0	0	0	0	0
Linke, p (.219)	1	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	36	3	9	27	13	3

*Batted for Weaver in sixth.

Detroit	1	1	0	0	0	0	4	1	2	—10
WASHINGTON	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	1	—3

Runs batted in—Gehringer (4), Walker, Millies, Stone, Greenberg (2), Simmons, York (2). Two-base hits—Fox, Rogell, Gehringer. Three-base hits—Millies, Simmons. Home run—York. Double plays—Simmons to Millies, Lewis to Myer to Kuhel. Left on bases—Detroit, 7; Washington, 10. First base on balls—Off Wade, 4; off Weaver, 2. Struck out—By Wade, 2; by Weaver, 2; by Linke, 2. Hits—Off Weaver, 7 in 6 innings; off Cohen, 3 in 0 inning; off Linke, 6 in 3 innings. Losing pitcher—Weaver. Umpires—Dineen, Kolls and Hubbard. Time of game—Two hours 22 minutes.

Cubs Shake Off Batting Slump; Take Two From Bees, 12-6, 6-2

Pound Four Hurlers for 18 Hits in Opener; Three Home Runs Help.

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Breaking out of their batting slump with a barrage of 30 hits, totaling 53 bases, the Cubs routed the Boston Bees, 16 to 6 and 6 to 2, in both ends of a double-header before a ladies' day crowd of 33,608 today and increased their league lead a half game to five and one-half games.

Homers by Frank Demaree, Gabby Hartnett and Stan Hack paced an 18-hit reprisal against four Boston pitchers in the opener, after Roy Johnson and Hal Warstler, the first two batters of the game, had jarred the Cubs' Tex Carleton, usually a Boston jinx, from his moorings with consecutive homers on his first five pitches. In the second game, the Cubs pounded out 12 hits, 10 of them off their former colleague, Guy Bush.

Combined with these barrages were two portions of "comeback" pitching. Curt Davis, whose ailing arm had kept him from pitching less than the equivalent of three games all season, stepped in after Carleton was knocked out in the second inning of the opener and shut out the Bees for five and two-third innings before yielding three runs in the last two frames under a commanding lead. It was the former Philly ace's third victory.

In the second game, Roy Parmalee went the route for the Cubs for the first time in more than six weeks, limiting the Bees to five hits. It was his season's seventh victory.

First Game.

Boston.	AB	H	O	A	Chicago.	AB	H	O	A
Johnson,lf	5	2	2	0	Galan,cf..	6	3	1	0
W'rstler,ss	4	1	1	2	Hack,3b...	4	2	0	1
*Mayo....	1	1	0	0	Collins,1b.	6	2	12	0
DiM'gio,cf	4	2	2	0	D'maree,rf	6	2	3	0
C'inello,2b	5	2	4	3	Herman,2b	4	2	2	10
Moore,rf..	2	1	4	1	Hartnett,c.	3	2	2	0
Garms,rf..	2	1	3	0	O'Dea,c....	0	0	0	0
English,3b	5	1	0	0	Jurges,ss..	5	3	4	4
Fl'tcher,1b	3	1	5	1	Frey,lf....	4	1	3	0
Mueller,c.	4	2	3	1	Carleton,p.	0	0	0	0
H'inson,p.	2	1	0	0	Davis,p....	4	1	0	2
Lanning,p.	1	0	0	0
Smith,p...	0	0	0	0
Reis,p....	0	0	0	0
Totals..	39	15	24	8	Totals..	42	18	27	17

*Batted for Warstler in ninth.

Boston	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	2	—6
Chicago	2	0	0	3	1	6	0	0	x	—12

Runs—Johnson, Warstler, Mayo, Garms, Fletcher, Reis, Galan, Hack (2), Demaree (2), Herman, Hartnett, Jurges, Frey (2). Davis (2). Errors—Fletcher, Warstler, Moore, Hutchinson. Runs batted in—Johnson (2), Warstler, Mayo, Fletcher, Cuccinello, Galan, Hack (2), Collins, Demaree (3), Hartnett (3), Davis. Two-base hits—DiMaggio, Collins, Demaree, Davis, Frey. Three-base hits—Galan, Jurges. Home runs—Johnson, Warstler, Hack, Demaree, Hartnett. Sacrifice—Davis. Double plays—Cuccinello to Warstler to Fletcher, Davis to Jurges to Collins, Herman to Jurges to Collins, Herman to Collins. Left on bases—Boston, 9; Chicago, 13. First base on balls—Off Hutchinson, 1; off Lanning, 3; off Reis, 2; off Carleton, 1 off Davis, 2. Struck out—By Hutchinson, 1; by Smith, 1; by Carleton, 1; by Davis, 1. Hits—Off Hutchinson, 9 in 3 1-3 innings; off Lanning, 3 in 1 2-3 innings (none out in sixth); off Smith, 3 in 2-3 innings; off Reis, 1 in 2 1-3 innings; off Carleton, 5 in 1 1-3 innings; off Davis, 10 in 7 2-3 innings. Wild pitch—Hutchinson. Winning pitcher—Davis. Losing pitcher — Hutchinson. Umpires — Magerkurth, Parker, and Moran. Time—2:11.

Second Game.

Boston.	AB	H	O	A	Chicago.	AB	H	O	A
Johnson,lf	3	1	0	0	Galan,cf..	4	0	5	0
W'rstler,ss	3	1	1	1	Hack,3b...	4	2	0	2
DiM'gio,cf	4	0	5	1	Collins,1b.	2	1	13	0
C'inello,2b	3	0	1	3	D'maree,rf.	3	2	1	0
Moore,rf..	4	2	2	0	Herman,2b	4	2	2	3
English,3b	4	0	1	0	O'Dea,c....	4	2	4	0
Fl'tcher,1b	3	0	12	1	Jurges,ss..	4	1	0	5
Mueller,c..	3	1	1	0	Frey,lf....	4	1	3	0
Bush,p....	2	0	1	5	Parmelee,p.	4	1	0	2
*Mayo....	1	0	0	0
Reis,p....	0	0	0	0
Totals..	30	5	24	11	Totals..	32	12	27	12

*Batted for Bush in eighth.

Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	—2
Chicago	0	0	0	1	0	4	0	1	x	—6

Runs — Cuccinello, Mueller, Collins, Demaree, Herman, O'Dea, Jurges, Frey. Runs batted in—Johnson, English, Herman (2), O'Dea, Jurges, Frey, Parmelee. Two-base hits—Mueller, Demaree, Frey. Three-base hits—Herman, Jurges. Stolen base—Hack. Sacrifices—Warstler, Collins, Demaree. Double plays—Warstler to Cuccinello to Fletcher, DiMaggio to Mueller, Jurges to Herman to Collins. Left on bases—Boston, 4; Chicago, 7. First base on balls—Off Bush, 3; off Parmelee, 2. Struck out—By Parmelee, 4. Hits—Off Bush, 10 in 7 innings; off Reis, 2 in 1 inning. Wild pitch—Parmelee. Losing pitcher—Bush. Umpires—Parker, Moran and Magerkurth. Time of game—One hour 48 minutes.

Sports Postscripts

SOOTHING NOTE to NAT fans who get discouraged when we take a lacing: The OXFORD, Nebr., American Legion team won the district championship against CAMBRIDGE, Nebr., recently, and banged out 35 hits to send 53 runs across the plate. Nineteen runs were scored in a large second inning, 18 in the fourth. The final score was 53-4! . . . A boy of 14 and a veteran of 70 are among the national marksmen to shoot for $50,000 prizes at the Grand American tournament in the Ohio city late this month . . . EARLE MEADOWS, the Olympic pole vault champion, has confided to friends that he will clear 15 feet 3 inches before the summer is over. Hurry up, EARLE, she's a-goin' fast!

BARNEY ROSS.

• • • •

Talk about concentration! PETEY SARRON, the featherweight champ, writes from CAPE TOWN, South Africa, and says: "A golfer here—in the rough—played an excellent iron shot to the green and, looking up, discovered he had cut the head off an 18 inch snake!" . . . NOTE TO J. R. PROBEY: The fastest 6 furlongs ever run on the outer course at Arlington Downs was recorded by Zacaweista, a Kentucky-bred son of HIGH TIME, who ran the distance in 1929 in 1:14 1-5 . . . A 6-year survey just completed at the University of Iowa shows that athletes are inferior in their studies to nonathletic students. Now, if someone will have a survey to show that the moon's not made of green cheese and that water is wet!

• • • •

The San Francisco SEALS and the San Francisco MISSIONS of the Pacific Coast League use the same ball park—and they once nearly used the same pitcher. While the two teams were playing a series, the SEALS bought FRANK LAMANASKE from the MISSIONS. MANAGER WILLIE KAMM of the MISSIONS had to use LAMANASKE in the last game of the series. Eager to show he was not "laying down" to his new pals, LAMANASKE pitched so strenuously he injured his right side and was out of service for more than a week.

• • • •

LAWRENCE BENEITONE, winner of three freshman athletic numerals at the University of Iowa, says his father was a champion boccio ball player in Italy. Now will someone tell us what is boccio ball? . . . ICE HOCKEY, of all sports, is popular in South Africa. Now if Eskimos would only go for Jai-Alai! . . . Or Washington fans for profootball would JACK ESPEY be happy. . . .

JACK PAULUS.

Major League Standings

American League.

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
New York	65	29	.691	...
Boston	55	37	.598	9
Chicago	57	41	.582	10
Detroit	54	39	.581	10½
Cleveland	43	49	.467	21
WASHINGTON	40	51	.440	23½
St. Louis	31	62	.333	33
Philadelphia	27	64	.297	36

Results Yesterday.

Detroit, 10; WASHINGTON, 3.
Boston, 7; Chicago, 3.
New York, 7; Cleveland, 6.
St. Louis-Philadelphia, not scheduled.

Games Today.

Detroit at WASHINGTON.
St. Louis at Philadelphia.
Cleveland at New York.
Chicago at Boston.

Games Tomorrow.

Detroit at WASHINGTON.
St. Louis at Philadelphia.
Cleveland at New York.
Chicago at Boston.

National League.

(Incomplete because of night game.)

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
Chicago	62	34	.646	...
New York	57	40	.588	5½
St. Louis	51	44	.537	11½
Pittsburgh	50	45	.526	12½
Boston	46	52	.469	17
Brooklyn	39	55	.417	22
Cincinnati	39	55	.417	22
Philadelphia	40	58	.408	23½

Results Yesterday.

New York, 6; Pittsburgh, 3.
St. Louis, 10; Philadelphia, 7.
Chicago, 12-6; Boston, 6-2.
Cincinnati, 3; Brooklyn, 1.

Games Today.

Boston at Chicago.
New York at Pittsburgh.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Games Tomorrow.

Boston at Chicago.
New York at Pittsburgh.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Yesterday's Homers

Higgins, Red Sox, 2; Trosky, Indians, 2; Gehrig, Yankees, 1; York, Tigers, 1; Demaree, Cubs, 1; Hartnett, Cubs, 1; Hack, Cubs, 1; Johnson, Bees, 1; Warstler, Bees, 1.

THE LEADERS.

DiMaggio, Yankees, 32; Foxx, Red Sox, 28; Gehrig, Yankees, 26; Trosky, Indians, 25; Greenberg, Tigers, 25; Ott, Giants, 22.

LEAGUE TOTALS.

American	524
National	437
Total	961

Jakie Wade Gives Griffs But 8 Blows

Bengals Pound Weaver, Cohen, Linke; Travis' Batting Feature.

By Shirley Povich.

Cecil Travis, the mauling gentleman from Georgia, whose private batting show is now the chief concern of Griffith Stadium fans, salvaged his .388 average from the wreckage yesterday when the Tigers slapped down the Nats by the highly decisive score of 10 to 3.

Even the highly optimistic ladies' day fans ceased rooting for the Nats and focused their attention on Travis in the late innings, after the ball game had been hopelessly lost. And Travis didn't disappoint.

He had been hitless in his first three times at bat against left-handed Jack Wade and his average thus took a terrific nose dive, but Travis brought it out of its spin beautifully.

In his fourth time at bat he rapped a brisk single into rightfield and in his fifth and last trip to the plate he banged another to the same spot to keep his average at the .388 level it occupied before the game.

But Travis' hitting was the only consolation the Nats were able to draw out of the proceedings as they took their third straight licking. The Washingtons were comparatively helpless against the left-handed Wade, who gave up only nine hits while the Tigers were fattening their own figures against Monte Weaver, Syd Cohen and Ed Linke.

In fact, the Nats didn't score a run until the fifth inning, by which time the Tigers had a 3-0 lead off Weaver. It was done very simply. They put two hits together in each of the second, third and fourth innings and scored a run on each occasion.

Washington muffed a chance to get solidly back into the ball game in the fifth when they came up with a lone run after Myer had beaten out a drag bunt with a clever slide past Greenberg and Millies had ushered him home with a triple to the deep center. But with none as yet out the Nats couldn't move Simmons home.

It looked like a ball game, though, at the end of the sixth, when the Nats' cut the Tigers' lead to 3 to 2. But the truth is, the Nats in that sixth muffed another chance for a juicy inning. They scored their run before anybody was out, Simmons banging a triple to the left-field corner and Stone pushing him home with a single. Then the thing fizzled, Kuhel forcing Travis, Millies popping up and Pinch Hitter Wes Ferrell striking out.

With their lead threatened, the Tigers reared up in the seventh and cuffed Syd Cohen around for four runs. Travis was no help to the Nats in that session. With a perfect double-play ball hopping toward him, Travis muffed and the Tigers filled the bases with none out. Charley Gehringer, who made only three hits yesterday, then pumped a double to center to score two pals, and Hank Greenberg greeted Ed Linke with a single to left that scored two more.

There wasn't much the Nats could do about that 7-to-2 lead except to score a useless run in the eighth after Lewis and Travis singled, but the Tigers weren't content. Gehringer drove in a run in the eighth and in the ninth, Rudy York found Chet Laabs on base and pumped a homer high into the left-field seats.

Detroit won the ball game.

Work of the Nats

BATTING AVERAGES.

| | G. | AB. | R. | H. | 2b. | 3b. | Hr. | Rbi

180 to Seek P.G.A. Title At Portland

Yoder, McCarthy, Shea to Represent D. C. in Qualifying Round.

Washington entrants in the national amateur, starting August 23 at the Alderwood Country Club, Portland, Oreg., drew two easterners and a westerner as qualifying round partners while Jack Fulton, who made the grade in the Baltimore qualifying rounds, has the dubious distinction of being the last player off the tee.

One hundred and eighty players, including three foreign entrants, the former champion from Canada, Ross "Sandy" Somerville, Ken Black, former Vancouver Open champion, and A. Stanley Anderson, of London, England comprise the starting field of 90 twosomes.

Among the Middle Atlantic participants, Henry A. Parr, III, Baltimore Country Club, is the first to drive, playing with Robert Jacobsen, Deal, N. J., in the fourteenth pair to start play, at 9:05 a. m. Another Baltimore Country Club member, Don McPhail, plays at 10:10 with T. S. Jamison, of Oakmont.

Levi Yoder paces the District representatives, leaving the tee at 11:40 with Fred G. Bannerot, jr., of Charleston, W. Va., while Martin McCarthy draws an afternoon starting time, with James Crowell, of Portland Oreg., at 1:10.

Willy Shea plays an hour later with Charles Reckner, of Philadelphia, with Fulton starting at 3:25 with Jim Frisina, of Midlothian, Ill. Others of interest to District golf fans find John Burke, the Georgetown frosh star, and runner-up in the Chevy Chase Invitation, playing with the sensational scoring Chick Harbert, the Michigan Open champion, and Joe Lynch, the former Hoya captain and brother of J. J. Lynch, Indian Spring member, playing with the 1929 finalist, Dr. O. F. Willing, of Portland.

The youngest and oldest champions, Johnny Fisher, defending, and Francis Ouimet, 1914 and 1931, play together in the first qualifying round. Another is carded on Tuesday, August 24, with the low 64 entering 18-hole match play rounds the next day.

Other leading candidates for the match play berths include Freddue Haas, Southern and college champion, playing with Eddie Held, and virtually all members of the old guard excepting George Voigt.

Thistledown Park Results.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST—Six furlongs; purse, $600; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Bee Line, 111 (Tice).....10.40 4.20 4.40
Sequoia, 111 (Fernandez).....3.40 3.00
Rustic Joe, 111 (Erwin).....3.40
*Banners Flying, *Genesis, Hollisan, Bal Ele, Realism, Best Man, *Thistle Ray also ran. Time, 1:12 2-5.
*Field.

SECOND—Six furlongs purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds.
Count Maurice, 113 (Landoll).....25.20 8.40 5.00
Earldom, 113 (Rosen).....6.40 5.00
Proof, 106 (Dean).....4.60
*Free Forester, Cuban Boy, Rough Creek, *Home Grown, *Big Enuf, Miss Fairfield, Star Cloud, *Tell Light, Winsome Lassie also ran.
*Field

THIRD—Thistledown course; purse, $650; claiming; for maiden 2-year-olds.
*In Spades, 110 (Rosen).....19.60 6.60 4.80
Rank Mike, 111 (Barnes).....8.80 5.00
Lesburg, 110 (Thornton).....3.80
Oddesa Doc, Epibet, *Harrys Choice, Dona Nutter, *Imperial Boots, Scout Girl, Good Exchange, Smith David also ran. Time, 1:06 2-5.
*Field.

FOURTH—One mile purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Nessus, 113 (Dean).....10.60 5.60 4.00
Uncle Red, 104 (Fallon).....8.00 6.40
Honest Susan, 103 (Cramer).....8.00
Donna Barona, Ted Conard also ran. Time, 1:40 1-5.

FIFTH—Thistledown course; purse, $500; the Willoughby Purse; allowances; for 2-year-olds.
Misgiving, 110 (Rosen).....5.80 3.40 3.00
Janice, 110 (Hanauer).....3.80 4.40
*Alan, 113 (Landoll).....4.00
*Don Dash, Choice, Rocky Road, Supreme Kiss, *Gypsy Grip, Mrs. M. J., Be Blue, Verakze also ran. Time, 1:03 4-5.
*Field.

SIXTH—Six furlongs; purse, $800; allowances; the Mapleton Brick Purse; for 3-year-olds.
Bome Haul, 107 (Mitchell).62.60 31.00 9.80
Lady Bessie, 102 (Grill).....8.00 4.40
Amneris, 109 (Hutton).....3.80
Alkin, Texas Boy, Sweep Boy, Miss B., Steering Wheel also ran.
SEVENTH—One mile; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Red Garter, 107 (Ward).... 4.40 3.60 3.00
*Our Justice, 115 (Hanauer)..... 4.40 3.00
Speed Queen, 112 (Erwin)..... 5.00
*Weapon, High Devine, *Attauquechee, Silk Covering, Sure Gamble, Super Purchase, Lady Officer, Bert Lahr and *Brown Gold also ran. Time, 1:40 2-5.
*Field.

EIGHTH—One mile; purse, $600; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Whipstitch, 98 (F. Fernandes)..... 9.00 3.60 3.60
Red Prince, 107 (Dean)..... 3.40 3.00
Brilliant Stone, 102 (Hutton)..... 3.60
Luna Bright, *Pelisher, Harper, Sophist, *Morals, Litigation, *Impil Wilk and Brave Caruso also ran. Time, 1:40.
*Field.

Saratoga Results.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; maidens fillies; 2-year-olds.
†Well Timed, 113 (K'tsinger) 4-1 8-5 7-10
†Sonnstop, 113 (Richards)..... 5-2 6-5
Muddler, 105 (Balaski)..... 8-2
Pink Flag, Wish Girl, Mastiash, My Pauline, Ball Out, †Dacotah, Broad Vision, On Cave, Delevely and †Matuta also ran. Time, 1:07 1-5.
†W. H. Asiel and J. M. Roebling entry.

SECOND—About two miles; The Welship Steeplechase; purse, $1,300; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Our Trouble, 142 (Mitchell) 25-1 7-1 2-1
Rickscook, 152 (Clements)..... 5-2 7-10
Sideaway, 152 (Jones)..... 1-5
Galsac and Omel also ran. Time, 4:16 1-5.

THIRD—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Oh Home, 111 (Synder)..... 8-1 3-1 8-5
Knowing, 114 (Arcaro)..... 7-5 7-10
Cardinalis, 110 (Kurtsinger)..... 5-2
Early Times, Indomitable, Wise Duke, Microphone, Who Has and Little Shaver also ran. Time, 1:12 2-5.

FOURTH—Wilson Mile; The Caughnawaga; allowances; for 3-year-olds.
Alexandrine, 104 (Record)..... 3-1 4-5 1-4
Cleom Buster, 114 (James)..... 1-3 out
Lausanne, 105 (Lensden)..... 7-5
Grace Carome and Sammie also ran. Time, 1:39 2-5.

FIFTH—Wilson Mile; The Mohawk Stakes; purse, $2,000 added; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Testing, 121 (Wright)..... 1-1 1-3 1-8
Twice, 104 (Lensden)..... 3-1 6-5
Walnark, 108 (James)..... 1-2
†Chief Cherokee, Higher Cloud, Swahili and Ferryboat also ran. Time, 1:38 2-5.
†W. H. Barri and H. W. Jackson entry.

SIXTH—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; allowances; colts and geldings; for 3-year-olds.
Fernie, 117 (Gilbert)..... 4-5 1-3 1-6
Wise Counsel, 117 (Lensden)..... 2-1 7-10
Tedium, 112 (Knapp)..... 3-1
Dan Cupid, Kaimin, †Company Halt, Maevel, Cal Rainey, Teddy Weed, Jack Be Nimble, Enchanted also ran. Time, 1:13 1-5.
†A. G. Vanderbilt entry.

SEVENTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
*Masker, 108 (Eccard)..... 13-10 1-3 out
Chief Yeoman, 111 (Chalf)..... 7-10 1-3
Flying Falcon, 114 (Peters)..... out
Crystal Prince and Gallopino also ran. Time, 1:54.
*Mill River Stable and S. A. W. Baltazzi entry.

Wins in Tennis.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 6.—Andy Smith eliminated Ed Harvey, 3—6, 6—2, 6—0, to advance to the finals of the United States Lawn Tennis Association's junior tournament, where he will play Lua Syckes for the championship.

Grid Drills Set.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 6.—John J. Loug, who will assume the football coaching job at Fort Hill High School this fall, announced from Camp Rip Van Winkle, Catskill, N. J., that the Scarlet and White squad squad would be given its first workout at the new stadium Tuesday, September 7. Fort Hill will open against Petersburg (W. Va.) High here Friday, September 17.

Charts of Yesterday's Suffolk Downs Races

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1937.

Copyright, 1937, by The Racal Press, Inc. (Daily Racing Form).

WEATHER, CLEAR. TRACK, FAST.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same. Went to post 2:20. Off 2:23. Winner, C. W. Phelan's br. m. (5), by Sickle—Lady Argos. Trained by E. J. Powers. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:12 2-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
CHARMED EYES	(McCombs)	104	10	1	2nk	2hd	1hd	1½	$7.20
COYA	(Marrero)	109	1	6	3½	3½	2½	2½	20.20
MANY MOONS	(Morgan)	111	8	5	6½½	5½½	3nk	3nk	8.80
FLOWERY LADY	(Cubitt)	111	5	9	8½	8½½	6½	4nk	8.50
PRIMER	(Keaney)	112	11	3	5h	4h	4½	5h	4.10
WITSON	(Cimpanelli)	112	3	8	4h	6½	5½½	6h	24.00
COLTMAN	(Jacque)	104	4	11	11	10h	9½	7½	13.90
STAROGAN	(Jackie)	107	6	10	7nk	9h	8nk	8nk	2.50
LORD TOURNAMENT	(Scheib)	108	7	4	11½	1h	7½	9½	13.00
NALITA J.	(Leishman)	103	9	2	6h	7½	10h	10½½	27.60
CALEB	(Porter)	113	2	7	10h	11	11	11	37.80

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CHARMED EYES, $16.40, $8.20, $5.60; COYA, $17.20, $9.60; MANY MOONS, $6.80.

CHARMED EYES was prominently placed all the way, gained command when LORD TOURNAMENT began tiring and withstanding determined opposition from COYA through the stretch, held her safe to the end. COYA moved up on the inside to gain a prominent position in the opening quarter mile, responded willingly to urging and fought it out with good courage to the close. MANY MOONS was unable to keep pace early, saved ground into the stretch, came up threateningly nearing the furlong pole, although unable to close any ground thereafter.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same. Went to post 2:53. Off 2:53. Winner, Miss Mary White's b. f. (4), by Happy Argo—Maria Mahler. Trained by H. T. White. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:11 3-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
LOTTAFUN	(Leishman)	107	6	1	2½½	2½	2h	1½	1h	$1.90
ZEVANAID	(Jackie)	107	1	3	1h	1½	1nk	2h	2.30
KENTUCKY EAGLE	(Morgan)	98	4	8	8	8	6nk	3h	17.40
KERMAY	(Austin)	107	2	6	6½½	7h	4nk	4½½	5.20
PAQUES	(Barba)	103	5	9	4h	3h	3h	5h	53.00
LITTLE JOCK	(Cubitt)	107	5	7	5½½	5½½	7½½	6½	6.90
LARGESS	(Rose)	105	8	4	7h	6nk	8	7h	38.00
PLAYNOT	(McCombs)	102	9	2	3½½	3h	5h	8	29.30
WATER WINGS	(Harriss)	109	3		Wheeled				37.60

Two-dollar mutuels paid—LOTTAFUN, $5.80, $3.00, $2.60; ZEVANAID, $3.40, $2.80; KENTUCKY EAGLE, $4.20.

LOTTAFUN, away fast, was steadied along when ZEVANAID went to the front, moved up on the outside in the stretch to take command and increased her lead in the last few strides. ZEVANAID went into a good lead in the opening quarter mile, made a game try to get along with the winner when challenged, although not good enough. KENTUCKY EAGLE, far back for the first half mile, came gamely through the stretch, getting up in the last strides to wear down KERMAY.

DAILY DOUBLE, CHARMED EYES AND LOTTAFUN, PAID $43.60.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,000. The Beach Purse. For 2-year-old maidens. Start good from Bahr gate. Won ridden out; place driving. Went to post 3:21. Off 3:23. Winner, William H. Gallacher's b. f. (2), by Swift Dunn—Daunt. Trained by J. L. Donovan. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:06 1-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
MAY R.	(Pollard)	113	2	5	1nk	1½½	1½	1½	$5.30
GRAND LIGHT	(Luther)	116	6	1	3nk	3½½	2½½	2nk	5.00
SCOTS GUARD	(Tinker)	116	8	10	9h	8½½	5h	3h	64.40
RHODIUM	(Jackie)	116	5	8	6½	5nk	3½	4h	9.30
MULMILLION	(Scheib)	116	3	9	8½	9h	7½	5nk	7.50
NED'S LADY	(Craig)	113	7	3	7½	6½½	4nk	6h	11.60
WEARY FLOWER	(Hightshoe)	113	1	11	10h	10h	8h	7h	70.10
BILLY VAN NUYS	(Howell)	116	3	4	2h	2nk	3h	8½½	6.80
BY GUM	(Saunders)	116	4	12	11½	11h	11h	9h	44.70
FENCING SONG	(Ray)	116	12	3	4nk	4h	9½½	10½	7.30
HI BEN	(Mauro)	116	10	2	5h	8h	10h	11½½	45.80
SUMMER HAIL	(Hartle)	113	11	7	12	12	12	12	120.60

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MAY R., $12.60, $6.80, $6.60; GRAND LIGHT, $5.80, $4.80; SCOTS GUARD, $18.80.

MAY R. moved through on the inside to gain a slight lead at the close of the first three-sixteenths, drew clear and kept under urging through the stretch, dominated the running to the close. GRAND LIGHT was forwardly placed the entire trip, made a determined effort to reach the leader, was not good enough, although continuing with good courage to the end. SCOTS GUARD, unable to keep up early, roughed his way through the stretch and came willingly in the closing stages.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won handily; place driving. Went to post 3:56. Off 3:56½. Winner, P. P. S. Randolph's b. g. (7), by Sun Flag—Duchess Kathleen. Trained by F. White. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
FREE	(McCombs)	112	1	2	1½	2½	2h	1½	$8.40
STORY TIME	(Miller)	107	8	1	1h	1h	1½½	2½½	9.00
ORTHOPRISM	(Leishman)	107	5	8	8	8	5½	3h	6.10
RAMS HEAD	(Duffy)	116	4	6	6½	7½½	7nk	4nk	3.10
BUSY PRINCE	(Luther)	113	3	5	5½	4h	3h	5½	1.90
MALICE	(Howell)	108	2	4	4h	6½½	6	6½	18.30
GREY GHOST	(Cimpanelli)	103	7	7	2½	3½	4½	7nk	10.90
BERRY PATCH	(Scheib)	102	6	3	3nk	5½	8nk	8	11.30

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FREE, $18.80, $10.40, $6.20; STORY TIME, $13.80, $6.60; ORTHOPRISM, $4.60.

FREE was not hurried during the early stages, moved up fast when called upon and wearing down STORY TIME for the lead when reaching the stretch, drew out steadily. STORY TIME drew away into a long lead, but weakened when reaching the stretch and was unable to cope with the closing challenge of the winner. ORTHOPRISM trailed for the first six furlongs, closed with a belated rush and was going willingly to the end.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,100; claiming. The North Shore Purse. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won handily; place driving. Went to post 4:28. Off 4:30. Winner, Miss A. Doris' br. g. (4), by Misstep—Hazel Spears. Trained by H. L. Campbell. Value to winner, $750; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:10 4-5.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
MIXWELL	(Jackie)	108	7	2	1½	1½½	1½	1½	$2.60
JEAN LEE	(Morgan)	107	4	4	2½½	2½½	4½½	2½	24.10
ODD BLUE	(Marrero)	109	8	1	3½	2½	2½½	3nk	3.90
DREEL	(McCombs)	108	3	3	3nk	6h	6h	4½½	8.60
PURPISER	(Saunders)	110	6	6	4h	3nk	5nk	5nk	14.10
BACON	(May)	114	5	5	2½	4½	3h	6h	3.00
PHARATIME	(Leishman)	103	1	7	7½	7½	7½	7h	7.10
PLUCKY JACK	(Tinker)	108	2	8	8	8	8	8	86.30

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MIXWELL, $7.20, $5.00, $3.00; JEAN LEE, $13.20, $5.80; ODD BLUE, $3.40.

MIXWELL, away fast, disposed of BACON in the run down the backstretch, drew clear, increased his lead after rounding the far turn and holding on gamely in the stretch, held JEAN LEE safe under a mild hand ride. JEAN LEE worked her way up gradually and came willingly in the last quarter mile. ODD BLUE, prominent all the way, made a determined attempt to reach the leader, was not good enough and weakened in the last sixteenth and barely lasted long enough to save third from DREEL.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; place driving. Went to post 4:59. Off 5:07½. Winner, William H. Gallacher's br. h. (), by Westy Hogan—Candy May. Trained by J. L. Donovan. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:46.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
CANDIMATE	(Barba)	112	8	6	5h	4½½	1½½	1h	1h	$2.90
RUDENIA	(Morgan)	102	1	1	4½½	5½½	4nk	4½½	2nk	6.50
AURA	(Jackie)	102	6	4	3nk	3h	2h	3½	3h	3.00
ALL ROWES	(Marrero)	109	4	3	2½½	2h	3½	4nk	4nk	1.70
YENOOR	(Coule)	112	2	3	6½½	6h	6h	5h	5½½	54.80
IDLE MONEY	(May)	112	3	7	8	8	7nk	6½½	6h	35.50
GABE	(Mauro)	108	7	8	7½½	7h	8	7h	7h	75.30
PRASCATI	(Craig)	106½	5	5	1½½	1½½	5½½	8	8	18.00

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CANDIMATE, $7.80, $4.80, $3.20; RUDENIA, $7.00, $3.60; AURA, $3.00.

CANDIMATE was reserved early, moved through on the inside leaving the backstretch, went into an easy lead and kept under urging, drew out steadily all the last five-sixteenths. RUDENIA, hard ridden to keep up, came with good courage through the stretch getting up in the closing strides to run down AURA. The latter, well up throughout, was unable to go along with the winner when challenged and weakened in the drive.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same. Went to post 5:38. Off 5:42. Winner, Joseph Green's ch. g. (4), by Golden Spire—Don't. Trained by F. Rutchick. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:40.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
AUREATE	(Pollard)	113	3	5	2nk	2h	4h	3nk	1h	$4.80
STONE MARTIN	(Morgan)	112	9	3	5nk	6nk	5½½	4½½	2½½	5.80
SOCIAL ERROR	(Leishman)	107	1	2	1h	1h	1½½	1½	3h	6.50
WINTER SPORT	(Craig)	113	5	1	3½½	3nk	2h	2h	4½	9.30
NOTICE ME	(Jackie)	104	6	8	8h	4½½	3½½	5h	5h	6.30
LATERAL PASS	(Hartle)	101	4	4	4½	3½	6½	6h	6½	40.50
GENERAL A	(Tinker)	109	8	9	9½½	9½½	9h	8nk	7½½	23.10
JOLYON	(Marrero)	112	10	6	6½	7h	7nk	7nk	8½	12.20
SULSTRODE	(Deering)	113	7	10	10	10	8½	9nk	9½	6.30
WAR STRIPES	(Cubitt)	112	2	7	7nk	8½	10	10	10	5.80

Two-dollar mutuels paid—AUREATE, $11.20, $5.20, $3.60; STONE MARTIN, $6.00, $3.80; SOCIAL ERROR, $4.40.

AUREATE followed along in pursuit of the pace early, dropped back after leaving the backstretch, responded gamely nearing the stretch, came through on the inside, tiring in the stretch and closing stoutly on the inside, was up to wear down the leaders and had enough left to hold safe the fast-finishing STONE MARTIN. The latter worked his way up steadily, was caught in close quarters and closed with a rush when gaining clear sailing. SOCIAL ERROR drew away into a long lead and only weakened in the last three-sixteenths.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from Bahr gate. Won ridden out; place driving. Went to post 6:12. Off 6:13. Winner, Mrs. A. Schwartz's br. g. (5), by The Satrap—Pink Lady. Trained by A. Schwartz. Value to winner, $675; second, $175; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:45.

Horses	Jockeys	Wgt.	Post	St.	¼	½	¾	Str.	Fin.	Straight
SATRAPAL	(Cubitt)	111	5	2	1½	1½½	1h	1½	1½	$4.90
EASIEST WAY	(Scheib)	15	7	8	6½½	4½	2h	3nk	2nk	9.10
MANNERLY	(Jackie)	103	4	6	4h	3nk	4½½	3½	3h	4.70
PLUCKY BABY	(McCombs)	107	3	1	3nk	6½	5½½	5h	4h	4.00
BLACK FALCON	(Marrero)	109	9	4	2½	2½	3nk	4½½	5h	13.30
ALMAHA	(Leishman)	107	8	5	5nk	5h	6h	6nk	6nk	11.50
EVEN UP	(Pollard)	112	1	9	9	9	9	9	7½½	10.80
APPREPRICE	(Morgan)	107	6	7	8h	8h	8½½	8½	8½	3.70
LARO KEYS	(Deering)	112	2	3	7½½	7h	7½	7½	9½	30.00

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SATRAPAL, $11.80, $5.20, $4.00; EASIEST WAY, $8.40, $5.40; MANNERLY, $4.00.

SATRAPAL outran his field to the first turn, drew clear and rated along in front, held away to the end. EASIEST WAY moved up stoutly on the outside nearing the far turn, responded gamely to hard riding and finished willingly. MANNERLY, well placed and reserved early, moved up gamely entering the stretch, but was unable to close any around through the last furlong.

Saratoga Springs Entries.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; The Modesty; purse, $1,000; allowances; 2-year-olds; fillies.

1 Could Be 114
2 *U Boat 109
3 Rash Hurry 106
4 Battle Call 114
5 *Macayres 109
6 Sunnyshore ..114
7 Arachne 109
8 Some Pep 109
9 Pooled 114
10 Pretty Pet 114

SECOND RACE—About two miles; The Subscription Steeplechase; purse, $3,000; for 4-year-olds and upward.

1 Guidon II 150
2 Navarin 142
3 †Formosus 150
4 Marc Aurele II..150
5 †Valpuisseux ..142
6 †Lord Jenkis ..142
7 Fils de Liral..150
8 †Mothel 150
9 Grain de Cafe..150
10 Editeur 150
11 Gay Hill 142

†Campbell Welr-Raritan Stable entry.
‡W. Wickes-J. W. Y. Martin entry.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs; The Modesty; purse, $1,000; allowances; for 2-year-olds; fillies.

1 *Reign'g Lass.109
2 Pockmantic 114
3 Black Wave....114
4 *Godspeed 109
5 Teddiana 109
6 Maravilla 109
7 Alpenglow 114
8 *Maevix 104
9 Dolly E. 109
10 *Cloud o'Dust.109

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs; The Saratoga Special; purse, $8,750; sweepstakes, winner takes all); for 2-year-olds.

1 †Dauber 122
2 Pumpkin 122
3 †The Chief 122
4 Bull Lea 122
5 Mate'l 122
6 Johake 122
7 C. Note 122
8 War Peril 122
9 Red Glare 119
10 Bourbon King..122

†C. V. Whitney entry.

FIFTH RACE—One and three-sixteenth miles; The Merchants and Citizens Handicap; purse, $7,500 added; for 3-year-olds and upward.

1 Up and Doing..98
2 Chorinto 109
3 Jean Bart 106
4 Thorson 106
5 Blackbirder 111
6 Star Shadow....103
7 †Two Bob 103
8 Count Arthur..112
9 Maeriel 107

SIXTH RACE—Wilson Mile; The Ticonderoga Handicap; purse, $1,200 added; for 3-year-olds and upward; Class C.

1 Chaneer 113
2 Kenty 116
3 Advocator 112
4 Sir Quest 116
5 Saddle Boy....113
6 Fleet Reliet....113
7 Gosum 109
8 Prince Alone....106
9 Marriel 107

†E. R. Pike-Mrs. K. N. Gilpin entry.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles; The Oriskany Handicap; purse, $1,000 added; for 3-year-olds and upward; Class D.

1 Ann O'Ruler..115
2 Count Atlas....109
3 Mistralkin 105
4 Rouge et Noir 107
5 Allowance 104
6 Abbatoro 110
7 Fly's Banner.102
8 Old Story 116
9 Bonny Clabb'r.103
10 Chance King..103
11 Reminding 114

*Apprentice allowance claimed.
Horses listed in order of post positions.
First post, 3 p. m., E. D. T.
Weather, clear; track, fast.

Lincoln Fields Results.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST—Seven furlongs; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Birdseye, 105 (Wilson).. 54.00 15.00 5.80
Jobisco, 110 (Haas)..... 13.80 5.80
Coningham, 100 (Mora)..... 3.80
Redress, Boiling Point, Herbar, Larry M. and Kal Mask also ran. Time, 1:32 2-5.

SECOND—Seven furlongs; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Two Tricks, 107 (Monk)..... 14.40 8.40 5.40
Bernardine W., 105 (F. Roberts) 12.40 7.40
Parva Stella, 100 (Packer)..... 2.80
Our Silesia, Pierre Andre, Siralljacket, Chatterfol, Dandy Jay and Beaver Lake also ran. Time, 1:25 3-5.

THIRD—Seven furlongs; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Proxy, 113 (Rodriguez).. 17.60 10.00 6.40
Gold Standard, 116 (Jacobs).. 24.60 15.00
Color Bearer, 105 (J. G. Wilson)..... 7.60
Hoosier's Pride, Santerno, Relleck, Festoon, Witan, Captain Red also ran. Time, 1:25 1-5.

FOURTH—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $800; allowances; for 2-year-olds.
Co-Sport, 109 (Dotter)... 6.40 6.20 2.40
Lassator, 116 (F. Roberts).... 10.00 3.20
Mad Money, 116 (G. Smith)..... 2.20
Royal Blue, Knee Deep, Cuckoo, †Marie also ran. Time, 1:04 4-5 (new track record).
†Le Mar Stock Farm entry.

FIFTH—Six furlongs; purse, $800; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Leading Article, 111 (Ryan) 8.40 3.60 2.60
Faust, 116 (Dotter)..... 6.80 4.00
Bartering Kate, 108 (G. Smith)..... 3.20
Foxot, Colonel Ed, Squaw Lady, Boston Sound, Manrico also ran. Time, 1:11 2-5.

SIXTH—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; the Governors Highway; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Solar Hawk, 106 (F. Roberts) 8.00 3.40 2.40
Antena, 99 (Packer)..... 2.80 2.20
Ma, 101 (Dotter)..... 2.60
Panic Relief, Black River, Glory Greenock also ran. Time, 1:11 2-5.

SEVENTH—One and one-eighth miles; purse, $800; claiming; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Centennial, 112 (South).... 7.80 4.60 3.40
Manhattan, 112 (West)..... 4.00 3.40
Reslaway, 112 (Rodriguez)..... 3.20
Sir Ajax, Hazy Autumn, Pandan, Rush Play, Playaway also ran. Time, 1:53.

EIGHTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $800; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Glacier Eve, 105 (West)...180.00 8.80 7.00
Watonga, 112 (South)..... 10.60 8.20
Move After, 100 (S. Roberts)..... 30.60
Kendal Green, Chrysostle, Anna V. L., Solcson, Malay, Wayaloft and Poet Prince also ran. Time, 1:46 4-5.

Saratoga Results.

By the Associated Press.

FIRST—Five and one-half furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; maidens fillies; 2-year-olds.
†Well Timed, 113 (K'tsinger) 4-1 8-5 7-10
†Sonnstop, 113 (Richards)..... 5-2 6-5
Muddler, 105 (Balaski)..... 8-2
Pink Flag, Wish Girl, Mastiash, My Pauline, Ball Out, †Dacotah, Broad Vision, On Cave, Delevely and †Matuta also ran. Time, 1:07 1-5.
†W. H. Asiel and J. M. Roebling entry.

SECOND—About two miles; The Welship Steeplechase; purse, $1,300; for 4-year-olds and upward.
Our Trouble, 142 (Mitchell) 25-1 7-1 2-1
Rickscook, 152 (Clements)..... 5-2 7-10
Sideaway, 152 (Jones)..... 1-5
Galsac and Omel also ran. Time, 4:16 1-5.

THIRD—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Oh Home, 111 (Synder)..... 8-1 3-1 8-5
Knowing, 114 (Arcaro)..... 7-5 7-10
Cardinalis, 110 (Kurtsinger)..... 5-2
Early Times, Indomitable, Wise Duke, Microphone, Who Has and Little Shaver also ran. Time, 1:12 2-5.

FOURTH—Wilson Mile; The Caughnawaga; allowances; for 3-year-olds.
Alexandrine, 104 (Record)..... 3-1 4-5 1-4
Cleom Buster, 114 (James)..... 1-3 out
Lausanne, 105 (Lensden)..... 7-5
Grace Carome and Sammie also ran. Time, 1:39 2-5.

FIFTH—Wilson Mile; The Mohawk Stakes; purse, $2,000 added; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
Testing, 121 (Wright)..... 1-1 1-3 1-8
Twice, 104 (Lensden)..... 3-1 6-5
Walnark, 108 (James)..... 1-2
†Chief Cherokee, Higher Cloud, Swahili and Ferryboat also ran. Time, 1:38 2-5.
†W. H. Barri and H. W. Jackson entry.

SIXTH—Six furlongs; purse, $1,000; allowances; colts and geldings; for 3-year-olds.
Fernie, 117 (Gilbert)..... 4-5 1-3 1-6
Wise Counsel, 117 (Lensden)..... 2-1 7-10
Tedium, 112 (Knapp)..... 3-1
Dan Cupid, Kaimin, †Company Halt, Maevel, Cal Rainey, Teddy Weed, Jack Be Nimble, Enchanted also ran. Time, 1:13 1-5.
†A. G. Vanderbilt entry.

SEVENTH—One and one-sixteenth miles; purse, $1,000; claiming; for 3-year-olds and upward.
*Masker, 108 (Eccard)..... 13-10 1-3 out
Chief Yeoman, 111 (Chalf)..... 7-10 1-3
Flying Falcon, 114 (Peters)..... out
Crystal Prince and Gallopino also ran. Time, 1:54.
*Mill River Stable and S. A. W. Baltazzi entry.

At The Post

WITH BILL BENNINGS

Dear Al,

The race that the promoters of this track hope will become a Kentucky Derby or a Preakness is scheduled this afternoon and has drawn a field worthy of the $50,000 added money. The Massachusetts Handicap is at a mile and an eighth and if you have a favorite among the year's handicap horses he probably will be in action. Washington has two reasons, other than betting, for rooting interest in the race. The Capital's hope for the 1937 handicap championship, Aneroid, will be in action despite a heavy weight assignment of 128 pounds. Among the jockeys will be Washington's own Eddie

Lynch, Breeze, Latona Win in Mid-Atlantic Tennis

Trio Joins Mitchell in Semifinals

Latona Upsets Frank Goeltz in 3 Sets; Others Win Handily.

By Bob Garrison.

Messrs. Hugh Lynch, Bill Breese and Tony Latona, seeded from No.'s 2 through 4, respectively, joined the top seeded Dooly Mitchell in the semifinal round of the Middle Atlantic Men's Singles Tournament yesterday by brushing aside their quarter-final opponents in style becoming their ratings, on the Edgemoor Club courts.

Breese won the right to meet Mitchell, ruler of the local roost while his pals, Barney Welsh and Gil Hunt are displaying their tennis before out-of-town galleries, in the first semifinal match scheduled for 4:30 today. Lynch and Latona will meet in the other at 2:30 on the Edgemoor Courts.

Latona, irrepressible strategist, pulled the first upset of the tournament when he eliminated Frank "Buddy" Goeltz, of Wilkes Barre, Pa., seeded No. 1 among the foreign entries, in three sets, 6—2, 2—6, 6—1. Latona, who is seeded No. 4 in the local field, won from the 31-year-old trucking company official when he calmly mapped his attack and settled back to watch it materialize.

That attack by the other two players, Hugh Lynch or Bill Breese, both of whom won in straight sets from Lieut. Bill Howard, Navy Leech Cup player, and Billy Contreras, Chilian born Public Parks star, respectively, would not have been exceptional, but when the dynamic, quick-to-fly-off-the-handle Latona chose to relax on his retrieving game alone, awaiting Goeltz's errors, and stuck to it, it made news.

After Tony had won the first set, Goeltz, whose trap shots have been the talk of the tourney, took the second in just as easy fashion. But in the third, Latona, who had no more resembled the shouting, erratic player he has been in previous tournaments than Lionel Barrymore does Freddie Bartholomew, concentrated on keeping the ball in play. It worked to the extent that he won the first five games and the set as Goeltz, who failed to change his game to match, erred constantly.

Lynch, the former Princeton net captain, who carries the No. 2 rating, trounced Lieut. Howard, 6—0, 6—1, in routing the eighth seeded player and allowing him but one game. Lynch continued his sensational play which has seen him lose but eight games in five matches.

In the city's best battle of left-handed players, Bill (Baron) Breese, local attorney and former Harvard University netman, conquered wee Billy Contreras in two fast sets of tennis, 6—4, 6—3. Breese, gigantic in comparison with the 135-pound South American, who made his debut in local tennis as an Eastern High player, used his forehand smash to ring up many placements in advancing.

Riggs to Meet Yamagishi in Tennis Finals

Defeat Hendrix and Surface in Meadow Club's Tourney.

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—Bobby Riggs, of Los Angeles, and Jrio Yamagishi, Japanese Davis Cup ace, top-seeded among the American and foreign players, qualified today to meet in the final of the forty-seventh Meadow Club men's invitation tennis tournament.

Riggs whipped Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, Fla., 6—2, 6—2, 6—2. Yamagishi then improved on the performance by giving Hal Surface, of Kansas City, only four games and 45 minutes of action. He won, 6—0, 6—0, 6—4.

Their form today indicated another battle as close as the one they staged at Seabright, N. J., last week when Riggs won in five sets.

Hendrix was partly responsible for his own downfall. He had little control over his forehand, which hit the net repeatedly, and his volleying was badly off. Riggs was at the top of driving game.

Riggs also qualified for tomorrow's doubles final, pairing with Bernie Coghlan, of Los Angeles, to defeat Yamagishi and Fumiteru Nakano, 6—2, 3—6, 6—4. Their rivals will be Alfred Jarvis, of Tenafly, N. J., and Gardnar Mulloy, of Miami, who took a five-setter from Surface and Charles Harris, of West Palm Beach, Fla., 6—3, 1—6, 1—6, 6—2, 7—5.

In mixed doubles semifinals, Miss Alison Harrison, Philadelphia, Pa., and Dwight F. Davis, jr., Southampton, N. Y., defeated Justice Cutting, Southampton, N. Y., and Robert Risely, Oxford Cambridge, 2—6, 6—3, 6—4.

Mrs John Gensler, Southampton, N. Y. and Martin Buxby, Miami, Fla., defeated Mrs. John Lawrence, Southampton, and Frank Guernsey, jr., Orlando, Fla., 6—2, 1—0, 16—14.

REPAIRING
Speedometers and Gas Gauges, etc.
CREEL BROTHERS
1311 14th ST. N.W. DE. 4220

EXPERT
RADIO SERVICE
Call Columbia 3311
Guaranteed Radio Service Co.
3442 14th St. N.W. Col. 3311

Time Out! BY CHET SMITH

It's his third referee since he turned pro!

Shirley Povich's sports column, "This Morning," comes to you in The Sunday Post, too.

Reds Trounce Dodgers, 3-1, In Night Game

Davis Allows 4 Hits as Cincinnati Ties for 6th Place in Loop.

By the Associated Press.

Cincinnati, Aug. 6.—The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 1, tonight behind four-hit pitching of Ray "Peaches" Davis to win their first night game this season. They have played four.

The victory tied the Reds with the Dodgers for sixth place.

The Reds got onto Roy Henshaw for eight hits, one of them a double by George Davis, appearing in his first game for Cincinnati since purchased from Jersey City.

He accounted for one of the Reds' two runs in the first inning. Cuyler singled, went to third on Davis' hit, then scored on Hafey's out. Davis crossed the plate on a single by Catcher Virgil Davis. The other Red run came in the seventh.

The Dodgers tallied in the fourth on Cooney's double and Hasset's single.

Brooklyn.	AB	H	O	A	Cin'nati.	AB	H	O	A
L'getto,2b	4	0	2	1	Cuyler,rf...	4	3	1	0
Cooney,cf.	3	1	3	0	O.Davis,lf.	4	2	2	0
*Phelps...	1	0	0	0	Sc'sella,1b.	2	0	15	2
Hassett,1b	2	1	4	2	Hafey,cf...	4	1	1	0
Brack,rf..	2	0	2	0	V.Davis,c..	4	2	2	0
Manush,rf	1	1	0	0	K'pouris,2b	2	0	3	3
Winsett,lf	3	0	2	0	Riggs,3b...	4	0	0	6
English,ss.	3	1	3	3	Myers,ss...	3	0	2	6
Stripp,3b.	3	0	0	1	R.Davis,p..	4	0	1	0
Spencer,c..	3	0	8	0
Henshaw,p	2	0	0	1	Totals..	31	8	27	17
†Bucher..	1	0	0	0
Totals..	28	4	24	8

*Batted for Cooney in ninth.
†Batted for Henshaw in ninth.

Brooklyn	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	x	—3

Runs—Cooney, Cuyler (2), G. Davis. Error—Myers. Runs batted in—Hassett, Scarsella, Hafey, V. Davis. Two-base hits—Cooney, G. Davis. Stolen base—Cuyler. Sacrifice—Scarsella. Double plays—Myers to Kampouris to Scarsella. Kampouris to Myers to Scarsella. Scarsella to Myers to Scarsella. Left on bases—Brooklyn, 1; Cincinnati, 9. First base on balls—Off Henshaw, 4; off R. Davis, 1. Struck out—By Henshaw, 6; by R. Davis, 2. Umpires—Reardon, Pinelli and Goetz. Time of game—One hour 55 minutes.

Johnsen, Heffner Defeated at Culver

Culver, Ind., Aug. 6 (AP).—David Johnsen and Harry Heffner of Washington, D. C., ran into too much California brand of tennis today, and were eliminated in the semi-final round of the national junior doubles at the Culver Military Academy.

Frank Kovacs, of Oakland, Calif., and Myron McNamara, of Hollywood, defeated the Eastern pair in straight sets, 6—0, 6—4, to gain the final round.

Kovacs and McNamara carried too many guns for Heffner and Johnson. The California duo smashed and volleyed from all angles, many times cleanly splitting the court for placements as Heffner and Johnsen tried vainly to halt the runaway.

Minor Leagues

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.
Baltimore, 6; Toronto, 1.
Newark, 8-3; Rochester, 6-4.
Jersey City, 4; Montreal, 1.
Buffalo-Syracuse (rain).

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Minneapolis, 9; Indianapolis, 7.
Toledo, 11; Milwaukee, 5.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.
Jacksonville, 10; Columbus, 3.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION.
Little Rock, 3; New Orleans, 1.
Memphis, 9; Birmingham, 5.

TEXAS LEAGUE.
Fort Worth, 5; Dallas, 0.
Tulsa, 5; Oklahoma City, 2.
Galveston, 2; Houston, 0.
San Antonio, 10; Beaumont, 7.

BASEBALL'S BIG SIX!

Baseball's Big Six in batting went through their second straight day without a change in position yesterday, although Ducky Medwick lost ground in the National League race, while Cecil Travis, of the Senators, picked up two more points in the American. Medwick, hitting one-for-four, dropped two points to .402, while second-place Gabby Hartnett picked up four points to .392. Travis, getting two-for-five, remained at .383, while second-place Lou Gehrig slipped two points to .376.

Standing of the leaders (first three in each league):

Player, Club	G	AB	R	H	Pct.
Medwick, Cards	95	378	82	152	.402
Hartnett, Cubs	64	204	26	80	.392
Travis, Senators	71	281	40	109	.388
Gehrig, Yankees	96	359	90	135	.376
P. Waner, Pirates	95	384	67	144	.375
DiMaggio, Yanks	90	376	99	139	.370

Jersey Boats Triumph at St. Michaels

Atlantic City, Ocean City Craft Score; Orme, of D. C., Is Second.

By the Associated Press.

St. Michaels, Md., Aug. 6.—New Jersey speed boat drivers battled freakish weather of rain squalls and broiling sunshine today to race to smashing victories in the first day of the annual Miles River regatta.

The weather turned against a river-full of racing sailboats, leaving them becalmed on the courses. The speedsters, however, churned up the water to give a gala opening to the two days of racing here.

S. Mortimer Auerbach, the veteran driver from Atlantic City, N. J., and John Glennon, of Ocean City, N. J., the latter racing in Maryland water for the first time, took most of the laurels on power boat course.

Tying with them for honors were Joe Mongle, of Wilmington, Del., and Edgar Dobson, of Annapolis, both colorful and experienced members of Eastern seaboard racing fraternity.

Auerbach's streamlined red and white Emancipator VI accounted for both heats of 135-cubic-inch class race. Both times, Auerbach beat out Fred Hah, jr., also of Atlantic City, in Baby Pep.

Glennon's New Wild Goose, a gray streak in the water, driven by Arno Apel, outclassed James Orme, of Washington, D. C., who drove his Wooden Horse in second both times.

By far the fastest unlimited inboard racing in bay regattas this season, Dobson's Miss Severn walked away from his bitter rival, Harry Eklof, of Baltimore, in two heats of the competition for the Miles River Trophy—a 10-mile event.

Joe Monigle's Joe Don took the water eight times. He won the Class C-D race on better elapsed time, defeating Frank Muzzy, of Philadelphia, and scored a second and two thirds to top off a busy day.

George Ward, jr., also of Wilmington, fought it out all the way in the Class E event with the Myne Two, owned by John Charles Thomas, the Metropolitan Opera barytone, and driven by Bill Bigelow, of Easton. The first heat went to Ward, with the final heat tomorrow.

The Myne Two swept both heats of the Class F-G event, Monigle trailing each time.

Handicapped by flukey weather alternating between rain squalls and brilliant sunshine Washington yachtsmen scored a clean sweep in the Albatross sailing class at the sixteenth annual Miles River Regatta at St. Michael's, Md. Led by 17-year-old John C. Harding, jr., who piloted his Raven to first place, the Capitol delegation annexed the first five places. Emile Hartge's Hawk was second, Dick Wallace's Osprey third, Dick Cox's Falcon fourth and Commodore Bill Heintz's Madic fifth.

Step Aside, a St. Michael's entry, beat out Dick Hartge's new Defender in the 20-foot open division, for first honors, but Washington skippers under difficult sailing conditions ran away with the rest of the Albatross score sheet. Osburn Owings Vanity taking third, with H. C. Bush's Cricket II in fourth place. On the speed course, Jack Schneiders Chaquita, was in fourth position in the first two heats, and Jack Hyde's Winkle II dropped to sixth in the first but recovered to third in the second. A full program of sail and power events fill today's racing program. Comet results were not listed at press time.

Furr to Get Coast Fight If He Wins

Will Box Glenn Lee for $3,500 if He Whips Signor Venturi.

By Lewis F. Atchison.

Looking like the proverbial million, and 6 per cent interest, Phil Furr, Washington's wandering welterweight, stepped up this training pace a couple of notches yesterday upon receipt of word from California that a lucrative bout with Glenn Lee awaits him if he gets by Vittorio Venturi Monday night.

Manager Chris Dundee, still on the coast with Ken Overlin, wired Furr that $3,500 has been offered for his services in the event that Signor Venturi doesn't slip him a sleeping powder or take the decision. That's sizeable sugar to Phillip and even though there's a lot of punching before the pay-off, he is eager to take the bout.

Got Run-Round.

Lee, as if you didn't know, is the No. 1 challenger for champion Barney Ross' crown, and formidable enough to cause Ross to take the great northern route around him when it came time to select an opponent. The champion elected to meet Ceferino Garcia, No. 2 challenger, whom Furr fought and stayed with ten rounds, although he lost to the duke.

Furr is in the best shape of his colorful and eccentric career, and despite those threats Venturi has been hurling in rare old Eyetalian from New York, figures to give the good Signor a good trouncing. His timing, about as good as yesterday's razor blade earlier in the week, has improved until he can pick a fly off your chin with a left hook from 10 paces.

Matchmaker Goldie Ahearn yesterday completed his card with the addition of Baby Manual and Ray Borree, featherweights, who will go six heats or less.

Torrance on Card.

Jack Torrance, one of Louisiana's landmarks during the late Huey Long's tenure, mixes with Murray Kanner, a local prospect, in a special six-rounder that promises to panic the fans. Crowd pleasing "Irish Johnny" Dean meets up with Al Dunbar in the 10-round semi-final, another good one.

Dunbar was unable to answer the second round bell last Monday because of a chance meeting with Dean's punishing right, and is out for revenge.

Battling Zuzu and Prince Albert, a couple of local Negro lightweights, have been commissioned to open the show with four rounds of frolic and fisticuffing.

Mrs. Fabyan Plays Polish Star Today

East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP).—Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, of Cambridge, Mass., third-ranking woman tennis player of America, and top-seeded favorite, gained the final round of the Maidstone Club invitation tournament today with a 6—2, 6—3 triumph over Mme. Sylvia Henrotin, of France.

Tomorrow Mrs. Fabyan will play Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, of Poland, for the title and the Woodin gold cup. The hard-hitting Polish champion reached the final yesterday by defeating Graeyn Wheeler, of Santa Monica, Calif., in straight sets.

Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, of Austin, Tex., and Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles, completed the final brackets in the doubles when they conquered Miss Jedrzejowska and Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, 7—5, 4—6, 7—5. Their rivals will be Mme. Henrotin and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, of New York and Stamford, Conn.

Sandlot Scores

U. S. Govt. League.

F. B. I.	AB	H	O	A	Treasury	AB	H	O	A
Routon,ss.	6	3	0	1	Camp,ss,p..	4	0	0	3
G'ti,3b,2b.	5	4	1	3	Gr'ham,cf.	3	1	3	0
Barrr,cf..	5	3	1	0	M.M'r'e,p,ss	3	1	1	2
C'flower,lf	2	0	0	0	O'Connell,c	3	1	2	0
Beall,1b...	4	3	1	0	McGill,2b..	2	0	5	3
Morris,2b.	4	2	3	1	Ed'ston,1b.	3	0	8	0
Shapiro,rf	3	0	0	0	Preston,3b.	2	1	1	0
Xander,c..	6	5	11	0	Ch'erlin,rf.	3	0	1	0
Nichols,p.	4	0	1	0	McCaleb,lf.	1	0	0	0
Neely,3b..	1	0	0	0	B.Moore,lf.	2	1	2	0
Th'pson,lf	0	0	0	0
Horgan,1b.	1	0	3	0	Totals..	26	5	21	8
L'ton,rf,2b	2	2	2	0
Tennant,p	0	0	1	0
Totals..	43	23	21	5

F. B. I.	5	3	5	2	0	2	0	—17
Treasury	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Runs—Giogannetti (3), Cauliflower (2), Beall (3), Shapiro, Morris.

Columbian League.

Cards.	AB	H	O	A	Bakers.	AB	H	O	A
G'land,1b.	5	0	10	0	Moore,rf..	3	1	2	0
Nello,3b...	3	1	2	1	Placa,c...	3	0	8	0
M'coney,ss	4	2	1	2	Solt,lf....	3	0	2	0
Lynham,p.	3	1	0	2	H'eson,2b..	3	0	1	2
R'bers,lf..	4	1	2	0	H'gedon,1b	3	0	10	1
B'stein,cf.	4	2	1	0	S'man,ss..	3	0	2	3
C'mbus,2b	4	0	1	2	B'tham,cf..	3	1	1	0
Smith,c..	3	0	10	1	McC'thr,3b	2	0	1	2
T'gane,rf.	4	1	0	0	F'cloth,p..	3	0	0	1
					*Shafer,rf.	1	0	0	0
Totals..	34	8	27	8	Totals..	27	2	27	9

*Batted for Moore.

Cardinals	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	—3
Bakers	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	—2

Runs—Nello, Lynham, Rothenberg (2), Moore, Graniham. Runs batted in—Lynham, Rothenberg (2), Moore, Graniham.

Merchant Nine Wins.

Meyersdale, Pa., Aug. 6.—Frostburg's Merchants, of the Bi-State Baseball League, easily defeated Meyerdale's club in the return game here, 11-3. The locals won the previous contest at Frostburg, Md., 2-0.

Sandlot Pick-ups

By Jack Munhall.

ROSE LIQUOR'S entry in the unlimited A section of the National City League is the choice of the wise observers to repeat its first-half victory gained in a play-off with Heurich and Gordon . . . after Gordon had defeated Heurich Rose blasted the Cafeteriamen by a 19-1 margin . . . Already a well-balanced, fast and smart club, it took full advantage of three optional additions allowed each manager at the completion of the initial half by adding three outstanding players . . . The newcomers, TOMMY NOLAN, Georgetown University outfield star who may earn a regular position; LENNY ROBERTS, an outfielder and a handy reserve player who was recruited from Shady Grove, and QUINTIN GABRELLIA, formerly a catcher with Fordham University, who also plays with WPA in a week-day circuit . . . GABRELLIA lends the catching department needed help.

Rose is well-fortified in a pitching way what with WALTER MURPHY and CHARLEY BOOKER in excellent form . . . MURPHY, a big, fireballing right-hander, once saw seervice with Omaha in the Western League and later was given a trial with the Boston Red Sox . . . he had been doing the bulk of the mound work until several weeks ago when Booker showed stuff sufficient to warrant him an equal chance as a starter . . . MELVIN FUGITT, former Woodman of the World player, is the regular catcher and is a capable receiver as well as a consistent hitter . . . CHARLES (FRANNY) McGUIRE is the third catcher . . . In the infield RAY CLARK, rangy lad, maker of amazing stops and a good hitter, is at first; FREDDY NAU, a clever fielder and hitting better than before, is at second; EDDIE CINOTTI, the team's sparkplug and one of the two best shortstops, is at second, and the hard-hitting JOE PUSATERI completes the inner works at third base . . .

In the outfield, BOOKER, the best hitter on the club, is placed in right when he does not pitch to capitalize on his skill with the stick; KARL (SMITTY) NAU, another Georgetown University gardener, is in left, and the reliable DICK CULLINS roams the extensive stretches of centerfield with consummate ease . . . NOLAN will probably alternate with BOOKER and CULLINS.

Parker, Grant Heading Grass Courts Field

Davis Cup Players Seeded No. 1 and No. 2; Budge Will Shun Singles.

By the Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 6.—As Don Budge has decided to restrict his competition to doubles, Frankie Parker, the well-built youngster from Milwaukee and Spring Lake, N. J., second to Budge in the national ranking list, has been seeded No. 1 for the Eastern grass courts singles championship starting tomorrow at the Westchester Country Club, Rye, N. Y.

Parker and Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, teammates with Budge on the victorious United States Davis Cup team, are seeded No. 1 and 2 in the group of eight that tops the entry list of 64.

Behind them in the draw come Bobby Riggs, brilliant California youngster who lost to Budge in a five-set final last year; Frank Shields, former Davis cupper now on furlough from the Hollywood movie lots; Joe Hunt, of Los Angeles, John Van Ryn, of Austin, Texas; Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, Fla., and Prof. John McDiarmid, of Princeton.

Besides the eight Americans, there is a foreign seeded list of three—Jiro Yamagishi, Fumiturn Nakano and Hideo Nishimura, all of Japan.

Non-seeded contenders for the right to succeed Budge are Gilbert Hunt, of Washington, D. C.; Don McNeill, of Oklahoma City, Gene Mako, Budge's doubles partner; Gardner Mulloy, J. Gilbert Hall, Charles Harris, and Martin Buxby.

Topping the seeded list for women's singles, which drew 51 entrants, is national champion Alice Marble, the San Francisco girl who recently won at Seabright. Following her, in order, are Gracyn Wheeler, of Los Angeles, Helen Pedersen, of Stamford, Conn.; Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Dorothy Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif.; Katherine Winthrop, and Mrs. Virginia Rice Johnson, both of Boston, and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, of New York.

The foreign entry is topped by Jadwica Jedrzejowska, hard-hitting Polish girl who was runner-up at Seabright, and also includes Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France and Mrs. Tokuko Nakano of Japan.

Washington A. C. Leaves For Two-Game Journey

The Washington A. C. will leave this morning at 10 o'clock from Tenth and H streets northwest for Warsaw, Va., where it will play Warsaw A. C. and on Sunday Frederick Hustlers will be played at Frederick.

Wins Swim Event.

Peidmont, W. Va., Aug. 6.—Mitzi Sutherland, Cumberland, Md., won the junior and senior class while Billy Sutherland won the freshman diving championships at the water pageant being staged here. Miss Sutherland scored 71 points in the senior class to 70 by Charles Bolyard, of Keyser, and 60 by James Samuels.

Probable Pitchers.

National League.

Boston (Turner 11-7) at Chicago (Lee 12-9).

New York (Melton 11-6) at Pittsburgh (Brown 4-0).

Brooklyn (Frankhouse 5-7) at Cincinnati (Hallahan 3-5).

Philadelphia (Mulcahy 4-9) at St. Louis (Weiland 6-9).

American League.

Detroit (Poffenberger 6-2 and Bridges 10-6) at Washington (Ferrell 9-12 and Chase 1-1), two games.

St. Louis (Walkup 6-6) at Philadelphia (Caster 8-12).

Cleveland (Harder 6-7) at New York (Ruffing 14-3).

Chicago (Lyons 7-5) at Boston (Grove 10-4).

Rippy Shoots Tune-up 70 at TourneyScene

Capital Hope Plays With Abbott, 1936 Champ; Exhibition Booked.

San Francisco, Aug. 6 (AP).—Par took a drubbing today as 40 golf teams from all parts of the Nation—and Hawaii—tuned up for next week's national public links tournament.

Today's rounds were in preparation for Sunday's best ball foursomes, a preliminary to the tournament which opens officially Monday with the first 18 holes of the 36-hole qualifying round, and continues through Saturday.

Pat Abbott, of Pasadena, Calif., who won the title yast year at Bethpage, Long Island, and Claude Rippy, of Washington, D. C., comedalist and runnerup, will match shots in one of the foursomes.

After today's practice many leading performers said sub-par rounds would be common in the qualifying test Monday and Tuesday. Par for the 6,719-yard Harding Park course is 72.

Rippy carded a 70 in one practice round, a Honolulu star clipped a stroke off perfect figures, and another toured the layout in 72.

Abbott turned in a 71, as did Pete Bramhall, Western public links champion from San Mateo.

A lean lad of 25, Abbott achieved one of his most notable victories in 1935 in the Southern California Open when he defeated a field that included Walter Hagen, MacDonald Smith, Willie Coggin and other golf prominents.

Charley Ferrera, former public links champion, injured his arm in a recent automobile accident, and will not play in the team competition, but may compete in the championship play.

Sunday's special foursome match will pair Rippy and Kammy Lau, of Honolulu, against Abbott and Otto Griener, Baltimore star.

Misses Jacob And Thompson Gain Finals

Betty Jacob, of Montrose, and Molly Thompson, of Chevy Chase, favorites in the junior girls' singles tennis tournament conducted by the Department of Playgrounds, advanced to the final round yesterday, as expected, with straight-set victories, though Miss Jacob was hard pressed to win over tiny Shirley Combs, of Happy Hollow.

While Betty achieved a 10—8, 7—5 triumph, Miss Thompson was beating Dorothy Blake, of Rosedale, almost as she pleased, the final score being 6—0, 6—1. The ease of most of her victories makes Miss Thompson a slight favorite when she plays Miss Jacob for the title on Tuesday morning.

Miss Combs battled her more experienced opponent on even terms through the first set, the lead seesawing between the players until Miss Jacob rallied strongly with the score 8-7 against her. She took three games in a row behind a strong service and steady stroking to get the set.

In this set the score stood 3-1 in favor of Miss Combs, then Miss Jacob took three successive games to get the edge. After Shirley went ahead, 5-4, the advantage shifted until the sixteenth game, when the Montrose girl came from behind to win.

The second set was a repetition of the first, Betty getting a 4-1 lead only to see her smaller opponent pull on even terms by reeling off three straight games. With the count tied at 5-all, Miss Jacob's superior strength and experience again enabled her to rally strongly to win the set and match.

In the doubles, Evelyn and Betty Lewis, of Sherwood, moved into the quarters by downing Marie Forti atnd Jean White, of New York Avenue, 6—3, 6—3. Constance and Dorothy McCulley, of Burroughs, another sister team, immediately toppled the Lewis sisters from competition, 6—4, 9—7, to gain the semifinals.

Herndon, Clarendon Battle for First Place

First place in the Old Dominion League will be at stake Sunday when Herndon and Clarendon in first and second place, respectively, clash on the Herndon field. Lanny Birch will pitch for Clarendon and either Joe Garvey or Nobel McDaniels for Herndon.

Wants Game.

Park Lane A. C. is seeking a game with an unlimited nine for tomorrow. Call AD. 7173 between 7:30 and 10 a. m.

Today's Cross Word Puzzle

ACROSS.

1 Wager
4 Imaginary lines marking latitudes on the earth's surface
13 Point at which a bean sprouts
14 Epidemic disease among animals
15 Be penitent
17 Summit
18 Negative
19 Tipping to one side
20 Writing implement
21 By
22 Spreads to dry
23 Vat or cistern
24 Project
25 Greek letter
26 2000 pounds
27 Bazaars
28 Class of single-celled animals
31 Descendant
33 Kind of dog
34 River bottom
37 Tight
38 High mountain
39 Tube
40 Take up weapons
41 Cook in a certain way
42 Circles of light
43 Among
44 Malt liquor
45 Cooking formula
46 Story
49 Thrice: prefix
50 Slovenly persons
51 Still

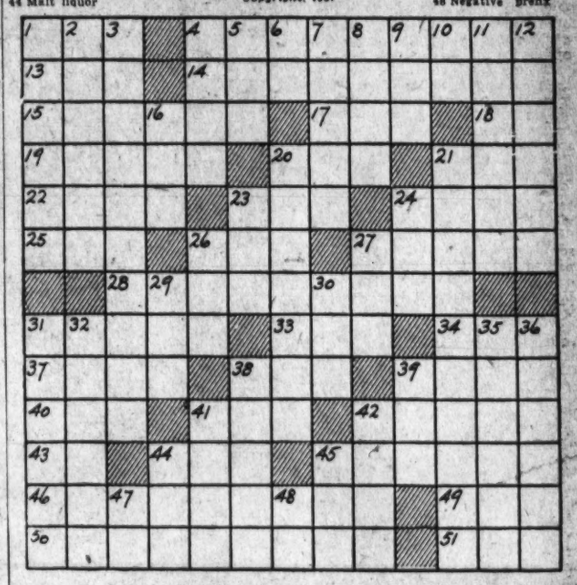
DOWN.

1 Scold
2 Small lined perforation
3 Warm room for a bath
4 Confined
5 Likely
6 Smallest State: abbr.
7 Mexican Indian
9 Cut off
10 And: Latin
11 In a straight direction
12 Disdains
16 English letter
20 Full set of arms
21 Flexibility
23 Pen name of Charles Dickens
24 Tablet
26 Metal
27 Dense mist
29 Decidedly above normal temperature
30 Young dog
31 Discolors
32 Fleshly
35 Epic poem
36 Abandon
38 Mountain rides
39 Moccasin
41 Insipid
42 Domestic fowls
44 Knack
45 King Arthur's lance
47 Sun god
48 Negative prefix

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

P	E	R	U		C	O	N	E	S		A	G	E	R
O	V	E	N		A	B	O	V	E		R	O	V	E
S	E	A	M		L	E	G	E	R		B	O	I	L
E	N	D	I	V	E	S		R	I	G	I	D	L	Y
			X	E	B	E	C		N	O	T
C	O	D	E	X		O	S		R	E	P	A	Y
A	P	O	D		W	A	S	P		G	R	A	C	E
D	E	N		N	E	P	T	U	N	E		I	T	A
E	R	O	S	E		S	U	R	A		E	N	O	S
T	A	R	E	S		E	M		A	V	E	R	T
			A	T	T		E	L	O	P	E
C	L	A	S	S	I	C		A	T	T	R	A	C	T
H	O	B	O		L	O	A	T	H		P	V	O	E
O	P	E	N		L	I	T	H	E		S	E	T	S
P	E	T	S		S	N	E	E	R		T	R	E	T

Copyright, 1937



On the Air Today

"Light Cavalry," an overture, opens the concert by the United States Army Band, Capt. Thomas F. Darcy conducting, WOL, at 10:45 a. m. Other selections are "Irene," a saxophone solo; "Dance Macabre," by Saint-Saens; "Echoes of the Past," a Saenger waltz, and "The Man Behind the Gun," a Sousa march.

• • • •

Caspar Reardon, the agile swing harpist, shares guest honor position with the Raymond Scott Quintet and Lou Evans in the "Saturday Night Swing Club," WJSV, at 7. Reardon will play Carmichael's "Washboard Blues."

• • • •

Leoncavallo's opera, "Pagliacci," will be presented by WMAL, at 9, as the concluding programs in the Cincinnati Summer Opera Association series. Originates in the Zoological Gardens, Cincinnati.

• • • •

The concert and radio tenor, Jan Peerce, guest in the "Hit Parade" half hour, WJSV, at 9. With Peter van Steeden and orchestra, Stuart Allen, Freddie Gibson and a male trio. "Sailboat in the Moonlight" continues as first choice in America's popular songs.

The Post Radio Time Table

Saturday, August 7 — Washington — Eastern Standard Time.

	WRC 316M—950KC	WMAL 476M—630KC	WOL 229M—1,310KC	WJSV 206M—1,460KC
6:00	Gordon	.....	.....	.....	6:00
6:15	Hittenmark	.....	.....	.....	6:15
6:30	" "	.....	Sun Dial	" "	6:30
6:45	" "	.....	" "	" "	6:45
7:00	" "	Island Serenaders	Art Brown	" "	7:00
7:15	" "	Today's Prelude..	" "	" "	7:15
7:30	" "	" "	News	" "	7:30
7:45	" "	" "	Art Brown	" "	7:45
8:00	News	Chicago	" "	" "	8:00
8:15	Gordon	Breakfast Club	" "	" "	8:15
8:30	Hittenmark	" "	" "	" "	8:30
8:45	" "	" "	News	" "	8:45
9:00	Charioteers	Air Sweethearts..	Singing Strings..	Civic Forum...	9:00
9:15	Vass Family	Melodic Cameos..	" "	" " ...	9:15
9:30	National Children's Frolic	News	Variety	Let's Pretend..	9:30
9:45		Charles Sears ...	" "	" "	9:45
10:00	Three Ranchers.	Myriad Voices...	News; Pol. Flashes	Fred Feibel...	10:00
10:15	Nancy Swanson	" "	.....	" " ...	10:15
10:30	Mystery Chef...	Nagel's Orchestra	Music	Columbia	10:30
10:45	Dixie Debs	" "	U. S. Army	Concert Hall	10:45
11:00	Three Cs	Call to Youth....	Band	Jack Shannon..	11:00
11:15	"	Three Marshalls..	Theater Preview...	Orientale	11:15
11:30	Raz Battle's Ensemble	Hessberger's Orchestra	Music ..... Melton Records..	To Be An'nced G. Hall's Orch.	11:30 11:45

AFTERNOON PROGRAMS.

12:00	News; Music ..	Strings, Things ..	Music	Captivators ...	12:00
12:15	Junior Tennis	News	News; Music ...	H. B. Derr....	12:15
12:30	D. C. Finals	National Farm	Music	Buffalo Presents	12:30
12:45	Cos'litan Rhythm	and Home Hour	Felton's Orch....	" "	12:45
1:00	Salzburg	" "	Sylvia Cyde ...	Rhythms	1:00
1:15	Festival	" "	" "	Ann Leaf	1:15
1:30	" "	Fernando's Orch.	Palmer Orchestra	" "	1:30
1:45	" "	Cadets Quartet...	Music	Tours in Tone.	1:45
2:00	" "	Radioland	Tony Wakeman ..	Down by	2:00
2:15	C'cert Miniature	Jamboree	" " ...	Herman's	2:15
2:30	Week-End	Ricardo and	Texas Jim Lewis.	Dept. of Comm.	2:30
2:45	Revue	Caballeros	Cup Races.....	Clyde Barrie...	2:45
3:00	" "	Club Matinee....	Tony Wakeman...	Cup Races	3:00
3:15	" "	" "	Saratoga Race ...	Dancepators ..	3:15
3:30	Willy Bryant's	" "	Tony Wakeman...	" " ..	3:30
3:45	Orchestra	" "	Citizens Handicap	" "	3:45
4:00	Massachusetts	S. School Lesson.	Tony Wakeman...	Frank Dailey's	4:00
4:15	Handicap	Lit. Var. Show..	" " ...	Orchestra	4

Wheat Prices Drop as Export Demand Fades

Decline in Chicago Pit Reaches 3⅝ Cents Per Bushel.

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Jarred by tumbles of quotations at Liverpool and Winnipeg, the Chicago wheat market fell 3⅝ cents a bushel maximum today, with little rallying power shown.

Vanishing of any indication of European demand of consequence either for Canadian or United States wheat did much to pull support from under prices, especially at Winnipeg, where values collapsed 4⅝ cents. Reports of moisture suggesting an end of drought conditions both in Argentina and Australia added to the downward market trend.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 2¼@3¼ cents under yesterday's finish, September $1.12⅝@1.12⅞, December $1.13@1.13¼, May $1.14@1.14⅜; Corn 1¼ off to ⅝ up, September $1.00@1.00¼, December 66⅝@66¾, May 68¼@68⅜; oats ⅛@⅜ down, December 30⅜@30½, and rye varying from ⅝ setback to ⅜ advance, December 81⅛@81¼. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 12 cents lower.

Futures Price Range.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
September	1.14¼	1.15¼	1.12⅛	1.12⅝
December	1.14⅛	1.15½	1.12⅞	1.13
May	1.13½	1.16⅜	1.14⅛	1.14¼
Corn—
September	99¾	1.02¼	99¼	1.00
December	67½	69	66¼	66⅝
May	69¼	70½	68	68¼
Oats—
September	29½	30½	29⅜	29⅝
December	30⅝	31⅜	30¼	30⅜
May	32⅛	33¼	32	32⅜
Soy Beans—
October				99
December	99	99¾	97¾	98
May	1.01⅛	1.01½	1.00	1.00
Rye—
September	80½	83¾	80¼	81⅞
December	81	83	80¼	81⅛
May	84	84	81½	81⅝
Lard—
September	12.00	12.00	11.77	11.77
October	12.10	12.10	11.87	11.87
December	11.57	11.57	11.50	11.52
January	11.62	11.62	11.50	11.50

Cash Grain Prices.

WHEAT—No. 2. red, 1.18; No. 1, dark, hard, 1.20¾; No. 2, hard, 1.17¾@1.19¼; No. 3, mixed, 1.10½@1.11¾.

CORN—No. 2, yellow, 1.15; No. 2, white, 1.16.

OATS—No. 1, mixed, 31¼@31½; No. 1, white, 31⅞@32¼.

RYE—No. 2, 87@90.

BARLEY—No. 3, Illinois, 80; feed, 45@85, nominal; malting, 60@82, nominal.

TIMOTHY SEED—2.75@2.80 hundredweight.

Security Averages.

Stocks.

	50 Ind.	20 RRs.	20 Util.	90 T't'l.
Yesterday	164.8	54.0	81.8	133.8
Previous day	165.0	54.7	82.8	134.3
Week ago	162.9	53.9	85.1	133.1
Month ago	158.4	55.7	78.0	129.1
Year ago	150.9	58.2	99.8	127.7
Two years ago	105.3	36.6	71.8	88.8
High, 1936	169.6	64.0	102.0	140.5
Low, 1936	126.2	44.0	80.3	106.4
High, 1935	127.9	45.3	84.8	106.9
Low, 1935	78.6	28.6	39.5	64.0

Bonds.

	20 Ind.	20 RRs.	20 Util.	60 T't'l.
Yesterday	92.0	91.7	102.1	95.2
Previous day	92.0	92.0	102.0	95.3
Week ago	91.5	92.1	101.8	95.1
Month ago	91.3	93.2	100.7	95.1
Year ago	91.8	95.9	105.5	97.7
Two years ago	89.0	78.9	100.6	89.5
High, 1936	94.8	100.4	106.2	100.2
Low, 1936	90.0	84.7	103.5	93.3
High, 1935	91.5	86.4	103.6	93.1
Low, 1935	83.6	71.0	89.3	83.0

(1926 averages equal 100.)

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

The Day's Movements In Leading Markets

Stocks.

	Fri.	Thurs.
Advances	197	228
Declines	381	357
Unchanged	178	171
Total Issues	756	756

Most groups lower; mining shares firm; value, 679,880.

Bonds.

U. S. issues firm in dull trading; transfers, $5,424,000.

Curb.

Generally lower except Cord; turnover, 201,000.

Commodities.

Wheat and cotton lower; sugar higher; coffee steady.

Exchange.

Steady; Great Britain, $4.98½; France, 3.75⅛ cents.

Acacia Club Plans Sea Island Meeting

Announcement was made yesterday by the Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Co. of a series of regional meetings of the William Montgomery Quality Club, membership in which is the mark of outstanding production and conservation. The District of Columbia Branch holds the largest membership in the club and its representatives at the Southern regional convention, to be held next Thursday and Friday at Sea Island, Ga., will constitute the largest single group at any of the three gatherings.

District of Columbia Branch agents who have earned the right to attend the Sea Island meeting are: D. M. Aaronson, J. B. Allison, J. A. Barbeau, G. M. Beeton, Nathan Burns, W. B. Crossan, D. M. Crouch, W. C. Daniel, J. I. Ford, C. C. Gove, sr., C. C. Gove, jr., E. P. Hands, H. R. Hardisty, H. G. Harns, O. D. Heise, L. E. Hendrick, H. J. Kamerow, T. P. Kilroy, W. J. McCausland, R. C. Merritt, L. G. Morris, F. B. Rogers, P. L. Rogers, G. S. Schroeder, R. W. Tatum, H. D. Weant, F. B. Williams, R. W. Winfree.

$100,000,000 Bills Offered by Treasury

The Acting Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that tenders are invited for two series of Treasury bills to the aggregate amount of $100,000,000, or thereabouts. One series will be 129-day bills and the other series will be 273-day bills. Both series will be sold on a discount basis to the highest bidders.

Tenders will be received at the Federal Reserve banks or branches up to 2 p. m. on Monday. Tenders will not be received at the Treasury Department.

Buick and Chevrolet Announce Price Rise

Detroit, Aug. 6 (AP).—The Chevrolet Motor Car Co., a division of General Motors Corporation, notified dealers today that prices of its automobile and truck models would be increased by $30 effective Monday.

Reports in trade circles said the Pontiac division would increase prices approximately $45. The Buick division disclosed today that the amount of its increases, which will be effective August 9, will be $45 to $100.

Rising Metal Prices Reflect World Demand

Steel Scrap Advanced 50 Cents; Lead, Zinc, Copper Higher.

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—A new advance in the price of steel scrap in Pittsburgh today directed attention to strength in metal prices in domestic and foreign spot and futures markets.

No. 1 heavy melting scrap was advanced 50 cents a ton to $22, a new high since early spring. No. 1 railroad scrap was boosted 75 cents a ton to $22.75 and $23.25. Scrap prices are regarded in business circles generally as an accurate barometer of the health of the steel business and industry in general.

With trade sources reporting little metal available for immediate delivery, the domestic price of zinc was marked up one-quarter of a cent a pound to 7.25 cents, East St. Louis.

Lead, copper and zinc were all higher in the London metal market in continuation of a move that commenced last week. Heavy demand, both domestic and foreign, was reported. Visible stocks of both lead and zinc were said to be at low levels.

Sales of copper for export were reported today at 14.875 cents a pound, slightly higher than yesterday's figure. Demand was heavy in the London Metal Exchange. The domestic price remained at 14 cents a pound.

Auto Production Lower for Week

Detroit, Aug. 6 (AP).—Ward's automotive reports said today that output of the motorcar assembly plants this week would be 79,736 units, compared with last week's 86,403.

The report attributed the decline primarily to the suspension of production of the Plymouth Detroit plant on Wednesday, due to labor difficulties, but predicted a temporary rise to around 100,000 cars when Ford plants resume assemblies next week.

Bond Offers Drop Sharply in Week

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Declines in corporate issues in the bond market and the usual mid-summer lull in financial activity were factors in a sharp drop in financing this week, investment circles said today.

New issues fell to $13,586,494 in the week ended August 5, from $37,947,669, a special compilation by Poor's Publishing Co. showed. In the like week a year ago the total was $52,966,857.

Extra Dividends.

New York, Aug. 6.—Directors of Mohawk Carpet Millls, Inc. today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share, plus an extra dividend of 30 cents a share, making a total of 60 cents, on the common shares, payable September 15 to stockholders of record September 10.

The directors of Electrolux Corporation (vacuum cleaners) today declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share and an extra dividend of 10 cents a share on its 1,237,500 shares of common stock outstanding, payable September 15 to stockholders of record August 16.

The Market

By Carlton A. Shively
A Special Correspondent.

Stocks Drift Lower in Less Active Trading; Metals Harden; Wheat Slumps.

New York, Aug. 6.—Stocks weakened after an irregular opening and sales volume declined with the weakness. Turnover was around three-quarters of a million shares. Commodity markets also were unsettled. Grain and cotton declined. September wheat dropped 3 cents to $1.12¾ a bushel.

Speculative interest in stocks was no great shakes outside the metal division. The strong market for copper and some expectation that the price may be advanced increased the bull interest in copper shares. Buying of coppers, gold stocks and other metal issues in the London market is enjoying almost a boom, after a few months of wallowing in pessimism produced by the gold cut rumors of the spring. Copper shares were able to rise fractions in most instances.

Railroad stocks were heavy. The growing probability of a considerable addition to the wage load, without any compensation in revenues, which is unlikely even if freight rates are lifted in some departments, is building up a barrier toward an advance in railroad shares. Other divisions of the stock market had more losses than gains to exhibit.

Against the Stream.

Stocks to move against the downward trend were National Supply, one of the most active in the list, rising more than a point to a new high level; Hercules Motor, a well-liked issue; Pullman, which reflected better earnings; Commercial Credit and Van Raalte.

The Government bond list was firm; notwithstanding the fact that excess bank reserves in this district have declined to the lowest point in a long time, for that was regarded as a temporary development. Second-grade rail issues felt the clammy contact of the share market.

Dollars were down slightly in the foreign exchange market as opposed to stering and francs. Quite possibly the recent sales of gold here by Japan and the transfer to Chinese account of gold for China and Brazil may be causing some sales of dollars as the gold or the dollar exchange is being used.

Worry lest the stock market go into a serious decline is unlikely to expand much so long as the prices for nearly everything except stocks continue to rise. At no time since early in the year, when commodity markets were under the spell of a speculative boom brought on partly by the scramble of Europe and the Orient for war materials and partly by the fears of another outbreak of currency depreciation, have the news pages been so filled with stories of price increases.

Economic Folly.

The Bureau of Labor statistics index of wholesale commodity prices for the last week of July was unchanged at 87.5 from the preceding week, but it stood 9 per cent higher than a year ago. The current stability is deceptive. It was the net result of some profit taking setback in wheat and of irresolution in cotton, for the farm products group was unchanged. Foods, on the other hand, continued to mount, as did hides and leather, fuel, housefurnishings and finished products.

Retail prices always lag behind wholesale prices in a rising market, but they are now rapidly increasing. It needs no statistical index for the ordinary man to realize he is having to pay more for everything he buys—rents, clothing, and especially food. In the food group the rise in meat, eggs, butter and milk is the most pronounced, and increases there are not primarily caused by higher wages, the C. I. O., higher taxes or even drought. They are the legacy of the crop and livestock destruction campaigns of the New Deal in its insane effort to lift prices for the farmer by no matter what means and at no matter what ultimate cost to the American consumer and taxpayer.

To the Cannery.

If the small wage earner thinks he is not being made to foot the bill for the New Deal follies he is simply rather poor at thinking. So far his wages have kept pace with the rise in living costs, but they won't continue much longer to do so. The slaughter of immense numbers of pigs, brood sows, cows, calves and other live stock by Government edict (with reimbursement from the Treasury), to say nothing of the deliberate removal of vast acreages of good land from production, also paid for by the Treasury, tell the story. One or two good crop years are not enough to make good the damage of 1933-4-5 and the losses which are continuing under bonuses now being paid to keep land out of production. It requires many years to build up herds of cattle, hogs and sheep as well as to secure adequate reserves of feedstuffs.

The droughts of 1934 and 1935, which visited only a few sections of the country, merely salted the wounds. With that record of economic insanity the Government is now preparing to rush through Congress another and equally dangerous scheme of crop control under the name of the everfull granary. It ought to go to the almost every empty cannery and stay there.

Mere Clouds on Horizon.

Beef, pork, milk, eggs, butter and other food prices soar on Chicago markets; General Motors units raise prices; Sears Roebuck winter catalogue shows 5 per cent price advance; steel scrap at Pittsburgh advances another 50 cents a ton; lead price increased; brokers' loans rise; July deficit of United States Government double that of year ago. Just some newspaper headlines.

Brokers' Loans.

Brokers' loans rose this week, on the Federal Reserve report, by $34,000,000. Stock Exchange deals only to Monday night were included in the calculation. Last week's performance in stocks, although prices advanced, scarcely suggested that much of a rise in loans, and no such increase has come except at tax dates and at month-ends for a long time. It is quite probable that the increase this time was prompted by month-end financial settlements and bond operations rather than by a transfer of stock holdings from margin traders to outright purchasers. Just the same the absorption of stock by outright buyers (as indicated in the figures of odd lot trading) has been going steadily foward for several weeks.

Investment Trusts Form Banking Firm

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Equity Corporation, an investment trust, and the American General Corporation, its subsidiary, have formed an investment banking firm, known as the First York Corporation, which will participate in underwritings, short-term financing, recapitalization and reorganizations. The formation of the firm was made known in the report to shareholders made by David M. Milton, president of American General, who is the son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller 2d.

Freight Traffic Climbs 31.5% In Two Years

Total of 782,660 Cars in July 31 Week is 4.7% Above Year Ago.

Loading of revenue freight for the week ended July 31 totaled 782,660 cars, the Association of American Railroads announced yesterday. This was an increase of 35,131 cars, or 4.7 per cent above the corresponding week in 1936 and an increase of 187,363 cars or 31.5 per cent above the corresponding week in 1935. Loading of revenue freight for the week of July 31 was an increase of 11,680 cars, or two-tenths of 1 per cent above the preceding week.

Miscellaneous freight loading totaled 307,633 cars, an increase of 1,919 cars above the preceding week, 13,245 cars above the corresponding week in 1936, and 80,48 cars above the corresponding week in 1935.

Loading of merchandise less than carload lot freight totaled 166,817 cars, an increase of 1,208 cars above the preceding week, 2,859 cars above the corresponding week in 1936 and 9,345 cars above the same week in 1935.

Coal loading amounted to 118,622 cars, an increase of 9,856 cars above the preceding week, but a decrease of 6,049 cars below the corresponding week in 1936. It was, however, an increase of 26,637 cars above the same week in 1935.

Grain and grain products loading totaled 51,632 cars, a decrease of 16 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 668 cars above the corresponding week in 1936 and 9,897 cars above the same week in 1935. In the Western districts alone grain and grain products loading for the week ended July 31, totaled 32,098 cars, a decrease of 108 cars below the preceding week and 273 cars below the corresponding week in 1936.

Livestock Loadings Gain.

Livestock loading mounted to 11,288 cars, an increase of 1,887 cars above the preceding week, but a decrease of 4,135 cars below the same week in 1936. It was, however, an increase of 1,757 cars above the same week in 1935. In the Western districts alone loading of livestock for the week ended July 31 totaled 8,090 cars, an increase of 1,265 cars above the preceding week, but a decrease of 3,994 cars below the corresponding week in 1936.

Forest products loading totaled 42,770 cars, an increase of 871 cars above the preceding week, 7,045 cars above the same week in 1936, and 13,514 cars above the same week in 1935.

Ore loading amounted to 73,653 cars, a decrease of 3,817 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 20,095 cars above the corresponding week in 1936, and 40,745 cars above the corresponding week in 1935.

Coke loading amounted to 10,245 cars, a decrease of 228 cars below the preceding week, but an increase of 1,403 cars above the same week in 1936 and 5,120 cars above the same week in 1935.

All districts, except the Eastern, reported increases in the number of cars loaded with revenue freight, compared with the corresponding week in 1936. All districts reported increases compared with the corresponding week in 1935.

Cotton Declines Awaiting Report

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—With sentiment uncertain over the forthcoming bureau crop estimate cotton prices fluctuated nervously today with traders inclined to even up accounts. At the close December sold at 10.78, with final prices showing net losses of 7 to 16 points.

Futures Price Range.

	High.	Low.	Close.
October	11.01	10.86	10.88-99
December	10.93	10.75	10.78-80
January	10.92	10.82	10.82
March	11.06	10.88	10.90-91
May	11.10	10.94	10.94
July	11.11	10.94	10.97

Spot, steady; middling, 11.38.

Cottonseed Oil.

Cottonseed oil, after holding fairly steady early on covering, reacted under renewed liquidation and hedge selling today promoted by the disappointing action of lard and hogs and the setback in grains. Final prices were unchanged to 8 points net lower. Sales, 104 contracts. Bleachable spot, nominal. September closed 8.35; October, 8.28; December, 8.30; January, 8.32; March, 8.35.

Tobacco Markets.

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—Maryland—Receipts this week totaled 3,138 hhds and sales 2,751 hhds.

Prices remain substantially unchanged with the lowest and medium grades strong, but increasing selectivity noticeable for fancy grades.

Crop prospects:

Maryland—Owing to favorable weather prospects for the growing crop have improved materially since July 1. This is especially noticeable where farmers have made a second application of good fertilizer and it is the time and advisable for them to do this to their later plantings if their soil is suitable for this treatment.

Maryland farm leaf, nondescript, 4; common, 4@12; medium, 13@30; good to medium, 11@20; good to fine, 21@38

N. B.—Unsound and badly mixed packages from 2 to 3 cents lower.

Stock in Warehouses.

	Maryland.	Ohio.	Total.
Stock January 1	29,359	92	29,451
Receipts since	29,263	103	29,366
Totals	58,622	195	58,817
Delivered since	31,146	78	31,224
Stocks today	27,476	117	27,593
Sales.
This week	2,751	14	2,765
Previously	21,742	16	21,758
Totals	24,493	30	24,523

Foreign Markets.

By the Associated Press.

London, Aug. 6.—With the exception of transatlantics, which were easier, nearly all divisions of the stock markets closed higher today. Trading was quiet. Mining issues were the best gainers.

Paris—The bourse closed steady today after an uneven start. Industrial and international issues improved. Government bonds were in better demand. Bank of France recovered an early loss and ended 85 points higher. Suez Canal gained 205 points.

Liverpool—After a steady opening, wheat futures closed easy, 1½ to 1¾d lower today. The market declined on prospects of rain in the Argentine, pressure of Australian wheat afloat and continental selling. Early stability in cotton net hedging against outside growths due to American crop loan uncertainties. Declines, however, uncovered fair trade buying and early weather advices were considered less favorable. The close was quiet, unchanged to 1 point lower.

Montreal Silver Futures.

Montreal, Aug. 6 (AP).—Silver futures closed steady and unchanged. No sales.

September	*44.75:	December, *44.70;
March, *44.60.

*Bid.

Dried Fruits Steady.

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Dried fruits unchanged.

Cruise Chairman

GEORGE M. ROWZEE, JR., of the Lincoln National Bank.

Bankers to Hold Moonlight Cruise

The third annual Washington Chapter A. I. B. moonlight cruise is scheduled for next Friday. Arrangements for the event are being made by George M. Rowzee, jr., of the Lincoln National Bank. Tickets are being sold by the board of consuls, under the leadership of Chief Consul John M. Christie, of the Riggs National Bank.

The committee assisting Rowzee in planning the affair includes Donald Hollingsworth, Second National Bank; James Bruen, W. B. Hibbs & Co.; Stephen O. Porter, Riggs National Bank; William Offutt, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; Ralph Mittendorf, American Security & Trust Co.; George Galleher, Lincoln National Bank, and Frederick A. Daum, Security Savings & Commercial Bank.

Local Produce

(Prices paid shippers f. o. b. Washington.)

Eggs.

Market steady to firm at quoted prices. Current receipts, 20@21; hennery whites, best quality, 24@28; ordinary quality, 22@23. Government graded and dated white eggs: U. S. Extras, large, 30; U. S. Extras, mediums, 24½; U. S. Standards, large, 25.

Live Poultry.

Market full steady to firm. Receipts very light. Fowl: Colored, heavy, 19@20; No. 2, 14@15; Leghorns, 14@16; roosters, 13. Chickens: Rocks, 25½@26½; some fancy lots, ½ premium; Crosses, 25½@26½; Leghorns, 2 lbs., 21@23. Reds, 22@24; mixed colors, 22@23; Southern mixed colors, 21@22.

Fruits.

APPLES—Bushel baskets and crates: U. S. No. 1: Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland, Transparents, 2 inches minimum, 60@65; 2¼-inch minimum, 75@1.00; ripe, as to size, 25@60; Duchess, 2¼-inch minimum, 50@60; 2½-inch minimum, 60@75; ripe, as to size, 25@35; Wealthys, 2-inch minimum, 40@50; 2¼-inch minimum, 50@75; 2½-inch minimum, 75@90; Starrs, 2½-inch minimum, 65@75; 2½-inch minimum, 90@1.00; 2¾-inch minimum, 1.00@1.25; ripe, as to size, 50@75; Rambos, 2¼-inch minimum, 75; 2½-inch minimum, 1.00; 2¾-inch minimum, 1.00@1.15; Williams Red, 2¼-inch minimum, 75@85; 2½-inch minimum, 1.00; few, higher; ripe, as to size, 35@50.

CANTALOUPES—North Carolina, Ridge Way Section, Salmon Meats, standards, all sizes, labelled, 50@75; plain, 24; some dumped.

PEACHES—North Carolina, bushel baskets, U. S. No. 1, Elbertas, 2-inch minimum, 2.00@2.25; 2¼-2½-inch minimum, 2.25@2.50; few, 2.75. Virginia, bushel baskets, Belles, U. S. No. 1, 1¾-inch minimum, 1.00; Carmons, 1¾-inch minimum, 50@75; Rileys, U. S. No. 1, 1¾-inch minimum, 1.75@2.00; Slappys, U. S. No. 1, 1¾-inch minimum, 1.60@1.75; Early Belles, U. S. No. 1, 2-inch minimum, 75. New Jersey, ½-bushel baskets, 2¼-inch minimum, Golden Jubilees, 75@1.00.

LIMA BEANS—Pennsylvania, bushel baskets, 1.75. Maryland and New Jersey, fair condition, 1.25.

SPINACH—Pennsylvania, bushel baskets, Savoy type, 60@75.

ORANGES—California, boxes, 4.00@6.00, as to grade and size.

HUCKLEBERRIES—North Carolina, 10@12½ per quart. New Jersey, 32-quart crates, 4.50.

BLUEBERRIES—New Jersey, cultivated, quarts, 25@35; pints, 18@20. Nova Scotia, 18@20 per quart. Maine, 18@20 per quart.

AVOCADO—Florida, flats, 1.00@1.25; Cuba, flats, 75@1.00; ventilated crates, 2.00@3.00.

BEETS—Pennsylvania, 20@30 per dozen bunches.

PLUMS—California, boxes, various varieties, 1.50@2.25.

LIMES—Florida, Key, 4-5 bushel boxes, 2.50@3.50; ½-bushel boxes, 1.25@1.75.

PINEAPPLES—Cuba, crates, 3.00@3.50.

CARROTS—Pennsylvania, 30 per dozen bunches; bushel baskets, topped, 1.25; Ohio, 16-quart climax baskets, 50.

BROCCOLI—Pennsylvania, bushel crates, 1.50@1.75.

CUCUMBERS — Pennsylvania, bushel baskets, fair quality, 1.00.

SNAP BEANS—Pennsylvania, bushel baskets, flat type, 75@1.00; round type, 1.00@1.25.

CABBAGE — Pennsylvania, 1½-bushel hampers, 60@75.

EGGPLANT—New Jersey, bushel baskets, 1.00@1.25.

GRAPES—California, lugs, Thompson Seedless, 2.00@2.75; Red Malagas, 2.25@2.50.

PEARS—California, boxes, Bartletts, 2.25@2.75.

TOMATOES—New Jersey, 12-quart climax baskets, 25.

WATERMELONS—North Carolina, Tom Watsons, truck, 28-38 lbs. average, 20@25 each. Boat: Virginia, bulk per 100 melons, Tom Watsons, 7.00@8.00; Primes, 10.00@15.00; selects, 20.00@30.00.

Vegetables.

PEAS—Colorado, bushel hampers, Telephones, 2.15@2.25; fair condition, 1.50. New York, bushel baskets, fair condition, 1.00@1.25.

POTATOES—100-lb sacks, U. S. No. 1, Cobblers: Pennsylvania, 1.00; New Jersey, 1.05@1.10.

LETTUCE—California, Western crates, Iceberg type, 5-dozen, 3.50@4.00; few, higher; fair condition, 3.00. New York, Eastern crates, Big Boston type, 2-dozen, 50@60.

ONIONS—New York, 50-lb. sacks, yellows, U. S. No. 1, 1.10@1.15; Washington, 50-lb. sacks, Valencias, U. S. No. 1, 1.40@1.50.

CELERY—New York, 2-3 crates, individually washed, 3-6 dozen, 1.25@1.75. Michigan, Highballs, 85@90. Pennsylvania, ½ crates, 1.25@1.50; Highballs, 75@90.

(Quotations from other sources):

BUTTER—90 score, 1-pound prints, 36; ¼-pound prints, 37; tub, 35; 90 score, 1-pound prints, 35; ¼-pound prints, 36; tub, 34; market strong.

MEATS—Choice beef, 25; calves, 17; veal, 18; spring lamb, 24; fall lamb, 22; cows, 15; fresh pork, 30; frozen pork, 24; pork loin, 26; fresh hams, 24; fresh skinned ham, 19; smoked hams, 27; sliced bacon, 37; slab bacon, 30; compound, 13; lard, 15.

LIVESTOCK—Pigs, 11@11½; light hogs, 12@12¼; medium, 12¼@12½; 220-250 pounds, 11¼@11¾; sows, 9½@9¾; stags, 7@7½; calves, 8@9½.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Aug. 6 (AP).—(United States Department Agriculture).—The wool market was moderately active on fine Western wools today, but slow on other lines. Quotations were mostly firm.

Country packed medium fleece Ohio and Michigan wools, including combing and clothing lengths three-eighths and quarter blood together, held around 43 cents in the grease, delivered East. Around 46-42 cents in the grease delivered was asked for average and lighter conditioned Minnesota wools and 38-40 cents for heavier shrinking lots.

Similarly packed medium Dakota wools were offered at 38-38 cents in the grease, delivered. A moderate quantity of light shrinking wools sold recently at 37 cents.

Baltimore Securities

Baltimore, Aug. 6 (AP).—Following are the sales, high, low and closing prices of stocks and bonds traded today on the Baltimore Stock Exchange.

25	Cons Gas El Lt	75½	75½
100	East Sug Assoc	30	30
50	East Sug Assoc pf	40	40
10	Fid & Dep	126	126
140	Houston Oil pf vtc	23½	23
25	Mfg Fin 1st pf	9½	9½
300	Mar Tex Oil	3½	3½
815	Mar Tex Oil "A"	3½	3½
235	Owings & Dist	4	4
205	U S Fidel & Guar	22¾	22¾
1000	Balt Transit Deb4sA	31½	31½

Business Level Likely to Hold In 2d Half Year

August Production Index Is 5 Per Cent Higher Than a Year Ago.

New York, Aug. 6.—As the summer weeks go by without any evidence of the drastic declines which had been earlier feared, it becomes increasingly evident that the second half year level of industrial production will compare favorably with the high totals reached in the first six months. The Standard Statistics Co. index of industrial production as now estimated for August stands nearly 5 per cent higher than the index for the same month last year, and is expected to mark the low point for 1937.

The steel industry continues to provide the best picture of the industrial situation. Resumption of work at the various Middle Western mills which had been closed by strikes permitted the recent recovery of operations to around 85 per cent of capacity, which, averaged with the low rate of operations early in the month, brought the July figure to 78.5, compared with 74.5 for June.

The Standard Statistics Co. index of commodity prices for July 31, at 91.54 stands not far from its 1937 high, having recovered irregularly since the reaction last spring when Administration warnings and the deflationary scare precipitated a sharp decline. Moreover, the index has held up well recently in the face of marked weakness in cotton and corn and moderate declines in most other farm products except wheat.

Chain Store Sales Higher for July

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Reports on July sales, made today by three chain store concerns, showed increases over 1936 ranging up to 16.72 per cent.

McLellan Stores' sales totaled $1,860,226, as against $1,742,704 for July of last year, an increase of 6.7 per cent.

Sales of M. H. Fishman Co., which operates stores in New England and in Atlantic Seaboard States, totaled $374,093, against $332,917, an increase of 12.3 per cent.

Neisner Brothers sales were $1,961,337, For July, 1936, they were $1,680,375, making an increase of 16.72 per cent.

Chicago Stocks.

(Reported by W. B. Hibbs & Co.)

	Bid.	Asked.
Yellow Taxi	16	17½
Thompson	8	8¾
Wahl	2⅞	3¼
Butler Brothers	16½	16¾
Swift	24	24⅛
Swift International	32¼	32⅝
Libby, McNeil & Libby	12¼	12⅜
City Con, common	⅛	¼
City Con, pf	⅛	¼
Edison	118	119¾
Public Service $100 par	83	86
Public Service no par	83	86
Quaker, common	112	113
Quaker, preferred	120	134½
Bendix	19⅜	20¾
Borg Warner	45¼	45¾
Illinois Brick	13	13½
Great Lakes Dredge & Dock	19	20
Electric Household	8¾	9
McCord	22	23
Sangamo	35¾	36¾
General Household	3⅜	3¾

Money Markets

Foreign Exchange.

New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—Great Britain in dollars, others in cents.

Great Britain demand, 4.98½; cables, 4.98½; 60-day bills, 4.97½.

France, demand, 3.75⅛; cables, 3.75⅛.

Demand Rates.

Italy	5.26½	Czecho'vakia	3.49
Belgium	16.83½	Yugoslavia	2.33
Germany		*Austria	18.87
Free	40.23	Hungary	19.75
Registered	22.75	Rumania	.74
Travel	27.00	*Argentina	33.20
Holland	55.15	*Brazil	8.80¼
Norway	25.05	Tokyo	29.05
Sweden	25.70	Shanghai	29.60
Denmark	22.26	Honakong	31.00
Finland	2.22	Mexico City	27.85
Switzerland	22.97	Montreal in
Portugal	4.53	New York	100.60
Greece	91¾	New York in
Poland	18.96	Montreal	100.00

*Nominal.

New York.

Call money steady, 1 per cent all day; Prime commercial paper, 1 per cent; time loans steady; 60-90 days, 1¼; 4-6 months, 1½ per cent; bankers' acceptances unchanged; rediscount rate, New York Reserve Bank, 1½ per cent.

Bar silver steady and unchanged at 44¾.

London.

Money and discount rates unchanged.

Bar gold declined 1½ pence to 139s 6½d. (Sterling price equivalent to $34.76.)

Bar silver steady and unchanged at 20d. (Sterling price equivalent to 44.84 cents.)

Paris.

Rentes, 3 per cent, 73 francs 95 centimes; 4½s of 1937, 99.95. Exchange on London, 132.87. The dollar was quoted 26.66½.

U. S. Treasury Receipts.

By the Associated Press.

The position of the Treasury August 4: Receipts, $140,110,797.76; expenditures, $38,327,455.54; balance, $2,811,186,960.93; customs receipts for the month, $4,558,257.88.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $505,438,766.50; expenditures, $729,590,876.15, including $226,215,125.72 of emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures, $224,152,111.66; gross debt, $36,773,323,263.36, an increase of $57,108,227.34 over the previous day; total assets, $12,462,189,179.51, including $1,230,766,976.10 of inactive gold.

Treasury Certificates.

(Reported by Chas. D. Barney & Co.)

Rate.	Maturity.	Bid.	Offer.
3¼	Sept. 15, 1937	100 21-32	100 23-32
2¾	Feb. 1, 1938	101 5-32	101 7-32
3	Mar. 15, 1938	101 23-32	101 25-32
2½	June 15, 1938	102 4-32	102 6-32
2½	Sept. 15, 1938	102 6-32	102 8-32
1½	Mar. 15, 1939	100 30-32	101
2½	June 15, 1939	102	102 2-32
1¾	Dec. 15, 1939	100 30-32	100 22-32
1¾	Mar. 15, 1940	100 30-32	101
1½	June 15, 1940	100 19-32	100 21-32
1½	Dec. 15, 1940	100 17-32	100 19-32
1½	Mar. 15, 1941	100 15-32	100 17-32
1½	June 15, 1941	100	100 2-32
1¼	Dec. 15, 1941	99 24-32	99 26-32
1¼	Sept. 15, 1939	100 20-32	100 22-32
1¾	Mar. 15, 1942	100 23-32	100 25-32

Federal Land Bank Bonds.

(Reported by Robert C. Jones & Co., Inc.)

Rate.	Maturity.	Bid.	Close.
3	May, 1938-46	101⅛	101½
3	January, 1956-46	101⅛	101½
3	July, 1955-45	101⅛	101½
3¼	May, 1955-45	102¾	103⅛
4	July, 1946-44	106⅛	110¼
4	November, 1957-37	100⅛	101½
4	May, 1958-38	102¾	102⅝
4½	May, 1957-37	100⅝	101½
4½	Nov., 1958-38	103¾	104⅛

PAPER TOWELS
RP Andrews PAPER COMPANY
718 13th St. N.W. National 1974

Transactions on N. Y. Bond Market

By the Associated Press.

Total bond sales yesterday, $5,424,000; previous day, $7,16 6,000; week ago, $5,861,900; year ago, $13,166,000; two years ago, $14,114,000; January 1 to date, $1,891,044,850; year ago, $2,129,375,000; two years ago, $2,003,530,000.

Range of United States Government Issues

(Sales in $1,000. Dollars and 32ds.)

1937 High	1937 Low	August 6 Sales.		Net Change	Closing Bid	Closing Asked	Yield
107.27	104.20	10	Treasury 3¾s, 1943-40, June		106	105.28	106	1.22
108.24	104.24	16	Treasury 3¼s, 1941

Complete Transactions Yesterday on New York Stock Exchange

By the Associated Press.

Total sales yesterday, 679,880 shares; previous day, 794,760; week ago, 615,350; year ago, 1,672,940; two years ago, 2,186,900; January 1 to date, 253,661,082; year ago, 302,175,444; two years ago, 167,339,182.

1937 High	1937 Low	Name and Dividend Rate	Sales—Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
		A
84½	63¾	Acme Stl (4)	7	83¾	82¾	83	— ¾
22¾	15	Adams Exp (.30g)	3	18½	18½	18½	— ¼
28⅝	22½	Adams-Millis (2)	3	24½	24½	24½	— ½
34	28	Addressog (1.40)	1	33½	33¾	33½	— ¼
4⅝	2	Advance Rums (1g)	2	2¼	2¼	2¼
80¼	64½	Air Reduc (1a)	4	71½	71¼	71¼	— ¾
5¼	2½	Air-Way El Ap	10	2¾	2¾	2¾
2⅝	2⅝	Alleghany	66	3	2¾	2¾
45⅝	30½	Alleg Steel (1.20g)	2	34¾	34¾	34¾	+ ⅛
23⅞	17¼	Allen Indust (1)	5	19¼	18¾	18¾	— ⅜
258	213	Al Chem & Dye (6)	5	234	235	235
33½	20⅞	Allied Mills (2g)	3	24⅛	24⅜	24½	+ ⅛
21⅛	15	Allied Strs (.20a)	38	20⅝	19⅝	19½	— ⅝
83½	57	Allis-Ch Mfg (1g)	23	68¾	67½	67¾	— 1⅛
30¾	23	Alpha P Cem (1)	2	23¾	22⅝	22½	— ⅛
114⅝	80	Amerada (2)	4	95½	95	95½
105	83	Am Az Ch Del (2½g)	1	95	95	95½
41⅜	20¼	Am Bank Note (¾g)	4	28	27½	28	+ ⅛
80⅜	57¼	Am Brake Shoe (1¼g)	1	65¼	65¼	65¼	+ ¼
121	102¼	Am Can (4a)	6	110½	109	109	— 1¾
174	132⅝	Am Can pf (7)	3	158	158	158
104⅛	28	Am Car & F pf (4g)	1	79½	79½	79½
32⅝	28	Am Ch & Cable (.40g)	1	29⅜	29⅜	29⅜	+ ⅛
30⅜	20½	Am Coml Alco	1	24¼	24¼	24¼
25¾	23	Am Crystal Sug (2¾g)	6	24¾	24¼	24½	+ ⅛
13½	5⅜	Am Encaus Tir	6	6⅝	8¼	8¼	— ⅜
13¾	6½	Am & For Pow	12	9⅜	9	9
61⅜	45	Am & F P 1st pf	1	57	57	57
21	14⅝	Am-Hawaii SS (1)	7	14⅜	14½	14½	— ½
11¼	7	Am Hide & Les	3	8	7⅞	8	+ ⅛
55⅞	38¾	Am Hi & L pf (3)	1	42½	42½	42½	— ½
49½	40¾	Am Home Pr (2.40)	7	44¼	43¾	43¾	— 1⅛
4	2¼	Am Ice	3	3¼	3¼	3¼
22	17	Am Ice pf (1g)	2	24¾	24½	24¾	+ ⅜
38⅝	27	Am Loco	10	47	46½	46⅝	— 1⅜
124	101½	Am Loco pf	1	113	111½	111½	+ 3
29⅜	18¾	Am M & Fdy (2.40g)	5	20½	20	20	— ⅛
13⅜	7¾	Am M & Met (.45g)	5	9	8¾	8¾
68¾	43¼	Am Metal (1¾g)	22	56⅜	56	56⅜	+ 1½
21⅞	14	Am Pow & Lt	21	10⅞	10⅝	10⅝	— ⅜
87½	49¼	Am P & L $6 pf (6)	1	85	84½	85
72½	40¼	Am P L $5 pf (5)	1	56	56	56
29⅛	18¾	Am Rad & St S (.60)	24	21⅝	21⅜	21½	+ ⅛
45¼	33⅝	Am Roll Mill (1.10g)	17	39⅜	39¼	39¼	— ⅛
25⅝	22¾	Am Seating (½g)	6	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
53½	41¾	Am Smelt & R (2¼g)	27	48¾	48¼	48¼	— ⅜
146	142	Am Smelt pf (7)	1	144	144	144	+ 1½
73½	48⅝	Am Stl Fdrs (1½g)	9	55⅞	55½	55⅝	— ⅛
23⅛	15¼	Am Stores (1¼g)	1	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜	— ⅛
24⅛	17¼	Am Sugar Ref (2)	3	23⅛	23	23	— ⅛
27⅜	24¼	Am Sugar pf (7)	1	128	128	128	— ¾
23⅝	21⅜	Am Sumat Tob (1a)	1	22	22	22
161	159¾	Am Tel & Tel (9)	6	171	170¼	171	+ 1
75⅜	73¾	Am Tob (5)	4	82	81½	82
80⅞	74½	Am Tob pf (5)	1	83½	83½	83½
138¾	128¼	Am Tob pf (6)	3	136½	136⅜	136½	+ ¼
20½	11¼	Am Type Fdrs	4	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜	+ ⅛
37¼	19⅝	Am Wat Wks (.60g)	28	20⅜	19⅝	19⅝	— ⅛
24⅝	17¾	Am Woolen	6	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝	— ⅛
79	54½	Am Wool pf (3g)	3	70½	70	70½	+ 1¼
28⅝	23⅛	Am Zinc L & S	8	25⅛	25	25	— ⅛
79¾	44½	Am Zinc pr pf (1¼g)	3	69	68	68¾	+ 1¾
51⅜	47¾	Anaconda (⅝g)	138	61⅞	61¼	61¼	+ ⅜
24⅛	18	Anchor Cap (.30g)	2	23¾	23	23	— ⅜
46	38¾	Arch-Dan-M (1½g)	3	41⅜	41¼	41⅜	— ⅛
106	106	Armour Del pf (7)	1	109¾	109¾	109¾
14¾	7	Arm Ill .55g)	53	10	10	10
99½	81¾	Arm Ill pr pf (6)	1	90¼	90¼	90½	+ ¼
112	98	Arm Ill pf (7)	1	105	105	105	+ 2
94¾	84¼	Armstrong Cork (1½g)	47	62⅜	61	61½	— ⅜
18¼	4	Arnold Const (¾g)	1	14	13⅜	13⅜	— ⅛
11⅝	8¾	Artloom	1	10¾	10¾	10¾	— ⅛
24¾	15¾	Assd Dry Gds	2	17⅞	17⅜	17⅞	— ⅛
51¾	49⅝	Assoc Invest (3)	1	51¾	51½	51⅝	— ⅛
81¾	49¼	Atch T & S F (2g)	19	78¾	77	77½	— 2
104	94½	Atchison pf (5)	6	99¼	99¼	99¼
44½	34¾	Atl Cst Line	8	51¼	50¾	50¾	— ⅛
24	22	Atl G & W In pf	1	21¾	21¾	21¾	— ⅛
31	27⅝	Atl Refin (1)	13	29	28½	28½	— ⅝
45⅛	50¾	Atlas Corp (.80)	15	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜	— ⅛
50⅝	50¾	Atlas Corp pf (3)	8	50	50	50
68½	12⅜	Atlas Pow (2½g)	7	78¾	78¼	78¼	— 1¼
13⅝	13½	Auburn Auto	1	20½	20½	20½	— ⅛
8⅝	6	Aust Nich	2	6	6	6
9¾	5¾	Aviation Corp	7	7	6¾	6¾	— ⅛
		B
11¾	4⅞	Baldwin Loc	8	5⅞	5¾	5¾	— ⅛
5⅝	4⅜	Baldwin Loc asd	10	5	5	5	— ⅛
29⅜	20⅝	Balt & Ohio	24	27¾	27¼	27⅝	— ⅛
47⅜	27⅞	Balt & O pf	1	31¾	31¾	31¾
39⅝	38½	Bang & Ar (2½)	1	44	44	44
32⅜	27⅝	Barber Co (¾g)	1	30¾	30⅞	30⅞	— ⅛
30⅝	20½	Barker Bros	1	27	27	27
28¾	23	Barnsdall (1)	4	25	24½	25
20¼	13⅞	Baruk Cigar (.56¼g)	1	15¾	15¾	15¾
20¼	18¼	Bendix Aviat (¾g)	7	20½	20	20⅛	— ⅛
23¼	20⅜	Benef Ind Ln (1.32½g)	1	21¾	21⅜	21⅜
10	8¾	Best & Co (3½a)	1	58	58	58
105½	72	Beth Stl (2½g)	31	99⅝	98⅛	98⅜
30	17	Beth Stl 5% pf (1)	1	19	19	19
38	24	Black & Decker (¾g)	1	27⅜	27⅜	27⅜
29½	22	Blaw-Knox (.45g)	8	24¾	24¾	24¾
49⅝	28⅛	Bloomingdale (.85g)	20	25	25	25	+ 1
39⅝	28	Boeing Airpl	38	34¼	33¾	34
48⅜	37	Bohn Alum (3)	8	45¾	45¼	45⅜	+ ⅛
93	85	Bon Ami A (3g)	10	85	85	85
46⅛	41½	Bon Ami B (1½g)	1.70	43	42	43	+ 1
57⅝	56¾	Borden (1.60)	14	24⅛	24⅜	24⅜	— ⅜
47	38⅛	Borg-Warner (2)	14	46¼	45¾	45¾	— ⅛
15⅜	8⅛	Bosten & Me	1	9¾	9¾	9¾
23⅛	15	Bridgeport Brass (.40g)	10	18⅛	18	18	— ⅛
29¼	20¾	Briggs Mfg (½g)	6	44⅞	44½	44½	— ⅛
53⅛	41¾	Briggs & Strat (3)	1	48	48	48
47	39¾	Bristol-My (2.40a)	1	40	40	40
8	2¾	Bklyn & Qu T	1	3¾	3¾	3¾
18	18½	Bkly-Man T (2½g)	2	22⅞	22⅝	22⅜
102¼	63½	Bklyn-Man T pf (6)	1	84¾	84¾	84¾
16⅜	13⅛	Brunswick-Bal	1	15¾	15¾	15¾
23¼	15	Bucyrus-Erie	4	17⅛	17	17	— ⅛
24⅞	7¼	Budd Mfg	7	10¼	10	10⅛	+ ⅛
13⅝	8⅝	Budd Mfg pf	10	86	86	86
11⅜	7¼	Budd Wheel (.20g)	2	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	— ⅛
45	30¾	Bullard Co (1)	1	35	35	35
65½	50½	Bulova Watch (4a)	16	58	56½	57
35	22¼	Burr Ad Mach (.65g)	13	29⅜	29	29
11⅝	4¼	Bush Term	2	5⅜	5¼	5⅜	— ⅛
18¾	12⅞	Butler Bros (.60)	2	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜	— ⅛
26¼	18⅝	Butler Bros pf (1½)	2	32½	32¼	32½	+ ⅛
9¼	4¼	Butte Cop & Z	44	7⅝	7⅜	7⅜
13¾	4⅞	Byers Co	9	20	19½	19⅝	— ⅛
91	64	Byers pf	1	90	90	90
34¾	25½	Byron Jack (1g)	1	29¾	29¾	29½	+ ¼
		C
6¼	2⅜	Callahan Z-Ld	38	4¼	4	4
16⅝	12⅝	Calumet & Hec (¾g)	39	16⅜	16⅛	16⅛	+ ⅛
38¼	20	Campbell W (1)	9	31¾	31½	31½	+ ⅛
38¼	23½	Can D G Ale	8	26	25¼	25½	+ ⅛
106	90	Canad Pac	9	12¾	12½	12½	— ⅛
9½	6¾	Canfield & Con (.10g)	1	7	7	7
191¾	138	Caro (C & O at (5)	20	96	96	96	+ ¼
143	107½	Carriers & Gen (.10g)	1	7	7	7
		Case (J I)	7	185	180	180¼	— 4¾
143	107½	†Case (J I) pf (7)	60	117	117	117	+ 1
100	85	Caterpil Tract (2)	3	99½	99¼	99¼	— ⅛
41⅛	34⅝	Celanese (1⅛g)	60	39⅛	38½	39	+ ⅛
48¼	36½	Celotex (1.80g)	2	41½	41½	41½
12⅜	6½	Cent Pdy	3	7¾	7¾	7¾
41⅜	18	Cent R R N J	1	19¾	19¾	19¾	— ⅛
24⅜	11	Cent Violeta Sug	4	12½	12½	12½	— ⅛
86⅝	73	Cerro de Pas (4)	8	75¾	74¾	74¾	— ⅛
23⅜	11¼	Certain-teed	4	13⅜	13⅜	13⅜	— ⅛
56½	48½	†Cert-teed 6% pf	1.40	52	51¼	51¾	+ ¼
111	107½	†Champ Pap&P pf (6)	30	109	109	109	+ ¼
69¼	14¼	Checker Cab	3	18	17¾	17¾	+ ⅛
48⅞	50½	Ches & Ohio (2.80a)	17	53¾	52½	52⅝	— ⅛
90½	67½	Ches Corp (3)	1	70	70	70	— ⅛
13⅛	5½	Chi & E Ill pf	1	7¼	7¼	7¼
6⅜	3	Chi & N W	2	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
19½	9¼	Chi & N W pf	1	11⅛	11⅜	11⅜	— ⅛
32	24	Chi Mail Or (1½a)	3	26¼	26	26	— ⅛
7¾	3¼	Chi Rl I P & P pf	2	4¼		4¼
33	21	Chi Pneu T	1	25	25	25	+ ⅛
41	34	Chi Pneu T cv pf (3)	1	40½	40½	40½	+ ¼
8¾	3¾	C R I & P 6% pf	1	5¼	5¼	5¼
16⅜	5¼	C R I & P 7% pf	1	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	+ ⅛
18⅝	14	Chi Yell Cab (1¾g)	1	16¼	16¼	16¼	— ⅜
15⅞	9¼	Childs Co	3	11	11	11
135	94	Chrysler (7g)	47	116	115¾	115½	+ ⅛
21⅝	17	City Ice & F (2)	2	17⅞	17⅝	17⅞
92	80	†City I & F pf (6½)	17	81	81	81	+ ⅛
72	60	City Invest	16	70	70	70	— 2
10⅝	6⅝	City Strs	14	8½	8½	8½
47¼	37¼	Clark Equip (1.60)	4	46⅜	46¼	46¼	— ⅛
113	102¾	†Clev El Illum pf (4½)	80	109½	108½	108¾	+ ⅛
46⅛	35	Clev Graph Br (1g)	5	45¼	45	45
29⅛	23¾	Cluett, Pea (1)	2	27⅞	27¼	27¼	— ⅛
170½	122½	Coca-Cola (3)	1	159	159	159	— 1
25⅜	17⅜	Colgate-Palm (½)	44	18	17¾	17¾	— ⅛
62¾	47½	Coll & Alk (2a)	16	54¼	52¼	52½	— 1⅞
27¼	15	†Col & Sou	1.00	16¼	15½	15⅝	— ⅜
90	14½	†Col & Sou 1 pf	1.20	19	18⅝	18⅝	+ ⅛
57⅞	31	Col Fuel & Ir (.15)	1	36	36	36	— 1
20¼	10	Colum G & El (.20g)	36	13⅜	13⅛	13⅜
108	80	Col G&E pf A (6)	2	92¼	92¼	92¼	+ ⅛
125	111	Colum Carb (4a)	1	122½	122½	122½	+ ⅛
69¾	56¾	Comi Credit (4)	29	64¼	63½	63¾	+ ⅛
128	100	Comi Cred pf (4¼)	4	107½	106	107½	+ 2½
80¼	63¼	Comi Invest Tr (4)	12	66¾	65¾	66
21⅛	13	Comi Solv (.60)	9	14	14	14
4¾	2	Com'with & Sou	95	2⅞	2¾	2¾
75⅜	44⅜	Com & Sou pf (3)	1	50¾	50¾	50¾
45⅝	34	Consolidn-Na (2)	11	37½	37	37	— ⅛
13⅛	8¼	Con Coal	1	10¾	10⅝	10⅝	— ⅛
49¾	31½	Con Edis (1½g)	32	36⅝	36	36½	— ⅛
17⅝	14⅝	Con Oil (.80a)	27	15⅞	15⅝	15⅝	— ⅛
108¾	103¾	Con Oil $5 pf (3)	3	104¾	104	104	1
13⅜	4⅜	Con Rlt Cuba pf	1	6½	6½	6½	+ ⅛
1⅜	⅝	Con Text	1	⅝	⅝	⅝
37⅜	20⅝	Container Corp (1.20)	16	30½	29¾	29¾	— ⅛
37½	18½	Cont Bak A	2	24¼	24¼	24¼
2	2	Cont Bak B	4	3¾	3½	3½	— ⅛
100¾	85	Cont Bak pf (6)	1	91¾	91½	91¾	— ⅛
65½	50	Con Can (3)	7	58	57	57½	— 1
25⅞	18½	Cont Diam Fib (1g)	2	19¼	19⅛	19¼
42¾	36⅝	Cont Ins (1.60a)	8	38½	38	38½	+ ⅛
3½	2	Cont Mot	74	2⅞	2½	2¾	+ ⅛
98	39¾	Cont Oil Del (1¼g)	27	47⅞	46⅞	47
77	62¼	Corn Exchange (3)	20	62¾	62⅜	62½	+ ⅛
71½	51½	Corn Prod (3)	12	65¾	64¾	65¼	+ ⅛
171½	153	Corn Prod pf (7)	2	159½	159½	159½	+ 1¼
10¼	6	Cotr	14	8	7⅝	7⅝	— ⅛
54⅝	40	Crane Co	35	51¼	49½	50	+ ⅛
114	100¼	Crane Co cv pf (3)	1	112	113	113
37	28¾	Cream of Wh (1⅜g)	1	29⅜	29⅜	29⅜	— ⅛
28¾	18½	Crosley Rad	3	19½	19½	19½	— ⅛
100⅜	68	Crown Cork (2)	3	19¼	19¼	19¼	— ⅛
35½	16⅝	Crown Zeller	27	20⅜	20	20⅛	— ⅛
81⅜	57	Crucible Stl	4	71½	71⅜	71½
14⅜	7¾	Cuban-Am Sug	3	9	8¾	8¾	— ⅛
8⅜	6	Curtis Pub pf (7)	2	74½	74	74	— 1
23⅜	16½	Curtiss-Wright	30	6	5⅞	6
89⅜	73½	Cutler-Ham (1g)	1	74½	74½	74½
		D
24	18¾	Davega Strs pf (1¼)	1	18¾	18¾	18¾
22¼	17⅞	Deisel-Wem-Gil (1)	2	20¾	20¾	20⅝	+ ⅛
58¾	33	Del & Hud	1	36⅝	36⅝	36⅝	+ ⅛
24½	13¾	Del Lack & W	11	15⅝	15⅜	15⅜	— ⅛
36	28	Diamond Mat (1a)	4	28	27¾	27¾	— ⅛
40	33	Diamond Mat pf (1½a)	3	33½	33½	33½	+ ⅛
23	14¾	Diam T Mot (¾g)	1	15½	15½	15½
29	20¼	Dist Corp-Seag	6	24¾	24¼	24¼	— ⅛
53½	40	Dist Corp-Seag pf ww (5)	1	22½	22½	22½
44¾	32⅛	Doehler Die Cas (1g)	2	85½	85⅜	85⅝	— ⅛
51	38¼	Dome Mines (2a)	2	38½	38	38	— ⅛
12⅜	8⅞	Dominion Strs	1	40	40	40
77⅛	47¾	Douglas Airc	23	57¼	56	56	— 1⅛
129½	115¾	Dow Chem (2.60g)	3	125	124½	125	+ 1
45¼	38¼	Dresser A (3e)	1	45	45	45	— 2⅛
30¾	27	Dresser B (1e)	1	27	27	27
8¼	3⅞	Dunhill Int	1	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
180¾	148½	Du Pont de N (2¾g)	2	161	161	161	— ¾
118	110¾	†Duq Lt 1 pf (5)	1	110	111	111	+ 1
		E
13½	4¼	Eastern Roll	1	13¼	13¼	13¼
180¼	151	Eastman Kod (8)	1	180¼	180¼	180½	— ¼
161¾	159	†East Kod pf (6)	20	159	158	158	— 1
37⅞	29½	Eaton Mfg (1¼g)	3	35	35	35
16	10⅜	Edingon Sch	1	15	15	15	— ⅛
7¼	4¼	El & Mus (.18e)	10	5½	23¾	23¾
45⅛	34¾	El Auto L (1.40g)	7	37⅞	37⅝	37⅞	— ⅛
18	9¼	El Boat	1	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
26⅝	14⅜	El Pow & Lt	67	22¼	21⅞	22	— ⅛
87	58½	El P & L $6 pf	1	67	67	67
93¼	62	El P & L pf	2	78½	78	78½	— ⅛
41⅞	33¼	El Stor Bat (2)	2	38¾	35⅞	35⅝	— ⅛
27⅞	8	Enc Pub Serv	1	11	11	11
9⅜	4⅝	Equit Off Bldg	1	5½	5¼	5¼
29½	13½	Erie R R	9	15⅝	15½	15⅝	— ⅛
33⅜	19¼	Erie 1 pf	2	22½	22½	22½	— ⅛

Dow-Jones Averages

By the United Press.

New York, Aug. 6

Stocks—	Open	High	Low	Close	Net ch.
30 industrials	186.31	186.36	185.16	185.43	—0.66
20 rails	53.08	53.13	52.52	52.64	—0.49
20 utilities	28.96	29.08	28.68	28.81	—0.23

Transactions in stocks used in averages today: 1,000,000

Indgustrials	68,400
Rails	29,000
Utilities	41,000

Commodities Range

	Yesterday.	Prev. day.	Week ago.	Month ago.	Year ago.
Cotton, N. Y. (Oct.)	10.58	10.85	10.83	12.06	12.00
Wheat, Chicago (Sept.)	1.15⅝	1.15⅝	1.18⅛	1.38	1.13⅛
Corn, Chicago (Sept.)	1.00	99⅝	99⅞	1.13⅝	1.06⅝
Oats, Chicago (Sept.)	29¾	29¾	29⅞	39¼	42⅛
Cattle, choice steers, Balto.	13.40	13.20	13.00	13.50	8.00
Hogs, choice, Balto.	14.00	13.85	13.35	13.35	11.70
Lambs, choice, Balto.	11.00	11.35	11.35	11.35	10.75
Eggs, special, N. Y.	32.00	31.50	32.00	32.00	25.50
Butter, N. Y. creamery	32.00	32.00	32.00	31.75	30.25
Flour, N. Y.	7.40	7.50	7.85	8.75	7.40
Coffee, N. Y.	11.50	11.50	11.50	11.50	9¾
Raw Sugar, N. Y.	3.50	3.50	3.50	3.50	3.65
Steel, Pittsburgh bar	2.45	2.45	2.45	2.45	1.85
Pig iron	18.74	18.72	18.42	19.32	16.24
Tin	24.00	24.00	24.00	24.00	19.50
Copper, electrolytic	60.00	60.50	58.50	59.00	42.75
Bar gold, London ($)	14.00	14.00	14.00	14.00	9.75
Bar silver, N. Y.	34.76	34.77	34.77	34.77	34.75
Zinc, East St. Louis	44.75	44.75	44.75	44.75	44.75
Lead, N. Y.	7.00	7.00	7.00	6.75	4.80
	6.50	6.50	6.50	6.00	4.60

1937 High	1937 Low	Name and Dividend Rate	Sales—Add 00	High	Low	Close	Net Ch'ge
		F
21¾	7¼	Eureka Vac Cl	2	21⅝	21½	21½	+ ⅛
		G
3¾	3	†Fairbanks Co	.10	3¾	3¾	3¾
71⅞	49⅛	†Fairbanks Mor (1a)	4	59⅝	58¾	58¾	— 1
70	45½	Fajardo Sug (3g)	1	50¼	50¼	50¼
29¾	16¾	Fed Lt & Trac	.10	20	20	20
21⅞	6½	Fed Mot	11	8½	8½	8½
6	3	Fed Wat Svc A	1	6½	6½	6½	— ⅛
45⅝	36	Fid P Fire Ins (1.60a)	8	39⅛	39¼	39¼
41⅝	31	Firestone T & R (1½g)	6	39⅛	39¼	39¼	— ⅛
52¼	39¾	First Nat Strs (2½)	1	42	42	42
46⅛	22	Flintkote (1)	5	31¼	30¾	31	— ⅛
9⅝	4⅝	Follansbee	5	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜
58	47½	Food Mach (1a)	5	49⅝	49⅛	49⅛	— ⅛
57½	37½	Foster Wheel	1	51⅝	51⅝	51⅝
32¼	24¼	Freeport Sul (1g)	4	31	30¾	30¾	— ⅛
		G
7⅛	4⅛	Gabriel A	2	4¾	4¾	4¾	— ⅛
15⅛	11⅜	Gair (Robert)	2	13⅝	12⅝	12⅝	— ⅜
102	97	†Gannett pf (6)	.80	99½	99½	99½	— ½
13	13	Gar Wood Ind (¼g)	1	13	13	13
15⅛	10½	Gen Am Inv	17	14	14	14	— ⅛
103⅛	98	Gen Am Inv pf (6)	1	100	100	100
19½	10⅞	Gen Bak (.60)	2	12⅛	12	12	— ⅛
14	7	Gen Bronze	3	8	8	8
32½	23	Gen Cable	5	26⅛	26½	26½	— ⅛
52¼	34½	Gen Cigar (4)	1	36⅝	36⅝	36⅝	— ⅛
64⅜	49¾	Gen Elec (.80g)	58	57	56⅝	56⅝	— ⅛
44¼	36	Gen Foods (2)	11	37⅛	37⅛	37⅛
3⅜	1⅛	Gen G & El A	3	22⅝	22¼	22⅜	— ⅛
65⅞	60	Gen Mills (3)	1	62	62	62
70½	48¼	Gen Mot (2¼g)	61	57⅛	56⅝	56⅝	— ⅛
122	113	Gen Mot pf (5)	2	117⅝	117⅝	117⅝	— ⅛
15⅛	8⅛	Gen Out Adv	3	11⅜	11¼	11⅜	— ⅛
54	44	Gen Out Adv A	2	53½	52½	53½	+ 1⅛
	3¼	Gen Pub Svc cl	1	3¼	3¼	3¼
65⅜	41¼	Gen Ry Sig (1)	1	53¾	53¾	53¾
53⅜	39	Gen Real & Ut	21	43½	43¼	43

Transfers

Navy Orders.

CAPTAIN.

Walter F. Jacobs, det. Office of the Governor, Panama Canal, C. Z., in October; to command U. S. S. New Mexico.

LIEUTENANT COMMANDERS.

Russell C. Bartman, det. Naval Operations, Navy Dept., about September 1; to executive officer, Rec. Station, Phila., Pa.

George W. Brashears, jr., det. U. S. S. Milwaukee about August 8; to gunnery officer, Comdr. Cruisers, Battle Force.

Peter J. Gundlach, det. U. S. S. Sirius in July; to Navy Yard, Charleston, S. C.

Frank E. Vensel, jr., det. Rec. Station, Phila., Pa., about September 11; to Naval Operations, Navy Dept., Wash., D. C.

Thomas L. Watlington, det. command U. S. S. Dahlgren in July; to navigating officer U. S. S. Texas.

LIEUTENANT.

John L. Pratt, det. VB-9 (U. S. S. Yorktown) about August 25; to Bu. Aero., Navy Dept., Wash., D. C.

LIEUTENANT (J. G.).

Raymond W. Thompson, jr., det. U. S. S. Indianapolis about September 13; to etc. U. S. S. Somers and on board when commissioned.

ENSIGNS.

Heliodore A. Marcoux, det. Nav. Air Sta., Pensacola, Fla., about July 23; to VS-6 (U. S. S. Enterprise).

William M. Rakow, det. Nav. Air Sta., Pensacola, Fla., about July 30; to U. S. S. Hannibal.

James S. Tyler, det. Nav. Air Sta., Pensacola, Fla., about August 6; to VS-6 (U. S. S. Enterprise).

Marine Corps Orders.

MAJORS.

James D. McLean, detached Hdqrs., U. S. M. C., Wash., D. C., and ordered duty and instruction at Army Industrial College, Wash., D. C.

Gilbert D. Hatfield, about August 14, 1937, detached MCB., Quantico, Va., to Army Industrial College, Wash., D. C.

Richard Livingston, detached 1st Marine Brig., FMF., MB., Quantico, Va., and ordered home to retire on October 1, 1937.

CAPTAINS.

William W. Davidson, about Sept. 3, 1937, detached MD. RR. Wakefield, Mass., to Junior Crs., MCS., MB., Quantico, Va.

Jame E. Kerr, relieved from duty as MCB., NOB., San Diego, Calif., and assigned to FMF., MCB., San Diego, Calif., for duty.

John H. Stillman, when directed by CG. FMF., MCB., San Diego, Calif., detached FMF, MCB., San Diego, Calif., to MB., NYd., Mare Island, Calif.

Max W. Schaeffer, about August 16, 1937, detached MD., U. S. S. Argonne to QM Motor Transport School, Holabird, Md. Auth. delay until Sept. 10, 1937.

George H. Bellinger, on August 7, 1937, detached MCS., MB., Quantico, Va., to MD., U. S. S. Argonne.

SECOND LIEUTENANTS.

Charles F. Duchein, when directed by CO., U. S. S. Omaha detached MD., U. S. S. Omaha to MB., NOB., Norfolk.

Loren S. Fraser, orders detaching this officer from duty with FMF., MCB., San Diego, Calif., to Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla. Revoked.

Jack Tabor, when directed by CG., FMF., MCB., San Diego, detached FMF., MCB., San Diego, Calif., to Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla. Auth. delay until August 30, 1937.

James G. Frazer, on completion temporary duty at Camp Perry, Ohio, about Sept. 13, 1937, ordered temporary duty at Ordnance Field Service School, Raritan Arsenal, Metuchen, N. J., to report Sept. 18, 1937, on completion of which, about Dec. 20, 1937, detached FMF., MCB., San Diego, Calif., to MB., Parris Island, S. C.

Noel A. Castle, about Sept. 15, 1937, detached MD., RR., Wakefield, Mass., to 1st Mar. Brig., FMF., MB., Quantico, Va.

On acceptance of commissions as second lieutenants in the Marine Crops, the following named enlisted men are assigned to active duty and ordered to the Basic School, Marine Barracks, Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa., to report as indicated: To report not later than August 5: Fletcher F. Brown, Dudley S. Chenin, E. Fissel, John J. Gormley, James D. Hittle, Hugh R. Nutter, Robert H. Ruud, Joseph L. Stewart, Marvin C. Stewart, Tom M. Trotti, Jack F. Warner.

To report not later than August 11: Richard A. Beard, jr., Golland L. Clark, jr., Parker R. Colmer, John P. Coursey, Edmond M. Glick, Robert D. Heinl, jr., William M. Lantz, Neil R. MacIntyre, William C. O'Neil, Ronald E. VanSchuyver, Zadford Burriss, James A. Embry, Lawrence C. Hays, jr., Sidney M. Kelly, William W. Lewis, Austin C. Shofner and McDonald L. Shuford.

The Weather

Today's Sun and Tide Table

(Furnished by United States Department of Commerce, Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

	A. M.	P. M.
Sun rises	5:14
High tide	8:18	8:49
Sun sets		7:12
Low tide	2:47	3:15

Weather Conditions.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, Friday, Aug. 6, 7:30 p. m.

Forecast for the District of Columbia—Partly cloudy, possibly local thundershowers Saturday; Sunday fair; not much change in temperature; gentle variable winds, mostly south.

For Maryland and Virginia—Partly cloudy, possibly local showers in west and north portions Saturday; Sunday fair; not much change in temperature.

Conditions.

Pressure is low over and north of Labrador, Cartwright, 29.62 inches; Resolution Island, 29.60 inches, and thence westward and southwestward to the northern Plains States, Bismarck, 29.56 inches. The South Atlantic Coast disturbance is central about 200 miles east-northeast of the Virginia Capes, moving north-northeastward. It is attended by strong shifting winds over a small area near the center. Pressure is high over and northeast of Bermuda, St. Georges, 30.22 inches. Pressure is also relatively high over western Colorado, Grand Junction, 29.88 inches, and on the North Pacific Coast, Northhead, 30.04 inches. During the last 24 hours showers have occurred in the Ohio Valley, the lower lake region, the Appalachian region and along the Middle Gulf Coast. Temperatures have risen in Tennessee, and in the interior of the Middle Gulf States, while they have fallen slightly in the eastern lower lake region and the middle and northern Plateau.

Local Weather Report.

Temperature—Midnight, 77; 2 a. m., 75; 4 a. m., 75; 6 a. m., 75; 8 a. m., 76; 10 a. m., 86; 12 noon, 89; 2 p. m., 87; 4 p. m., 87; 6 p. m., 86; 8 p. m., 83; 10 p. m., 81. Highest, 90. Lowest, 75.

Relative humidity—7:30 a. m., 90; 1:30 p. m., 57; 7:30 p. m., 66. Rainfall (7:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.), trace. Hours of sunshine, 5.3. Per cent of possible sunshine, 38.

Departures From Normal.

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1937, 522 degrees.

Excess of temperature since August 1, 1937, 8 degrees.

Accumulated excess of precipitation since January 1, 1937, 5.25 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since August 1, 1937, 1937, .81 inch.

Temperatures and Precipitation.

Temperatures and precipitation for 24 hours ended Friday at 7:30 p. m.

	High. Fri.	Low. Thurs. night.	7:30 p. m. Fri.	Rain-fall.
Washington, D. C.	90	76	84	....
Asheville, N. C.	84	62	72	....
Atlanta, Ga.	92	68	78	0.07
Atlantic City, N. J.	84	74	76	....
Baltimore, Md.	90	76	84	....
Birmingham, Ala.	88	68	82	....
Bismarck, N. Dak.	104	66	102	....
Boston, Mass.	90	72	80	....
Buffalo, N. Y.	86	72	72	0.06
Cheyenne, Wyo.	90	60	84	....
Chicago, Ill.	86	70	80	....
Cincinnati, Ohio	82	68	76	0.73
Cleveland, Ohio	78	72	76	0.16
Dallas, Tex.	96	70	96	....
Denver, Colo.	90	66	88	....
Des Moines, Iowa	90	68	88	0.37
Detroit, Mich.	82	70	78	....
Duluth, Minn.	90	62	84	....
El Paso, Tex.	100	78	98	....
Galveston, Tex.	88	74	84	0.58
Helena, Mont.	84	60	80	....
Huron, S. Dak.	102	60	98	....
Indianapolis, Ind.	84	68	82	....
Jacksonville, Fla.	92	74	84	0.11
Kansas City, Mo.	96	74	96	....
Little Rock, Ark.	96	70	90	0.01
Los Angeles, Calif.	80	62	76	....
Louisville, Ky.	84	68	82	0.14
Marquette, Mich.	88	64	84	....
Memphis, Tenn.	90	72	88	....
Miami, Fla.	90	78	84	0.18
Minneap.-St. Paul	94	68	92	....
Mobile, Ala.	88	72	84	....
New Orleans, La.	90	78	84	0.47
New York, N. Y.	86	72	76	....
North Platte, Nebr.	96	58	90	....
Omaha, Nebr.	96	74	94	....
Philadelphia, Pa.	92	72	82	....
Phoenix, Ariz.	106	84	104	....
Pittsburgh, Pa.	90	68	72	0.39
Portland, Oreg.	78	56	74	....
Salt Lake City, Utah	92	72	80	0.02
St. Louis, Mo.	90	68	84	....
San Antonio, Tex.	100	74	98	....
San Diego, Calif.	74	64	70	....
San Francisco, Calif.	62	52	58	....
Santa Fe, N. Mex.	90	60	82	....
Seattle, Wash.	68	56	66	....
Springfield, Ill.	88	66	84	0.88
Tampa, Fla.	92	76	84	....
Vicksburg, Miss.	92	72	86	....

Band Concerts.

U. S. SOLDIERS' HOME BAND.

Bandstand, Tonight, at 7 o'Clock.

March, "Sarasota" ..... King
Overture, "Fierrabras" ..... Schubert
Humorous paraphrase, "The Trearin' of the Green" ..... Douglas Scenes from comic opera, "The Gondoliers" ..... Sullivan
Popular selection ..... Robin
"The Hills of Old Wyoming" ..... Deatal
"Havana Heaven" .....
Waltz de Concert, "Liebestraume" (Dreams of Love) ..... Ertl
Finale, "Hot Sands" ..... Jones
"The Star-Spangled Banner."

Vital Statistics

Deaths.

Thomas Cissell, 80, St. Elizabeths Hospl.
George H. Bennett, 74, Garfield Hospl.
William Edwards, 52, 5010 Franklin st. ne.
Patrick Wrenn, 50, Gallinger Hospl.
Loretta D. Smith, 39, 3612 Livingston st. nw.
Mildred Mallen, 24, Emergency Hospl.
Elizabeth Bruce, 1, Providence Hospl.
Margaret Robinson, 5 mos., Children's Hospl.
Infant Curran, 2 days, Garfield Hospl.
Richard Coates, 85, St. Elix. Hospl.
Sebert Lott, 61, Freedmen's Hospl.
Henry Hood, 72, en route Casualty Hospl.
Charles Culvers, 67, Freedmen's Hospl.
Mary Page, 60, 604 3rd st. ne.
William Sedgwick, 59, Freedmen's Hospl.
Henry C. Spriggs, 48, St. Elix. Hospl.
John Tinsley, 36, Freedmen's Hospl.
Robert Alexander, 35, Gallinger Hospl.
Rosa Burnett, 32, Gallinger Hospl.
Charles Dickson, 3, premises 2878 Ebrad road se.
Earlene Hoes, 3 mos., 2 Puerto Rico ave. ne.

Births.

Edwin and Virginia MacKethan, girl.
Erle and Lucy Baldwin, girl.
William and Marguerite Thies 3d, boy
David and Kathryn Rieben, boy.
Paul and Addie Porter, girl.
R. Campbell and Catherine Starr, girl.
Alva and Evelyn Cuppy, girl.
Tracy and DeLoris Cahow, boy.
Ignacio and Betty Erutan, boy.
Richard and Marion Harrington, boy.
Benjamin and Grace Dinsmore, boy.
Roy and Elizabeth Effleton, boy.
Carl and Lucille Jordan, boy.
Paul and Sue Davis, boy.
William and Cecil Cole, boy.
Lawrence and Barbara Bernard, boy
Stanley and Irene Olszewski, girl.
Thomas and Susie Tinsley, girl.
Lenwood and Phyllis Murphy, girl.
Jack and Blanche Rozansky, girl.
Quincy and Enola Butler, girl.
Ernest and Evelyn Ritchie, girl.
James and Laura Buchanan, girl.
Herbert and Mary Brady, boy.
Leigh and Semille Lawrence, girl.
George and Nina Hunti, girl.
Everett and Nellie Mitchell, girl.
John and Barbara Thompson, girl.
Sanford and Rebecca Souser, boy.
Jackson and Margaret Batchelor, boy.
Cedric and Sarah Coons, boy.
John and Eleanor O'Connor, girl.
William and Louise Tucker, girl.
Milton and Rose Wruble, girl.
Abraham and Celia Zitomer, girl.
Arthur and Eleanor Kriemelmeyer, boy.
Bernard and Marie Nolan, twins, boy and girl.
William and Cora Gatens, boy.
Herbert and Edna Wright, jr., boy.
Charles and Mildred Robinson, boy.
Ernest and Evelyn Barlow, boy.
Robert and Grace Endsley, boy.
Burgess and Margaret Hitt, girl.
Eugene and Hazel Ross, girl.
Anthony and Irene Hartig, girl.
George and Eleanor Woodard, girl.
Carl and Dagny Newman, girl.
Tobias and Mary Stockdale, girl.
Orval and Pearl Goodsell, girl.
William and Pauline Ryon, boy.
Houston and Eugenia Marshall, girl.
Julian and Nancy McWhorter, girl.
Forrest and Sarah West, girl.
Raymond and Rose Beecher, boy.
Leonard and Eleanor Potillo, boy.

Licensed to Marry.

Thomas Jefferson Haynes, 24, 2420 Observatory circle northwest, and Dorothy Loretta Cornwell, 20, 3818 Beecher street northwest. The Rev. C. T. Warner.

Horace Beverly Long, 23, Vinton, Va., and Mary Even Alvey, 37, 3511 Davenport street northwest. The Rev. Mr. Fannon.

Howard Abram Cramer, 28, 2013 I street northwest, and Doris Anita Elliott, 23, 1910 I street northwest. The Rev. John Weidley.

Lee Lann, 28, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Sylvia Werkman, 25, 1202 Decatur street northwest. The Rev. Henry Seigel.

Thomas H. Elliott, 22, Walter Reed Hospital, and Leta Maria Antoine, 19, 5109 Fifth street northwest. The Rev. Austin Healy.

Peter Paul Hogan, 43, and Veronica Maud Bannister, 50, both of Richmond, Va. The Rev. L. J. Shehan.

Edmond Ellerbe, 25, 514 Twenty-third street northeast, and Frances Mae Coates, 19, 2002 Ninth street northwest. The Rev. T. J. Evans.

Vernon F. Duckett, 26, 3222 Warder street northwest, and Rose Mary Berberich, 30, 1801 Kenyon street northwest. The Rev. M. W. Hyle.

Norman R. Krebs, 28, Riverdale, Md., and Hazel Ophelia Lamb, 22, 3812 Thirteenth street northwest. The Rev. J. Arthur Winn.

John Childress, 37, and Margaret D. Preddy, 23, both of Richmond, Va. The Rev. A. F. Poore.

Francis G. Bradford, 23, 2650 Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Alice D. Nalley, 19, 412 Kentucky avenue southeast. The Rev. Freely Rohrer.

Clyde W. Mason, 3214 N street northwest, and Mab West, same address. The Rev. C. S. Biggs.

Turner Harding Gibson, 23, 1744 T street northwest, and Annie Lewis, 18, Alexandria, Va. The Rev. D. F. Johnson.

John Tyler Barbee, 25, and Margaret Virginia Davey, 23, both of Roanoke, Va. The Rev. A. F. Poore.

Charles Albert Johnson, 21, 2137 Ward place northwest, and Bernita Hayden, 18, 951 Twenty-sixth street northwest. The Rev. Ernest Gibbs.

George Edward Moss, 27, 4721 Eads street northeast, and Gladys Lewis, 19, 527 Forty-seventh street northeast. The Rev. W. W. Hawkins.

George Mitchell Morris, 34, Marietta, Ga., and Emmeline Marshall, 28, Martinsville, Va. The Rev. W. C. White.

Harry Donald McAfee, 27, 2127 P street northwest, and Mary Alice King, 21, Hartford, Conn. The Rev. James L. Pine.

William Starr Watson, 29, Butler, Pa., and Savilla Armstrong, 28, 3721 Porter street northwest. The Rev. Freely Rohrer.

John Deibert, 24, Johnstown, Pa., and Edna May Bender, 26, Gallitzin, Pa. The Rev. J. F. Fannon.

Van Orsdel Is in Coma, Given 48 Hours to Live

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 6.—J. A. Van Orsdel, senior associate justice of the United States Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, was reported in a coma here today by Dr. John B. Beebe, heart specialist.

Van Orsdel, accompanied by his wife and niece, Mrs. Katherine Warren, was reported weakening rapidly and given only 48 hours to live.

W. W. CHAMBERS
One of the largest undertakers in the world.

NOTICE

To World War Veterans, All Officers and Men of the U. S. Army and Navy and Those Interested.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT has five contracts with W. W. Chambers for Funeral Service. These include the Veterans' Bureau, Walter Reed Hospital, Bolling Field, the Army War College, Soldiers' Home, the Naval Hospital, etc. These Government contracts are for fine, complete funerals. Chambers' policy is and always has been to let the public know. Everyone is entitled to know that the United States Government has chosen a Good Funeral.

Think it over and think why Chambers was chosen. W. W. Chambers will give the finest service possible. No United States Government Funeral is a cheap funeral. It is a good funeral . by Chambers, one of the largest undertakers in the world. In case of death call—

Chambers

One Of The Largest Undertakers In The World.

3 FUNERAL HOMES

Main Office
14th & Chapin Sts. N.W.
Phone Columbia 0123

Southeast Office
517 Eleventh St. S.E.
Phone
ATlantic 6700

Suburban Home
918 Cleveland Ave.
Riverdale, Md.
Phone
Greenwood 1221

Ship Movements

At New York.

Arrived Yesterday.

Deutschland, from Hamburg.

Arrive Today.

Batory, from Gdynia.

Arrive Tomorrow.

Veragua, from Port Limon.

Sailing Today.

Edam, for Rotterdam, Georgic, for Cobh.
Pennland, for Antwerp.
Rex, for Gibraltar.

Sailing Tomorrow.

No sailings scheduled.

DIED

BENNETT, MARGARET BEATTY. On Friday, August 6, 1937, at Georgetown Hospital, MARGARET BEATTY BENNETT, beloved mother of Arthur B. Bennett and grandmother of Barton Allen Bennett, sister of Mrs. A. Beatty Yeates, Mrs. Laura B. Law, and Drew H. Beatty. Remains resting at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw. Notice of funeral later.

BUCKROYD, JOE THOMAS. On Friday, August 6, 1937, at United States Naval Hospital, JOE THOMAS BUCKROYD, the beloved son of Orville R. and Katherine V. Buckroyd, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, a member of the Boy Scouts. Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw., until 8 p. m., Saturday, August 7. Interment Fort Dodge, Iowa.

BRADEN, ALICE C. On Tuesday, August 3, 1937, at Albuquerque, N. Mex., ALICE C. BRADEN, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Chinn and the late Benton Chinn, of Alexandria, Va., and niece of Mrs. F. W. Richardson, cousin of P. D. Richardson, of Fairfax Courthouse, Fairfax, Va. Funeral services at Demaine's funeral home, 817 King st., Alexandria, Va., on Saturday, August 7, at 10:15 a. m. Interment Ivy Hill Cemetery, Alexandria, Va.

CAVANAUGH, THOMAS L. On Wednesday, August 4, 1937, at his residence, 701 24th st. nw., THOMAS L. CAVANAUGH, the beloved husband of Joanna A. Cavanaugh and father of Mrs. Catherine M. White and Thomas R. J. and Arthur R. and William P. Cavanaugh. Funeral services at his son's residence, 716 22d st. nw., on Saturday, August 7, at 9:30 a. m.; thence to St. Stephen's Catholic Church, where mass will be offered at 10 a. m. for the repose of his soul. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co.

CURTIS, JOHN JAY. On Friday, August 6, 1937, at Providence Hospital, JOHN JAY CURTIS, of 2804 14th st. nw., beloved husband of Hattie M. Curtis. Services at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Sunday, August 8, at 2 p. m. Interment private.

CONNER, ALBERT N. Suddenly, on Friday, August 6, 1937, at his residence, 1124 10th st. nw., ALBERT N. CONNER, beloved husband of the late Mary F. Conner and father of Lucille E. and Norman H. Conner. Remains resting at Lee funeral home, 4th st. and Maine ave. ne., where services will be held on Monday, August 9, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Courthouse Cemetery, Fairfax, Va.

DORSEY, NANNIE LEE. On Friday, August 6, 1937, at her residence, 1801 16th st. nw., NANNIE LEE DORSEY, daughter of the late Worthington and Mary Jane Todey Dorsey. Services at St. John's Episcopal Church, 16th and H st. nw., on Monday, August 9, 2 p. m. Interment Oak Hill Cemetery.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM. On Wednesday, August 4, 1937, at his residence, 3010 Franklin st. ne., WILLIAM EDWARDS, the beloved husband of Julia Edwards and father of Mrs. Julia K. Tucci and brother of Samuel P. Edwards, Mrs. William Zeller and Mrs. G. Kingsbury. Funeral services at the above residence on Saturday, August 7, at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery. Services by the W. W. Chambers Co. suburban funeral home, Riverdale, Md.

FANT, JOSEPHINE HELLEN. In Baltimore, Md., on Thursday, August 5, 1937, at her home, 3333 North Charles st., JOSEPHINE HELLEN FANT. Funeral at the above residence on Saturday, August 7, 1937, at 9:30 a. m. Requiem mass at Sts. Philip and James Church, at 10 a. m. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery, Washington, D. C. Please omit flowers.

FINLEY, THOMAS J. Suddenly, on Thursday, August 5, 1937, at Georgetown University Hospital, THOMAS J. FINLEY, beloved husband of Mamie Hunter Finley, son of the late Patrick and Catherine Finley. He is also survived by a son, Edward Finley, and one brother, Morris P. Finley. Funeral from the residence of his brother, 4466 Conduit road nw., on Monday, August 9, at 8:30 a. m.; thence to Our Lady of Victory Church, Conduit and Reservoir roads nw., where high requiem mass will be offered at 9 a. m. for the repose of his soul. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Holy Rood Cemetery. Services by W. W. Chambers.

LOVELESS, ESTELL H. Suddenly, on Friday, August 6, 1937, at her residence, Central ave., Seat Pleasant, Md., ESTELL H. LOVELESS, the beloved sister of Paul, James, Dr. Frank Shegogue and Mrs. Lillian Crosby. Funeral from the W. W. Chambers Co. Southeast funeral home, 517 11th st. se. Notice of funeral later.

LIMERICK, JULIUS. On Friday, August 6, 1937, JULIUS LIMERICK, beloved husband of the late Henrietta Limerick, father of Mrs. Rohde C. Stinnett and Marion L. Limerick, brother of Miss Carrie Limerick. Funeral from the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw., on Monday, August 9, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Rock Creek Cemetery.

FUNERAL DESIGNS.

GUDE BROS. CO., Florists
1212 F STREET. National 4276.

GEO. C. SHAFFER 900 14TH ST. N.W.
Expressive Floral Tributes. Phone.
Moderate prices Open eve & Sun NA. 0106

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

1113 SEVENTH ST. N.W. Telephone
Modern Chapel. NATIONAL 2473
FRANK GEIER'S SONS CO.

J. WILLIAM LEE'S SONS CO.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS.
CREMATORIUM
4th and Mass. Ave. N.E. LI. 5200.

JAMES T. RYAN.
317 Pa. AVE SE. ATlantic 1700.

Official Notices

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONTROL Board, Washington, D. C., August 7, 1937. Notice is hereby given that the following persons have applied for licenses under the District of Columbia Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, that remonstrants are entitled to be heard before the granting of such licenses on AUGUST 19, 1937, at 10 a. m., Room 2319, District Building: 1058, Peter Avedisian, Retailer's Class D, 1912 Penna. Ave. N.W.; 2905, John J. Grimes, T/A Grimes' Grill, Retailer's Class D, 153 M st. ne.; 2906, Louis Dupont, T/A AGNES K. MASON, ISAAC GANS, Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Legal Notices

HEWITT GRIGGS ROBERTSON, Attorney. District National Bank Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding probate court. No. 52038. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Joseph G. Rodgers, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 23D DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 23d day of July 1937. DURHAM G. RODGERS. 2924 Macomb street. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 31.7.14

ALBERT L. COX, Attorney. Shoreham Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 52015. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Pennsylvania, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia ancillary letters of administration on the estate of Nellie Childs, late of the State of Vermont, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber on or before the 26TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 26th day of July, 1937. ELWYNG WILLIAMS RICHARDS, 3307 Macomb St. NW., Washington, D. C. ELEANOR RICHARDS ADAMS, 1 Forest lane, Scarsdale, N. Y. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 24.31.7

WILLIAM A. GALLAGHER, Attorney. Columbian Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 51976. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Della Arendes, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 13TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 13th day of July, 1937. CHARLES FRANKLIN ELLIOTT, 1538 Thirty-fourth street northwest. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 24.31.7

LEO A. ROVER, Attorney. Southern Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 51942. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia letters testamentary on the estate of Joseph F. Mulhare, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 20TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 21st day of July, 1937. FRANCIS J. SALB, 5612 First street northeast. Attest: (Seal.) MELVIN J. MARQUES, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 31.7.14

JOSEPH D. MALLOY, Attorney. 416 Fifth Street Northwest.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 51155. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters of administration on the estate of Dennis J. Toomey, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 18TH DAY OF MAY, A. D. 1938, otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 18th day of July, 1937. DANIEL TOOMEY, 3618 13th st. nw. Attest: (Seal.) VICTOR S. MERSCH, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 24.31.7

DIED

MALLEN, MILDRED E. On Friday, August 6, 1937, at Georgetown Hospital, MILDRED E. MALLEN, of 4617 3d st. nw., the beloved wife of John J. Mallen and mother of Barbara Mallen; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Killeen, sister of Mrs. Albin E. Johnson, of Geneva, Switzerland; Mrs. Ronald A. Buck, Services and interment New York City, N. Y.

PEARSON, MILTON THOMAS, Jr. Suddenly, on August 5, 1937, at Alexandria, Va., MILTON THOMAS PEARSON, jr., beloved son of Milton Thomas and Elisabeth V. Pearson (nee Dwyer) and brother of Fred J. and Robert C. Pearson. Funeral services at his late residence, 237 11th st. se., on Saturday, August 7, at 3 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment Cedar Hill Cemetery. Services by W. W. Chambers Co. SE. funeral home.

PRICE, HORACE B. On Wednesday, August 4, 1937, at Georgetown Hospital, HORACE B. PRICE, beloved husband of Kathrine A. Price (nee Claxton). Remains resting at Lee's funeral home, Fourth st. and Mass. ave. ne., where funeral services will be held on Saturday, August 7, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment Mount Olivet Cemetery.

PRICE, ANNIE S. On Tuesday, August 3, 1937, at Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, Fla., ANNIE S. PRICE, beloved mother of W. Lee Price, Mrs. Lottie Zverina and Mrs. Olive Hartman. Remains resting at the Cunningham funeral home, 809 Cameron st., Alexandria, Va. Funeral services Saturday, August 7, at 3 p. m., at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 3 Oak st., Alexandria, Va. Interment Ivy Hill Cemetery, Alexandria, Va.

SMITH, LORETTA D. On Wednesday, August 4, 1937, at her residence, 3812 Livingston st. nw., after a lingering illness, LORETTA D. SMITH, beloved daughter of Mrs Ida G. Smith. Funeral services at the above residence on Saturday, August 7, at 2 p. m. Interment Glenwood Cemetery.

TARVIN, MRS. JAMES PRYOR. On Thursday, August 5, 1937, at her residence, 1954 Columbia rd. nw., MRS. JAMES PRYOR TARVIN, the beloved mother of John W. Bell. Remains resting at the W. W. Chambers Co. funeral home, 1400 Chapin st. nw. Notice of funeral later.

WRIGHT, MARY E. On Thursday, August 5, 1937, MARY E. WRIGHT, wife of the late James M. Wright. Services at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral home, 2901 14th st. nw., on Saturday, August 7, at 11 a. m. Interment private.

Legal Notices

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 52020. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters administration on the estate of Harry M. Crandall, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 22D DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 22d day of July, 1937. JOHN J. PAYETTE, 5910 16th st. nw. Attest: (Seal.) MELVIN J. MARQUES, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 31.7.14

CLEPHANE, LATIMER & HALL, Attorneys. Investment Building.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 51968. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscribers, of the District of Columbia, and the State of New York, respectively, have obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Minnie J Richards, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscribers, on or before the 20TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under our hands this 20th day of July, 1937. GEORGE KUMMER, 1933 S st. nw. Attest: (Seal.) THEODORE COGSWELL, Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 24.31.7

WHITEFORD, MARSHALL & HART, Attorneys. 815 Fifteenth Street Northwest.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 52045. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the State of Maryland and the District of Columbia, respectively, have obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of John F. Killeen, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscribers, on or before the 26TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under our hands this 26th day of July, 1937. ROGER J. WHITEFORD, 815 15th st., Washington, D. C. EDGAR N. WARNER, 2535 Pa. ave. nw. Attest: (Seal.) MELVIN J. MARQUES, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 31.7.14

PHILIP ERSHLER, Attorney. 917 Fifteenth Street Northwest.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 52020. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters administration on the estate of Harry M. Crandall, late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 22D DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate. Given under my hand this 22d day of July, 1937. JOHN J. PAYETTE, 5910 16th st. nw. Attest: (Seal.) MELVIN J. MARQUES, Deputy Register of Wills for the District of Columbia, Clerk of the Probate Court. 31.7.14

SAMUEL W. McART, Attorney. 923 Fifteenth Street Northwest.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Columbia, holding Probate Court. No. 51972. Administration. This is to give notice that the subscriber, of the District of Columbia, has obtained from the Probate Court of the District of Columbia, letters testamentary on the estate of Mary R. Stephenson late of the District of Columbia, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 13TH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1938; otherwise they may by law be excluded from all benefit of

Put Your Room on a Paying Basis—Rent It With a Post Want Ad

Continued From Preceding Page.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Salesmen-Agents 15

BRANCH MANAGER wanted to take over established District of Columbia territory, selling Floating Air Commercial Refrigerators. Big commissions; strong advertising support; direct factory assistance. Learn all about this wonderful opportunity from Ed Friedrich Sales Corp., San Antonio, Tex.

Situations—Female 16

REFINED LADY, 40, varied exp. in dealing with the public, desires full or part time work. COl. 6822-J, after 4.

WANTED by colored girl; mother's helper. NOrth 4603.

Situations—Male 17

CHAUFFEUR—Settled, colored, married man. Available Aug. 16. Refs. from present employer, 1515 Caroline st. nw.

VULCANIZER: best references and experience; first-class; wishes position. Address Box 68, Washington Post.

YOUNG MAN, 24, college grad., any kind work except canvassing. To work after 4:30 p. m. ADams 8894, after 6.

YOUNG MAN—High school graduate, desires work of any kind; strong, willing worker; excellent references. D. C. permit. Box 104, Washington Post.

YOUNG man, 29, honest, reliable worker, mechanically inclined, driver's permit; desires immediate employment; anything. Box 78, Washington Post.

YOUNG MAN desires work of any kind; good references; Box 90, Wash. Post.

Instructions 19

BE a telephone operator-receptionist, brief typing course. Miss West, PERSONNEL SERVICE, 1311 G st. nw. NA. 2114.

INCREASE YOUR SALARY by improving your office efficiency, shorthand and typing speed, etc. Inquire BOYD SCHOOL, 1333 F st. NAtional 2340.

Business Opportunities 23

AUTO REPAIR and equipment business for sale. Will sacrifice. Apply rear 1629 O st. nw. Phone DEc. 4840.

BEAUTY SHOP—Good location; ill health. Sacrifice for cash. COl. 0903-R.

CHATTEL NOTES.

Bought. 1008 H St. N.W.

CHATTEL NOTES BOUGHT.
L. BUTLER.
923½ New York Ave. N.W. MEt. 1385.

CIGAR and newsstand, downtown office bldg.; rent, $50; price, $1,900.
DISTRICT SALES & FINANCE.
NA. 1002-03.

GROCERY STORE, meat mkt., intersec. Mt. Vernon and Hume aves., Alex., Va. Ideal loc. for roadside market. Apply store or ph. Alex. 468.

HAND LAUNDRY, dry cleaning business; well-established; exc. quick sale. Dist. 6254, Sunday. WIs. 1125 week-days.

ONE BARBER chair and 3-chair case; perfect condition; best cash offer. Doc. Bush, Washington Tourist Camp.

LIQUOR LICENSES—Class C to trade for Class D. NAtl. 1565.

RESTAURANT business being sold because it has no manager. Box 91, Washington Post.

ROOMING HOUSES WANTED.
Large or small. Quick results and best prices. Call NA. 7091. Mr. Smith.

WE HAVE many paying propositions in restaurants, cafeterias, hotels, delicatessens, parking lots, grocery, liquor and drug stores. Chattel notes purchased for cash.

GASTON & CHARUHAS,

501 Woodward Bldg. DI. 7765.

1120 NINTH ST. N.W.

Rooming house of 15 rooms, 4 baths. Ideal downtown section. Rent $125 per month.

WEAVER BROS., INC.

REALTORS.
Washington Bldg. DIstrict 9486.

ROOMING HOUSE HOME.
PRICE $500, DOWN $250.

Six rooms; rent $48; near 1st and E sts. ne. Very best of furniture; clean; all rented.

EDWIN L. ELLIS,

1010 Vermont Ave., Room 217. NA. 3384.

FOOD DISTRIBUTOR
for the District of Columbia; buy fast-selling profitable commodity, sold only to restaurants, hotels and institutions. All-year business; start with small investment. Lehman Food Products Co., 1326 Webster Ave., New York City, N. Y.

THE OUTSTANDING
Bargain Of The Year

Apt. house near Dupont Circle; 24 rooms made into 10 apts.; 5 baths. Rent only $175. Sinks in all apts.; 9 Frigidaires; new heating plant; cost owner $1,500. Income $475. Showing a profit of over $225 monthly above all expenses. Check this profit. Books open. Full price for business and furniture only $3,500. Down payment $1,350. Balance $50 monthly. Long lease. Shown by appointment only. Don't wait. Call NAtl. 9654 at once.

S. WINFIELD, 908 10th N.W.

Wash.'s Largest Rooming-House Broker.

F ST. N.W., 604.—STORE.

Heart of commercial district. Near everything. Heat, water furn. ME. 8352.

Wanted Business Opps. 23A

WANTED TO contact painter and paperhanger who contracts work. One of ability and is reliable. Gentile preferred. Box 100, Washington Post.

Money-to-Loan 26

ADVANCES on diamonds, watches, jewelry and silverware, etc.; loan $200 and over, 2%; all tickets good for one year. Horning's Loan Office, opposite Wash. Airport.

ON diamonds, watches, jewelry, silverware, etc., no adv. arrangements necess.; lowest int. rates. Rossilyn Loan Co., Rossilyn, Va.

Personal Loan Cos. 26-A

Operating Under Uniform Small Loan Laws

PAY YOUR BILLS? TAKE A REAL VACATION, TOO?

We will loan you up to $300 on your signature alone. No co-signers! No "red tape!" Also Auto and Furniture Loans.

Bethesda Personal Bankers
6982 Wisconsin Ave., Bethesda, Md.
Wisconsin 4373

Friendship Pers'l Loan Co.
3506 Wisconsin Ave. Wisconsin 2488

Public Small Loan Company
3826 Na. Mears St., Rosslyn, Va.
WEst 2443

Peoples Personal Bankers
3208 Rhode Island Ave.
Mt. Rainier, Md. DEstor 1240

Real Estate Loans 27

WE HAVE FUNDS FOR FIRST TRUST loans on improved D. C. real estate. Prevailing rates. Prompt decisions.
LOUIS P. SHOEMAKER.
1719 K St. NW. NAt. 1166.

Wanted—To Borrow 29

WANT loan $25,000, first trust 6% notes, 3 years; interest semiannually; amply secured, improved income producing realty. Box 94, Washington Post.

Rooms—Furnished 30

A ST. NE., 327—Large 2nd-floor front rm., 5 windows; insulated home; cont. hot water; nr. Capitol, Library, Supreme Court and Union Station.

A LOVELY neighborhood near Shoreham, private home, beautiful rm., adjoining bath, $20; gentleman. CO. 6744.

ALTURAS, 1509 16th st. nw.—Newly remodeled single rooms in fireproof building; near showers; 24-hour elevator service; $4 week up.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Rooms—Furnished 30

ATTRACTIVE BED-SITTING ROOM, PRIV. APT. ADAMS 4954 EVENINGS. SUNDAYS, REAS.

ARMY officer's widow's corner detached home. Twin bed rm.; private bath, shower; breakfast served. 4234 16th st. nw. Assistance. Learn all about this wonderful opportunity from Ed Friedrich Sales Corp., San Antonio, Tex.

ARIZONA HOTEL, 310 C st. nw., one block off Pa. ave.—Neatly furnished rooms, lobby; 3 baths on each floor, shower bath; continuous hot water; $3.50 week up; transients, 75c and $1.

ASPEN ST., NW., 801 (Near Walter Reed)—Large room; sleeping porch. GE. 2697.

BELMONT RD. NW., 1821—Attr. single rm.; good location; $20. AD. 4574.

BELMONT ST. NW., 1353 (Apt. 22)—Large front, south, exposure; adjoining bath, shower. Gentleman. COl. 9588-J.

BLOCK from Dupont Circle—Large, front, cool, clean, nicely furnished, double or triple rms. 1770 Church st. nw.

BUCHANAN ST. NW., 540—Large front, double rm.; private home; unlimited telephone; laundry privileges. AD. 8193.

C ST. N.E., 638—Large front room. Suitable single or double. Southern exposure. Spacious closet. AT. 5362.

CALIFORNIA ST. NW., 1842, Apt. 304—Large room, twin beds, private lavatory and running water. PO. 3051.

CAPITOL HILL, 216 Md. Ave. NE., Apt. 10. Cool large front room nicely furn. for quiet employed couple or 1 person; reasonable.

CHEVY CHASE, D. C., 3718 Jennifer st.—½ sq. Conn. Single rm. adjoining bath.

CHURCH ST. NW., 1732 (bet. P & Q)—2 comm. rms., 2d fl., twin and dble. beds; separate or ensuite. Walk. dis. DE. 1748.

CLIFTON ST. NW., 1468—Desirable 2nd floor front room for gentleman, $25.

COLUMBIA RD. NW., 1834—$3 wk.; single rms.; clean; 4 baths; men. AD. 10213.

CONN. AVE. AND R.—Lge. front studio rm., maid and phone serv. POt. 3330.

CONN. AVE., near Mayflower—In exclusive apt.; lovely room, private bath, shower; cultured gentleman. No. 2086-J evenings.

DELAFIELD PL. NW., 1405—Newly furn. single, large closet, near bath. 2d fl.; 2 exposures; private porch; detached house; gentleman; reasonable. GE. 7057.

DOWNTOWN—1213 L st. nw. Clean, cool front newly furnished room, $3 and $3.50. Refined private home.

DOWNTOWN, 1320 Vermont ave. nw.—Cool, comfortably furnished second-floor front; twin beds; priv. lavatory.

DUPONT CIRCLE (1747 P st. nw.)—Nice, clean, single or double room in physician's home; every conv.; gentile; refs.

DUPONT CIRCLE—Large front; twin beds; phone in room; also triple room, $12.50 each. 1770 Church st. nw.

DUPONT CIRCLE, Que st. nw., 2234—Frt. double rm.; semibath, 3 expos., closet.

DUPONT CIRCLE (1302 Conn. ave.)—Nicely furn. single, double and triple rms.; walking distance; low summer rates. DEc. 8468. NOrth 9404.

DUPONT CIRCLE—Front sgl., rm. nr. bath. New maple furn. $20 mo. Gentleman. Call after 2 p. m., 1637 19th st. nw.

DUPONT CIRCLE—Cool, spacious double room, private bath; walking distance; refined home; also 2 sgle rooms, bath between; unlimited phone; breakfast if desired, 1737 Que st. nw. DE. 6225.

EUCLID NW., 1218—Newly dec., l. h. k. rm., studio couch, sink, range, porch. AD. 8032.

G ST. SE., 1220—Two l. h. k. rooms; sink in kitchen; reasonable.

H ST. S.W., 485—Large room, kit., second floor, front, l. h. k., sink, range reas.

HAMILTON ST. NW., 439—Front master bedrm.; 2 exps.; closet, semi-bath; next shower; priv. family. GE. 4501.

HOTEL LOGAN, 13th and Logan Circle—Double rooms with bath and telephone, $9 per wk.; single rms., $6 up. NO. 2000.

HOTEL GRAFTON, Conn. ave. at DeSales—Cool, comfortable rms.; running water; near showers; from $7.50 weekly.

IRVING ST. NW., 1319—Convenient, cool location. Attractive single rm. Innerspring mattress; next bath; $18. CO. 6724.

L ST. NW., 1513—Nice clean rooms with double bed; single, $4; $5 double.

LARGE front room, 2 closets, private bath and shower, twin or double beds, recreation room privileges. Garage, breakfast optional. RA. 2231.

LARGE room with bath, gentlemen or cple. $20. 1323 Quincy st. nw. CO. 0687-J.

MADISON ST. NW., 334—Front double room, twin beds, 2 closets, maple furniture, priv. shower, conv. trans. GE. 0507.

MASS. AVE. NW., 406—Cool, newly decorated. 2 rooms, (1st floor, front), sink, range. Ev'thing furn., $10 wk. ME. 2386.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1229—Double and single rooms; reas.; walking distance.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1229—Double and single rooms; reasonable; walking distance.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1600—1621 N. H. ave. Attractive, airy room, next bath; maid service; $15 monthly and up; sum. rates.

MASS. AVE. NW., 2017 (Dupont Circle)—Large front room; southern exposure; unlim. phone. Private home. FO. 1402.

MICHIGAN PARK, 4202 13th St. NE.—Large rm. adjoining sleeping porch; shower; nr. transportation. DE. 3650-M.

MINTWOOD PL. NW., 1865—Large, cool, attrac., double and single room, c. h. w., unlim. ph.; board after Sept. 1. CO. 1838.

MT. PLEASANT—1859 Ingleside terrace. Desirable, large, cool room; twin beds; see to appreciate. AD. 0079.

MT. PLEASANT, 1875 Ingleside terrace nw.—Lge. front rm.; most attractively furn.; cedar closet; shower; practically priv. b.; priv. home. Busi. person. AD. 2698-W.

MONROE ST. NE., 1839—Large room off porch. Gentleman, $15. NO. 8404-J.

NEAL ST. NE., 1268—Lge. rm., nicely furn., in quiet, priv. home; reas. Gentleman pref.; use of phone. LI. 4100.

NEAR Union Station. Twin bedrm.; running water; $5. 305 F st. ne.

PARK RD., 1867—Studio rm., Simmons couch, $15; or single, well furnished, $16; both rr. bath; private home.

PARK RD. NW., 1827—Cool, large, detached home. Delightfully cool cor. rm.; run. water, 1 or 2. Nr. cars. CO. 10322.

PARK RD. NW., 1735—Large front room, twin beds; Southern exposure, 4 windows; also single front; private home. AD. 0783.

PETWORTH, 4627 4th St. N.W.—Attractive front twin bedrm.; 2 closets; priv. bath; sents.; $30; single, $25. AD. 5105-W

PETWORTH—416 Emerson st. nw.—Small room; private home; contin. hot water; pub. serv. Nr. bus. $3.50 wk. AD. 1970.

PINEY BRANCH RD. NW., 6729—Cool single rm., southern expo.; closet; next semi-bath; lady pref.; priv. family; conv. transp; breakfast if desired. GE. 2513.

PORTLAND HOTEL, Vermont ave. at Thomas Circle—$8.50 week; hotel service; fresh towels daily; your mail and phone calls attended to; shower baths; walk to work.

R ST. NW., 2000—At Conn. Twin bed room. Also basement apt. (Frig.)

R ST. NW., 1635, Apt. 22—Nicely furnished twin bedroom, next bath; shower, $15 each. Unlimited phone. NO. 8654-J.

ROANOKE, 1348 Euclid st. nw., apt. 33—Twin beds, maple; 2 exposures; near bath; also 1 room, double bed; use of phone.

SHEPHERD PARK (off 16th st.)—1520 Kalmia rd. nw.—New detached, private home. Single rm., next bath. GE. 4858.

SPRING RD. NW., 1422—Private home. Well-furnished room for 1 or 2 gentlemen. CO. 3238-J.

TAYLOR ST. NW., 1345—Off 14th st. Attractive bedrm. and sitting rm.; prefer men or cple.; semi-priv. bath; use phone.

THE ARUNDEL (Apt. 302)—Private double rm., south. exp., spacious closet, nr. semibath. After 6 P. M. LI. 2969.

THE EVERETT HOTEL, 1730 H st. nw.—Rooms, weekly; single from $6; double from $12. Also furnished apts. NA. 8130.

THE WESTMINSTER, 1607 17th st. nw.—Desirable rooms now available; newly decorated and well furnished; showers; elevator; single, $5-$6; double, $7.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Rooms—Furnished 30

THE POTOMAC HOTEL (16th and H sts. nw.)—Rooms weekly, single from $8; dble. from $12. A modern hotel. NA. 9216.

THE WYOMING APTS. (Columbia Rd. and California St., Apt. 114)—Well-appointed rm., 2 exp.; private bath. DE. 1332-J.

TILDEN GARDEN—Double room with private bath and entrance, $40. GL. 5334.

UNDER new management, 1732 Euclid st. nw.—Corner home, yard, trees, well-furnished studio rm.; large double front rm., 7 windows; comfortable, attractively furnished; also 1 n. k. rm.; porch, running water; use phone; reasonable rates. AD. 6695.

W ST. NW., B—Two large rooms, opening on large glassed-in sleeping porch; also hall bedroom, near bath; private home; near trans.; gentlemen pref. FO. 5998.

W ST. NW., 1436, Apt. 23—Nicely furn. rm. in private apt.; 2 exposures, next bath; unlim. phone, $25 single, $30 double. Call after 5:30 p. m. FO. 4481.

WISCONSIN AVE. NW., 2319—Fr. twin bedrm., next bath; sgle., $30; dbl., $25. EM. 9118.

WOODLEY PL. NW., 2634, nr. Wardman Pk. Hotel: 2d-floor twin bedroom, beautyrest mattress; next bath. Also single. Board optional. CO. 1051.

WOODRIDGE—2302 Monroe st. ne. Refined, employed couple; gentiles; beautiful maple bedroom; twin beds; radio; single, $5; double, $7; close bus and cars.

YOU ST. NW., 33—Comfortable, cool rms. Single or double; near bath; conv. transportation; reasonable. NO. 4021.

3RD ST. NW., 3023—Two furnished rooms in new home; private shower bath.

15TH AND L NW. (Sherman, Apt. 701)—Attractive front bed-living rm., extra-large closet. Unlim. phone. All-night elev.

9TH ST. NW., 1116—Single rooms; plenty hot water; quiet house; men, $2.50.

13TH ST. NW., 1114 (downtown)—Newly furn. and dec. rms., $3 wk. up.

14TH ST. NW., 2844—Clean bed-living room, 15-16 wk.; also 1-rm. apt., kitchen. Frigid., gas, elec., $7 week. Janitor.

16TH ST. NW., 1730—Large studio for men. Single bedrm. for lady. Reas.

16TH ST. EXTENDED—2 front rms., 1 with twin beds; priv. bath. GE. 4157.

16TH ST. NW., 3500—Large single room, sleeping porch; near bath; cont. hot water; gentlemen; reas. AD. 2261.

16TH ST. NW., 3035—Small fr. rm. nr. b.; free phone; $4 wk.; nice locat. AD. 6265.

16TH ST. NW., 1101—Newly decorated single room; running water; near shower; $5; also twin bedrm. (Downtown.)

17TH ST. NW., 1028—2d floor rear, next bath; $5, or $6 double.

18TH ST. NW., 3380—Private home can take 2 guests. References exchanged.

19TH ST. NW., 2314—2 large front rooms, porch, electric refrigeration; semiprivate bath; continuous hot water; half block cars, bus. DE. 3993.

24TH ST. NW., 801 (corner I st. nw.)—Large, clean, bright housekeeping room, $4.75 weekly.

1328 MASS. AVE. N.W.

Cool, quiet attractive room with twin beds; high ceiling; 2 exposures; also single. Reasonable.

HOTEL INN 608 9th st. nw. $1-$1.50 per day; $6 up weekly.

SENATE HOTEL 101 D St. N.E. Opposite Union Station; clean, quiet rooms with running water, $1.25 to $1.50 per day; weekly rates. Also apartments. LI. 5187.

CLEVELAND PARK.

Cool, large, attractive room in private home shaded by oaks. Porches. 3210 Newark st. nw. CL. 1525.

CONN. & L ST. APT. 403

Beautifully furn. outside rm., adj. semi-priv. bath; twin beds, innerspring; 3 windows; elev.; unlimited phone. ME. 4625.

GRAND HOTEL 606 F st. nw. Large, cool, outside rooms; elevator service; $5 week. ME. 8352.

Furn. or Unfurn. 31

CHESTNUT ST. NE., 3116—Small family has large recreation room, fireplace, priv. bath and entrance. Suitable l. h. k. Middle-aged couple. Use yard. Reas.

Rooms—Unfurnished 32

LARGE unfurnished room, shower and bath for gentleman. In heart of business district. Apply Sherby's Market, 401 7th st. nw.

CONN. AVE., 1216—Large 2d floor room; adjoining bath; suitable bachelor; $25 mo. Inquire Mrs. Jack Hayes' real estate office, NA. 7174.

COLORED—1236 Irving st. nw.—2 rooms, kitchen and bath, nice pantry; gas, elec. Call COl. 0659 after 5 p. m.

Suburban Rooms 33

ARLINGTON, VA., 171: 17th St. North—Large double rm., kitchen, for l. h. k. 2 expos., closets, next semi-bath. WA. 7078.

CHEVY CHASE, MD., 103 E. Underwood st., southwest Em. priv. bath, l. h. k. priv from Aug. 13 to Sept. 15. WI. 3288-J.

CHERRYDALE, VA. (2117 N. Oakland St.)—Cool double rm., near shower; ½ sq. Lee Highway. Meals opt. WA. 6846.

Room and Board 34

A BOARDING CLUB, downtown; excellent for Govt. clerks and business people; exceptional meals; $35 up. 1124 12th nw.

ARE YOU interested in French? French family offers spacious studio room, southern exposure; board; cool corner; insulated home. Gentlemen. PO. 0458.

BEAUTIFUL rm. for one or two elderly ladies. Excellent diet; tray service. Nurses priv. home. 2219 Wisconsin ave. nw. EM. 4677.

COL. RD.-18TH ST. location. Single, also large room for 2 or 3; shower. Fine meals; desirable; reas. 1775 Lanier pl.

DUPONT CIRCLE (2131 Mass. Ave.)—Lovely large room for 2 or 3; studio style, with large tile private bath with tub and shower. Also a single and double; excellent meals; radio free. A real guest home in an ex-embassy; walking distance. Live like you would like to live. Costs you no more than the ordinary boarding house. We solicit your inspection. NOrth 9404.

FURN. FR. RM.; good board; refined, middle-aged lady desires same by Sept. 1; Capitol Hill; Sept. 1. Box 99, Wash. Post.

HARVARD ST. NW., 1435—Cool, single and double rooms; running water; new twin Beautyrest beds and mattresses; delicious meals; day, week or mo.; reas. prices.

IRVING ST. NW., 1737—Large room, adjoining sleeping porch, next bath, shower; small family. AD. 2642.

LEE MARQUE—1629 K st. nw. Attractive single, double rms.; semi baths; wonderful home & location; exceptional meals.

LOVELY FRONT RM. FOR INVALID OR elderly lady; ideal location; special diet; cheerful environment; nurse's modern home; refs. 2232 Wisconsin ave. nw. EMerson 7509.

MASS. AVE. NW., 1776—A distinctive home for young people in an unsurpassed location; reasonable.

NEAR Soldiers' Home, two large rooms, private bath; elec. refrig., gas and elec. incl.; $40.50. ADams 8858, after 6 p. m.

NEWTON ST. NW., 1814—Single room with board in refined, private family. AD. 10496.

OLD ENGLISH, 1635 Que st. nw.—Attractive rms.; excel. meals; recreation rm.; showers; free transp. included; we take you to and from work; $35 up.

PA. AVE. NW., 2402—Lovely single, double rms., twin beds; excel. home cooking. Walking distance. Gentlemen. $30 mo.

ROOMS (board)—Best residential section; hardwood floors. Large airy rooms; reasonable. 3112 18th st. nw.

Country Board 37

SUMMER TOURIST—Room, meals, country home; all conveniences; lights, bath. $2 day. Reference. Mrs. Bessie Keyser, Luray, Va. Route No. 1, Box 17.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Country Board 37

PLAINFIELD INN.
Delightful place to spend the week-ends. Modern conveniences; private baths. Located 3 miles south of Winchester, Va., on Route 11. Telephone 20F11. Mrs. F. E. Doss McComas, proprietress.

Apartments—Furnished 45

ATTRACTIVE apartment, centrally located; completely furnished; $65 per mo.; within 5 min. downtown. ME. 7983.

CATHEDRAL AVE. — Sublet 4 or 5 weeks. Exceptionally attractive 2-room apt. Available August 14th. EM. 6354.

CHEVY CHASE CIRCLE vicinity; det. home; 3-rm. apt.; priv. bath. CL. 3285.

CONN. AVE., 4800 blk.—3 rm. apt., compl. furn.; cool, comf'ble. CL. 8556. $77.50.

CONVENIENT, quiet, cool, overlooks Rock Creek; 4 rooms, bath, Frigidaire; phone; complete. Superior-type apt. AD. 2460.

EMERSON ST. NW., 620—Convenient, desirable liv. rm., sleep. porch; kitch., bath; elec. refrig. Refs. Reas. GO. 6958-W.

F ST. NW., 2000—Large 1 rm. aptmts. with kitchenettes; studio and single rms.; just redecorated; light and gas free; now available at reduced summer rates: $3, $6.50 and $8 per wk.

FAIRMONT NW., 1307—Attractive 2-rm. apt.; southern exp., kit., priv. bath; g. h. w.; 2 quiet adults. CO.6456-W.

H ST. NE., 335—2 or 3 well-furnished rooms; $7-$9 weekly. No small children preferred. LIn. 10147.

NEAR Army Medical Center, Walter Reed; 1 to 3 rooms; priv. bath; det. corner res. 1416 Van Buren st. nw.

P ST. NW., 1767—Clean, handsomely furnished (4 rooms). Glassed-in sleeping porch; large living room; very attractive. Ideal for 3 or 4 men or ladies. $70.

PENTHOUSE APT., 811, 2400 16th st. nw. Bed-living room, bath, shower; electric appliances; sublet Aug. CO. 7200.

R ST. NE., 232—Entire 2nd floor. Completely furnished. Frigidaire and phone. Suitable for 3 adults, $52.50. Phone NO. 3654-J, or see after 7:30 p. m.

TAYLOR ST. NW., 706—2 rooms, kitchen, bath; private residence, $35.00 per month including heat, light and gas.

TO SUBLET for 1 or 2 months, 6 rooms, attractively furnished apartment. Alban Towers. Call Mr. Barry at Alban Towers, or National 4080.

WARDMAN PARK—Sublet several mo.; rare opportunity for ideal summer; 5-r. h. k. apt.; 3 airy exps.; balconies; overlooks pk.; complete. Ph. Tracy, CO. 2000.

12TH ST. NW., 1210—One large room. Murphy bed, dinette, kitchen and bath; references required. Apply mgr.

18TH ST. NW., 2305 (Gibraltar)—2 rm. apts. for refined people; a. m. l.; $40 mo.

20TH ST. NW., 1726—One room, kitchenette, completely equipped; Kelvinator; prac. new; semiprivate bath. DE. 1158.

512 C ST. N.E.—Opp. Stanton Park; 2 and 3 rms., kitchenette; pri. bath.

MERRILL MANSIONS.

1361 Fairmont st. nw. Clean, cool, newly decorated, spacious 3-room apt.; screened porch, kitchen, bath; Electrolux.

Francis Scott Key, Apt. Hotel

20th and F sts. nw.—1 room, kit., bath, completely furn.; linens, silver; Frigidaire. Day, week, month. NAtional 5425.

JOHN MARSHALL,

1910 K St. N.W.
3 rooms, dinette, kitchen, bath, nicely furnished; $90, incl. gas, electricity. Apply resident manager or call ME. 1463.

London Hall Apt. Hotel.

1133 13th st. nw. Bed-living room, dressing room, kitchen, bath; electricity, gas, linen; Frigidaire; by day, week or month; $15 up weekly, $45 up mo. NA. 9010.

WE HAVE a few desirable one and two-room units available. Ample closet space, beautiful oak floors, tile baths with built-in tub and shower. Refrigeration on house current; 24 hour elevator and switchboard service. Excellent restaurant in building.

THE CAVALIER,

FRED R. FOSTER, MGR.
3500 14th St. N.W. Columbia 3600.

L ST. N.W., 1106.

1 room, kitchen and bath.

Furn. or Unfurn. 46

18TH ST. NE., 1217—2 rooms, kitchen; cool location; Bladensburg rd. and M st.; electric refrigeration incl.; reas. Lin. 8318.

18TH ST. NE., 1217—Entire 1st fl. of new home; 4 rm.; 1 util. incl. Reas. LI. 8318.

1858 COLUMBIA RD. N.W.

2 rooms, bath, grill, elec. refrigeration.

THE FLEETWOOD.

Elevated—Cool—Refrigeration Free.
2 and 3 rms., kit., dinette & bath.
3707 Woodley Rd. CL. 0618.

Clifton TERRACE

Choice Modern
Furnished or Unfurnished Apartments

One room, kitchen and bath.
Two rooms, kitchen and bath.
Three rooms, kitchen and bath.
Four rooms, kitchen and bath.

24-Hour Switchboard and Elevator Service.

Apply
Resident Manager
14th & Clifton Sts. N.W.
COl. 7744

Moving and Storage 46A

ANDERSON VAN SERVICE. Mills Bldg., NA. 7670. Local and long distance, east of the Mississippi from Maine to Fla. Storage.

CHEVY CHASE WISC. 3010 TRANSFER & STORAGE CO. LOCAL AND DISTANCE MOVING.

WEATHERS BROS. Transfer Co., Inc. LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE MOVING. DI. 0900 Offices New York City, Atlanta, Augusta, Ga.

National Movers DI. 7500 of New York, Inc. Regular trips, N. Y., Penn., Conn., Mass., Pa., Ohio, Ill. Loads Insured. Return rates. 1340 New York Ave. N.W.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

WAIT FOR
2407 18TH ST. NW.
READY SEPT. 1.
INSPECT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

ALTON APTS. 1445 Park rd. nw.—3 rooms, kitchen, foyer, dressing room, bath; southern exposure, cross ventilation; Frigidaire; elevator.

APARTMENT SEEKERS, not acquainted with Washington, and others, desiring to save time and eliminate the bother usually connected with the locating of suitable apartments, will do well to phone COlumbia 1348 between 9 A. M. and 5 P. M., for free information and transportation. Evenings, phone POtomac 2333.

1460 IRVING ST. N.W.

2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath.
Apply Resident Manager.
PHILIP P. PEYSER & CO.
1028 Investment Bldg. District 3740.

WAIT FOR
2407 18TH ST. NW.
READY SEPT. 1.
INSPECT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Apartments—Unfurn. 47

AIR-COOLED.
2929 CONNECTICUT AVENUE.
"AN ADDRESS OF CHARACTER."

ATTRACTIVE SUBURBAN APARTMENT. Living room, bedroom, dinette, kitchen, full-tile bath and large porch; exposure on 3 sides. Light, gas and telephone included. Furnished or unfurnished. Large storage space in attic. 1875 Flower ave., Highland View, Md. SH. 4066.

WAIT FOR
2407 18TH ST. N.W.
READY SEPT. 1.
INSPECT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

AVAILABLE SEPT. 1—Ideal bachelor apt. in Old Georgetown; 2 rms., ea. with fireplace, bath, kitchen facilities; priv. entrance; apt. surrounded by lovely walled garden; yearly lease required. WE. 2087.

CALIFORNIA ST. NW., 1830—2 large rms., kitchen, bath, porch; $45. Apply janitor.

CHAPIN ST. NW., 1427, Apt. 4—2 rooms, kitchen and bath; quiet, cool, open outlook, 3 exps., adults; $50; open for insp'n.

D ST. NE., 914—3 rooms, kitchen, bath, gas, heat, elect. furnished. LI. 10314.

GEORGETOWN, 3241 N st. nw.—3 rooms, k. and b.; outside exp.; janitor service; quiet surroundings; adults, $35.

H ST. SE., 1623—2 rms., kit. and private bath; large screened porch, refrig., gas, heat and light included; employed adults.

N ST. NW., No. 3—Light, airy apt., 3 rms.; priv. bath; h.-w. h.; nr. trans. P. O. and Govt. Printing Office. $35. WI. 4823.

NEW APARTMENT, Concord Gardens, 5900 block 13th st. nw.—2 rooms, kit., dinette; bath; Venetian blinds, cross ventilation; large living rm. Electrolux; ample closet space; spacious dinette; convenient shopping center, golf course, express bus lines, schools, churches—practically at doorstep; also Murphy bed apt. Reas. Mgr., RAn. 3356, Apt. 103.

N. H. AVE. NW., 3106—Entire 2d fl., 2 rms., kit., bath and sep. shower; empl. adults; $50, inc. gas, elec., heat. RA. 5249.

SEVERAL desirable apartments available. RANDALL H. HAGNER & CO., INC. 1321 Conn. Ave. DEcatur 3600.

STAPLES ST. NE., 1107, apt. 2.—3 rooms, kitchen and bath, back porch, use of cellar and yard. All modern. Apply PENN REALTY CORP., 474 K st. nw. MEtro. 1283.

TAKOMA PARK, MD., 721 Erie ave., 3 rms., elec. kitch., dinette, bath; new buildings; adults; $42.50 mo. TAk. 4278-J.

THE BARBARA, 9th and Md. ave. ne.—2 rooms, kit., bath, outside cor. apt. New range and linoleum. Frigid. free. Rent reduced. To inspect see janitor or phone Mr. Toms, DI. 2434. Other apts avail.

4TH ST NE. 816—Two apts., front; two large rms., din. kit. and bath. Newly renovated. Adults. $47.50 and $52.50 mo.

AIR-COOLED.
2929 CONNECTICUT AVENUE.
"AN ADDRESS OF CHARACTER."

19TH ST. NW., 2110—Next to school; desirable 2 rms., kit., bath; 3 exps., Frigid. on house current; $47.50. Tenant leaving town desires to sell furn. LINKINS CO., 1735 DeSales st. nw. DI. 3522.

WAIT FOR
2407 18TH ST. NW.
READY SEPT. 1.
INSPECT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

20TH ST. NW., 1100—3 desirable rms., k. and b., Frigidaire; janitor service; $45.

3 ROOMS, kitchen and bath; Frigidaire. 1102 14th st. nw.

3806 N. H. ave., 2 rms., k. b.....$45.00
1525 19th st. se., 1 rm., k. b.....$40.00
WASHINGTON REALTY CO. GE. 8300.

3562 11TH ST. NW.—2nd floor; 1 room, kitchen and bath; electricity, heat included. $30. CO. 5266.

THE SEMINOLE.
1444 W St. N.W.
1 room, kitchenette, bath.....$27.50
See Resident Manager.

TILDEN GARDENS.
Conn. ave. at Tilden st.; apartments consisting of 1, 2 or 3 bedrooms, living rm., dining room, kitchen and bath. Large apartments have sunroom and two baths. Prices range from $75 to $135.
CLEVELAND 8334.

AIR-COOLED.
2929 CONNECTICUT AVENUE.
"AN ADDRESS OF CHARACTER."

1860 CALIFORNIA ST. NW.
2 bedrooms, living room, dinette, kitchen, bath with shower; $50-$52.50.
Resident Manager, DE. 0618.

1830 R ST. NW.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath; $55-$57.50. Large rooms; 2 and 3 exposures.
Resident Manager, NO. 0983.

1308 EVARTS ST. NE.
3 rooms, kitchen and bath, $42.50.
Resident Manager, NO. 7320.

UNION INVESTMENT CO.
207 Machinist Bldg. NA. 5536.

3100 WARDER ST. NW.
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath...$48.50
Refrigeration on house current.
Resident Manager, CO. 4188.

WINTON-STANLEY.
1411 Harvard St. NW.
4 rooms, kitchen and bath.

THE SEABRIDGE.
501 12th St. NE.
2 and 3 room, kitchen and bath apts. G. E. refrigeration, $45 and $50.
FEDERAL AMERICAN CO.
1420 Eye st. nw. NA. 8032.

1811 WYOMING AVE. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, bath, reception hall; refrigeration free.

1311 11TH ST. NW.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath.
Electricity furnished, $24.50.
GEORGE P. HANE, INC.
1422 F St. N.W. NA. 3964.

WAIT FOR
2407 18TH ST. N.W.
READY SEPT. 1.
INSPECT SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

NEAR MERIDIAN PARK.
1480 CHAPIN ST. N.W.

Attractive unheated flats of 4 rooms, kitchen, bath and porch; ready to move in; $40 and $45.
Key 1st floor, 1482 Chapin st.
WAGGAMAN-BRAWNER.
1700 Eye St. N.W. MEt. 3860.

AIR-COOLED.
2929 CONNECTICUT AVENUE.
"AN ADDRESS OF CHARACTER."

1314 MASS. AVE. N.W.
1 room, kitchen and bath.....$35.00
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath.....$65.00
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette and bath.....$82.50 and $85.00
Light, Gas and Refrigeration included in Rental.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Resident Manager.

THE CHANCELLOR
214 Mass. Ave. N.E.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath... $80.00
3 rooms, kitchen and bath... $85.00
Resident Manager. 24-hour elevator and switchboard service. Electric refrigeration on house current.

THE GELMONT
1835 3d St. N.E.
2 rooms, kitchen and bath.....$57.50, $59.50
Gas, electricity and refrigeration included in rental.
Resident Manager.

3 RIGGS COURT N.W.
(Off Dupont Circle)
2 rooms, kitchen, bath and and fireplace.....$65.00

STONELEIGH COURT
Conn. Ave. at L N.W.
Several 1 to 3 room apartments for fall occupancy.
24-hour elevator and switchboard service.
Mrs. M. E. Poston, Res. Mgr.

ALTO TOWERS
2206 Wisconsin Ave.
1 room, kitchen, dinette and bath.....$47.50
2 rooms, kitchen, dinette, bath and porch.....$62.50
Electric refrigeration on house current. Elevator.
Resident Manager.

2134 P ST. N.W.
2 rooms, kitchen, bath and inclosed porch.....$60.00
3 rooms, kitchen and bath; redecorated.....$55.00
Electric refrigeration.
New gas range.

3311 GEOR

Use Post Want Ads to Sell Unused Articles for Useful Cash

Continued From Preceding Page.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Houses—Unfurnished 56

$80—NEAR 14TH & PA. AVE. S.E.
6 rooms, bath; h.-w. h.; convenient location; redecorated.
$65—CHURCH ST. N.W.
6 rooms, bath, 2 porches, garage; h.-w. h. Just redecorated throughout.
FRANK S. PHILLIPS, DIST. 1411.

Near Congressional Club.
Gentleman's Country Home.
15-room stone house, newly renovated; 3½ baths. 3-car garage, beautiful grounds. Rent, $200 per month or can be bought reasonably on terms. See this property if you need a real home.
S. T. ROBERTSON,
7601 Georgetown rd., Bethesda, Md.
Phone WIsconsin 1444.

3214 WISCONSIN AVE.
9 rooms, 2 baths hot-water heat; 3-car garage, large rear yard. Electric refrigeration. $85.00.
110 SUNNYSIDE ROAD.
SILVER SPRING, MD.
6 rooms and bath; built-in garage. $75.
119 NO. FILLMORE ST.,
LYON VILLAGE, VA.
7 rooms, bath; hot-water heat; built-in garage; sun porch. $90.00.
5 PINE ST.,
MT. IDA, ALEXANDRIA, VA.
6 rooms and bath; hot-water heat; detached garage. $70.
WEAVER BROS., INC.
REALTORS.
Washington Bldg. DIstrict 9486.

Suburban—Rent 58

ALEXANDRIA—5-rm. Cape Cod brick house on Mason ave.; a. m. i.; deep lot; newly decorated. $57.50 mo. Call Alex. 1970-J.

AVAILABLE immediately. Falls Church, Va. Entire 2d fl., 3 rms., bath, kitchen, inclosed porch, heat and c. h. w., $45. 105 Columbia st. Phone Falls Church 38.

AVAILABLE SEPT. 1—Modern, year-around river-front cottage, on Mt. Vernon Hwy. Elect. kitchen, fireplace, screened porch; partly furn. or unfurn. Alex. 31-F-4.

HYATTSVILLE—3 large cool rooms, private bath, entrance. Newly decorated; includes refrigerator, c. h. w., elec. GReenwood 1455 after 7 p. m. Reasonable.

MONTGOMERY ST., 625. Sil. Spg., Md. joins Bonifant st.; 5 rm. brick house; gar., oil heat, basement, attic; $67. GE. 7078.

NEW—5 rooms, brick house; built-in garage; $75. Furnished, 5 rooms and garage, $100. Lyon Village, 6 rooms, 2 baths; recreation room; built-in garage. Lyon, Inc. WAlnut 8410.

4 rooms and bath, $39.50.
5 rooms, bath, garage, $52.50.
5 rooms, bath, garage, $55.
7 rooms, bath—4 bedrooms, 2 acres, $47.50.
7 rooms, bath, garage, $75.
D. P. DARLING,
The Luttrell Co. Falls Church 68.

Shore-Waterfront—Rent 61

AVAILABLE AUG. 15.
Large cottage at Long Beach, Md., with all conveniences. Can be seen week-ends or call Sullivan, WIs. 4058.

NORTH BEACH, MD.—Left on 2nd st. past sign marked "private" to Palm Inn Cottage; 4 rms., elec. range; reasonable.

NORTH BEACH PARK.
Aug. 8-Sept. 15: furn. cottage; water fr.; shade; priv. beach; scr. porches; elec., shower and lav. Wlar. 6287.

TALL TIMBERS, MD.—Lge. well-furn. cottage, good pri. beach, good fishing; Wk. or mo. WIs. 2864.

AUG. 22 TO SEPT. 15.
Comfortable 4-room cottage, Sherwood Forest. Bath, elec. GE. 3940.

COVE POINT BEACH.
New 5-rm. cottage; everything furn.; very reas. Evgs., ME. 7638. Apt. 108, or apply Cove Pt. office Sunday; will sell.

Wanted-to-Rent 62

WANTED—3 apartments, furn. or unfurn.; 1 same or adjacent buildings; for 7 men. Box 96, Washington Post.

Sale Investment Property 65

$2,950. M ST. SE., facing Navy Yard—Grocery store and 5 rooms, bath; has $2,000 loan. ME. 5400.

ZONED COMMERCIAL.
Modern 5 rm. frame bungalow, lot 50x150. AURORA HILLS, VA.
Fine location for small business. Owner lives on property.
McCLAINE, 2100 Wilson Blvd., Clar., Va. WAlnut 9292.

Sale Houses 66

BUNGALOW—Modern, brick, apartment plan, living room, Jr. dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen, bath. Garage, back yard, picket fence. Practically new. By owner, 4852 Crescent st. nw. (one square 49th and Western ave. nw.). Wisconsin 1576-W.

CHEVY CHASE, MD., near Rock Creek Park—By owner, unusually livable 7-room house with small study; large screened living porch at rear overlooking garden; many trees; Marr oil burner; weatherstripping, insulation, all electric. 503 East Thornapple st., WI. 4879.

EUCLID ST. NW., 1234—9 rms., 5 bedrms., bath and shower; redecorated; h.-w. h.; automatic hot water. $6,950. Terms.

O ST. NW., 1009—11 rooms, oil heat; 2 brick garages and 20-ft. lot on the side. By OWNER.

REPOSSESSED detached home. Can buy through Federal Housing. Long-term monthly payment plan less than rent; 20% cash of their appraisal required. Real estate salesmen attention. Fulton R. Gordon, 1427 Eye st. nw. DI. 5230.

$5,500—Columbia rd. nw., facing reservoir; 6-rm. Colonial brick; h.-w.h.; 3 porches; garage; excel. condition; terms. ME. 5400.

SILVER SPRING—5-room brick bungalow; slate roof; built-in garage.
$300 CASH, $60 MONTHLY
PHONE SHEPHERD 4622.

311 McKINLEY ST.,
HUNTINGTON TERRACE, MD.
Price, $9,750; $975 cash; $69.50 per month. Six rooms and bath, large living room with fireplace; air-conditioned; garage; corner lot 100x126, with trees and shrubbery. Open daily. Drive out Old Georgetown rd. 1¼ miles north of Bank of Bethesda, turn left on McKinley to property.
WAGGAMAN & BRAWNER REALTY CO.
1700 Eye St. N.W. MEt. 3860.

ROLLINGWOOD—New American Homes.
WAVERLY-TAYLOR, INC.
1522 K St. NW. NAtional 1040.

ROLLINGWOOD—New American Homes
WAVERLY-TAYLOR, INC.
1522 K St. NW. NAtional 1040.

NEW COLONIAL BRICK.
TAKOMA PARK, MD.—$7,950.
506-508 Greenwood Ave.
Open daily to 9 p. m.; modern in every respect; oil heat; air-conditioned; 30-foot concrete porch; detached garage; 1 block from stores and bus. Drive out Carroll ave., 1 block past sanitarium to Greenwood ave., left 3 blocks to houses. G. S. BENNETT. NOrth 2076.

NEAR ARMY AND NAVY
COUNTRY CLUB.
A delightful new cream, brick, colonial house on hillside overlooking Potomac. 7 large rooms, 2 tile baths, sun decks, screened porch, de luxe kitchen. Living room with fireplace, oil burner. Detached garage. Attractive terms. Please call Mrs. Watson, NA. 8880. Home CLev. 7274.

Near Bureau of Standards.
Two exceptional values in an unusually fine neighborhood.
3614 34TH ST. N.W.
7-room brick semidetached house; newly renovated; large closets. Good price and terms.
3643 VEAZEY ST. N.W.
6-room stone and stucco semidetached house. Modern features. Reasonably priced.
OPEN SAT. & SUN.

NEAR NAVY YARD
Close to Anacostia golf course. Modern 2-story and cellar semidetached brick, 5 rooms, bath (2 full-sized bedrooms), hot-water heat, electricity, hardwood floors, screens, weatherstrips; front and double back porches; electric refrigeration; built-in garage; $900 cash, $50 per month.
L. T. GRAVATTE,
729 15th St. Realtor. NA. 0753.

741 BUTTERNUT ST. N.W.
Detached home, on a large lot, with 8 rooms (4 bedrooms), bath, new oil burner, excellent condition throughout. Desirable neighborhood. Near Walter Reed grounds.
R. A. HUMPHRIES,
808 No. Capitol. Realtor. NA. 6732.

NEW BUY—$9,250.
DETACHED CORNER BRICK HOME.
Good, convenient Northwest location. Center hall. Six large rooms, beautiful kitchen, two tiled baths, big side porch. Built-in garage. Will sell quickly.
Brodie & Colbert, Inc.,
NAtional 6673. Evenings, ADams 9653.

THE G-MAN! The Master Poisoner. By George Clark and Lou Hanlon

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale Houses 66

1622 Rhode Island Ave. N.W.
Suitable for doctor's office and home. 13 rooms and 5 baths. 4-car garage. Oil burner, excellent condition throughout. Must be seen to be appreciated. Priced for quick sale.
WAGGAMAN-BRAWNER REALTY CORP.
1700 Eye St. N.W. ME. 3860.

$8,500—Best N.W. Section.
Semi-detached all-brick house; 6 rooms, 3 porches, fireplace; excellent condition. 2326 20th st. DEc. 2807.

TRADE YOUR OLD HOME FOR A NEW ONE
Call or Write
HARRY WARDMAN, INC.
1512 K St. N.W. DIst. 3830.

Drive Out This Evening
where it is delightfully cool. Inspect the beautiful new homes just completed in Country Club Village, Md. 18 minutes from downtown with natural unsurpassed beauty.
A few fine sites available for home construction. Will build and finance to your requirements.
Out Massachusetts ave. extended, keep right into River rd. 300 yards to entrance. Or out River rd. 3¼ of a mile beyond Kenwood Country Club. John F. Wynkoop, COlumbia 6705.

OPEN 3 TO 7.
$5,850. 606 LAMONT ST. NW.
20-ft. modern 6-room semi-detached brick; hardwood floors, awnings, automatic heat, instantaneous hot water, TILE KITCHEN and bath, garage. Terms arranged. ME. 5400.
LEO M. BERNSTEIN & CO.

2511 BRENTWOOD RD. N.E.
7 rooms, 4 bedrooms; lot 200 ft. deep; large shade trees.
OPEN—VACANT.
H. C. MAYNOR.
2605 Brentwood Rd. N.E. NO. 4338.

COLORED, 64-66-68 R St. NW.—8 rooms, bath, cellar, yard, alley, $6,500; small cash payment, bal. like rent. DEc. 1160.

Sale Lots 69

ASK MR. TILLER—HE KNOWS LOTS!
Bargain. Lots bought and sold.
J. FRANK TILLER, RA. 1953.

LOTS FOR HOME BUILDER or contractor. D. C., Md., Va. specials; Lee Hts., nr. Glebe rd., cor., 170x117; 20c ft. Nr. 4 Corners, over 10,000 ft.; $950. N. E. Ryon Co., 1216 N. Y. ave.

MAKE OFFER. four 80-ft. lots, Garrett Park; all improvements; bus. WI. 3087.

$450. CHEVERLY, MD.—Beautiful wooded lot, 50x150; a. m. i., high elevation, good street, on 10c bus line. GR. 3159-J.

ATTENTION, BUILDERS!
8 desirable building lots in Bethesda.
Chevy Chase Section.
60x100. SEWER, WATER, GAS, ETC.
Suitable for moderate priced homes
THOMAS E. HAMPTON,
7255 Wisconsin Ave. Bethesda, Md.
Phone BRadley 244.

Sale Suburban 70

ATTRACTIVE bungalow on macadam road, near Pohick Church, Fairfax County, Va., containing 6 rooms, bath, screened side porch, electric lights, electric pump, open fireplace, beautiful lawn, ½ acre, garage, well, house and poultry house. Price, $2,850. Terms.
WASHINGTON & KANE, Realtors.
1615 King St. ALex. 1621.

CARMODY HILLS, Md.—New 3-rm. house, corner 66th and Peach sts. $300 cash, bal. monthly. Apply Mr. Lunsford, 66th and Peach sts., Carmody Hills, Md.

CHERRYDALE in Arlington County; close Lee highway on acre of ground with beautiful stream running through it. NEW 7-room and bath house. Price, $4,000. Terms to suit.
FRENZEL, McLean, Va. Falls Ch. 587-W-1.

CLOSE IN VA.—On boulevard, nearly new brick house, 2 stories, 5 rooms and bath, hardwood floors, oil burner, $5,950, $500 cash. J. A. Baker & Co., 1112 N. Irving st., Clarendon, Va. WA. 7280.

NEW—6 rms., den.; substantial; also 5-r. house, large rms., attract. grounds; frame; a. m. i. 3130 Pershing, Clar., Va.

TAKOMA PARK—6 rooms, bath, screened sleeping porch, back porch; breakfast room; on big fenced-in lot. Owner transferred; will sacrifice. SHep. 2438.

7 ROOMS and bath, electricity, city water and sewerage; large front porch, shaded, beautiful, 75 ft. front by 150 ft. Fronting on a paved street. $4,800. Terms $500 down.
T. P. JOHNSON.
West Falls Church, Va. Falls Church 735.

$5,950—Beautiful Braddock Hts., Va. New 6-rm.; fireplace; colored tile bath; h.-w. h.; near everything. BRAND, CL. 1925.

HOME on 7½ acres of dogwood, oak and poplar trees; 21 miles from Washington over hard road. Convenient to cheap transportation. House has bath, city electricity, furnace and phone; 2-car garage, chicken houses and other features. Sits on hill, at foot of which is a pretty stream. A complete home in the setting you've dreamed about. Clear of debt. Price $5,500; $2,500 cash; balance 1-2-3 years. See MASON HIRST, Annandale, Fairfax County, Va., at the end of Columbia pike. Phone Alexandria 869-J-1. Closed Sundays.

$5,950.
STONE VENEER BUNGALOW.
Five rooms and tile bath, fireplace, high elevation; lot 75x115; hot-water heat; basement for recreation room. Clarendon 1789.

$4,950—Cozy new home, 6 rooms, bath, oak floors, full basement, b.-w. h.; may take a lot in trade. WA. 6959.

$3,500—Owner's sacrifice; 6 room detached house; a. m. i.; 21 miles from Wash.; one acre clear ground; suitable farm. Brandywine 22.

NEARBY VA.
$6,250; $600 down; reas. mo. pay'ts inc. tax
JUST COMPLETED—Modern 5-room, 2-story brick insulated. New subdivision; wooded lot; beautifully landscaped; convenient; 15 min. bus.
Owner McCLAINE Builder.
2100 Wilson B'd., Clar. WA. 9292 day & eve.

1900 HARVARD ST. N.
LYON VILLAGE, VA.
$13,750.
Distinctive Colonial type center-hall home. Unusually finished with the most beautiful kitchen in Arlington County. Kitchen has oversized drainboards. Electrolux refrigeration. Magic Eye gas range. Armstrong inlaid linoleum and plenty of cabinets suited for all purposes. Rexoil oil burner with year 'round hook-up. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and sun deck off master bedroom on 2d floor. Living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room and open porch with concrete base on 1st floor. Recreation room with open stone fireplace and maid's room with half bath. 2-car brick garage.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.
Cross Key Bridge, right on Lee Highway (Route 211) about 1 mile to Gulf Station, left on 19th St. N., follow yellow and black arrows to property.
BOSS & PHELPS.
3205 N. Wash. Blvd. WAlnut 8815.

$3,750
Buys a beautiful little place in Virginia on straight road 15 miles from Washington. Colonial cottage of 4 large rooms, front and rear porches, hot air heat, electricity, large fireplace, stone foundation. Two acres of beautifully wooded land, outbuildings, spring and well. Fine for summer home or close enough for year round home.
Reasonable Terms
Owner
National 3934 Georgia 7637

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale Suburban 70

J. C. HOSKINS.
BETTER BUYS IN NEARBY VIRGINIA.
Lee Highway and Lee Blvd. Falls Ch. 507.

$6,650—Lovely estate, 6 rms., bath, h.-w. h.; 2 acres, fine shade. Terms. Just the home you want. WA. 6959.

BUNGALOW, 2½ ACRES.
Suitland, Md., only 2 miles from D. C. All improvements, including water and sewer, electric range, fruit trees, flowers, etc. One acre of wood; $5,900. Immediate possession. For inspection appointment, call Mr. Moore, Cleveland 2625.
ADELBERT W. LEE.
1343 H St. NW. DI. 4600.

THREE ACRE ESTATE.
Ten minutes from downtown on Arlington Ridge, Va. High, wooded knoll; beautiful trees. Neighborhood of high-class homes. Large eight-room house; oil burner; garage. Rare opportunity for someone to purchase a beautifully situated home with unusual privacy and dispose of two or three home sites to friends.
AURORA HILLS HOMES, INC.
2301 S. Arlington Ridge Road.
Phones Jackson 1865-1866.

KENSINGTON, MD.
$4,750—$1,000 CASH.
7-room house; all modern improvements, automatic gas heating plant; ½-acre lot. Garage and shade trees.
Open Daily.
KENSINGTON REALTY CO.
Kensington Md. Kens. 132.

Sale Acreage 72

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY ESTATE.
50 acres, near Lee H'w'y; 10-rm. house; shade; hard road; water, sewer. Less than 1 cent a sq. ft. Ideal subdivision. WA. 6959.

Sale—Farms, Land 73

FARM BARGAIN—189-Acre farm with good nine-room dwelling. Well located about 5 miles of Gordonsville, Va., and priced $2,500 on terms of $500 cash and $100 each six months. William A. Cooke, Louisa, Va.

FINE FARM. 213 acres on hard road 28 miles from Washington. 165 acres in grass or cultivation; balance timber. Springs and streams. Greyhound and school bus stop at farm. Good 6-room house, city elect., shade, large horse barn, cow barn for 30 cows and necessary outbuildings. 18 cows, 5 horses, all machinery and ½ of all crops. Price $12,000; $5,000 cash; assume $5,000 trust; balance $50 per month. See MASON HIRST, Annandale, Fairfax County, Va., at the end of Columbia Pike. Phone Alexandria 869-J-1. Closed Sundays.

Seven acres good quality land on hard road; well watered by stream; close to good town and very best schools; low commutation rates to Washington; 21 miles; 7-room house; electricity and bath in perfect shape; lawn, outbuildings. Price reduced to $5,000 to make quick sale. $750 cash, balance monthly.
150 acres, mostly under cultivation; improved farm; 30 minutes drive from river; 20 miles from Washington on pike; well-watered; good buildings; beautiful shade trees and view. Price, $10,500. Terms. $2,500 cash, balance monthly. Buell Farm Agency, Herndon, Fairfax County, Va. Both shown by appointment.

183 ACRES—On gravel road; electricity; 25 miles D. C.; old-time house, dairy barn, outbuildings. Price, $5,500.
35 ACRES—On hard road, 5-room house. Price, $1,200.
40 ACRES—On Blue Ridge near Upperville. Log cabin; springs. Price, $1,200. Also many other bargains.
R. C. PRINTZ.
Herndon, Va. HErndon 69.

PRODUCTIVE FARM of 71 acres, 25 miles from Washington. On State gravel road near macadam road. 60 acres cleared. Good 7-room house, barn 30x50 and other necessary farm buildings. High elevation. Price, $3,150; $1,015 cash, balance can be arranged. Clear of debt. Offered by MASON HIRST, Annandale, Fairfax County, Va., at the end of Columbia pike. Phone Alexandria 869-J-1. Closed Sundays.

13 ACRES, ¼ mile off Rockville pike on hard-surfaced road; 12-room residence with shaded spacious lawn; two small tenant houses; $11,500. Terms.
THE MARYLAND REALTY,
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 Tenth St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

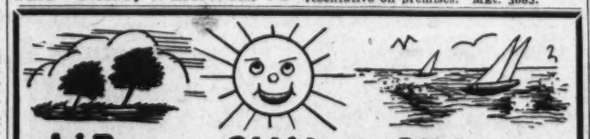
10-ACRE tracts, partly wooded, 12 miles from D. C. line. The ideal spot for the quiet suburban home. $750 terms.
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 Tenth St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

20-ACRE farm; 5-room house; large barn; fine soil; on good gravel road, 21 miles from D. C. $2,500.
T. P. JOHNSON.
West Falls Church, Va. Falls Church 735.

QUAINT marine colonial house, built about 1690 on beautiful shady point on Potomac River. In excellent condition; bathing, fishing, crabbing, good harbor for small boats; 100 acres of land; $10,500; will sell house with less land.
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 Tenth St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

60 ACRES, Prince Georges County, Md., 12 miles from D. C. line, 1 mile from State road; on good gravel road. Excellent tobacco soil; beautiful view over surrounding country; 4-room house in need of repair; $4,250; $400 down; small monthly payments.
THE MARYLAND REALTY,
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 Tenth St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

Sale—Shore, Waterfront 75



AIR + SUN + SEA = HEALTH

Spend the summer in your own cottage at FRANKLIN MANOR BEACH on The Chesapeake, where it is 14 miles wide.

27 MILES FROM WASHINGTON
Good Roads All the Way
To reach: Out Pa. Ave. se., through Upper Marlboro. Turn right at Wells Corner. Continue to Daury. Turn right on Southern Maryland blvd. 3 miles to Bristol. Sharp left to Sears Corner. Right ¼ mile to Tracey's Corner. Left through Deale to Churchton. Right to Franklin Manor Beach.

LOTS 50 ft. Frontage $100 UP EASY TERMS

DRIVE DOWN TODAY!

Safe beach for children. Good fishing, crabbing and boating. Protected shorefront; new bulkhead. Electricity; good roads.

Choice lots, including bayfront, available. Cottages built and financed according to your own plans on reasonable terms. 26 already completed and occupied. A restricted community.

See Charles S. Springer or agents on property.

Franklin Manor Beach Co.
600 F St. N.W. NA. 1828

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale—Farms, Land 73

565 ACRES (Fairfax County, Va.)—400 cleared and under cultivation, balance wood and timber; 8-room frame house; barn, outbuildings; running water. Suitable for stock farm or gentleman's estate. Abundance of shade. Bargain. Terms to suit. Lewis E. Summers. CLarendon 692-W.

110 ACRES—$6,500.
This small farm, of sassafras loam, well fenced, raising wheat, corn, tobacco and hay, is in high state of cultivation. Has comfortable 6-room house, tobacco barn, stable, poultry house, garage, corn house, tenant house and other buildings. Owner, retiring, will take smaller place in trade. Fine road, only 2 miles from Potomac River.
R. D. LILLIE CO.,
264 Carroll St., Takoma Park. GE. 3301.

Real Estate Wanted 76

WANTED
FARMS TO SELL
ACREAGE FOR SUBDIVISION.
N. C. HINES & SONS, Auctioneers.
1511 K St. NW., Washington, D. C. DI. 7740

WANT REAL ESTATE TO SELL.
ROBERT L. McKEEVER CO., INC.
Shoreham Bldg. NA. 4750.

WANT TO BUY HOUSE.
HARRY B. PITTS CO.
1019 15th St. NW. ME. 0100.

Dogs, Cats, Pets 79

GREAT DANE PUPPIES—10 weeks old, sired by Erick Von Lindenhoff. Mrs. R. D. Lindsey, Cassellie, Md., 8½ miles from signal light in Silver Spring.

Horses—Livestock 81

FOR SALE—65 pigs, average 50-75 lbs.; 7 sows, 3 with pigs; 3 boar hogs, 1 to 1½ yrs.; 3 Poland China sows; 2 Holsteins and 1 Guernsey bull. Also fresh cows. 458 H st. sw.

HORSES; ponies; goats, milk, driving and kids. Falls Church 31W2.

ONE PAIR good farm horses, weight 1,350. Guaranteed sound. work anywhere. Owner, George M. Boteler, 616 Jackson ave., Riverdale, Md. Hyattsville 44-M.

2 MULES, 4 mares, 4 work horses, 1 low priced horse. 110 M st. se.

Sale Miscellaneous 83

ACCORDIONS—Before purchasing a piano accordion, it's to your advantage to see Droop's first. 1300 G st. nw.

AN 8-SITE LOT Washington (Congressional) Cemetery, less than present rates. Telephone COlumbia 6891-J.

Sale—Shores, Waterfront 75

COBB ISLAND—4-room cottage on large, shady lot, overlooking the Potomac; $1,400; terms. For a waterfront location with good bathing, good fishing, excellent harbor, beautiful trees, be sure to see Cobb Island. Lots $100 up. Andrew Norris, agent, on premises. Routes 5 and 3 via Anacostia and La Plata.
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 10th St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

OLD CEDAR POINT at Morgantown—New Colonial cottage, built for year-round occupancy; sub-siding and sub-flooring, completely insulated; open fireplace with heatolator; electric lights; bath, large screened porch; artesian water; $2,950; terms.

Large lots in attractive setting; public water supply system with artesian water piped to your lot; $250 up, $20 cash, 10 per month. Routes 5 and 3 via Anacostia and La Plata. Agent on premises.
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 10th St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

HERRING BAY—Brick, 4 rms., bath, fireplace, elec., artesian well, large lot fronting on water; commutting distance. NOrth 9766-J after 5 p. m. $2,750.
HERRING BAY.
27 mi. from D. C. on main hwy., 80 ft. water fr., 80 ft. on State rd. 2 acres, wells, living quarters; excellent for boat club or 4-lot subdivision. LI. 7669.

SACRIFICE.
BUNGALOW—EASY TERMS.
Completely furn.; elec. range; Frigid.; a. m. i. WIs. 5151-J or MEt. 5453.

SHOREHAM BEACH, nearest the finest beach on Chesapeake Bay. Exceptionally fine white sand beach. Lots with direct shore frontage, $100. Will build 5-room cottage for $795 and finance at $20 monthly. An offering by the developers of Epping Forest, South Haven and Avalon Shores. E. S. Hine, 310 Bond Bldg. Tel. ST. 9551.

WOODLAND POINT on the Potomac River. Waterfront acreage and large home sites. Andrew Norris, agent, at Cobb Island.
THE MARYLAND REALTY.
Kent R. Mullikin, Pres.
915 10th St. N.W. NAtional 8095.

319 ACRES on Nanjemoy Creek at point looking across Potomac. Has sandy beach; mostly timber; $9,500. Terms. NA. 3753 or LIncoln 5976-W.

COLONIAL BEACH
Owner Retiring—Settle Estate
Lot 50x150; 16 bedrooms; 40x12 porch on 2 sides; large kitchen and dining room. Fronting on water. $5,500. Phone CLarendon 1633.

COVE POINT BEACH.
There are "no extras" added to prices on LOTS in this desirable community, made accessible by owner, Senator J. C. Webster. Modest prices, $98 to $700, according to location, is all that is asked, and TITLE is guaranteed clear. Visit this beautiful natural white sandy beach, where there is NO MUD, NO NETTLES, ON PAVED HIGHWAY. Drive out today. Representative on premises. MEt. 3683.

Sale—Shore, Waterfront 75

TRUCK SPECIAL !
• All Body Types
• All Models
Panels, Stakes, Etc. All Offered at BARGAIN PRICES
For Quick Sale
Some as Low as $49.00
Northeast Motor Co.
820 BLADENSBURG RD. N.E.
Opp. Sears, Roebuck

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Sale Miscellaneous 83

ANTIQUES—BIG 25c REMOVAL SALE. Pressed glass, china, silver, furniture, books, pictures. Edelson, 618 5th st. nw.

ANTIQUES—We are selling our entire stock at greatly reduced summer prices. See our large collection of silver, china and glassware before you buy elsewhere. Muray Galleries, 1724 20th st. nw. NOrth 4008.

BEDROOM furniture; maple suite; odd pieces; fireplace fixtures. SHep. 1371-R.

CAMERA LENSES, photographic equipments, binoculars, projectors bought, sold. Capital Camera Exchange, 1003 Pennsylvania ave. nw.

DENTAL EQUIPMENT, consisting of S. S. White chair, Ritter X-ray and instrument cabinet. 306 Longfellow st. nw.

DESKS, chairs, tables, files and other used office furniture. H. Baum & Sons, 616 E st. nw.

DINNER PLATES—1 doz. genuine Sevre dinner plates, $200. PO. 4809.

ELECTROLUX refrig., 7 cu. ft. size, perf. cond. Make offer. Box 93, Wash. Post.

ELECTRIC WASHER, Easy, $35. 3-pc. bedroom suite, $15. Excellent condition. 2229 New York ave. nw.

FURNITURE—Beautiful living room suite, large dining-leaf table, 9x12 rug, fine sofa; reasonable. 2232 Wisconsin ave. nw. EMerson 7509.

FURNITURE—Mahogany; excellent cond.; dining rm. set, china closet, beds, rugs, misc.; also electric refrigerator. 3422 Garfield st. nw.

LIVING ROOM SUITE—3 pieces, good condition, $45. AD. 9157-J.

MARCHANT CALCULATING MACHINE. See the new, silent, automatic, high-speed Marchant. Call NA. 8062 for demonstration. Sales, Service and Operator's School, 1108 16th st. nw.

PIANOS FOR RENT—$3 per month and up. Rental paid applies on purchase price if you buy later. NAt. 4730. Kitt's, 1330 G st.

PIANO—Handsome Chickering upright. Carved panels. 1750 16th nw., apt. 606.

PIANO—Attractive slightly used apartment grand. Beautiful condition—will sell for $250. Easy terms—F. A. North Piano Co., Inc., 1231 G st. nw. Francis X. Regan, manager.

RADIO—Philco, 5-band, all-wave, 11-tube; nearly new; was $104.50; now $69.50. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

REFRIGERATOR, Norge, 4½ cu. ft., nearly new, $99.50; easy terms. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

REFRIGERATOR, G. E. 4 cu. ft.; excellent condition; sacrifice for cash. 3319 Rhode Island ave. ne. GReenwood 0975.

REFRIGERATOR—Kelvinator, 5½ cu. ft.; reconditioned; late model; $79.50; terms. F. S. Harris Co., 2900 14th st. nw.

SAFE, York, medium size; brand new. Perfect cond. 926 H st. nw. NA. 6540.

SEWING machines, Davis port. elec., $22.50. Treadles, $5 up; renting, repairing. Sewing Mach. Ex., 2412 18th nw. CO. 3245.

TYPEWRITERS—Closing out a large number; real bargains; renting and repairing all makes; also adding machines. Open eve. 1431 E. Capitol st. LI. 0082.

TYPEWRITERS—All makes, $17.50 up; guaranteed 1 year; rent, repair. Standard Typewriter Co., 723 10th st. nw.

Sloane's Armstrong's CEMENTED TO FLOOR. INLAID—$1.38 Sq. Yd. DI. 7410.
Royal Rug & Linoleum Co., 11th & H nw.

LUMBER
2x4—up to 12 feet $26.50
2x4—over 12 feet $28.50
2x6 and 2x8—up to 16 feet $28.50
2x10 and 12 ..... $31.00
1x6—T. G. Roofers $28.50
1x8—Sheathing $28.50
1x6—German Siding No. 2 Com. $40.00
DOORS, SASH AND MILLWORK.
Free Delivery in Va., D. C. and Md.
Arlington Coal & L'ber. Co.
2805 Jeff Davis Hwy. JAckson 1880.

ARE YOU READY
FOR SWELTERING SUMMER DAYS AND NIGHTS?
ELECTRIC FANS.
ALL TYPES AND SIZES.
RUDOLPH & WEST CO.
1322 New York Ave. N.W. NA. 4870.

Coal, Fuel Oil, Wood 83A

ARLINGTON COAL CO.
2,240 Lbs. to Ton.
All coal sacked and carried in free.

Virginia Hard Pea	$7.00
Virginia Hard Nut	$8.50
Virginia Hard Stove	$8.75
Pocahontas Stove	$9.00
Blue Banner Egg	$7.50

Washington Telephone—JA. 1880.

Miscellaneous Wanted 84

ANTIQUE JEWELRY, discarded large and small watches, dental gold; special high prices paid. Schiller Bros., 922 F st. nw.

FURNITURE—Cash for all kinds of furniture; day or night LIn. 2807.

GOLD OR PLATINUM JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE AND GOLD TEETH. ANY CONDITION. WE PAY CASH. A. KAHN, INC., 45 YEARS AT 935 F ST. NW.

I BUY FURNITURE. DI. 0474
1 PIECE OR 1,000. DAY AND NIGHT.

CASH FOR OLD GOLD
LOUIS ABRAHAMS, 711 G ST. N.W.

SPOT CASH PAID IMMEDIATELY.
OLD GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES, DIAMONDS AND ANY OLD disclosed Jewelry or Gold Teeth.
SELINGER'S, 818 F ST. N.W

Boats—Sale or Hire 86

EVINRUDE—20 h. p.; used only 1 season; $65. Call Mr. Montgomery, owner, 1630 You st. se., LIn. 0459-W after 5:30.

Wanted—Automobiles 88

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Whether Car Is Paid for or Not.
SEE MR. BARNES, 1729 14TH NW.

Cash for Late Model Cars
Our large cash demand enables us to pay higher cash prices. If car is not fully paid for, we take care of unpaid balance.
See Us Today.
MANHATTAN AUTO & RADIO CO.
1796 7th St. NW. NO. 7557.

Auto Trucks & Tractors 99

CHEVROLET—1932 stake body; dual wheels; motor perfect; private owner must sell; sacrifice; $75 cash. NA. 8370.

Post Classified Ads—National 4200.

Auto Trucks & Tractors 99

INTERNATIONAL
HARVESTER CO.
USED TRUCK
SALE.
1935 I. H. C. 1½-ton chassis. $400.
1935 I. H. C. ½-ton panel. $300.
1936 I. H. C. ½-ton panel. $385.
1936 Dodge ½-ton pickup. $425.
1934 Dodge ½-ton pick-up. $195.
1935 I. H. C. ½-ton pick-up. $300.
1935 Chevrolet ½-ton panel. $275.
1934 Chevrolet 1½-ton van. $300.
Open evenings. AT. 3096.
901 Bladensburg Rd. N.E.

Sale—Automobiles 98

AUBURN—'33 Cust. Sedan, $345. Beckham's Used Car Exc., 1312 14th st. nw.

AUSTIN—1933 Coupe; 4-1 condition; excellent motor; economical car. You get over 45 miles to the gallon of gas. Bargain at only $145. Terms. 1605 14th st. nw. NOrth 2298.

AUSTIN—1932 Roadster; 1933 Austin Coupe; good condition. New paint job. Good tires. $35 down payment for either. Balance be paid in 12 mo. Cook-Walker Motor Co., 1231 20th st. nw. NA. 6561.

BUICK $665
1936 Business Coupe. Lustrous black finish, hydraulic brakes, turret top, fine clean upholstery; excellent tires and a splendid motor. Test this car and compare our prices with others.
HYATTSVILLE AUTO CO.,
Hyattsville, Md. GReenwood 1810.

BUICK $159
1930 40 series. Reduced $50. Very low mileage by original owner. New paint and tires. Truly an outstanding value. Name your own terms. Will give you a better trade.
WADE BUICK CO.
Silver Spring, Md. Opp. B. & O. Station. Open Evenings Until 10.

CADILLAC—1934 Town Sedan; 8-cylinder, 6-disc wheels. Large trunk and extra trunk rack. Excellent black paint, very good tires. Wine cloth upholstery; radio. This is a clean car priced low for the balance of the week. $665. C. C. C. Guaranty. Open evenings.
CAPITOL CADILLAC CO.
1222 22d St. N.W. NA. 3300.

CHEVROLET—1935 Sedan. A real nice automobile that is in the very best of condition. Motor, tires and interior are absolutely perfect; $475.
N. E. BRANCH L. P. STEUART.
141 12th St. N.E. AT. 6200.

CHEVROLET—1933 Sedan. In better than average condition. This will give plenty of real satisfactory as well as economical service. A bargain at $275.
N. E. BRANCH L. P. STEUART.
141 12th St. N.E. AT. 6200.

CHEVROLET—1934 Dump Truck. Hydraulic 1½-yard body. Repainted, thoroughly overhauled. Only $379. Terms of $79 down. Ask for Mr. Dillon. LOGAN'S (Ford), 1111 18th st. nw.

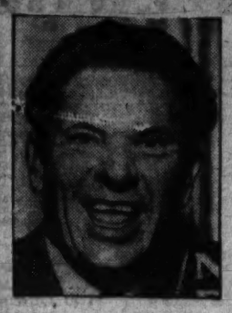
CHEVROLET—1933 2-door Sedan. New paint, new tires. New seat covers. Only $279. Terms of 19 down, balance $19 per month. LOGAN'S (Ford), 18th and M sts. nw.

CHEVROLET—1931. Excellent condition; will sacrifice for $85; private owner. Call MEtropolitan 1851.

CHEVROLET—1936 master 4-door sedan; built-in trunk; radio; dual horns; 12,000 miles; like new; $575. ADams 1331, Mr. Flanagan, private owner.

CHEVROLET $339
1934 Master 4-door Sedan. Built-in trunk. Original black finish absolutely perfect; motor and interior are

Bob Burns Says—



I had an uncle down home who was a horse trader. He was very honest, but he didn't see no use of lettin' his conscience ruin a sale for him. When he bought a horse and found out there was somethin' wrong with it he didn't bother about tellin' the next fella about these faults because he figured maybe the original owner didn't want it generally known.

One day he sold a horse to a man and the very next day the man came back to him just ravin'. The man said, "I was drivin' that horse home and all of a sudden he let out a loud screech and fell over dead!" My uncle says, "Well, now, to be perfectly honest with you, I knew that horse had some funny little ways, but I declare he never done that before!"—Bob Burns.

Copyright, 1937, for The Washington Post.

BIG CHIEF WAHOO — See Wahoo, the "Wooden Indian," in his act, Sunday. — By Saunders and Woggon

IT'S A GALA NIGHT AT THE WIGWAM CLUB
THE RAJAH OF RAZ-MAH-TAZ AND HIS 15 ALLURING SLOE-EYED WIVES HAVE DROPPED IN TO SPEND A FEW THOUSAND RUPEES!
AH! WELCOME RAJAH, WELCOME! WE ARE SUPREMELY HONORED!
WHERE IS THIS PRINCESS, MINNIE-HA-CHA YOU AMERICANS RAVE ABOUT?
HEY! LEAVE UM LID HERE!
THE RAJAH WILL TRUST HIS TURBAN TO NO MAN!!
SCUM!
CHECK ROOM
HELP!! HELP!!
SWISH!

ROY POWERS, EAGLE SCOUT — Roy Is Captured! — By Paul Powell

IN THE EXCITEMENT, ROY'S FALL IS UNNOTICED—HIS FRIENDS RUSH OVER THE BRIDGE—AND WHITNEY CONTINUES TO WORK FEVERISHLY TO DISLODGE IT!
STOP! STOP, MR. WHITNEY, WAIT FOR ROY!
AND THEN THE BRIDGE CRASHES DOWN INTO THE CHASM—LEAVING ROY HELPLESS ON THE SAME SIDE WITH THE ENRAGED INDIANS!
USEFUL SCOUT KNOTS
SHEEPSHANK

JANE ARDEN — Jane and the Major. — By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

8-7
SORRY, TOMMY—I PROMISED TO TAKE A WALK WITH THE MAJOR!
RUN ALONG, SON—EVEN AN OLD DOG HAS HIS DAY!
BUT I THOUGHT—
I WONDER WHAT SHE SEES IN HIM? AND I HAD BEEN HUNTING THE PLACE OVER FOR HER!
POOR TOMMY—HE DOESN'T UNDERSTAND THAT THIS IS BUSINESS—AND I CAN'T TELL HIM!
NOW AT SAN JUAN HILL, THE ENEMY WERE—ARE YOU LISTENING?
OH, YES, MAJOR—I'D LOVE TO HEAR ABOUT IT!

LALA PALOOZA — Laugh at Vincent in a Tourist Camp—Sunday. — By Rube Goldberg

RUFUS, LET'S TOSS A COIN T'SEE WHO GOES INTO THE HAUNTED HOUSE FIRST—HEADS YOU GO—TAILS I GO
THAT SEEMS FAIR ENOUGH, VINCE
IT'S HEADS, RUFE—TOO BAD BUT YOU'RE STUCK T'GO IN FIRST
GOSH DINGED IF I AIN'T!
KEEP A STIFF UPPER LIP, OL' PAL—SORRY IT WASN'T ME INSTEAD O' YOU
VINCENT, COME HERE!
JUST AS I THOUGHT HEADS ON BOTH SIDES!
8-7

MICKEY FINN — Ha! Ha!—Uncle Phil is a riot as a dummy, Sunday. — By Lank Leonard

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY— The Veteran. — By Frank V. Martinek

Lieut. Comdr., U. S. N. R.

STOP THAT CAR!!! DISGUISED AS AN OLD LADY, THE SPY TASMIA IS DASHING AWAY FROM CAPTURE AT THE GREEN STAR DOCK···
228A.
TASMIA WON'T GET AWAY WITH THIS
DON! WAIT FOR ME!!

NO! MERCEDES—THERE'S ROUGH STUFF AHEAD!
THAT'S JUST WHY I'M COMING!
I'M A WESTERNER, DON, AND I'M NOT AFRAID OF SHOOTING
OKAY, THEN—HERE WE GO!
(Copyright, 1937, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office)

DIXIE DUGAN — The laugh's on Dixie, Sunday. — By J. P. McElvoy and H. J. Striebel

IT'S THE OLD OPERA HOUSE THAT WAS CHANGED INTO A TENEMENT!
WOW! WHAT A FIRE-TRAP THAT IS!
CLANG!
HELP! I'M STUCK!!
LET HIM STAY THERE! WE'LL HAFTA GO DOWN THE STAIRS! —QUICK!!
"TRUCK" IS STILL STUCK IN THE FLOOR!
WE'LL ROLL WITHOUT HIM! WHERE IS IT?
THE TENEMENT DISTRICT ON THE SOUTH SIDE! LET'S GO!!
HEY! THAT'S MY BIKE!
HENRY'S MEN SHOP

NED BRANT—A Story of College Athletics — By Bob Zuppke

Famous Football Coach.

WHAT IS IT, NED—A DUST STORM?
WHY NO, BUD—IT'S—IT'S JAKE ON A BURRO!
I GOT 'EM—I GOT 'EM!!
GOT WHAT? CARBUNCLES?
THEY ALMOST GOT ME, BUT HERE ARE THE PICTURES THAT'LL PUT THEM WHERE THEY CAN'T STEAL ANY MORE GOLD!
LET COACH BRANT HAVE A LOOK AT THEM
THESE ARE THE PICTURES I WAS TAKING OF THE PLANE WHEN THEY DOVE IT AT ME
NOW THAT WE HAVE THE EVIDENCE, WE'LL PLAN THEIR CAPTURE

Should Congress Adjourn?

American Voters Give Their Answer in the Latest Nation-Wide Poll by the American Institute of Public Opinion

Sunday, Exclusively in

The Washington Post

JOE PALOOKA — What a ride—What fun, in Palooka's boat, Sunday. — By Ham Fisher

HOW LONG HAVE YOU TWO KNOWN ABOUT THIS GREAT LOVE?
FOR WEEKS NOW—EVERY TIME DIXIE AND I GO CANOE RIDING WE SEE THEM LOOK—
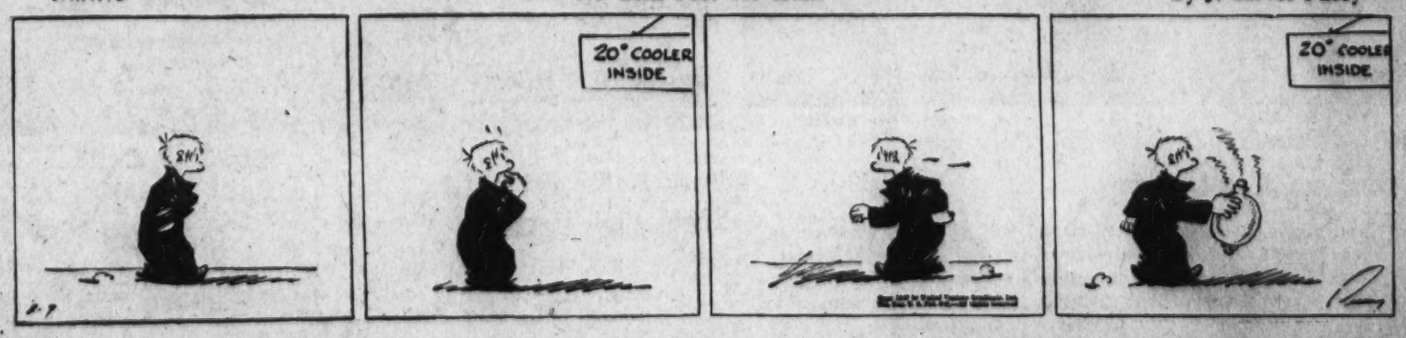
UH——NICE MOON, ISN'T IT?
ER—UH—YES—A VERY NICE MOON INDEED——(AHEM)——YES
8-7

APPLE MARY AND DENNIE — The battle flag is out at Bill's house, Sunday. — By Martha Orr

FER GRACIOUS SAKES. HEY, SMOKEY.
YASSUH MISTAH JOE.
I JIST REMEMBERED. WHERE IS THE DOG?
AH LEF 'IM AT DE TRAININ' CAMP WIF TO'NADO JONES AH FIGGAHED WE SEN' FO' 'IM LATAH.
I WANT 'IM WITH ME IN THE DRESSIN' ROOM. HE'S OUR MASTCUT.
DAS RIGHT. AH'LL CALL TO'NADO AN' HAVE 'IM BRING 'IM HEAH.
D'YOUSE KNOW WE AINT NAMED 'IM YET? WE GOTTA GIVE 'IM A NAME.
DAS RIGHT. YO' GO T'SLEEP AN' AH'LL THINK A ONE.
8-7

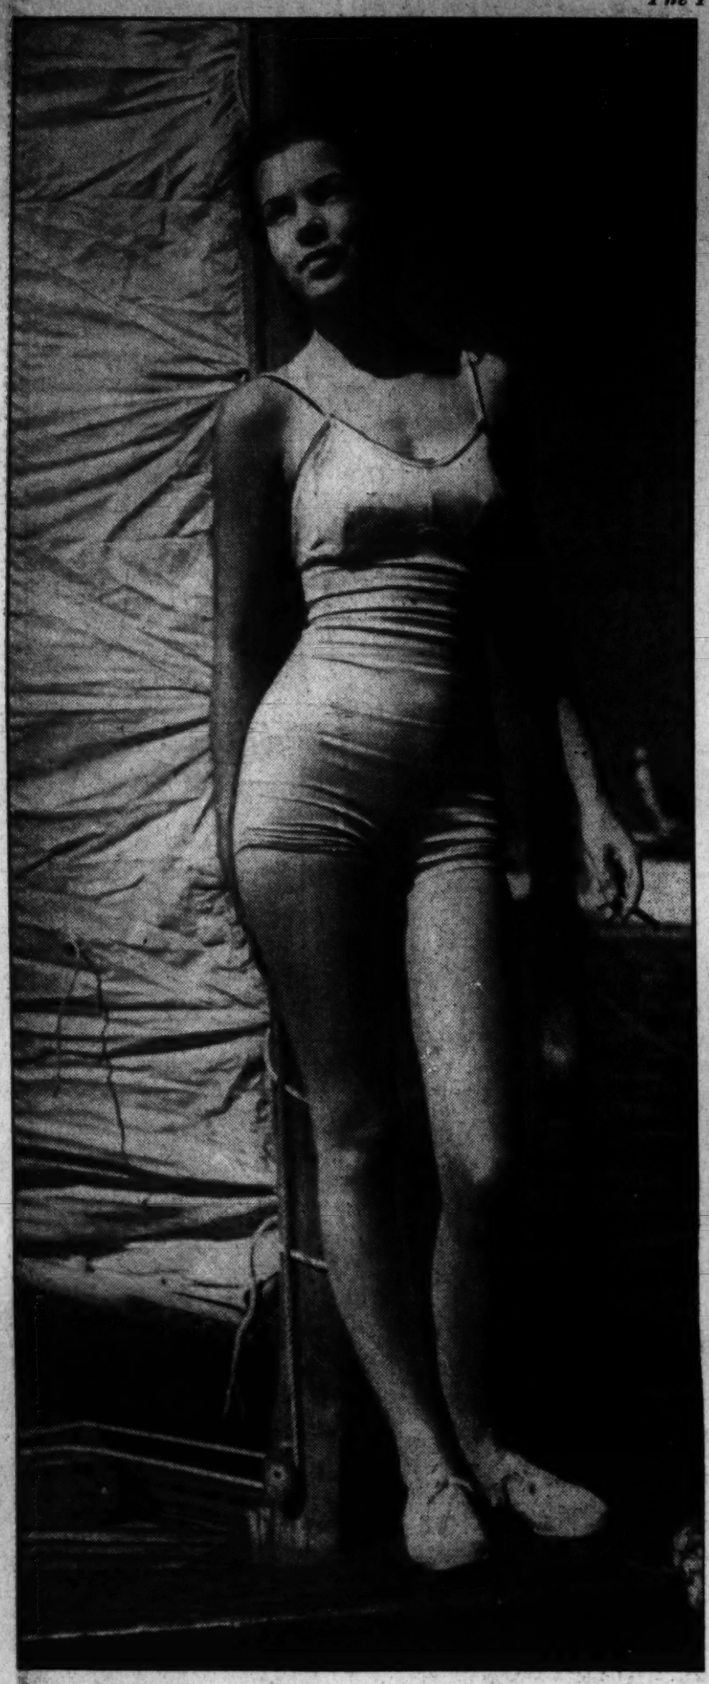
BENNY — No Cold Feet for Him. — By J. Carver Pusey



GEE, IT'S SWELL OF YUH TO COME OVER HERE TO GOLDIE'S HOUSE AN' COOK ME A HOT MEAL, MARY.
SOON AS GOLDIE COMES BACK, I'LL BE BUYIN' STEAKS EVER' DAY. BOY, I KIN HARDLY WAIT.
GOLDIE, DARLIN'!
DON'T DARLING ME, BILL BIFF. WHAT'S THE IDEA HAVING THE WHOLE TOWN IN HERE, EATING MY FOOD THE MINUTE MY BACK IS TURNED?
BUT GOLDIE—
AND DON'T ARGUE WITH ME, YOU BRUTE!
BILL'S GONNA NEED THOSE STEAKS ALL RIGHT, IF GOLDIE KEEPS POPPING HIM IN THE EYE ALL THE TIME.
20° COOLER INSIDE
20° COOLER INSIDE

Miles River Regatta Opens; Reservists Train in Flying Fortress

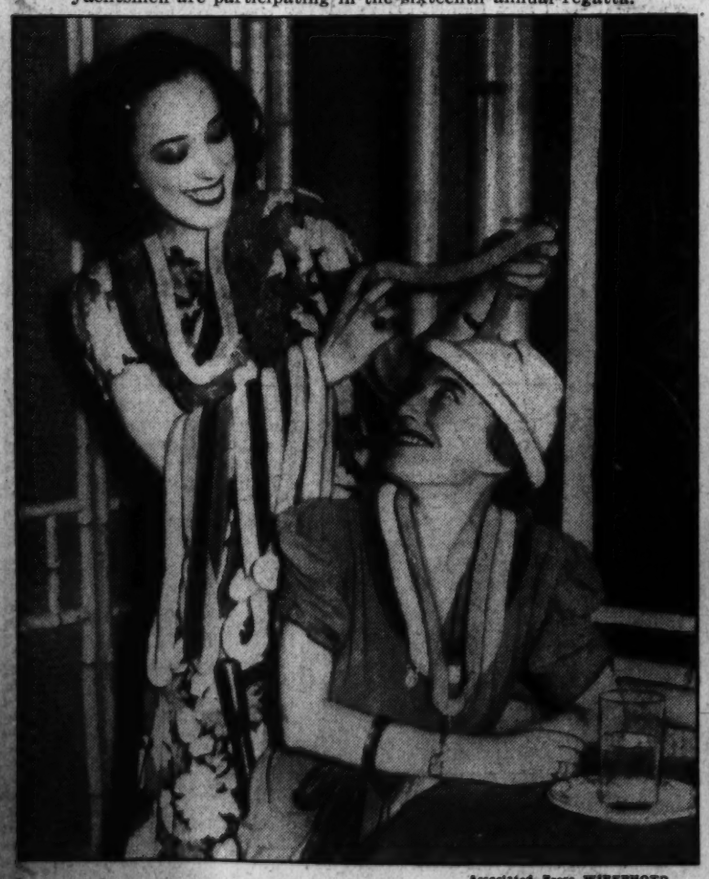
The Post is the only daily morning paper in Washington with A. P. WIREPHOTO Service.



Post Staff Photo.

Sailing Before Mast In Miles River Races.

Pretty Barbara Hubbard, of Chestertown, Pa., forms a graceful figurehead for a boat in the Miles River Yacht Club regatta under way at St. Michaels, Md., on the Chesapeake Bay. Hundreds of yachtsmen are participating in the sixteenth annual regatta.



Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Wife of Missing Jurist To Become Legal Widow.

Mrs. Stella M. Crater (seated above) will go into court soon to have herself declared a legal widow. Her husband, Judge Crater, has been missing since he stepped into a New York taxicab seven years ago yesterday. Mrs. Crater is shown in a night club.

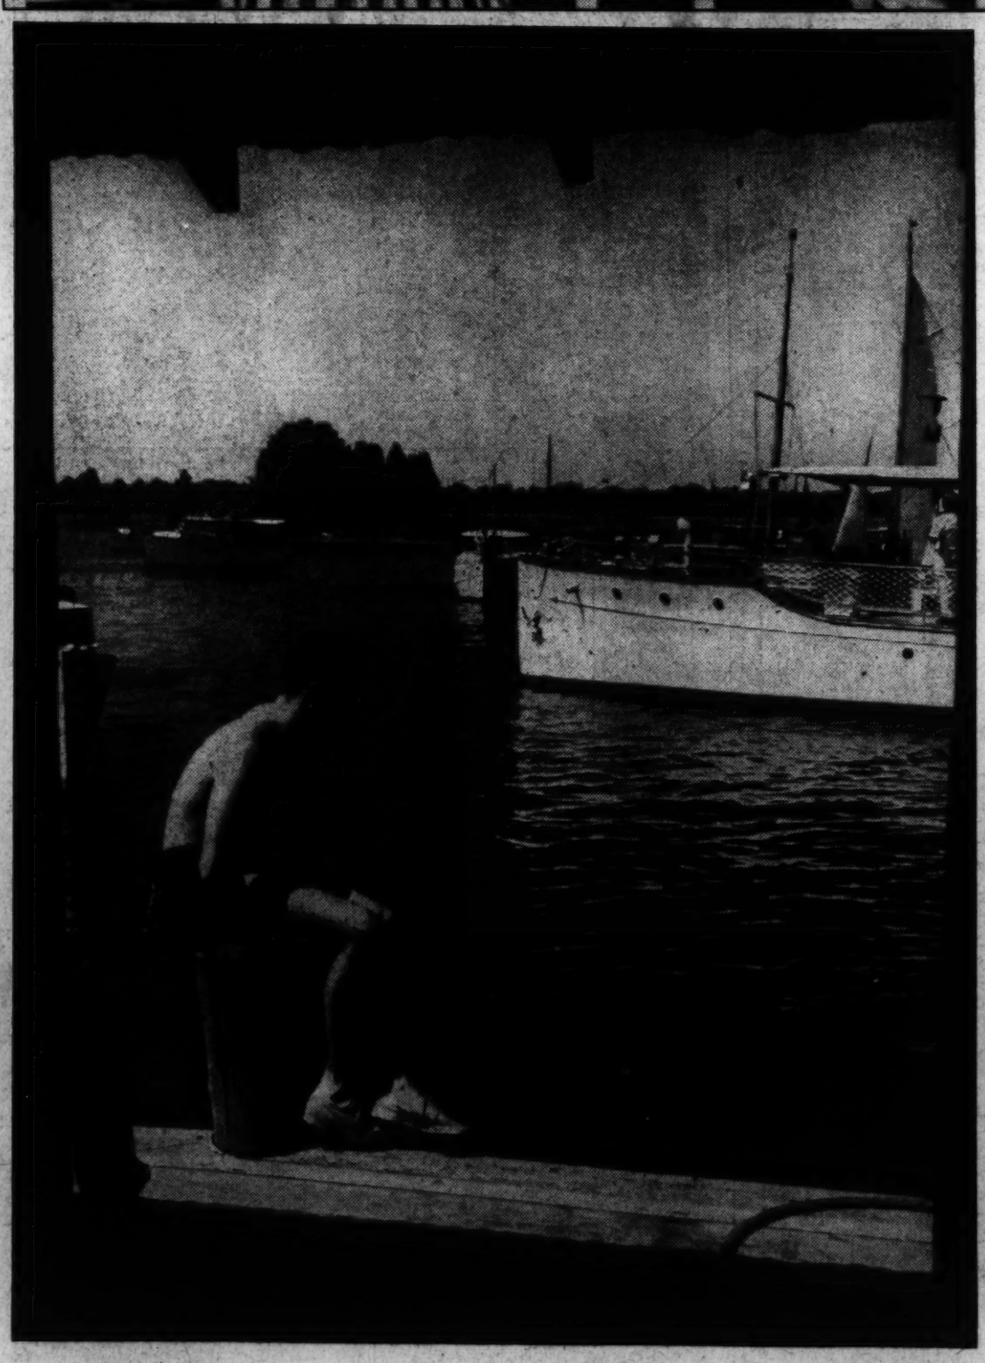
D. C. Officers Train In Flying Fortress.

Several D. C. men are among the reserve officers training at Langley Field. Above, left to right, are Lieut. F. S. Carroll, Washington; Lieut. L. S. Semans, Uniontown, Pa.; Lieut. Marvin Demler, Williamsport, Pa.; Lieut. William Enyart, Washington; Capt. R. H. Merchant, Washington; the late Maj. Guy Moates; Maj. Ivor Massey, Richmond; Lieut. W. H. Towner, Branford, Conn.; Lieut. W. O. Riley, Woodstock, Va.; Capt. E. D. Hockenberry, Pittsburgh; Lieut. N. L. Barr and Capt. Eric Shilling, both of Washington.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Mrs. Horst Denied Visit to Her 'Son.'

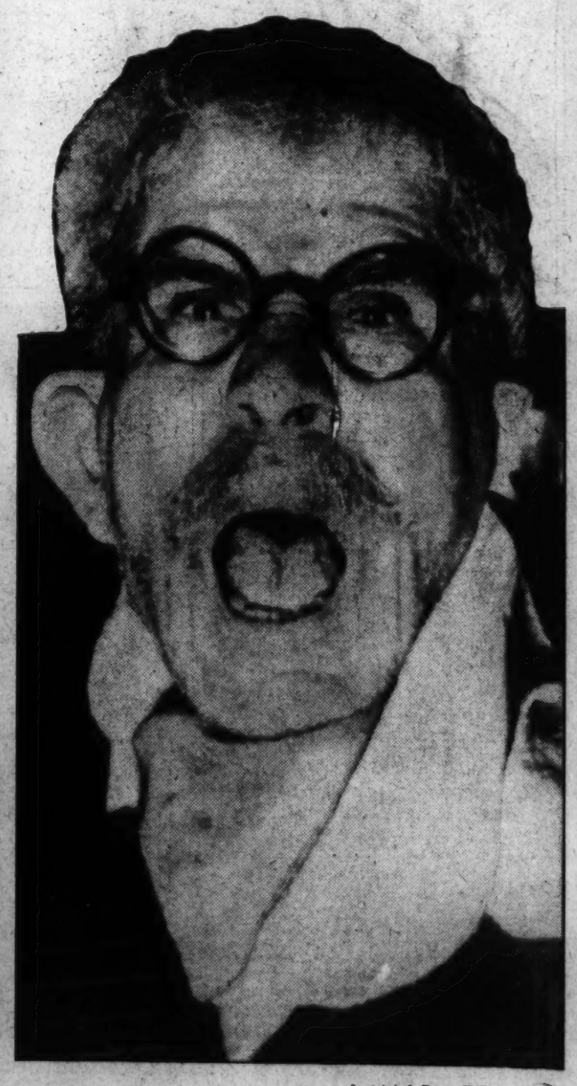
Mrs. Otto Horst (above) weeps after being refused permission to visit her adopted son at an orphanage where Donald (above, left) was crying for his "mommy." He is the principal in a "kidnap" custody fight.



Post Staff Photo.

Dock House Frames Yacht Club Harbor.

A contestant watches activities in the Miles River Yacht Club harbor, where sail and motor boats participating in the club's regatta rest between races. The regatta is one of the most popular in the Middle Atlantic States and draws all classes of racing craft.



Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Shows Judge How Trio Choked Him.

Salvatore Galfano, 63, demonstrates with gestures to a Chicago court how three ruffians choked him before they allegedly robbed him of 50 cents. The men were discharged.